BULLETINS.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 4, 1853.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 28th day of December, 1852,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the last session of Parliament, intituled "An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to the militia in England," it is amongst other things enacted, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to raise and from time to time to keep up any number not exceeding eighty thousand private militia men to serve for the several counties, ridings, and places required by the therein first recited Act to raise militia, fifty thousand of whom may be raised in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two and thirty thousand in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

And it is thereby provided, that if it shall happen that the number of men to be raised in either of such years shall not be fully raised in the year in which the same is appointed to be raised, the number deficient may be raised as soon as may be thereafter.

And it is thereby further enacted, that for the purpose of raising the number of men required to be raised under that Act, the lieutenants of the said several counties, ridings, and places should in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two, as soon as conveniently might be after the passing of that Act, and in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, at such time as Her Majesty should by Order made with the advice of Her Privy Council appoint for that purpose, direct their deputy lieutenants or the colonels or commanding officers of the regiments, battalions, or corps of militia of their respective counties, ridings, and places, without delay to proceed to raise and enrol volunteers to serve for the term of five years in the militia of such counties, ridings, and places, not exceeding the number of men for the time being authorized to be therein raised under that Act.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order and appoint that the lieutenants of the said several counties, ridings, and places in the said Act mentioned shall, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, as soon as conveniently may be after the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, direct their deputy lieutenants or the colonels or commanding officers of the regiments, battalions, or corps of militia of their respective counties, ridings, and places, without delay to proceed to raise and enrol volunteers to serve for the term of five years in the militia of such counties, ridings, and places, not exceeding the number of men for the time being authorised to be therein raised under that Act. And Her Majesty is further pleased to direct that this Order be published in the London Gazette, and be transmitted to the respective lieutenants of the said counties, ridings, and places, in order that they should proceed upon the same, in pursuance of the directions of the said Act of Parliament.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 18, 1853.

India Board, January 17, 1853.

A DISPATCH, from which the following is an extract, has been this day received at the India House.

The Governor-General of India in Council to the Secret Committee of the East India Company.

Fort William, December 7, 1852.

YOUR Honourable Committee will learn from the despatches of his Exeellency Commodore Lambert and Major-General Godwin, C.B., that the city of Pegu was captured and occupied by our troops on the 21st ultimo, after some resistance and with some loss. We have issued a General Order on the occasion, and have expressed our approbation of the steadiness and gallantry displayed by all who were engaged in the expedition.

GENERAL ORDER

By the Most Noble the Governor-General of India in Council.

Fort William, December 6, 1852.

THE Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in publishing, for general information, despatches which have been received from his Excellency Commodore Lambert, and from Major-General Godwin, C.B., reporting the capture and occupation of the town of Pegu, after resistance, and with some loss.

The Governor-General in Council desires to express his full approbation of the steadiness and gallantry that have been displayed by all who were engaged upon this service.

His Lordship in Council offers his best thanks to Major-General Godwin, C.B., to Brigadier McNeill, in command of the troops, to Commander Shadwell, R.N., who directed the naval arrangements, to Lieutenant-Colonel Tudor, Bengal Fusiliers, to Major Hill, Madras Fusiliers, to Major Shubrick, 5th Madras N.I., to Captain Mallock, with the guns, and Captain Brown, in command of the Rifle Company, 5th Madras N.I.

His Lordship in Council desires also to offer his thanks to the Officers of the Staff, to Major Mayhew, Deputy Adjutant-General, Major Boulderson, Deputy Judge Advocate-General, Captain Hamilton, Assistant Adjutant-General, Captain Darroch, Deputy Assistant - Quarter - Master - General, Captain Burne, Military Secretary, Captain Renaud, Brigade-Major, Captain Latter, Interpreter with the Force, Captain Chads, A.D.C., and to all the officers, non-commissioned officers, soldiers, and sailors who were engaged upon the expedition.

By Order of the Most Noble the Governor-General of India in Council,

C. ALLEN,

Officiating Secretary to the Government of India.

Commodore G. R. Lambert, to C. Allen, Esquire.

Her Majesty's ship Fox, at Rangoon,

SIR,

November 25, 1852.

MAJOR-GENERAL Godwin having decided on driving the enemy out of the city of Pegu, where they had re-assembled, and occupying it with a British force, I placed at his disposal four small steamers and the boats of the Squadron, under Commander Shadwell, of Her Majesty's steam sloop Sphinx, and have the honour to forward to you, for the information of the Most Noble the Governor-General in Council, the report of that Officer, detailing the result of the expedition.

I have, &c.

GEORGE R. LAMBERT, Commodore
First Class, Commander-in-Chief.

Commander Charles D. A. Shadwell to Commodore G. R. Lambert.

Her Majesty's Steam Sloop Sphinx's Gig, attached to the E. I. C. Steamer Mahanuddy, Pegu, November 23, 1852.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report, for your Excellency's information, the proceedings of the expedition to Pegu.

The troops having embarked at Rangoon on the evening of the 18th instant, on board the E. I. C. Steamers, Mahanuddy, Nerbudda, Damooda, and Lord William Bentinck, as set forth in the accompanying memorandum, showing the details of the whole force, dropped down the river below the Hastings' Shoal, and waited for the morning tide.

A convoy of boats, containing provisions, stores, and camp-followers, escorted by the gun-boats, under the command of Lieutenant Mason, preceded the steamers on the afternoon of the 18th.

Weighing at early day-light on the 19th, and taking the whole of the flood-tide with them, the vessels, led by the Lord William Bentinck, proceeded up the Pegu River, and arrived in the evening at stations a few miles below Pegu.

The Lord William Bentinck, more fortunate than the rest, (Mr. Digney having previously acquired some knowledge of the river on a former occasion,) reached a point two miles below the position it was proposed to take up; the Damooda, Nerbudda, and Mahanuddy remaining for the night at stations lower down the river.

The further advance of the vessels on the following day was tedious, and a matter of considerable difficulty, owing to the decreasing width and depth of the channel, and the serpentine bends of the river.

By the evening the Lord William Bentinck had pushed on to a position about a quarter of a mile below the south-east angle of the old ruined city of Pegu; the Nerbudda reached a point half a mile further down; the Damooda three quarters; and the Mahanuddy a mile and three quarters below the Lord William Bentinck.

After anchoring, the Major-General, accompanied by some Staff Officers and myself, proceeded up the river to reconnoitre, and make arrangements for landing on the following morning.

In the evening, and during the early part of the night, some desultory firing took place from the enemy's river stockades on the headmost steamer, which was returned by her and the boats, while picquets were thrown out from the steamers on the banks during the night to prevent the accident of a night attack.

The disembarkation of the troops commenced on the following morning, Sunday, 21st, at 4 A.M., each steamer landing her men on the left bank of the river, abreast of her own position, from whence the different columns marched along the bank to the point of concentration abreast of the headmost steamer, the Lord William Bentinck.

At the same time the artillery, two 24-pounder howitzers (which had been previously transferred from the Mahanuddy to the paddle-box boats), were landed by the seamen, under the directions of Commander Lambert.

The ancient city of Pegu is of a quadrangular form; the ruined walls or ramparts are still clearly defined, and are surrounded on all sides by a moat, much choked with mud and rubbish, its sides being about a mile and three-quarters in length, the Pagoda, which forms the key of the position, lying in the N. E. division of the space enclosed by the ruined ramparts.

The enemy, whose numbers are stated to have amounted to between three and four thousand, were strongly posted at the S.E. angle of the walls, and also along the river front of their position, which was strongly stockaded. The enemy made no opposition to our landing, owing to our movements being concealed by the fog which prevailed in the early morning.

The concentration of the troops and the arrangements for the advance, were completed by about 6.30 A.M.; at 7 the advance commenced, the columns moving along the outer edge of the southern moat towards the eastward, so as to turn the flank of the enemy's position, their progress being necessarily extremely slow, on account of the difficult nature of the ground, which was covered with high grass and jungle, and over which there was no regular road.

The enemy immediately commenced a sharp fire, which soon caused some casualties, and as the troops advanced along the edge of the moat, they moved along the ramparts parallel to them, and maintained a constant fire. At about 9.15 the European troops who were in advance reached a point opposite to a broken opening in the rampart, where the moat seemed passable, and after a short halt to refresh the men, and form them under cover of a wood, they advanced at 9.45 A.M., in column of attack, charged gallantly across the moat, entered the line of the enemy's defence and drove the Burmese before them,—the enemy retreating towards the pagoda.

I had remained a little behind to assist the advance of the Artillery, about which the General had been anxious, and on my arrival at 10 A.M., had the satisfaction of seeing our troops in possession of the enemy's ramparts.

After refreshing the men, the troops advanced, at 10.45 A.M., to the left along the bund, towards the line of the river defences, for the purpose of dispersing the enemy in that quarter; but on perceiving them in full retreat towards the pagoda, owing to the efficient fire of shell and canister, which from the commencement of the affair had been kept up on them by the Lord William Bentinck and the gun-boats, the General counter-marched the troops to the right again, and returned to our original position.

At 12 o'clock the columns again advanced by the direct road leading towards the Pagoda without meeting any opposition, and on arriving near it, at 0.45 P.M. the columns were formed for the assault. On approaching it, we perceived some Burmese stealthily watching our movements; our men advanced with a rush, the enemy fired a volley and fled, we entered the Pagoda, and Pegu was ours.

It could scarcely be expected that this service could be performed without some loss; and I regret to say that the military force had six men killed and thirty-one wounded, including, among the latter, three officers; most providentially none of the seamen in the boats, or on board the Lord William Bentinck (which vessel alone was near enough to take part in the attack), were either killed or wounded, although continually exposed to a warm fire.

It is with much gratification that I have to report to your Exeellency, the zeal, energy, and good conduct, of the officers and seamen attached to the expedition.

To Commander Rowley Lambert, of H. M. S. Fox, praise is due for the able manner in which the guns were promptly landed by the seamen under his directions, and subsequently for the efficient manner in which he directed the fire from the gun boats on the enemy's position, by which they were ultimately dislodged.

Messrs, Digney, Porter, Berwick, and Simson, respectively commanding the East India Company's steamers, deserve great credit for the perseverance and energy they displayed in pushing their vessels up the river, under circumstances of most difficult navigation, as well as for their general assistance.

Lieutenants Mason and Glover, and Mr. Pocock, Mate, and the subordinate officers in charge of boats, acquitted themselves to my entire satisfaction.

The services of Mr. J. F. Johnson, Assistant-Surgeon of H. M. S. Sphinx, were extremely valuable in attending on the wounded, many of whom were sent on board the Lord William Bentinck at the commencement of the affair.

Commander Beauchamp Seymour, R.N., accompanied the expedition as a volunteer, and was present with the Major-General Commanding throughout the operations of the day.

I have, &c.,

CHARLES D. A. SHADWELL.

CHARLES D. A. SHADWELL,
Commander.Commander Shadwell to Commodore Lambert.H.M.S. Sphinx, Rangoon,November 24, 1852.

SIR,

IN continuation of my letter relative to the expedition to Pegu, I have the honour to inform your Excellency that, in accordance with the wishes of the Major-General Commanding the Forces, the troops, whom it was proposed should return to Rangoon, were embarked on board the East India Company's steamers Mahanuddy, Damooda, and Lord William Bentinck, on the evening of the 22nd. The two latter vessels left for Rangoon on the morning of the 23rd, and General Godwin and Staff having embarked on board the Mahanuddy during the afternoon, that vessel proceeded, and returned to Rangoon at noon this day.

A garrison of 430 men remains at Pegu, 230 Europeans and 200 Sepoys.

The Major-General at first wished the Ner-budda to remain at Pegu for a few days, but having subsequently changed his mind, I ordered that vessel to return also, and desired one of the Sphinx's paddle-box boats to remain until further orders.

Mr. Bamadistan, in charge of the Yawl of H. M. S. Winchester, arrived at Pegu, with a convoy of provision boats from Rangoon, on the morning of the 23rd. I have instructed that officer to return to Rangoon with the empty boats as soon as they have been cleared.

I have, &c.,

CHARLES D. A. SHADWELL,
Commander.

Major-General H. Godwin, C.B., Commanding the Forces in Ava, Arracan, and the Tenasserim Provinces, to C. Allen, Esq.

SIR,

Pegu, November 22, 1852.

I HAVE the honour to state, for the information of the Governor-General in Council, that Pegu was captured yesterday.

In June last I was induced, by strong representations from various sources, to send a small force to drive out some Burmese from Pegu. We had had some friendly intercourse with the inhabitants of that place, who declared to me that if they were put again in possession of their town they would be able to hold it. There was an armed party of 'Taliens at the time from the villages around, who promised their support.

The Burmese were driven out, and the people recovered possession of their town, but, as I feared, they did not hold it a week.

At this time it would have been inconvenient in many ways to have stationed a force there at the commencement of the monsoon.

Since that time I have had various reports of the enemy being in great force at Pegu, and that they had thrown up strong defences on the river, and from it to the Pagoda, within the site of the old city—they became troublesome also to several villages between this and Rangoon.

As the army will shortly be at Prome, with a garrison only at Rangoon, it became imperative to take possession of, and garrison Pegu.

I had determined upon this for some time, and the three small river steamers, with the Mahanuddy, having returned from Prome on the 16th of November, I arranged with Commodore Lambert that the troops should embark on Thursday evening, the 18th, when 300 men of the 1st Bengal Fusiliers, under Lieutenant Colonel Tudor; 300 of the 1st Madras Fusiliers, under Major Hill; 400 men of the 5th Madras N. I., under Major Shubriek; 70 Sappers, with two 24-pounder howitzers and 32 artillerymen, embarked by 7 o'clock, P.M.

This force I placed under the command of Brigadier McNeill, of the Madras Army.

I also embarked with my own Staff in the Mahanuddy, for the purpose of accompanying the expedition.

Commander Shadwell, of the Royal Navy, had charge of the Flotilla.

This town is situated about 60 miles from Rangoon, on a fine creek called the Pegu River, which runs into the Rangoon River, just below the town of Rangoon.

We started on Friday morning, the 19th, at day-break, and, in consequence of the shallow water, were obliged to anchor about two miles below Pegu at sunset, on the evening of the 20th.

The troops commenced disembarking at 4 A. M. the next morning, and were all assembled on shore by $\frac{1}{2}$ past 6 o'clock, and when I joined the force at this hour, I found it buried in high grass jungle, and the whole country enveloped in a thick fog.

I was in some degree aware of the position of the enemy, from a plan I had had in my possession for some time, furnished by Captain Latter, he having accompanied the former expedition in June, but not the particulars of it until I saw it on the ground. The site of the old city, wherein the enemy was posted, is formed by a square, surrounded by a high bund, each side of which is presumed to be about two miles in length, the west side facing the river, and the square is surrounded by a wet moat, between 70 and 80 paces wide.

From the south-west angle there is a causeway over the moat, close to, and paralled with, the river. This causeway the enemy had made exceedingly strong by traverses, and breaking it down at various intervals to prevent our advance. On the whole of the south face of the bund, fronting our position, they had bodies of troops stationed, extending for about a mile and quarter.

As the causeway on the right of their position was so narrow that only a file of men could advance along it against their numerous musquetry and local impediments, I abandoned all idea of attacking them there. It was, therefore, determined to force our way along the moat, and to turn the left of their position, on the south face of the square.

Captain Latter, my interpreter, who was with me, had with him a Burmese, who promised to find us a causeway leading into the bund, close to the left of their position. We commenced our advance, the Bengal Fusiliers leading, covered by the Rifle Company of the 5th Madras Native Infantry, and followed by the Madras Fusiliers and 5th Native Infantry, in file, and for two hours was this force struggling through the almost impenetrable grass and jungle along the outer edge of the moat, and exposed to a very warm fire from the enemy.

We at last reached a part of the moat which admitted of a passage for the troops, and marked by the extreme left of the enemy's position, and where they had a strong post and two guns.

I here directed Colonel Tudor to form a storming party of 150 of his own men, and 100 of the Madras Fusiliers, which the Lieutenant-Colonel led. At the signal given, they crossed the moat through mud and water, and most gallantly stormed the enemy's post. We were now masters of their position.

Our own guns were actively employed under Captain Malloek at the spot from which we first commenced our move, and after some time they were brought up, over almost impassable ground, nearly to the spot where we effected our entrance into the enemy's position, and they were protected by the Grenadiers of the 5th Madras Native Infantry under Captain Wyndham.

After resting the troops for some time, and collecting the wounded men, we again advanced by an excellent path in the direction of the large Pagoda. We suffered no molestation from the enemy, but on approaching the Pagoda, I formed a party for its attack, under Major Hill of the Madras Fusiliers, consisting of 100 of his own regiment, with a similar number of the Bengal Fusiliers. They advanced up to the steps of the Pagoda, and on ascending received a fire of musquetry, which they soon silenced, and took possession of the place at about one o'clock P.M.

The fatigues of the day were now over, and I am certain that while they lasted no soldiers ever met with more arduous ones, nor ever met the obstacles of such an advance with more cheerful and steady perseverance than did this little band of brave and determined men.

The enemy, by the least computation, could not number less than 5,000 men, evidently headed by people of consideration, by the numerous mounted people, as well as elephants, which were seen retiring by the road to Sitang.

Our loss is not nearly what I apprehended in the morning it might have been, and, considering the difficulties of the ground and exposure to the enemy, I congratulate myself that it is so small.

I have now to ask the Governor-General in Council's consideration of the services performed on this expedition by the officers and men engaged.

To Brigadier McNeill, who formed up the force in the morning as it disembarked, and whose indefatigable exertions during the day brought on an exhaustion which occasioned me much distress to witness, and which deprived me of his valuable assistance for a short time.

To Lieutenant-Colonel Tudor, of the Bengal Fusiliers, who led the storming party and carried the enemy's position.

To Major Hill, of the Madras Fusiliers, who led the party which carried the Pagoda.

To Major Shubrick, of the 5th Madras Native Infantry, whose position in the Bentinck, which was considerably in advance of the rest of the Flotilla, called forth his greatest vigilance to protect his people from the enemy, who were around him, as also for his exertions during the day.

To Captain Mallock, for his exertions with the guns.

To Captain Brown, who commanded the Rifle Company of the 5th Madras Native Infantry, who covered our advance, and whose conduct I witnessed with much pleasure during the day.

I feel most particularly indebted to the attention and devotion paid to the sick and wounded by the Medical Officers who accompanied the force.

The Brigadier has brought to my notice Captain Renaud, his Brigade Major, whose services he highly appreciates.

To Captain Latter, whose distinguished gallantry on this as on all occasions has been conspicuous, as also his local information and active assistance, I beg to call your Lordship's particular attention.

To Commander Shadwell, who had charge of the naval part of this expedition, I am deeply indebted for the most unremitting exertions by night and day, and for the disembarkation of the troops, which was conducted as quietly as expeditiously. Neither the Steamers nor the boats could get up to the enemy's defences, owing to the shallowness of the river.

Captain Shadwell personally accompanied me throughout the day.

Will your Lordship permit me to introduce to your notice Commander Beauchamp Seymour, of the Royal Navy, who is here on a visit to many friends, who accompanied me during the day, and whose conduct was conspicuous on every occasion.

To Major Mayhew, Deputy Adjutant-General; Major Boulderson, Deputy Judge Advocate-General; Captain Hamilton, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General; Captain Darroch, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General ; Captain Burne, Military Secretary ; and Captain Chads, Aide-de-Camp ; the general and my personal Staff, whose duties were most arduous, being carried on on foot, and whose exertions to keep up the communication with the force in this broken ground were incessant, I beg to call your Lordship's attention.

I leave a garrison of 400 men, 200 of the Madras Fusiliers, and 200 of the 5th Madras Native Infantry, with two 24-pounder howitzers, and a detail of Artillery with 40 Sappers, which the upper terrace of the Pagoda will hold most commodiously, including the magazine and stores. This party will be under the command of Major Hill, of the Madras Fusiliers, a most excellent officer.

Lieutenant Campbell, of the Bengal Engineers, will see to its necessary defences.

Eight guns were taken, and it is supposed that more will be found.

I purpose leaving this for Rangoon to-morrow morning.

Enclosing a list of casualties,

I have, &c.

H. GODWIN, Major-General,
Commanding the Forces in Ava, Arracan, and Tenasserim Provinces.

Two warrants of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, dated the 13th day of January, 1853, appoint, under the authority of "An Act to amend the laws relating to the Customs," Dundee and Kirkaldy to be ports within that part of the United Kingdom, called Scotland; declare the limits of the said ports respectively; and appoint certain places therein (as set forth in this Gazette) to be legal quays for the purposes of the said Act.

FROM THE LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 21, 1853.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 4th day of January, 1853,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representations made (as set forth in this Gazette) by Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches—

For uniting and consolidating certain contiguous portions of the parishes of Horsham and Shipley, in the county of Sussex, and diocese of Chichester, and to form the same into one consolidated chapelry for the consecrated church of the Holy Innocents, situate at Southwater, in the said parish of Horsham, to be called "The Consolidated Chapelry of Southwater," and vesting the right of presentation and appointment of a perpetual curate to serve the said church of the Holy Innocents, at Southwater aforesaid, in the vicar or incumbent for the time being of the parish church of Horsham.

CHAPTER of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

ELECTION and INVESTITURE of the DUKE OF NORTHUMBERLAND and the MARQUESS OF LONDONDERRY.

A Chapter of this Most Noble Order having been summoned for this day, at two o'clock, the 1853. E

Knights Companions, hereafter named, assembled in St. George's Hall, viz. :

The Marquess of Exeter, the Marquess of Salisbury, the Duke of Cleveland, the Marquess Camden, the Duke of Bedford, the Earl of Clarendon, and Earl Fitzwilliam, attended by the following Officers, viz. :

The Lord Bishop of Winchester, Prelate; the Lord Bishop of Oxford, Chancellor; Sir Charles George Young, Knt., Garter; and Sir Augustus William James Clifford, Bart., Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod.

The Knights Companions were called over by Garter, when (Her Majesty, His Royal Highness Prince Albert, and His Serene Highness the Prince of Leiningen, having passed into the Throne-room) they proceeded, together with the Officers of the Order, through the Grand Reception-room into the Throne-room.

The Chancellor then signified to the Chapter Her Majesty's royal will and pleasure that the vacant stalls in the Royal Chapel of St. George, at Windsor, be filled; whereupon the Most Noble Algernon Duke of Northumberland was introduced to the Sovereign by Garter and Black Rod, and knighted with the sword of state; when His Grace, having kissed the Sovereign's hand, retired.

The Knights Companions then proceeded to the election; and the suffrages having been collected by the Chancellor were presented by him to the Sovereign, who commanded him to declare, and he accordingly declared, that the Most Noble Algernon Duke of Northumberland had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

Then, by the Sovereign's command, his Grace was received at the door of the Chapter-room by the Earl of Clarendon and Earl Fitzwilliam, the two junior Knights Companions present, and conducted between them to Her Majesty, preceded by Garter (bearing the ensigns of the Order upon a crimson velvet cushion) and by Black Rod. The Duke of Northumberland, kneeling near the Sovereign, Garter, on his knee, presented the Garter, and Her Majesty, assisted by His Royal Highness the Princee Albert, buckled it on his Grace's left leg ; the Chancellor pronouncing the usual admonition.

Garter next presented, in like manner, the Ribband and George ; and Her Majesty, assisted as before, put the same over his Grace's left shoulder, the Chancellor pronouncing the admonition. The Duke then again kissed Her Majesty's hand, and having received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions retired.

The Chapter then proceeded to a second election, and the Chancellor, having collected the suffrages, presented them to the Sovereign, who commanded him to declare, and he accordingly did declare, that the Most Honourable Charles William, Marquess of Londonderry, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, had been duly elected a Knight of this Most Noble Order ; whereupon his Lordship was introduced and invested with the Garter, Ribband, and George, with the like ceremonies.

The chapter being ended, Garter, by Her Majesty's command, again called over the Knights Companions, who, with the Officers of the Order, retired from the presence of the Sovereign with the usual reverences.

At the Court at Windsor Castle, January 19, 1853.

The Queen, as Sovereign of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, has been graciously pleased, by letters patent under Her royal sign manual and the great seal of the Order, bearing date this day, to dispense with all the statutes and regulations usually observed in regard to installation, and to grant unto the Most Noble Algernon, Duke of Northumberland, and the Most Honourable Charles William, Marquess of Londonderry, Knights of the said Most Noble Order, and duly invested with the ensigns thereof, full power and authority to exercise all rights and privileges belonging to Knights Companions of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, in as full and ample a manner as if they had been formally installed, any decree, rule, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

Whitehall, January 21, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to direct letters patent to be passed under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom, appointing Arthur, Duke of Wellington, Master of the Horse to Her Majesty.

Downing-Street, January 21, 1853.

THE Queen has been pleased to sanction and allow the subjoined Ordinance of the Governor of Ceylon:—

Ordinance enacted by the Governor of Ceylon, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof.

No. 2.—1852.

G. W. Anderson.

To repeal the Export Duty on Cinnamon.

Whereas it is expedient that the duties of Customs chargeable on the exportation of cinnamon from this island should cease to be levied; It is enacted by the Governor of Ceylon, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, that from and after the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, so much of the Ordinance, No. 9, of 1847, entitled, “For regulating the duties of Customs payable on goods imported into, and exported from, this island,” as enacts that the duties set forth in figures, in the table marked B, annexed to the said Ordinance, shall be raised, levied, and collected in respect of Cinnamon, upon the exportation thereof from this island, shall be repealed; and that from and after the said first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, the duties of Customs which are now levied and collected upon the exportation of Cinnamon from this island, shall cease to be charged, levied, and collected.

Passed, in Council, the twenty-fifth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," certain scales of weight and rates of postage were fixed and made chargeable and payable upon, for, or in respect of letters, newspapers, Parliamentary proceedings, and printed papers, transmitted and forwarded by the post, and various regulations were made for facilitating the transmission of such letters and papers by the post.

And whereas by an Act, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office," the proviso concerning the maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, as fixed in and by the said first-mentioned Act, is repealed; and in order to prevent packets of an unwieldly bulk, or an inconvenient size, being transmitted by the post, power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury at any time or times thereafter, by warrant under their hands, to fix a maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, and from time to time to repeal or revoke such maximum weight, wholly or in part, and declare any other maximum of weight in lieu thereof; and all letters are to be forwarded, conveyed, and delivered by the post, in conformity with any such warrant, and also in conformity with, and under, and subject to all such orders, conditions, limitations, regulations, and restrictions, as to the form, size, or dimensions thereof, whether in proportion to the weight or otherwise, as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury shall, from time to time, direct. And, by the said Act, power is also given to the Postmaster-General to collect and receive the foreign and colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post, and also, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, to require the postage, British, Colonial, or Foreign, of any letters sent by the post, to be pre-paid, either in money or in stamps, as he may think fit, on the same being put into the Post-office ; and also, with such consent, to abolish or reſtrict the pre-payment in money of poſtage on letters ſent by the poſt, either altogether, or on certain letters, and to require the pre-payment thereof to be in ſtamps, and to reſuſe to receive or ſend by the poſt any letters tendered contrary to any regulations thereby made. And it is alſo declared and enacted, that it ſhall be lawful for the Poſtmaſter-General, and any officer of the Poſt-office, to detain any letters which ſhall be poſted or ſent by the poſt, contrary to the regulations of that Act, or the firſt-mentioned Act, or contrary to the regulations of any Treasury Warrant, to be iſſued under or by virtue of that Act, or which had been or ſhould be iſſued under or by virtue of the ſaid firſt-mentioned Act, and to open ſuch letters and to return them to the ſenders thereof, or to forward them to the places of their deſtination, charged, in either caſe, with ſuch rates of poſtage as the Poſtmaſter-General, with the conſent of the Commiſſioners of Her Maſteſty's Treasury, ſhall from time to time direct.

Now we, the underſigned, being two of the Commiſſioners of Her Maſteſty's Treasury, do, in exereife of the powers reſerved to us in and by the ſaid before-mentioned Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, by this warrant under our hands, order and direct that printed books, printed magazines, printed reviews, and printed pamphlets, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, poſted in the United Kingdom, addreſſed to the iſland of Saint Helena, or poſted in the ſaid iſland of Saint Helena, addreſſed to the United Kingdom, may be tranſmitted by the poſt between any part of the United Kingdom and the said island of Saint Helena, subject to the several regulations and rates hereinafter contained ; that is to say :—

On every packet consisting of a single printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall be sewed or bound together, if not exceeding half a pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of sixpence.

And on every such packet, if exceeding half a pound, and not exceeding one pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of one shilling.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound, and not exceeding two pounds in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of two shillings.

And on every such packet, if exceeding two pounds, and not exceeding three pounds in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of three shillings.

And for every additional one pound in weight of any such packet above the weight of three pounds, there shall be charged and taken an additional rate of postage of one shilling, and every fraction of such additional pound shall be charged as an additional pound.

And we further order and direct that no such packet, if containing more than one printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, or containing any paper or thing besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, or containing any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall not be sewed or bound together, or which packet, in length, or breadth, or width, or depth shall exceed the dimensions of two feet, or twenty-four inches, shall be forwarded by the post under the provisions aforesaid.

And we further order and direct, that as to any packet hereinbefore authorized to be sent by the post under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in the United Kingdom, the postage thereof shall in every case be pre-paid at the time of the same being posted, not in money, but by being duly stamped with the proper British postage stamp or stamps affixed thereto; which stamp or stamps shall in every case be affixed or appear on the outside of every such packet, near the address, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon, under or by virtue of this warrant; and as to any such packet posted in the island of St. Helena, the postage thereof shall in every case be pre-paid, either in money or by the proper colonial postage stamp or stamps being affixed thereto at the time of the same being posted.

And we further order and direct, that every such packet shall be sent without a cover, or in a cover or envelope open at the ends or sides, and shall contain printed matter only, with the binding thereof, and there shall be no writing or marks upon the cover or envelope thereof, or upon or within any part of the contents thereof, other than the name and address of the person to whom the packet shall be sent.

And in order to prevent any obstacles to the due and regular transmission of letters by the post, we further direct, that it shall be lawful for any officer of the Post-office in the United Kingdom to delay the transmission of any packet posted or forwarded by the post, under the provisions of this warrant, for the space of twenty-four hours from the time at which (or at his option until the dispatch of the mail next after that by which) the same ought otherwise to have been forwarded by him.

And we further direct that nothing hereinbefore contained shall be construed to interfere with or affect the transmission by the post of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or of printed votes and proceedings of the Colonial Legislatures, nor of printed papers or other printed publications which are allowed to pass by the post under the newspaper privilege.

And we further order and direct, that if any packet sent, or tendered, or delivered in order to be sent by the post, under the provisions of this present warrant, shall contain any paper or thing besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, and the binding thereof, or shall have any writing or marks upon the same, or upon the cover or envelope thereof, except the name and address of the person to whom it is forwarded, or shall not be open at the ends or sides, or shall in length, or breadth, or width, or depth, exceed the dimensions of two feet or twenty-four inches, or shall contain more than one printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, or shall contain any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall not be sewed or bound together, or if the postage of any such packet, posted in the United Kingdom, shall not be duly and properly pre-paid by British stamps when posted, or if the postage of any such packet posted in the island of Saint Helena, shall not be duly and properly pre-paid in money, or by colonial stamps, when posted, the same shall and may be detained and opened at any place in the United Kingdom, and, at the option, of the Postmaster-General, shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, or be given up to the person to whom it shall be addressed, or be forwarded to the place of its destination; and any such packet, on being so returned, given up, or forwarded, shall be chargeable with the like amount of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter.

And we further direct, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any packets sent through any foreign country to which a transit rate of postage would be payable thereon, nor to any packets sent by private ships.

And we further order and direct, that the term "by the post," used in this warrant, shall, as to the sea conveyance, include the conveyance by packet-boat; and that the several other terms and expressions used in this warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

And we further direct, that this warrant shall come into operation on the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

Provided, lastly, and we do hereby declare and direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any two of them, by warrant under their hands, at any time hereafter to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby fixed or altered, or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and from time to time to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

Ports of Portsmouth and Teignmouth.

Appointment of Legal Quays.

Two warrants of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, dated the 17th day of January, 1853, appoint under the authority of "An Act to amend the laws relating to the Customs," certain places within the port of Portsmouth, and one place within the port of Teignmouth (as set forth in this Gazette) to be legal quays for the purposes of the said Act.

Port of Arundel.

Limits of Port and Legal Quays.

A similar warrant, of the same date, appoints Arundel to be a port in that part of the United Kingdom called England; declares the limits of the said port, and appoints certain places therein to be legal quays, for the lading and unlading of goods.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the fifteenth and sixteenth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, chapter 73, intituled, "An Act to make provision for a permanent establishment of officers to perform the duties at Nisi Prius, in the Superior Courts of Common Law, and for the payment of such officers, and of the Judges' Clerks, by salaries, and to abolish certain offices in those Courts," it was amongst other things enacted, that it should and might be lawful for the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and they were thereby empowered and required, by and with the sanction of the Lord Chief Justices of the Courts of Queen's Bench and Common Pleas, and the Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer, as soon as conveniently might be, to ascertain and fix the number of Ushers, Court Keepers, Messengers, and other subordinate officers and assistants in the said Superior Courts, and of attendants on the Judges (other than the Judges' Clerks), which should be sufficient for the due performance of the duties required to be rendered in respect of such subordinate offices and appointments, and for the necessary attendance on the Judges ; and a list or lists of the offices and appointments, when so fixed and ascertained, should thereupon be published, by and under the authority of the said Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in the London Gazette ; and, from and after such publication, all such of the said offices and appointments, not contained in such list or lists, should be, and the same were thereby declared to be, abolished.

In pursuance of the said Statute, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by and with the sanction of the Lord Chief Justices of the Courts of Queen's Bench and Common Pleas, and the Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer, have ascertained and fixed the number of Ushers, Court Keepers, Messengers, and other subordinate officers and assistants in the said Superior Courts, and of attendants on the Judges (other than the Judges' Clerks), to be as set forth in the following list, which are considered to be sufficient for the due performance of the duties required to be rendered in respect of such subordinate offices and appointments, and for the necessary attendance on the Judges; and the said Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury authorize and direct the said list of officers and appointments to be published in the London Gazette; namely:

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," certain scales of weight and rates of postage were fixed and made chargeable and payable upon, for, or in respect of letters, newspapers, parliamentary proceedings, and printed papers transmitted and forwarded by the post, and various regulations were made for facilitating the transmission of such letters and papers by the post.

And whereas by an Act, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office," the proviso concerning the maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, as fixed in and by the said first-mentioned Act is repealed, and in order to prevent packets of an unwieldy bulk or an inconvenient size being transmitted by the post, power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, at any time or times thereafter, by warrant under their hands, to fix a maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, and from time to time to repeal or revoke such maximum weight, wholly or in part, and declare any other maximum of weight in lieu thereof, and all letters are to be forwarded, conveyed, and delivered by the post in conformity with any such warrant, and also in conformity with and under and subject to all such orders, conditions, limitations, regulations, and restrictions as to the form, size, or dimensions thereof, whether in proportion to the weight or otherwise, as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury shall, from time to time, direct. And by the said Act power is also given to the Postmaster-General to collect and receive the foreign and colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post; and also with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to require the postage, British, colonial, or foreign, of any letters sent by the post to be pre-paid, either in money or in stamps, as he may think fit, on the same being put into the Post-office; and also with such consent to abolish or restrict the pre-payment in money, of postage on letters sent by the post, either altogether or on certain letters, and to require the pre-payment thereof to be in stamps, and to refuse to receive or send by the post any letters tendered contrary to any regulations thereby made. And it is also declared and enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General, and any officer of the post-office, to detain any letters which shall be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations of that Act, or the first-mentioned Act, or contrary to the regulations of any Treasury

Warrant, to be issued under or by virtue of that Act, or which had been or should be issued under or by virtue of the said first-mentioned Act, and to open such letters, and either to return them to the senders thereof or to forward them to the places of their destination, charged in either case with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, shall from time to time direct.

Now we, the undersigned, being two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said before-mentioned Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, by this warrant, under our hands, order and direct that printed books, printed magazines, printed reviews, and printed pamphlets, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, posted in the United Kingdom addressed to the East Indies, or posted in the East Indies addressed to the United Kingdom, may be transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and the East Indies, subject to the several regulations and rates hereinafter contained ; that is to say :

On every packet consisting of a single printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall be sewed or bound together, if not exceeding half a pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of sixpence.

And on every such packet, if exceeding half a pound, and not exceeding one pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of one shilling.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound, and not exceeding two pounds in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of two shillings.

And we further order and direct, that no such packet, if exceeding the weight of three pounds or containing more than one printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, or containing any paper or thing besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, or containing any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall not be sewed or bound together, or which packet, in length, or breadth, or width, or depth, shall exceed the dimensions of two feet or twenty-four inches, shall be forwarded by the post under the provisions aforesaid.

And we further order and direct, that as to any packet hereinbefore authorized to be sent by the post, under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in the United Kingdom, the postage thereof shall, in every case, be pre-paid at the time of the same being posted, not in money, but by being duly stamped with the proper British postage stamp or stamps affixed thereto, which stamp or stamps shall, in every case, be affixed or appear on the outside of every such packet near the address, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon under or by virtue of this warrant; and as to any such packet posted in the East Indies, the postage thereof shall, in every case, be pre-paid, either in money or by the proper colonial postage stamp or stamps being affixed thereto at the time of the same being posted.

And we further order and direct, that every such packet shall be sent without a cover, or in a cover or envelope, open at the ends or sides, and shall contain printed matter only with the binding thereof, and there shall be no writing or marks upon the cover or envelope thereof, or upon or within any part of the contents thereof, other than the name and address of the person to whom the packet shall be sent.

And in order to prevent any obstacles to the due and regular transmission of letters by the post, we further direct, that it shall be lawful for any officer of the Post-office in the United Kingdom, to delay the transmission of any packet posted or forwarded by the post, under the provisions of this warrant, for the space of twenty-four hours from the time at which (or at his option, until the dispatch of the mail next after that by which) the same ought otherwise to have been forwarded by him.

And we further direct, that nothing hereinbefore contained shall be construed to interfere with or affect the transmission by the post, of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or of printed votes and proceedings of the colonial legislatures, nor of printed papers or other printed publications which are allowed to pass by the post under the newspaper privilege.

And we further order and direct, that if any packet sent or tendered, or delivered in order to be sent by the post, under the provisions of this present Warrant shall exceed the weight of three pounds, or shall contain any paper or thing besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, and the binding thereof, or shall have any writing or marks upon the same, or upon the cover or envelope thereof, except the name and address of the person to whom it is forwarded, or shall not be open at the ends or sides, or shall in length or breadth, or width or depth exceed the dimensions of two feet or twenty-four inches, or shall contain more than one printed book or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, or shall contain any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall not be sewed or bound together, or if the postage of any such packet posted in the United Kingdom shall not be duly and properly pre-paid by British stamps when posted, or if the postage of any such packet posted in the East Indies shall not be duly and properly pre-paid in money or by colonial stamps when posted, the same shall and may be detained and opened at any place in the United Kingdom, and at the option of the Postmaster-General, shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, or be given up to the person to whom it shall be addressed, or forwarded to the place of its destination, and any such packet, on being so returned, given up, or forwarded, shall be chargeable with the like amount of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter.

And we further direct, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any packets sent through France or any other foreign country to which a transit rate of postage would be payable thereon, nor to any packets sent by private ships.

And we further order and direct, that the term "by the post," used in this Warrant, shall, as to the sea conveyance, include the conveyance by packet-boat, and shall also include the conveyance through Egypt, so long as no transit rate of postage be payable thereon; and that the term "East Indies" used in this Warrant, shall be construed to mean every port or place in Asia, within the limits of the Charter of the East India Company (China, Hong Kong, Ceylon, the Mauritius, Java, Borneo, and Australia, excepted), and that the several other terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

And we further direct, that this Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

Provided, lastly, and we do hereby declare and direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, for the time being, of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any two of them, by Warrant under their hands, at any time hereafter, to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby fixed or altered, or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and, from time to time, to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

The Queen has been pleased to ordain and declare, that John Townshend Boseawen, Clerk; Edward James Boseawen, of Woolhampton, in the county of Berks, Esq.; Frances, wife of Arthur Edward Somerset, of Woolhampton aforesaid, Esq.; Catherine, wife of Lewis Francis Bagot, Clerk, Rector of Leigh, in the county of Stafford; Florence, Anne, Gertrude Elizabeth, and Lucy Boseawen, Spinsters, the younger children of John Evelyn Boseawen, Clerk, Prebendary of Canterbury, commonly called the Honourable John Evelyn Boseawen, deceased, and brothers and sisters of Evelyn, now Viscount Falmouth, shall henceforth have, hold, and enjoy the titles, place, pre-eminence, and precedence of the younger children of a viscount, as if their said late father, John Evelyn Boseawen, had survived his nephew, George Henry Earl and Viscount Falmouth, lately deceased, and thereby succeeded to the title and dignity of Viscount Falmouth:

And also to command that the said royal order and declaration be registered in Her Majesty's College of Arms.

By the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament passed in the 54th year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Third, chapter 159, intituled "An Act for the better regulation of the several ports, harbours, roadsteads, sounds, channels, bays, and navigable rivers in the United Kingdom, and of His Majesty's dock yards, arsenals, wharfs, moorings, and stores therein, and for repealing several Acts passed for that purpose," it is enacted (among other things) that no person or persons shall take any ballast or shingle from the shores or banks, or any portion of the shores or banks, of any port, harbour, or haven of this kingdom, from which the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom for the time being shall find it necessary for the protection of such port, harbour, or haven, or the works thereof, by order, under their hands or the hand of their Secretary, and published in the London Gazette, shall prohibit the taking or removing of such shingle or ballast upon pain of forfeiting for every such offence the sum of Ten Pounds.

Now we being two of the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom do, in pursuance and by force and virtue of the said Act, hereby prohibit the taking away or removing of all shingle or ballast from that portion of the shore in Filey Bay in front of the sea-wall opposite the town of Filey, in the county of York, and for thirty yards to the north of Filey Beck, and thirty yards to the south of Sand-road (being about four hundred yards in length from north to south), and extending forty yards from the foot of the said wall seaward.

Given under our hands this 31st day of January, 1853.

At the Court at Windsor, the 7th day of February, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

THIS day the Most Noble Arthur, Duke of Wellington, the Right Honourable Archibald William Douglas (commonly called Viscount Drumlanrig), and the Right Honourable Charles Pelham Villiers, were, by Her Majesty's command, sworn of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took their respective places at the Board accordingly.

At the Court at Windsor, the 7th day of February, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the session of Parliament, holden in the fifteenth and sixteenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the Militia," it was enacted "that it should be lawful for Her Majesty from time to time, where with the advice of Her Privy Council she might see fit so to do, to extend or reduce the period of training and exercise of all or any part of the militia, so as the whole period of training and exercise in any year should not exceed fifty-six days nor be less than three days."

And whereas it has seemed fit to Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to extend the period of training and exercise of the militia in the present year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the period of training and exercise of all the regiments and corps of the militia in England and Wales be extended for and during the present year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, so that the whole period of training and exercise of the said regiments and corps, in the said year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, shall not in any case exceed fifty-six days nor be less than three days; and Her Majesty is further pleased to direct that this order be forthwith published in the London Gazette, and be transmitted to the respective lieutenants of the counties, ridings, and places in England and Wales, in order that they should proceed upon the same in pursuance of the directions of the said Act of Parliament.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Windsor, the 7th day of

FROM THE LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 15, 1853.

India Board, February 14, 1853.

THE following Dispatches have been this day received at the East India House.

The Governor-General of India in Council to the Secret Committee of the East India Company.

Fort William, January 5, 1853.

(Extract.)

THE annexed Dispatches from Major-General Godwin and Commodore Lambert, report the operations connected with the relief of Pegu. Our entire satisfaction has been expressed to these officers at the successful accomplishment of this service.

Major-General H. Godwin, C.B., Commanding the Forces in Ava, Arracan, and Tenasserim Provinces, to C. Allen, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India.

SIR, Pegu, December 15, 1852.

IN continuation of my despatch of the 11th instant from Rangoon, I have the satisfaction to state, for the information of the Governor-General in Council, that the garrison I left at this place was relieved from its investment by the Burmese, on my arrival here yesterday at one o'clock. The strength of the enemy, added to their formidable position, the very small garrison and its falling short of ammunition, though strongly posted and with a large supply of provisions, caused me very great anxiety.

At 9 o'clock, in the night of the 11th instant, 1200 men were embarked at Rangoon in two steamers and a number of boats, and were disembarked about six miles below the Ghaut, at Pegu, on the morning of the 14th instant, and the whole ready to move off their ground by sunrise.

I had resolved to march and enter the Pagoda by the eastern gate. The last time I was here I did so by the southern gate at its capture, because the enemy from Shoegyne had marched from the east and established their batteries on that face of the Pagoda. This turned all their defences and their works on and from the banks of the river and round the Pagoda, and this move brought me directly on their rear, only having to drive in numbers of well-conducted skirmishers, and a force of about 200 men on ponies, which hung on the right flank of the column during its march, against whom, however, I hardly returned a shot.

Three miles from the Pagoda I passed a gun-carriage burning, which told me what I apprehended was the case, that finding themselves between two fires, the Pagoda and my own, their defences useless, I should find they had retired, and on coming close to the rear of their defences, and pushing on the advance, we met only a large body of skirmishers, who were gallantly repulsed by some of the Bengal and Madras Fusiliers and the Seikhs.

The march through such a close country without a road was well got over. I had with me two guns from the navy boats, drawn by a party of sailors, under Commander Shadwell, whose excessive labours were most cheerfully borne.

Our loss has been 3 killed and 9 wounded, as they had no chance of injuring us seriously. The Burmese will fight if you take your people up to the muzzle of their guns, but wisely retire when they find they are morally beaten as they ever have been in this war.

They have hidden their guns, two only have been found as yet; but in the thick grass jungle a gun is easily hidden.

I have had the aid of Brigadier-General Steel, who particularly requested to accompany me.

It was a hard day's work for all, but well accomplished; and I know few moments that have been more gratifying to me than when I met that excellent and brave officer, Major Hill, of the Madras Fusiliers, in the Pagoda.

His report cannot be prepared to-day, for there is detail respecting the admirable conduct of the Peguers, whose families came under his protection, and he has wonderfully managed to save them.

I have come the second time to Pegu, with the full intention of going onwards, as ten miles from this, at a place called Sephangoon, on the road to Shoegyne, there are the Pegu families in bond at a Burmese station there, held, for the fidelity of their husbands, in the Burmese ranks, which I hope to release to-morrow; at all events to follow the force that has been troubling this country, and break it up; but I cannot state how far I can go, as the progress of all soldiers depends upon feeding them, which can never be left to accident.

I have found more carriage than I expected here, which will assist us very much.

I have ordered a land column, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Sturt, of the 67th Bengal N.I., to march on the right bank of the river,—where I have been informed there is a good hackery road to Pegu,—consisting of half the Madras Horse Artillery, 50 of the Ramghur Horse, and 400 of the 67th Bengal N.I., but with instructions, if he should meet with any serious difficulty, to return ; and I hope to have them up at Sephangoon.

I expect soon to furnish the Government with a detailed account of the proceedings of this Army.

Commodore Lambert has a steamer ready to convey this despatch on its arrival at Rangoon.

I have, &c.

H. GODWIN, Major-General,
Commanding the Forces in Ava, Arracan, and Tenasserim Provinces.

*His Excellency G. R. Lambert, R.N. Commodore
First Class, Commander-in-Chief, to C. Allen, Esq.*

SIR, Rangoon, December 18, 1852.

I HAVE the honour to request you may be pleased to inform the Governor-General of India in Council, that shortly after my return from Prome, on the 6th instant, I learned that a large flat, which the Military authorities had sent up to Pegu, laden with commissariat stores and bullocks, under charge of 24 Sepoys, had been attacked and burnt by the Burmese. A havildar and three of the men being killed, the remainder had by some means reached Pegu with the loss of their arms and accoutrements.

2. Considering it desirable to keep open a communication with the garrison at Pegu, and being anxious to ascertain the true state of things, I sent Commander Shadwell, of Her Majesty's ship Sphinx, with the boats of the squadron specified in inclosure A, on the 8th instant, on that service.

3. The day after his departure, a letter was brought to Rangoon by a friendly Burman, who found the greatest difficulty in escaping from Pegu. Major Hill stated he was surrounded on all sides and hardly pressed, and that his ammunition was getting very short. On receipt of this intelligence, Major-General Godwin decided to send two hundred European troops to Pegu, and they embarked in the Nerbudda and left the same evening, in company with a force of armed boats from the squadron, under command of Commander Rowley Lambert.

4. On the 11th Commander Shadwell returned from Pegu, having failed to communicate with the garrison. On reaching the usual landing place he was received by the enemy with a heavy fire, and on landing he found the Burmese too numerous to contend with. He therefore deemed it prudent to retreat, having in a very short time had 4 men killed and 28 wounded, amongst the latter 2 officers severely; and his coxswain was shot dead by his side. A return of the casualties on this occasion is enclosed, marked B.

5. On his return he met the Nerbudda, but being quite uncertain as to the extent of the force he would be exposed to, he determined to bring them back.

6. I immediately consulted with Major-General Godwin, who determined to go himself to Pegu with a considerable force, and I appropriated for this service the Mahanuddy and Nerbudda steamers, and a number of native cargo boats, the long-boats of the transports, and the boats of the squadron.

7. Before ten o'clock that night Captain Tarleton had embarked a thousand and fifty men, composing the land force, in the boats, and left Rangoon for Pegu. The armed force under his command, belonging to the squadron, is detailed in inclosure C.

8. The steam-vessels Mahanuddy and Nerbudda had both been disabled, but through the activity and ability of Mr. Berry, the superintending engineer, they were temporarily repaired; and Major-General Godwin, having embarked with four hundred more Europeans in these vessels, started next morning.

9. A land force, under Colonel Sturt, of the 67th Regiment B.N.I., also marched for Pegu, leaving Rangoon on the morning of the 13th.

10. I will now refer his Lordship in Council to Captain Tarleton's letter of the 16th instant, for details of the naval operations at Pegu.

11. I fully coincide with the encomiums expressed by Captain Tarleton respecting the officers and seamen of this squadron serving under his orders—who, on this occasion, have been actuated by the same gallant and cheerful spirit to fulfil their duty, that they have displayed throughout the war.

I have, &c.,

GEORGE R. LAMBERT.

Captain J. W. Tarleton to His Excellency Commodore G. R. Lambert.

Her Majesty's Ship Fox's Gig, in the Pegu River, December 16, 1852.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to inform your Excellency that, in pursuance of your instructions at 2 P.M. of the 11th, that fourteen hundred men, under the command of Major-General Godwin, C.B., should be embarked with the greatest despatch for Pegu, and placing Commanders Shadwell and Lambert under my orders, I put myself in communication with the Quarter-Master-General's Department; and after ascertaining the number of native boats that could be supplied for the conveyance of troops, stores and provisions, with Commander Lambert's assistance, I embarked 1050 men in the boats and left Rangoon at 11 P.M., leaving Commander Shadwell to follow in the Steamer with Major-General Godwin and the remainder of the troops.

I proceeded with the boats up the Pegu river, and about 2 P.M., on the 12th, when about two thirds of the distance, I had the satisfaction of communicating with the Major-General on board the Nerbudda, and to observe the Mahanuddy following: the former vessel preceded us up the river. At the end of the flood-tide at 8 P.M., the boats were anchored within hail of the Steamer, 12 miles below Pegu. On the morning of the 13th, the Nerbudda leading, I proceeded with the boats, and happily arrived so as to be able to effect a simultaneous landing of the troops, about 5 miles below Pegu, and half a mile from the first stockade, at 7 A.M. The Mahanuddy not appearing, and the General having expressed his intention to me of waiting the arrival of the troops on board her before he advanced, I proceeded in the Nerbudda to bring them up. I found the Mahanuddy where we had anchored on the previous evening, she having been detained by her broken rudder head. I immediately transferred the troops to the Nerbudda, but by this time the water had fallen so much that she was compelled to wait for the flood-tide to proceed, and did not reach the place of disembarkation till 9 P.M. The troops were landed from her at 4 A.M. on the 14th. and at 7 the Army advanced.

I appointed Commander Shadwell to take command of two of the boats' guns fitted as field-pieces, with 75 men to drag them, to accompany the force.

Commander Lambert assisted me in the protection of the Steamer and boats.

At noon some of the camp followers, having straggled a short distance from the bank, were fired at from a Poongie house in our vicinity ; two were taken and the others pursued by the enemy, who evinced an intention of coming down to attack us. I immediately landed all the disposable men, leaving only sufficient to work the guns in the boats. This demonstration, and the fire of a few shell and rockets, served to check their advance. At this time the Nerbudda, on the falling tide, had unfortunately grounded on a stake, and her two foremost compartments filled with water. It became necessary to put her on shore to repair the damage. To move from our position was therefore impossible, and I proceeded to strengthen it by landing some rockets, felling trees, and throwing up intrenchments. The march of the army to the eastward of the Pagoda had left the enemy in possession of the lower defences on the river's bank, and I was sensible that he had it in his power greatly to annoy us. He reconnoitred our position with a few horse in the evening, but did not further molest us. At 2 P.M. I had the satisfaction of observing the preconcerted signal that the army had forced its way into the Pagoda, which intelligence was confirmed to me by Commander Shadwell on the morning of the 15th.

In the evening this officer returned, with his party of seamen and a guard. He informed me of the river bank being cleared of the enemy ; and it is therefore my intention to move up with the boats with the morning flood-tide. I reconnoitred the river defences now evacuated, and am only surprised that Commander Shadwell should have been able to pass and repass them in his late attempt to communicate with the garrison at Pegu. They are, for the purpose, of the most formidable description, and completely command the passage of the river for a distance of nearly five miles.

Your Excellency, knowing the nature of the service that has been performed, will appreciate the zeal of both officers and men who have carried it out : but I feel I shall fail in my duty to them if I did not bring to your notice the exertions made by Commander Shadwell and the men under him, in taking the guns a distance of 8 or 9 miles, through a difficult country, under an ardent sun ; by Commander Lambert and Lieutenants Mason, R.N., and Robinson, I.N., and Mr. Freeman, Master, I.N., in their constant attention and watchfulness in bringing up so large a convoy in the boats. Lieutenant Robinson was afterwards attached to the gun party, and Mr. Freeman was most useful to me in directing our rocket battery, and in the construction of our intrenchments. I exceedingly admired the skilful manner in which Captain Porter brought the Nerbudda up this difficult river ; and the energy that his officers and crew displayed in making her again effective was most praiseworthy.

I am happy to say that only one casualty has occurred on the part of the naval force. Thomas Saunders, A.B., of Her Majesty's steam-sloop Sphinx, who died of a wound he received while encamped with the army on the evening of the 13th instant.

I have, &c.,

J. W. TARLETON, Captain.

NOTIFICATION.

*Fort William, Foreign Department,
January 4, 1853.*

THE Most Noble the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the following extracts from despatches relative to recent operations in the neighbourhood of Pegu, shall be published for general information.

The Governor-General in Council has to express his approbation of the alacrity and spirit with which this harassing duty has been performed; and his sense of the services of the Major-General commanding, and of the officers whose names he has specially brought to the notice of his Lordship in Council, in the despatch of the 24th ultimo.

The Governor-General in Council particularly desires to record his high approbation of the gallant conduct of Major Hill, of the Madras Fusiliers, and of the Officers and Men under his command, in their defence of the position they held at Pegu.

By order of the Most Noble the Governor-General of India in Council,

C. ALLEN,

Officiating Secretary to the Government of India.

Extract from a Despatch from Major-General Godwin, C.B., commanding Troops in Ava, Arracan, and Tenasserim Provinces, dated 24th December, 1852, (No. 22.)

IN my last despatch from Pegu, dated the 15th instant, after having relieved it from the enemy, I had the honour of informing you, for the information of the Governor-General in Council, that it was my intention to advance into the country, and free that garrison from the near position of the Burmese Army.

At that time I had been informed they were at Sephangoon, but, from subsequent information, I found them entrenched and entrenching themselves in great numbers on a plain about four miles north of the Pagoda, at a place called Kaleetat. It took till the 17th instant to procure what little carriage was available for the commissariat stores, when eighteen buffalo hackeries were prepared to contain six days' provisions.

The troops left the Pagoda about 7 o'clock A.M. on that date, to the amount of about 1,200 men, consisting of about 600 of the Bengal Fusiliers, under Lieutenant-Colonel Tudor; 150 of the Madras Fusiliers, under Captain Renaud; 300 Seikhs under Major Armstrong, and 160 of the 10th Bengal Native Infantry, under Captain Munro. I had no guns, for I had no means of drawing them. We had to pass through a very thick jungle for about two miles, when we debouched on a noble plain, miles in extent, covered with ripe paddy. We then had a good view of the position of the enemy and their probable numbers. They were admirably posted behind an entrenchment with a battie: large spars formed their breastwork, and it appeared to be about a mile long, filled with masses of men, a few hundreds of the Cassay horse, some elephants, and a few guns.

It was from this post that the men were furnished to invest our garrison at Pegu. From my force I had to give a baggage-guard of 200 men; with the remainder I quietly advanced on their position, inclining to my own right to threaten their left, which was open, their right being supported by a large tope of trees, and flanked by a thick jungle. They fired a gun occasionally as we advanced, and from their quiet and determined attitude behind their strong defences, with at least ten men for one of mine, I had great expectation that they would stand our assault: These men were from the garrisons of Sheogyne, Sitang, and Beling, had been very active in giving constant alarms to Martaban and Moulmein, and had the character too of being men who would fight, and some of these men had been killed on the walls in their assaults on Pegu.

When I was within about 400 yards of their position, I detached 200 men of the Bengal Fusiliers, under Major Seaton, to drive in two outposts in front of the right of their position, for I changed my mind, and determined to attack them upon their right, in the hope of our meeting. Major Seaton very soon performed this service, the enemy retiring upon their main entrenchments, exchanging musketry.

I now formed the columns of attack, Major Seaton's party of the Bengal Fusiliers, and Major Armstrong with his Seikhs, to attack the tope, with two companies of the Bengal Fusiliers, under Lieutenant Lambert, but attached to Major Armstrong's column.

I stopped Major Seaton's attack, seeing that they had loaded the jungle, which his left flank would have had to pass in gaining the tope, with hundreds of men.

I had strong reserves close up, and ready to assist in the assault. It was a very interesting sight to see our little columns moving up to the attack of this host of people, so strongly posted, and in a plain where every object was visible. I was so confident we should get in amongst them, that when the smoke cleared away after the impetuosity of the attack, it was like magic their escaping us. The Seikhs at the tope were like lightning at them, and Lieutenant Lambert, who had thrown his column in the very flank of the long entrenchment close to the tope, would have prevented their firing except on each other, and I believe the rapidity with which the advance closed upon them, threw them off all guard, and they considered flight their only safety.

After the action the troops rested in the shade of the tope for an hour : we then proceeded on to Sephangoon, a distance of 10 miles, which we reached at half past four P.M., marching altogether about 14 miles. This is the largest and finest village I have seen in the country, with a great many excellent farm-houses in it : it stands on both sides of the river, which is here fordable, and is surrounded by fine plains covered with grain.

We were aware that the enemy had retreated on this village, but they left it on our approach, and the force found good quarters for the night.

The village was totally abandoned ; not a soul was seen, nor grain to be found in it, which I had trusted to for the followers ; so they fell back on the Commissariat, which I could with difficulty spare them, and this, added to the breaking down of one of our carts with beef and biscuit, crippled me much.

The next day, the 18th instant, we marched to Montsanganoo, ten miles, where we arrived about twelve o'clock noon ; there the enemy had passed the night. It is an inconsiderable village, and we were in bivouac.

About three o'clock P.M. I was informed that some of the enemy were hovering about, who, I believed, were only observing us, but shortly they came down in large masses, and formed in a line about two miles in our front.

Our men were soon under arms, and I marched towards them in two separate columns of an equal division of the force under my command. Brigadier-General Steel took charge of the left column, Lieutenant-Colonel Tudor of the right. Skirmishers were thrown out on both sides, but as we advanced they retired for about two miles further, when they took up an alignment close to a long range of barracks, which they had evidently occupied on different occasions. The two columns threw out advanced parties for attack, but as we neared them they again retired, leaving the barracks in our possession. It was now nearly dark, and as they appeared to be going away altogether, we burnt their barracks and retired to our bivouac, three miles, where our baggage and followers had remained under a strong guard.

The next day the 19th instant, on inquiry into the state of the Commissariat, I found I had not quite three days' provisions left, and very deficient in some articles, and it became imperative on me to return to Pegu, which I did that day. Had I had the means of carrying with me 12 days' provisions I would have pursued them over the Sitang River, but I am sadly crippled everywhere for want of carriage, except at Rangoon, where I do not require it.

I propose to detach Brigadier-General Steel, with a force to Moulmein, where he will find every description of carriage in abundance for tents, and material of all kinds—to proceed to Beling, Sitang, and Sheogyne, and crossing that river to return by Pegu to Rangoon, as he may deem practicable—which may force this army north towards Prome—which it must I think, as it cannot go to Pegu, and which will be the best course for us it can take.

I embarked at Pegu on the 20th, and arrived on the morning of the 22nd, leaving a reinforcement with the garrison at Pegu, and strengthening their party of Sappers as a temporary measure, to allow of their putting themselves in a perfect state of defence.

Now, Sir, I have to ask the estimation of the Governor-General in Council for a service that has been most harassing and arduous, and for which no force ever took the field so little prepared, but which was borne with a cheerfulness and alacrity—where the least chance of a contest with the enemy presented itself—that was enthusiastic, and which confers the highest honour on the whole force.

To Brigadier-General Steel I am most obliged for the warmest co-operation throughout this service.

To Brigadier Dickenson, who was ever ready and anxious to render me his able assistance.

To Lieutenant-Colonel Tudor, who was very often called upon with his regiment, the Bengal Fusiliers, to give parties for assaults; and on the day of my relieving the garrison at Pegu I detached the Lieutenant-Colonel to clear the road communicating with the landing-place on the river. The Lieutenant-Colonel performed this duty most effectually, under a heavy fire.

To Captain Latter, my interpreter, who had the guides always under his charge, and who was present everywhere with his usual gallantry.

To Major Armstrong, with his Seikhs, conspicuous wherever they were called upon.

To Majors Gerrard and Seaton, of the Bengal Fusiliers; Captain Renaud, commanding a detachment of the Madras Fusiliers; Captain Munro, commanding a detachment of the 10th Bengal N.I.; Captain Hawkes, Brigade Major; Lieutenant Lambert, of the Bengal Fusiliers; Lieutenant Elliott, of the Madras Fusiliers; and Lieutenant Harris, of the Sappers, who rendered important assistance, I am much indebted.

The General Staff, Major Mayhew, Deputy Adjutant-General, and Captain Hamilton, Assistant Adjutant-General—Captain Burne, Military Secretary, and Captain Chads, Aide-de-Camp, I warmly thank; as also Major Neill, Assistant Adjutant-General, and Major Atkinson, Assistant Quarter Master General, Madras Division, and Captains Dallas and Travers, Aides-de-Camp on the Staff of Brigadier-General Steel, for their uncommon exertions during this service.

To Surgeons McCosh and Balfour, and the medical department, the Service is much indebted.

The short interval between the time I received the intelligence of the investment of Pegu from Captains Tarleton and Shadwell, and the embarkation of the troops the same evening, when by 9 o'clock P.M., 1,400 men, with their materiel, were sent on board, under the eye of that valuable officer, Captain Tarleton, of the Royal Navy, till its disembarkation near Pegu, and its re-embarkation on return here, was marked by wonderful exertion and arrangement, and that, with the aid and assistance I received from him with the men-of-war's boats, calls for every acknowledgment.

To Captain Shadwell I also feel greatly indebted, for his assistance and exertions on this occasion.

I forward to the Governor-General in Council, the detailed account of the investment of Pegu by the Burmese Army, and the noble defence made by Major Hill and his brave garrison, for the Government to select what in its wisdom it may think proper to publish.

I have this morning received the gratifying information from Major Hill that some thousand families are coming in, and which I hope in a future dispatch to confirm positively. It is my intencion to proceed to Prome in three days, and to take the field immediately. I am happy to say that the general health of the troops here, as well as their conduct, is very satisfactory.

Extract from a Letter from Major Hill to Major Mayhew, dated 18th December, 1852.

A termination to unremitting assaults from the enemy, from the 5th to the 14th instant, having been brought about by the arrival of a reinforcement of troops under the personal command of Major-General Godwin, Commanding the Forces, I am now enabled to place before the Major-General a detailed report of the operations during that period.

I do myself the honour to report, for the Major-General's information that, for some days previous to the enemy appearing in our vicinity, several of their advanced posts were seen within two miles of us, in a northerly direction. Elephants and gold umbrellas plainly indicated that their main army was not far off, and as I had been informed that Moung Keya Soung commanded 10,000 men at Sheogyne, I felt it necessary to keep the garrison alert, in case that portion of his force, which was then so near us, might make a sudden descent upon the garrison.

Shortly after eight o'clock on the night of the 5th instant, a few shots were fired by our sentries, which were answered by the enemy, and soon the firing became general. After eleven o'clock, as the moon rose, the fire slackened and gradually ceased. Large bodies of infantry were seen the next morning, from the elevated post of the Pagoda, moving in different directions, and from 150 to 200 Cassay horsemen, and by half-past nine, A.M., a very heavy fire was opened upon the south-west angle of the Pagoda, immediately adjoining which I had stockaded in about 2,000 Peguers, with their families.

On the 3rd instant I was informed that for some distance to the southward and eastward a very large number of carts were approaching the Pagoda, and by sunset 216, filled mostly with women and children, besides a great many men, arrived and claimed British protection; I felt this to be a greater charge than defending the garrison, having perfect confidence in the troops; I resolved, therefore, on the following morning to draw the whole of the Peguers into a compact body under the walls of the Pagoda. Working parties from all the European and native troops in the garrison, with the officers, besides every disposable public follower, were ready by six o'clock the following morning to clear away a tope of large trees for their accommodation. Every one worked with such hearty good will that by mid-day every tree was felled, and the sappers were in readiness, with the assistance of the Peguers, to make a stockade. By night-fall two sides of the stockades were completed, and the greater portion of the bandies brought within it, thus enabling the families to have both food and shelter in their carts.

The enemy having taken up their position round us never left it until the day on which General Godwin relieved the garrison. I believe I am speaking within bounds when I say there must have been fully 6,000 men regularly employed in investing the Pagoda, from the space they covered ; and so near did they find safe cover from our fire that it became the more necessary to preserve the greatest vigilance to prevent surprise at any time they wished to attempt it ; their attacks were chiefly directed against the Peguers, and on the night of the 8th a very spirited and well kept up assault was made upon them for about two hours.

Night after night gongs were sounding in different parts of the jungle, which, and their shouting, informed us where they were collecting their troops. Several other determined assaults were made on various sides of the pagoda, which were repelled by our guns and heavy file-firing, which drove them back. The last attack was made the day before the arrival of the troops. On the morning in question (the 13th), at 20 minutes past 5 o'clock, under cover of a dense fog which hung over the ground below the pagoda, a shout was suddenly heard, and a large body of men rushed across an open piece of ground on the S.E. angle of the stockade, which was the weakest point of the Peguers' position. A picquet which was always kept in readiness at the head of the steps immediately ran to their assistance, the men ranging themselves among the Peguers; and so determined was the attack that our Peguers and the enemy had a hand-to-hand contest with their spears, and several were dangerously wounded, the picquets also using the bayonet at the same time. There must have been great loss on the part of the enemy, as the ground was open both to our battery and the musketry from our walls, but as the fog hung over the low lands for some time after, they were able to convey away their dead, and only three or four were found killed close to the stockade.

In conclusion, I beg to say a few words in reference to the officers and men composing this garrison.

Little that I can say with respect to the practical knowledge of Lieutenant Campbell, of the Bengal Engineers, which he has already gained on field-service, could add to his reputation as a good service officer, but his unremitting zeal in planning and carrying out his suggestions has mainly contributed to the small loss sustained by the troops.

Lieutenant James, of the Bengal Artillery, who was the only artillery officer I had to give directions for the working of the guns on the four angles of the Pagoda, has performed his arduous duties much to my satisfaction.

Lieutenant Harris, of the Madras Sappers, who has but recently joined that distinguished corps, has proved himself to be a most efficient sapper officer, from the short time he took to finish the stockade for the Peguers, and the manner in which he executed a plan for a covered gallery to enable the water-carriers to supply the troops with water with safety to themselves.

Lieutenant Dangerfield, of the First Madras Fusiliers, my Staff Officer, is an intelligent, enterprising, and most promising officer, and I found I could entrust duties to him which required coolness and judgment, with perfect confidence.

The officers and men, both European and native, composing the garrison, have performed their duties in a most admirable and satisfactory manner. The harassing duties all were exposed to for eight days and nights, without intermission, requires no further comment than by my adding that their constant vigilance and steadiness were conspicuous throughout the whole of the operations.

A return of killed and wounded of the troops, as well as all other classes, accompanies this report.

W. HILL, Major,
Commanding Pegu.

* 1 since dead.

Extract from a letter from Lieutenant Colonel W. M. N. Sturt, Commanding the Land Column, dated Pegu, the 19th of December, 1852.

LEAVING Rangoon on the morning of the 13th of December, yesterday afternoon my detachment came in sight of Pegu, and I moved my camp only a short distance this morning towards the river, for the purpose of facilitating its crossing when necessary.

Aware of the value of Light Artillery and Cavalry in support of a movement against foes so difficult to be approached as the Burmese, it was my most earnest desire to have placed the services of these two arms, composing a part of the column under my command, at Major-General Godwin's disposal at the earliest possible period, and it was not therefore without a feeling of great regret I found my best exertions ineffectual to secure the above object, the General commanding the forces having left Pegu two days previous to my arrival.

The extent of country traversed by my column, though not exceeding perhaps 72 miles, presented considerable obstacles to the rapid advance of artillery, and a long train of carriages with supplies for the troops.

Three bridges were obliged to be constructed over tidal nullahs, marshy tracts to be rendered firm, roads to be cut, and their course even to be marked out by the friendly Karens.

These people, to the number of upwards of one hundred, made themselves very useful on the road, and the bridges were all constructed by them with a degree of good-will and promptness, much to the credit of the poor people. I beg to bring specially to the notice of the Major-General the great assistance received from a Karen of much influence with his tribe, named Kyook-khê, who accompanied the column the whole way from Rangoon.

After leaving Rangoon to our rear about 7 miles, the country began to disclose its plains, belted at distances by jungle. The course of the column often lay closely skirting the jungles for miles, and frequently directly through them,—glades suddenly opening out, and again giving place to jungle.

Between Thoung-too-Loo, distant about 15 miles from Rangoon, and Theda-mu-thaee, 19 miles from Pegu, nothing could exceed the richness of the soil; in some parts dark alluvial, in others sandy loam; the herbage was of the finest description, and where rice crops were seen, their luxuriance and height were remarkable; the cattle, invariably in the finest condition, were of a very superior hardy breed, with large carcasses.

The space between Theda-mu-thaee to within three or four miles of Pegu was found to be of a dense jungly description, forest trees with low brush wood and bamboos, clumps upon clumps forming the most formidable natural barriers and breastworks. Artillery and baggage carts once having entered these narrow tracks, skirted on either side by such cover, without the possibility of counter marching if required, could not possibly escape early destruction at the hands of a small body of resolute determined men, who would themselves be perfectly secure from pursuit. Where occasionally an opening occurred in this wild portion of the march, it presented a clear grass plain of some five, ten, fifteen, or more acres surrounded by the densest jungle. My column was obliged to halt fifteen times during this march, which occupied the troops ten hours and a half, and my baggage was not up till night.

Not an enemy was seen throughout our whole course, though evidences of their having lately vacated these wilds were frequently observed.

Great Grimsby. Legal Quays.

A warrant of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, dated the 10th day of February, 1853, appoints, under the authority of an Act, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the Customs," several places within the port of Great Grimsby (as set forth in this Gazette) to be Legal Quays for the lading and unlading of goods.

Exchequer Bills.

*Office of Her Majesty's Paymaster-General,
Whitehall, February 14, 1853.*

The Exchequer Bills, dated in the month of March, 1852, (per Act 14 Victoria, cap. 9, £17,756,600, anno 1851), with the interest due thereon, will be paid off on the 10th March, 1853, when the interest will cease.

Such bills will be received at this office daily, from half past ten till three o'clock, until the 3rd day of March, 1853, inclusive.

Printed forms, containing instructions for the preparation of the lists, and the arrangement of the bills, may be obtained on application at this Office.

The bearers must endorse each bill with their usual signatures, and they must insert their names and addresses in each list; and where the names of holders are inserted in the bills, the indorsements of such holders must also be obtained previously to their lists and bills being left for examination.

New bills, bearing interest at the rate of one penny by the day, upon every one hundred pounds, and dated the said 10th day of March, 1853, may be obtained in payment of the principal of the whole, or part, of the Exchequer Bills issued under the Act above mentioned, on the claimants specifying, in their lists, the amount of new bills required by them.

The new bills, together with the interest on the bills left, on or before the said 3rd day of March, for exchange, will be issued on the 11th day of March, 1853; the bearers must attend at this Office to sign receipts for the payment of principal and interest.

Payment, in money, may be obtained at this Office for any of the said Exchequer Bills, previously to the said 10th day of March, 1853, upon the claimants leaving the bills for examination one day prior to that on which such payment is desired.

N.B.—All Exchequer Bills, dated prior to March, 1852, have been previously advertised to be paid off.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 18, 1853.

Lord Chamberlain's Office, February 17, 1853.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Royal Highness Prince Albert will, by the desire of Her Majesty, hold Levees at St. James's-Palace, on behalf of Her Majesty, on the following days, at two o'clock :

Wednesday, 2nd March next.

Wednesday, 9th March next.

It is Her Majesty's pleasure that presentations to His Royal Highness at these Levees shall be considered equivalent to presentations to the Queen.

Addresses to the Queen may either be forwarded to Her Majesty through the Secretary of State for the Home Department, or may be reserved until Her Majesty shall hold a Levee.

REGULATIONS TO BE OBSERVED AT THE LEVEES
AT ST. JAMES'S-PALACE.

The Noblemen and Gentlemen, who purpose to attend the Levees, at St. James's-Palace, are requested to bring with them two large cards, with their names clearly written thereon, one to be left with the Queen's Page in Attendance in the Presenee-chamber, and the other to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, who will announce the name.

Those Gentlemen who are to be presented are hereby informed, it is absolutely necessary that their names, with the name of the Nobleman or Gentleman who is to present them, should be delivered at the Lord Chamberlain's Office, before twelve o'clock, on the Monday previous to each Levee, in order that they may be submitted for approbation ; it being Her Majesty's command, that no presentation shall be made at the Levees but in conformity with the above regulations.

It is particularly requested, that in every case the names be very distinctly written upon the cards to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, in order that there may be no difficulty in announcing them.

The state apartments will not be open for the reception of Company coming to Court, until half-past one o'clock.

Buckingham-Palace, February 16, 1853.

THIS day the Archbishop of Canterbury, accompanied by the Bishops and Clergy of the province, waited upon Her Majesty to present the following Address; which was received by Her Majesty on the Throne :

Madam,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Archbishop, Bishops, and Clergy of the province of Canterbury, assembled in Convocation, most humbly approach your Majesty, with respectful assurances of loyal affection to your Majesty's Throne and Person.

And we desire to add our sincere congratulations that, since the last occasion when we enjoyed a similar privilege, it has pleased Almighty God to bless both your Majesty's Royal Family and the country at large, with a measure of prosperity which demands our warmest thankfulness.

Your Majesty has been graciously pleased to state to your assembled Parliament, that your Majesty has received assurances of a disposition on the part of Foreign Powers to maintain those friendly relations with this country which have already been prolonged beyond all former example. And never, perhaps, was there a time when the inhabitants of this land were more generally prosperous, more willingly obedient to the laws, or more loyally affected towards the Throne. It is our earnest prayer to Almighty God, that he will continue to ourselves, and extend to all nations, the blessings of peace and unity.

Here we earnestly desire to assure your Majesty of our deep sympathy in the sorrow which your Majesty has graciously expressed—a sorrow which is shared even by foreign nations—for the loss which the empire is now mourning, in the death of that great warrior and statesman, to whom, above all men, it has been owing, under God's all-ruling Providence, that we have enjoyed this long and unprecedented period of peace and prosperity. We assure your Majesty that we prize, above the splendour of his greatest exploits, that high sense of duty which led him to devote all his faculties to the service of his sovereign and his country, and to value his most glorious victories chiefly as they secured a lasting peace.

The subject, however, on which your Majesty will expect us to feel the deepest interest, is the state of religion in the land. And here there is much to encourage us, whilst there is also much for us to lament, and much that we hope gradually to amend. Great exertions have been made during the last thirty years with the desire of providing the means of spiritual instruction for a population increasing beyond all former experience. Much has been done by the awakened liberality of individuals, assisted by recent legislative measures, towards enabling the Church to fulfil the ends of her divine mission. Much, however, still remains to be done; and we assure your Majesty that our heartiest endeavours shall be used to relieve, wherever they exist, the spiritual wants of the population. We feel a confident persuasion that these our endeavours will be seconded by the pious and ready co-operation of our lay brethren in the Church.

In connexion with this subject, we cannot but observe that, although the population of England and Wales has been doubled in the last half century, the number of English and Welsh Bishops remains nearly the same as it was three centuries ago; a state of things to which we beg respectfully to invite your Majesty's consideration.

We trust, however, that if the Church has been unable to accomplish all that might be desired, it has yet given no slight proofs of activity and power. Fewer churches were built during the whole of the last century than are now consecrated to the service of God in every successive year. Inadequate as are the means of providing Christian education for the increasing numbers who require it, we thankfully acknowledge that great efforts have been made for its extension and improvement. And, great and painful as are the privations of many of your Majesty's poorer subjects in our crowded cities, it must be a peculiar source of satisfaction to your Majesty, that, under the countenance and active encouragement of your Majesty's illustrious Consort, institutions have been formed, and are daily forming, to increase the comforts of the labouring classes, and to improve their moral and social condition. And, as all true charity has its origin in religious principle, we trust that, in this instance also, proof is given of the influence of that faith which it is the duty of the Clergy to inculcate and maintain amongst the people intrusted to their charge. For whatever has been done, or intended, of good, we desire to give God the glory, through our Lord Jesus Christ, being deeply conscious of the imperfection of all our endeavours.

In thus referring to the subjects which especially appear to us to concern the well-being of the Church, we cannot omit to speak of those deliberative functions of this Convocation, which many members of our Church desire to see again called into active exercise.

We do not, indeed, think it advisable at the present moment to petition your Majesty for the royal license to transact such business as we may not now enter upon without it. But we consider it a duty respectfully to express our conviction, both that its Legislative Assemblies are an essential and most important part of the constitution of our Church, and that the circumstances of the present day make it the more imperative to preserve, and as far as possible to improve them ; and also, the more probable that the resumption of their active functions, in such manner as your Majesty, by your royal license may permit, at no distant day, may be productive of much advantage.

We know, indeed, that apprehensions have been entertained that in such case Convocation might address itself to the discussion of controverted questions of doctrines, and a spirit of strife and bitterness be thereby engendered fatal to Christian charity, and dangerous alike to existing institutions and to our visible unity. We, therefore, humbly pray your Majesty to receive this, our solemn declaration of our hearty acceptance of the doctrinal formularies and liturgical offices of our Reformed Church, and our assurance that we regard them as inestimable blessings, and are resolved, by the help of God, to transmit them unimpaired to posterity.

And further, that we not only recognize but highly prize your Majesty's undoubted supremacy in all causes, ecclesiastical and civil, over all persons, and in every part of your Majesty's dominions, as it was maintained in ancient times against the usurpations of the see of Rome, and was recovered and reasserted at our Reformation.

In connexion with this grave subject, we feel that your Majesty may expect from us the expression of our solemn protest against that fresh aggression of the Bishop of Rome, by which he has arrogated to himself the spiritual charge of this nation, thereby denying the existence of that branch of the Church Catholic, which was planted in Britain in the primitive ages of Christianity and has been preserved by a merciful Providence to this day. Against this last usurpation of the Roman see, as well as against many which have preceded it, we desire, on this our first occasion of addressing your Majesty since its occurrence, solemnly to protest in the face of Christendom, and to lay this our protest before your Most Gracious Majesty.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

“I receive with cordial satisfaction the assurances of your loyal and affectionate attachment to my Throne and Person.

“It is my earnest desire to promote the welfare and happiness of all classes of my subjects, by continuing to them the blessings of peace abroad, and by assisting to extend at home the holy influence of Religion, which is the only sure foundation on which national prosperity can permanently rest.

“I thank you for the sympathy which you have expressed in my sorrow for the recent loss of the most distinguished of my subjects ; and I appreciate the value which you attach to that high sense of duty by which he was invariably inspired.

“I rely with confidence on your assurances of your desire to preserve harmony in the Church and to increase its efficiency, while maintaining its doctrines and my supremacy unimpaired ; and I pray that the blessing of God may attend your endeavours to extend widely throughout all classes of my people the inestimable benefit of pure and deeply felt religion.

Buckingham-Palace, February 17, 1853.

FROM THE LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 22, 1853.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 21st
 day of February, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Her Majesty in Council was this day pleased to appoint Wyndham William Lewis, of Llanthetty Hall, Esq., to be Sheriff of the county of Brecon.

And Her Majesty was pleased to make the following Amendments on the Roll:

Gloucestershire, John Raymond Barker, Esq., made John Raymond Raymond Barker, Esq.

Wiltshire, Francis Leyborne Popham, of Littlecot, Esq., made Francis Leyborne Popham, of Chilton, Esq.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 21st
 day of February, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Her Majesty having been pleased to appoint the Right Honourable George William Frederick, Earl of Clarendon, K.G., to be one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, his Lordship was this day, by Her Majesty's command, sworn one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State accordingly.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 21st day of February, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Her Majesty having been pleased, by letters patent under the Great Seal of Great Britain, to constitute the Right Honourable Stapleton, Viscount Combermere, G.C.B., Constable of Her Majesty's Tower of London, and also Lord Lieutenant of the Tower Hamlets, his Lordship this day in Council took the oaths appointed to be taken, instead of the oaths of allegiance and supremacy as Constable of the said Tower, and as Lord Lieutenant of the said Tower Hamlets, and likewise the oath of Constable of the Tower of London.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 21st day of February, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty, and the fourteenth of Her Majesty's reign, the see or diocese of Quebec became vacant by the death of the late Right Reverend Charles Stewart, Doctor in Divinity, the then bishop thereof. And whereas Her Majesty by Her royal letters patent, dated the eighteenth of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, was pleased to declare, ordain, and direct that the diocese of Quebec should thenceforth consist of the district of Quebec, Threc Rivers, and Gaspé only, and did thereby erect, found, and constitute the said district of Quebec, Three Rivers, and Gaspé to be a bishop's see or diocese, and did by the same letters patent declare and ordain that the same should be styled "the Bishopric of Quebec," saving nevertheless to Her, Her heirs and successors, the power of altering from time to time, with the consent of the Archbishop of Canterbury for the time being, if the said see should be vacant, or otherwise of the archbishop, and of the bishop of the said see for the time being, the limits of the said diocese and of the jurisdiction of the bishop thereof, and did by the same letters patent name and appoint the Right Reverend Father in God, George Jehoshaphat Mountain, Doctor in Divinity, then Bishop of Montreal, to be bishop of the said see or diocese of Quebec so by Her Majesty limited and constituted as aforesaid, and did thereby translate him from the said diocese of Montreal to the said diocese of Quebec, and did ordain and declare that the said George Jehoshaphat Mountain might, by virtue of such appointment, enter into and possess the said see of Quebec as bishop thereof, without let or impediment, from Her Majesty, Her heirs and successors, for the term of his natural life.

And whereas the said last-mentioned bishop, by virtue and in pursuance of such appointment, hath entered into and possessed the said see of Quebec, and now is the bishop thereof accordingly.

And whereas Her Majesty, by Her royal letters patent, likewise dated the eighteenth July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, was pleased to declare that it was expedient and desirable that so much of the said diocese of Quebec as constitutes the "district of Montreal," which is separated for judicial purposes from the district of Three Rivers and Saint Francis, and bounded by the limits of the same, under an Act of the Provincial Parliament now in force, should be formed into a separate see or diocese, to be called "the Bishoprick of Montreal." And did by the said last-mentioned letters patent erect so much of the ancient diocese of Quebec as constitutes the "district of Montreal," separated for judicial purposes as aforesaid, to be a bishop's see or diocese, and did declare and ordain that the same should be styled "The Bishoprick of Montreal," saving, nevertheless, to Her Majesty, Her heirs, and successors, the powers of altering from time to time, with the consent of the Archbishop of Canterbury for the time being, if the said see be vacant, or otherwise of the said archbishop, and of the bishop of the said see, for the time being, the limits of the said diocese, and of the jurisdiction of the bishop thereof, and did by the said last-mentioned letters patent name and appoint Francis Fulford, Doctor in Divinity, to be ordained and consecrated bishop of the said see of Montreal. And whereas the said last-mentioned bishop was afterwards, by virtue and in pursuance of such letters patent, duly ordained and consecrated bishop of the said see of Montreal, and entered into and possessed the said bishop's see, and now is the bishop thereof.

And whereas a certain district in the province of Canada, called the district of St. Francis, was, in and by the said letters patent herein-before recited, unintentionally omitted from the said dioceses of Quebec, and of Montreal, and from each of them, and is not now included in any bishoprick or diocese, nor hath any bishop lawful ecclesiastical jurisdiction in or over the same. And whereas it is expedient, with the consent of the Archbishop of Canterbury and of the Bishop of Quebec, testified in manner hereinafter mentioned, to alter the limits of the diocese of Quebec and the jurisdiction of the bishop thereof, so as to include within the limits of the said diocese, and of the jurisdiction of the bishop thereof, the said district of St. Francis. And whereas His Grace the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury and the said Bishop of Quebec have, by instrument in writing under their respective hands and seals, bearing date at Lambeth Palace, the fifteenth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and delivered to the Clerk of Her Majesty's Privy Council, duly consented to such alteration. Now, therefore, Her Majesty in Council, by and with the advice of her said Council, is pleased to order, and doth hereby order, that the limits of the said diocese of Quebec, and of the jurisdiction of the bishop thereof be altered so as to include henceforth within the limits thereof and within the jurisdiction of the bishop thereof, for the time being, the whole of the said district of St. Francis, and to make the said district henceforth a portion of the said diocese, and to enable the bishop lawfully to exercise his jurisdiction in and throughout such district as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if such district had, in and by the said letters patent, been declared to form part of the diocese of Quebec, and to be within the jurisdiction of the bishop thereof. And Her Majesty, by and with the advice of her said Council, is further pleased to order and direct that such alteration shall be in all respects effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette.

And the Most Noble the Duke of Newcastle, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 21st day of February, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the representation made by the Right Honourable Viscount Palmerston, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State (as set forth in this Gazette), for the discontinuance of burials in the grounds attached to the parish of Saint George, Bloomsbury, should be taken into consideration on Wednesday, the 30th day of March next.

Foreign Office, February 11, 1853.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to appoint John Green, Esq., now Her Majesty's Consul at the Piræus, to be Her Majesty's Consul at Alexandria.

Foreign Office, February 18, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Don Placido de Jose y Hevia as Consul at Malta, and of Don Joaquin Gonzalez as Vice-Consul at Gibraltar, for Her Majesty the Queen of Spain.

The Queen has also been pleased to approve of Mr. Nathaniel Solomon as Consul at St. Helena for the Free Hanseatic city of Hamburg.

Downing-Street, February 21, 1853.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to give orders for the appointment of Lord Cowley, K.C.B., Her Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to His Majesty the Emperor of the French, to be an Ordinary Member of the Civil Division of the First Class, or Knights Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath.

Westminster, February 21, 1853.

This day, the Lords being met, a message was sent to the Honourable House of Commons by the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, acquainting them, that The Lords, authorized by virtue of a Commission under the Great Seal, signed by Her Majesty, for declaring Her Royal Assent to several Acts agreed upon by both Houses, do desire the immediate attendance of the Honourable House in the House of Peers to hear the Commission read; and the Commons being come thither, the said Commission empowering the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, and several other Lords therein named, to declare and notify the Royal Assent to the said Acts, was read accordingly, and the Royal Assent given to

An Act to apply the sum of two millions to the service of the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

An Act to substitute stamp duties for fees on passing letters patent for inventions, and to provide for the public use of certain indexes of specifications.

An Act to amend an Act relating to the valuation of rateable property in Ireland.

Whitehall, February 21, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to grant unto Frederick Charles Polhill, of Howbury Hall, in the parish of Renhold, in the county of Bedford, Esquire, late a captain in the 6th Regiment of Dragoon Guards, and unto Emily Frances, his wife, her royal license and authority, that in compliance with a direction contained in the last will and testament of Dame Frances Page-Turner, widow and relict of Sir Gregory Page-Turner, of Ambrosden, in the county of Oxford, Baronet, they may take and henceforth use the surname of Turner in addition to and after that of Polhill; that he the said Frederick Charles Polhill may take and bear the arms of Turner quarterly in the first quarter with his own family arms; that she the said Emily Frances Polhill may take and bear the arms of Turner quarterly in the first quarter with her own family arms, and that the said surname of Turner, in addition to and after that of Polhill, and the said arms of Turner quarterly in the first quarter with those of Polhill may be taken, borne, and used by the issue of their marriage: such arms being first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms and recorded in the Herald's Office, otherwise the said licence and permission to be void and of none effect:

And also to command that the said royal concession and declaration be registered in Her Majesty's College of Arms.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by warrant under their hands to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage, or inland postage, payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage, according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such warrant, and from time to time, by warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof, and from time to time, by warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

Now we, the undersigned, being two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do, in exercise of the powers and authorities in us for such purpose vested, in and by the said Act, and of all other powers and authorities enabling us in this behalf, order and direct :—

That on every letter, not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted in or addressed to the Island of Java, or any other of the Dutch colonies in the East Indies, and transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and the said Island of Java, or any other of such colonies (the sea conveyance being by packet boat), there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage, now payable by law on such respective letters an uniform rate of British postage of one shilling.

And we direct, that on every letter transmitted as is mentioned in this warrant, exceeding half an ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid progressive and additional rates of postage as follows ; that is to say :

On every letter, exceeding half an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, two rates of postage.

On every letter, exceeding one ounce and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four rates of postage.

On every letter, exceeding two ounces and not exceeding three ounces in weight, six rates of postage.

And on every letter, exceeding three ounces and not exceeding four ounces in weight, eight rates of postage.

And for every ounce in weight above the weight of four ounces there shall be charged and taken two additional rates of postage, and every fraction of an ounce above the weight of four ounces shall be charged as one additional ounce, and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this warrant, if not exceeding half an ounce in weight.

And we direct that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any letters sent through France, or any other foreign country to which a transit rate of postage would be payable thereon, nor to any letters sent by private ships.

And we further direct, that the term "by the post" used in this warrant shall, as to the sea conveyance, include the conveyance by packet-boat, and shall also include the conveyance through Egypt, so long as no transit rate of postage be payable thereon ; and that the several other terms and expressions used in this warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

Provided, lastly, and we hereby declare and direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, for the time being, of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any two of them, by Warrant under their hands, at any time hereafter to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby fixed or altered, or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and, from time to time, to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," certain scales of weight and rates of postage were fixed and made chargeable and payable upon, for, or in respect of letters, newspapers, parliamentary proceedings, and printed papers, transmitted and forwarded by the post, and various regulations were made for facilitating the transmission of such letters and papers by the post.

And whereas by an Act, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the post office," the proviso concerning the maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, as fixed in and by the said first-mentioned Act, is repealed; and in order to prevent packets of an unwieldy bulk or an inconvenient size being transmitted by the post, power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, at any time or times thereafter, by warrant under their hands, to fix a maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, and from time to time to repeal or revoke such maximum weight, wholly or in part, and declare any other maximum weight, in lieu thereof, and all letters are to be forwarded, conveyed, and delivered by the post in conformity with any such warrant, and also in conformity with and under and subject to all such orders, conditions, limitations, regulations, and restrictions as to the form, size, or dimensions thereof, whether in proportion to the weight or otherwise, as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, shall, from time to time, direct. And by the said Act power is also given to the Postmaster-General to collect and receive the foreign and colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post, and also with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to require the postage, British, colonial, or foreign, of any letters sent by the post, to be pre-paid either in money or in stamps, as he may think fit, on the same being put into the post office ; and also with such consent to abolish or restrict the pre-payment in money, of postage on letters sent by the post either altogether or on certain letters, and to require the pre-payment thereof to be in stamps, and to refuse to receive or send by the post any letters tendered contrary to any regulations thereby made. And it is also declared and enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General, and any officer of the Post-office, to detain any letters which shall be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations of that Act, or the first-mentioned Act, or contrary to the regulations of any Treasury Warrant, to be issued under or by virtue of that Act, or which had been or should be issued under or by virtue of the said first-mentioned Act ; and to open such letters, and either to return them to the senders thereof, or to forward them to the places of their destination, charged, in either case, with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, shall from time to time direct.

Now we, the undersigned, being two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said before-mentioned Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, by this warrant under our hands, order and direct, that printed books, printed magazines, printed reviews, and printed pamphlets, whether British, colonial, or foreign, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to New South Wales, or posted in New South Wales addressed to the United Kingdom, may be transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and New South Wales, subject to the several regulations and rates hereinafter contained ; that is to say :

On every packet consisting of a single printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets, or parts of which, when more than one, shall be sewed or bound together, if not exceeding half a pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of six pence.

And on every such packet, if exceeding half a pound and not exceeding one pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of one shilling.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and not exceeding two pounds in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of two shillings.

And on every such packet, if exceeding two pounds and not exceeding three pounds in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of three shillings.

And we further order and direct, that no such packet, if exceeding the weight of three pounds, or containing more than one printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, or containing any paper or thing besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, or containing any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall not be sewed or bound together, or which packet in length, or breadth, or width, or depth shall exceed the dimensions of two feet, or twenty-four inches, shall be forwarded by the post, under the provisions aforesaid.

And we further order and direct, that as to any packet hereinbefore authorized to be sent by the post, under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in the United Kingdom, the postage thereof shall in every case be pre-paid at the time of the same being posted, not in money, but by being duly stamped with the proper British postage stamp or stamps affixed thereto, which stamp or stamps shall in every case be affixed or appear on the outside of every such packet near the address, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon, under or by virtue of this warrant, and as to any such packet posted in New South Wales, the postage thereof shall in every case be pre-paid by the proper colonial postage stamp or stamps being affixed thereto, at the time of the same being posted.

And we further order and direct, that every such packet shall be sent without a cover, or in a cover or envelope open at the ends or sides, and shall contain printed matter only, with the binding thereof; and there shall be no writing or marks upon the cover or envelope thereof, or upon or within any part of the contents thereof, other than the name and address of the person to whom the packet shall be sent.

And in order to prevent any obstacles to the due and regular transmission of letters by the post, we further direct, that it shall be lawful for any officer of the Post-office in the United Kingdom to delay the transmission of any packet posted or forwarded by the post under the provisions of this warrant, for the space of twenty-four hours from the time at which (or at his option until the dispatch of the mail next after that by which) the same ought otherwise to have been forwarded by him.

And we further direct, that nothing hereinbefore contained shall be construed to interfere with or affect the transmission by the post, of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or of printed votes and proceedings of the Colonial Legislatures, nor of printed papers or other printed publications which are allowed to pass by the post under the newspaper privilege.

And we further order and direct, that if any packet sent, or tendered, or delivered, in order to be sent by the post under the provisions of this present warrant, shall exceed the weight of three pounds, or shall contain any paper or thing besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, and the binding thereof, or shall have any writing or marks upon the same, or upon the cover or envelope thereof, except the name and address of the person to whom it is forwarded, or shall not be open at the ends or sides, or shall in length, or breadth, or width, or depth, exceed the dimensions of two feet or twenty-four inches, or shall contain more than one printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, or shall contain any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which when more than one shall not be sewed or bound together, or if the postage of any such packet posted in the United Kingdom shall not be duly and properly pre-paid by British stamps when posted, or if the postage of any such packet posted in New South Wales shall not be duly and properly pre-paid by colonial stamps when posted, the same shall and may be detained and opened at any place in the United Kingdom, and at the option of the Postmaster-General shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, or be given up to the person to whom it shall be addressed, or forwarded to the place of its destination ; and any such packet on being so returned, given up, or forwarded, shall be chargeable with the like amount of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter.

And we further direct, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any packets sent through France, or any other foreign country to which a transit rate of postage would be payable thereon, nor to any packets sent by private ships.

And we further order and direct that the term "by the post," used in this warrant, shall, as to the sea conveyance, include the conveyance by packet boat ; and shall also include the conveyance through Egypt so long as no transit rate of postage be payable thereon ; and that the several other terms and expressions used in this warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

And we further direct that this warrant, so far as respects any packet hereinbefore authorized to be sent by the post, under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in the United Kingdom, shall come into operation on the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and that so far as respects any packet hereinbefore authorized to be sent by the post under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in New South Wales, this warrant shall come into operation on the first day of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any two of them, by warrant under their hands, at any time hereafter to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby fixed or altered, or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and from time to time to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

The Queen has been pleased to grant unto Jane-Elizabeth, Lady Langdale, widow and relict of Henry, Lord Langdale, and eldest daughter of Edward, Earl of Oxford and Earl Mortimer, and sister and coheir of Alfred, late Earl of Oxford and Earl Mortimer, all deceased, Her royal licence and authority that she may, in compliance with a clause contained in the last will and testament of the said Edward, Earl of Oxford and Earl Mortimer, take upon herself and henceforth use the surname of Harley only, instead of that of Bickersteth, and bear the arms of Harley only; such arms being first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms, and recorded in the Herald's office, otherwise the said royal licence and permission to be void and of none effect :

And also to command that the said royal concession and declaration be registered in Her Majesty's College of Arms.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage, or inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such warrant, and from time to time, by warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof, and, from time to time, by warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid, and it is provided that the power thereby given should extend to any increase or reduction or remission of postage.

And whereas, in consequence of a communication opened with the Government of Brazil, it is considered expedient to alter the rates of postage payable on the letters hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the undersigned, being two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do, in exercise of the power or authority in us for such purpose vested in and by the said recited Act, and of all other powers and authorities enabling us in this behalf, direct, that on every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and any port in Brazil, conveyed between the United Kingdom and Brazil direct by packet-boat, there shall be charged and taken, in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, an uniform rate of British postage of one shilling; and that on every letter, not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between any two ports in Brazil direct by packet-boat, without passing through the United Kingdom, there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage, now payable by law on such letters, an uniform rate of British postage of three pence half-penny.

And we direct, that on every letter, not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between Brazil and any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country through the United Kingdom, conveyed direct by packet-boat or private ship, between the United Kingdom and Brazil, there shall be charged and taken, in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters if conveyed between the United Kingdom and Brazil by packet-boat, an uniform rate of British postage of one shilling, for the conveyance of every such letter between Brazil and any part of the United Kingdom; and if by private ship, an uniform rate of British postage of eight-pence, for the conveyance of any such letter between Brazil and any part of the United Kingdom; and there shall be also charged on all such letters, whether conveyed by packet-boat or private ship, such a further or additional rate of British postage for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and the colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and transmitted direct between such port and such colony or foreign country.

And we further direct, that on every letter transmitted as hereinbefore in this warrant is mentioned, exceeding half an ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, progressive and additional rates of postage as follows; that is to say :

On every letter exceeding half an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, two rates of postage.

On every letter exceeding one ounce, and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four rates of postage.

On every letter exceeding two ounces, and not exceeding three ounces in weight, six rates of postage.

And on every letter exceeding three ounces, and not exceeding four ounces in weight, eight rates of postage.

And for every ounce in weight above the weight of four ounces, there shall be charged and taken two additional rates of postage ; and every fraction of an ounce above the weight of four ounces, shall be charged as one additional ounce ; and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this warrant, if not exceeding half an ounce in weight.

And we direct that the letters and dispatches of the Government of Brazil to or from its diplomatic agents in London, Lisbon, Monte Video and Buenos Ayres, forwarded by British packet-boat, shall be conveyed free of all charge of British postage, provided that this privilege shall be confined to letters and dispatches received from or addressed to the Government of Brazil, by the Brazilian Minister in London, or by the Brazilian Minister or Brazilian Consul in Lisbon, Monte Video, or Buenos Ayres respectively ; provided also that the weight of such letters and dispatches sent by any one packet-boat to or from the Brazilian Minister in London, shall not exceed one hundred and twenty ounces, and that the weight of such letters and dispatches, sent by any one packet-boat, to or from the Brazilian Minister or Consul in Lisbon, Monte Video, or Buenos Ayres shall not exceed thirty ounces; and that if such letters and dispatches, by any one packet-boat, to or from the Brazilian Minister in London, shall exceed the weight of one hundred and twenty ounces, or if such letters and dispatches, by any one packet-boat, to or from the Brazilian Minister or Consul in Lisbon, Monte Video, or Buenos Ayres shall exceed the weight of thirty ounces, the excess above one hundred and twenty ounces and thirty ounces respectively shall be charged with the like rates of postage as would, under this warrant, be chargeable if such letters and dispatches had not been sent to or from any such privileged person; provided also, that all such letters and dispatches, to be entitled to be conveyed free of postage, if sent from London, shall bear the official seal of the Brazilian Minister in London, and shall be addressed to the Minister of Foreign Affairs at Rio de Janeiro, and if sent from Lisbon, Monte Video, and Buenos Ayres the same shall bear the official seal of the Brazilian Minister or Brazilian Consul in Lisbon, Monte Video, or Buenos Ayres respectively, and shall be addressed to the Minister of Foreign Affairs at Rio de Janeiro, and all such letters and dispatches, if sent from Brazil, shall bear the official seal of such Minister of Foreign Affairs.

And we direct that the letters and dispatches to and from the Government of Brazil may be sent by British packet-boat between any ports in Brazil at which such packet-boats may touch free of all charge of British postage.

And we further direct that nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act, or by an Act made and passed in the first year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the management of the Post-office," and that all such exemptions and privileges shall remain in full force.

And we further direct that the terms and expressions used in this warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act of the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty; and that the term "packet-boat," used in this warrant, shall include any ship or vessel freighted or maintained by or by order of Her Majesty's Government.

And we further direct that this warrant shall come into operation on the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

Provided, lastly, and we hereby declare and direct that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any two of them, by warrant under their hands, at any time hereafter, to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby altered or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and, from time to time, to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 11th day of March, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the ninth and tenth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend an Act of the 1853. S

“seventh and eighth years of Her present Majesty, for reducing, under certain circumstances, the duties payable upon books and engravings,” it is enacted that whenever Her Majesty has, by virtue of any authority vested in Her for that purpose, declared that the authors, inventors, designers, engravers, or makers of any books, prints, or other works of art, first published in any foreign country or countries, shall have the privilege of copyright therein, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, if she think fit, from time to time, by any Order in Council, to declare that, from and after a day to be named in such Order, in lieu of the duties of customs from time to time payable on the importation into the United Kingdom of books, prints, and drawings, there shall be payable only such duties of Customs as are mentioned in the said Act :

And whereas Her Majesty hath this day, by virtue of the authority vested in her for that purpose, declared that the authors, inventors, designers, engravers and makers of books, prints, and certain other works of art, first published within the duchies of Anhalt Dessau and Anhalt Bernbourg, shall have the privilege of copyright therein :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of Her Privy Council, and in virtue of the authority committed to Her by the said recited Act, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the first day of April next, in lieu of the duties of Customs now payable on the importation into the United Kingdom, of books, prints, and drawings, published at any place within the dominions of the said duchies, there shall be payable only the duties of Customs following ; that is to say :

On books, originally produced in the United Kingdom, and republished at any place within the dominions of the said duchies, a duty of two pounds ten shillings per cwt.

On books, published or republished at any place within the dominions of the said duchies, and not being books originally produced in the United Kingdom, a duty of fifteen shillings per cwt.

On prints and drawings, plain or coloured, published at any place within the dominions of the said duchies,

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 11th day of March, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas a Convention has been concluded between Her Majesty, His Majesty the King of Prussia, and their Serene Highnesses the Dukes of Anhalt-Dessau and Anhalt-Bernbourg, whereby their said Serene Highnesses have acceded to a certain Convention, concluded at Berlin, on the thirteenth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, for the reciprocal protection of copyright against piracy, between Her Majesty and His Majesty the King of Prussia, and to the special provisions contained in sections 1, 2, 3, and 4, of a certain protocol, dated thirteenth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and annexed to the said last-mentioned Convention.

And whereas due protection has been secured within the dominions of the said duchies for the authors of, and parties interested in, books, dramatic works, or musical compositions, and the inventors, designers, or engravers of, and parties interested in, prints and articles of sculpture, and the authors, inventors, designers, or engravers of or parties interested in any other works whatsoever of literature and the fine arts, in which the laws of Great Britain and of the said duchies do now or may hereafter give their respective subjects the privilege of copyright, and for the lawful representatives or assigns of any such authors, inventors, designers, or engravers, with regard to any similar works first published within the dominions of Her Majesty.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of Her Privy Council, and by virtue of the authority committed to Her by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament, holden in the seventh and eighth years of Her reign, intituled "An Act to amend the law relating to International Copyright," doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the day of the date of this Order, the authors, inventors, designers, engravers, and makers of any of the following works; that is to say: books, prints, articles of sculpture, dramatic works, musical compositions, and any other works of literature and the fine arts, in which the laws of Great Britain, give to British subjects the privilege of copyright, and the executors, administrators, and assigns of such authors, inventors, designers, engravers, and makers respectively, shall, as respects works first published within the said duchies, after the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, have the privilege of copyright therein, for a period equal to the term of copyright which authors, inventors, designers, engravers, and makers of similar works, respectively, first published in the United Kingdom, are, by law, entitled to, provided such books, prints, articles, of sculpture, dramatic works, musical compositions, or other works of literature and the fine arts, have been registered, and copies thereof have been delivered according to the requirements of the said recited Act, within twelve calendar months after the first publication thereof, in any part of the said duchies.

And it is hereby further ordered, that the authors of dramatic pieces and musical compositions which shall, after the said first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, be first publicly represented or performed within the said duchies, shall have the sole liberty of representing or performing in any part of the British dominions such dramatic pieces or musical compositions, during a period equal to the period during which authors of dramatic pieces and musical compositions first publicly represented or performed in the United Kingdom, are entitled by law to the sole liberty of representing or performing the same; provided such dramatic pieces or musical compositions have been registered, and copies thereof have been delivered according to the requirements of the said recited Act, within twelve calendar months after the time of their being first represented or performed in any part of the said duchies.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury are to give the necessary orders herein accordingly.

C. C. Greville.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of APRIL 5, 1853.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 11th day of March 1853,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representations made (as set forth in this Gazette) by Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches—

Assigning particular districts to the consecrated churches of Saint James, at Croydon Common, Saint Peter, at South End, and Christ Church, at Broad Green, all situate in the parish of Croydon, in the county of Surrey, and diocese of Canterbury, to be respectively named "The District Chapelry of Saint James, Croydon Common;" "The District Chapelry of Saint Peter, South End;" and

“The District Chapelry of Christ Church, Broad Green.”

Assigning a particular district to the consecrated chapel of Saint Stephen, situate in the parish of Tonbridge, in the county of Kent, and diocese of Canterbury, to be called “The District Chapelry of Saint Stephen Tonbridge.”

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 1st day of April, 1853.

The QUEEN’S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the report of the General Board of Health, dated the 10th day of March, 1853 (as set forth in this Gazette), and to order that the Public Health Act, 1848, and every part thereof, except the section numbered 50 in the copies printed by Her Majesty’s printers, shall be applied to and be in force within the boundaries of the township of Heckmondwike in the parish of Birstal, in the county of York; that such township shall be and constitute a district for the purposes of the Public Health Act, and that a Local Board of Health should be elected therein, in conformity to the instructions and regulations contained in the said report.

India Board, April 2, 1853.

THE following Dispatches have been this day received at the East India House.

The Governor-General of India in Council to the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors of the East India Company.

(Extract.) Fort-William, February 19, 1853.

WE have the honour to transmit for your information a copy of further papers relative to Burmah affairs.

The annexed correspondence relates to the position of the enemy at Naraghain, and the capture of their stockade.

The approbation of Government has been conveyed in the military department to Captain Nuthall and to Lieutenant Sutherland, as well as to the native officers and troops under their command, for the gallant service performed by them.

You will be glad to learn the valuable aid rendered on the occasion by the Kein Chief Nakee-Kay. We have forwarded to the Commissioner of Arracan a rifle and a gold-mounted sword for presentation to the Chief, in order to mark our approbation of his conduct.

Major C. Maling, commanding in Arracan, to Colonel R. J. H. Birch, C.B., Secretary to the Government of India in the Military Department.

(Extract.) Kyook Phyoo, January 15, 1853.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for the information of the Governor-General of India, a more detailed statement of the manner in which the enemy's stockaded position on the Naraghain Hill, was taken by a coup-de-main, a quarter of an hour before day-break on the 6th instant, by a party of the Arracan Local Battalion, of strength as per margin*, under the command of Captains Nuthall and Sutherland.

My letter of the 16th ultimo, to the address of the Deputy Quarter-Master General of the Army, enclosed a plan of the route by which Captain Nuthall was to proceed, a sketch of the enemy's position on the summit of the Naraghain Hill, and also a copy of my instructions to him.

I can most confidently thank Captain Nuthall for the bold and soldier-like manner in which he carried them out; and, in bringing that officer's name, together with that of Captain Sutherland, who commanded the escort, forced open the rear wicket of the stockade, and headed the charge inside, to the notice of Government, I beg to be permitted to express my admiration at the prompt and energetic manner in which these officers seized an opportunity, made the attack, and thus saved the lives of many, who must have fallen had this very formidable position been assaulted in front.

Captain Nuthall also reports that the gallant bearing of Subadar-Major Queray, of the Arracan Local Battalion, was most conspicuous, as also the great assistance he received from Nakee-kay, the Kein Chief, whom I had requested to meet Captain Nuthall, at Wadat, with 10 of his men.

The former gave the information of the route, and acted as guide, both on this and the former attempt to turn the position, while his men were employed in planting bamboo spikes in all the approaches on the flank of our advancing party.

I trust the 150 rupees, paid by Captain Nuthall, may be refunded to him by Government, and that the other parties may be rewarded in such manner as Government may deem fit.

I would beg permission to suggest that a present of a double-barelled flint gun, or any recognition of his services on the part of Government, would be more pleasing to him than any pecuniary present.

I have not yet received from Captain Barry any return of casualties, or of the guns, stores, and ammunition taken in the stockade; but I learn from Captain Nuthall that 2 brass howitzers, about 3-pounders, many jingals and muskets, &c., were taken, and that he himself and 3 Sepoys only, were slightly wounded.

Naraghain, from which the plains of Burmah and the Irrawaddy River can be distinctly seen, will be held by 100 men of the 68th Regiment, N.I., under 2 European officers, and 110 men of the Arracan Local Battalion, under Captain Sutherland.

Brevet-Captain W. F. Nuthall, Second in Command of the Arracan Battalion, Executive Officer in Arracan, to Major C. Maling.

(Extract.) Tharowa, January 6, 1853.

I AM highly gratified to report to you that a coup-de-main, a little before daylight this morning, put me in possession of the Naraghain Stockade, at the head of the Aeng Pass, a position 4500 feet above the level of the sea, and, in a military point of view, the most important and impregnable on the Arracan frontier.

Having received your instructions to make a thorough reconnoissance of the ascent to the front and the left flank of the enemy's position, and feeling certain that the former could not be accomplished without some skirmishing with the enemy, I, on my arrival at Aeng, applied to Captain Barry for an officer to accompany me with the party of the Arracan Battalion I intended to take with me.

Brevet-Captain Sutherland was accordingly placed under my orders, and we proceeded to Tharowa on the 1st instant, where we waited till the evening of the 2nd for the arrival of Nakee-Kay, the Kein Chief, who, on account of the correct and faithful intelligence he had always given us, had been directed to meet me there. On his arrival, among other information, I learned from him that the Governor of Meerg-doon had proceeded with a large army to attack our force at Prome, and had, before marching, declared his intention, that, whether successful or not, he would return and invade Arracan by the Aeng Pass. I also learned that, in consequence of the retirement of the Head Quarters of the Arracan Battalion to the neighbourhood of Aeng, and the withdrawal, on account of sickness, of the Company of Regulars from the Pass, the garrison of Naraghain had become particularly careless and negligent in guarding their post.

The very honest and exact information that this Chief had hitherto given us, at once led me to determine to make the reconnoissance in force, so that should I, on my approach to the stockade, find the enemy unprepared as represented, and the moment advantageous for attacking them, to do so.

With this view we collected at Yogye, our advanced post under Naraghain, every available man from the posts of Tharowa and Wadat, together with food and ammunition, taking the precaution that, excepting between the hours of 6 P.M. and half past 5 A.M. nothing should pass between Nodoung and the former place, as the road was in many places visible.

At half past 4 A.M., on the 5th instant, we, guided by Nakee-Kay, on commencing the march, entered the jungle, and proceeded with the detachment as per margin*, in a line almost parallel with the Yoowa Mountains, turning the enemy's left flank by the "attacking route" laid down in the plan which I copied for you for the information of Government, on the 16th ultimo. At 9 A.M. we halted in dense jungle within a quarter of a mile of the pass, on the Burmese side of the Yoowa Mountains. Here I, with Nakee-Kay and 2 Keins went forward to reconnoitre, and having seen the pass, I placed the 2 Keins in ambush, with instructions that should they observe any communications between the Burmese stockades of Naraghain and Tsetweng (about four miles apart) to give us immediate intelligence. At 11 A.M. Nakee-Kay reported that five Burmese, armed with muskets, had passed down to Tsetweng. During the rest of the day no person passed by this road, and at 1 P.M. a Burmese, whom we had left at Yogyee to watch if there should be any extraordinary vigilance observable among the sentries at Naraghain, arrived, and reported that all was as usual in that direction. This man made himself exceedingly useful on all occasions, and deserved reward.

A little before dusk, Nakee-Kay recommended us to move up the men to within 300 yards of the Pass, so as to debouch and make the reconnoissance before daybreak. We did so, and bivouacked in that position for the night, during which time ten Keins were busily employed in spiking the whole of the road and jungle to the right of the place where we were to debouch and form up.

At 2 A.M. on the 6th, the detachment got under arms, but, owing to the darkness of the jungle, and the difficulty therefrom of getting out of it, the party had not fallen in upon the road till half past 4 A.M. We now, guided by Nakee-Kay, proceeded up the pass in the Burmese dominions, towards Naraghain, which was about $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles distant, the whole detachment observing the most orderly and praiseworthy silence, so that we could have at any moment crept back unknown to the enemy. At about a quarter of an hour before day-break we halted not far from the enemy's rear, and finding it strongly barricaded, I went forward with Subadar-Major Queray, who had volunteered to accompany me, to reconnoitre. Having found a gate of clumsy construction, and observing through it, as well as from other positions, that the enemy, confident in the security of their stronghold, were all asleep, I returned to Captain Sutherland and requested him to make the attack.

He immediately moved forward with the column to the gate; and while he was forcing it, I disposed a strong party on a rocky eminence, about thirty paces in rear, which completely commanded any approach of the enemy to it. Directly I saw him enter, I poured a volley over his head into the enemy's barracks, and followed in. Our success, however, I attribute entirely to the paralyzing effect of the sudden and intrepid charge made by him; indeed so perfect was the surprise that we found the enemy's muskets loaded, dhàs and spears lying alongside the bedding from which they had fled, leaving us in complete possession of the place and its contents, among which were two small brass howitzers, several jingals, ammunition, the chief's poney, and the insignia of office of four ranks of Burmese.

I am grateful to a kind Providence to be able to add that the only accidents which happened were myself and 3 sepoy's wounded, neither of which are very serious.

It is a remarkable circumstance that a letter was found in the stockade, addressed by "the Officer Commanding the Burmese Troops in the Pass" to "the Officer Commanding the Garrison at Naraghain," that two men had come to him from Aeng, and reported "that some officers were going up with a party," thus showing the vigilance with which everything on this side is watched and reported.

In conclusion I feel it my duty prominently to bring to your notice the very valuable assistance afforded me by Nakee-Kay, the Keing Chief, by which the many lives, which must have been lost had this very formidable position been attacked in front, or by daylight, have been saved, and I earnestly hope he may be suitably rewarded. I have taken upon myself to present him with the sum of 150 rupees, which I trust will meet with your approval, and the sanction of Government.

Major C. Maling to Lieut.-Colonel Birch.

SIR, Kyouk Phyoo, January 17, 1853.

HAVING this day received Captain Sutherland's report of his movements while commanding the detachment of the Arracan Battalion, which surprised and captured the Naraghain stockade, I herewith enclose a copy for the information of Government.

I have, &c.

C. MALING, Major, Commanding in Arracan.

Lieutenant A. G. C. Sutherland, commanding at Naraghain, to Lieutenant Monro, Adjutant of the Arracan Battalion.

SIR, Naraghain, January 7, 1853.

AGREEABLY to the orders of Captain Barry, conveyed to me in your letter, dated the 31st day of December last, desiring me to take command of a party of the Arracan battalion about to proceed with Captain Nuthall, on a forced reconnoissance of the enemy's position at Naraghain, I have the honour to report that I accompanied that officer as far as Tharowa, when he received information that induced him to change his plan of reconnoitring into an attempt to take Naraghain, by turning the position by a pass some distance to its left.

Having decided on this, we ordered the greater portion of the guards stationed along the road, to proceed with us to our advanced post at Yogyee, and managed to collect them there without observation by the enemy, on the evening of the 4th instant.

On the morning of the 5th, before day-light, we drew the whole of our small force, into the jungle, and proceeded till 2 P.M.; again resumed our march at 5 P.M., and halted, when quite dark, about 50 yards before the high-road leading between the Burmese forts Tsetweng and Naraghain. About 3 P.M., with some difficulty, owing to the darkness of the night, we found our small column on the road, remaining there sufficiently long to allow the Kein Chief, Nakee-Kay, to spike the road behind us, so as to delay assistance coming from the lower, whilst we were attacking the upper part of Naraghain.

At about half an hour before daybreak we reached our point of attack, instead, however, of finding the rear open, as we had been informed, it was closed with a thick breastwork of green boughs bound together, having in its centre a close gate. Lining the whole of this work with men, we forced the gate, fired a volley, and rushed in. So complete the surprise, so utter the terror, that, without scarce looking behind them, they threw themselves over the front of the stockades, regardless of the spikes and the other impediments they had placed there to prevent the approach of troops from the front, or Arracan side.

When in possession, we opened the front gate, and were shortly joined by a detachment from Yogyee, consisting of 1 havildar, 1 naick, 30 sepoy, 1 bugler.

We had no casualties, and only two men wounded by the accidental discharge of gunpowder.

In conclusion, I beg to state that Captain Nuthall deserves the whole credit, as he had the whole responsibility of deciding whether the attempt should be made or not, and which, as I was under his orders, I had only to carry out, as commanding the troops. In this he gave me every help and assistance, not only by his advice and by keeping up the spirits and confidence of the men when suffering under great privation and from severe cold weather, but also in setting them an example in attacking, what we had every reason to suppose, a position of great strength. I am sorry to say he received a bad wound in his knee from one of the innumerable bamboo spikes that were fixed all round.

I beg to bring to the Commanding Officer's notice the good conduct of Subadar-Major Queray, and the other 5 native officers with the detachment, also that of all the other non-commissioned officers and privates, who shewed, throughout, a great desire to see service, and serve the state.

I particularly recommend Private Oungthong, No. 3 Company, as a brave and good soldier, also Private Oungkein, No. 6 Company, who behaved very well.

The Kein Chief Nakee-Kay has again proved himself worthy of all confidence. He guided us by a path only known to himself, and the latter part of which he had cut through the forest for the occasion.

We found in the fort 2 new small brass howitzers, 8 iron wall pieces of sizes, some muskets and spears.

I have, &c.,

A. G. C. SUTHERLAND, Lieutenant,
Commanding at Naraghain.

NOTE.—The following Despatches were inserted in the packet from the Governor-General of India in Council, after the letter to the Secret Committee, of the 9th of February, 1853, was written.

Brigadier-General S. W. Steel, commanding the Martaban Column, to C. Allen, Esquire.

SIR, Camp at Beling, January 28, 1853.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Governor-General of India in Council, that the stockaded town of Beling was yesterday delivered up, without opposition, to the force under my command.

My letter, of the 17th instant, stated that the Martaban column would advance on the following morning upon Gongoo. The route, on the 18th, ran for the greater portion through a grassy swamp of difficult passage; two or three out-pickets on the road fired upon the advance of the column, and retired as it approached. On arriving before Gongoo, the guns of the place opened sharply as if intending a vigorous defence, but their fire was soon silenced by some very accurate practice from the howitzers and rockets under Lieutenant-Colonel Anstruther, and the assault of the position, admirably covered in the same manner, was led in a very spirited style by Major Seaton, of the 1st Bengal Fusiliers, who commanded the advanced guard* of the force.

* Half a Company of Sappers, 1 Company 1st Madras Fusiliers, 1 Company 1st Bombay Fusiliers, 1 Company 10th Bombay N.I., 1 Company 5th Madras N.I.

The approach to the works was rendered difficult and intricate by deep holes, set with long sharp bamboo spikes, having been dug in chequered lines along the front, the passages between being also spiked, by which some men and horses were wounded, but the enemy did not stand the assault, retiring from trench to trench as the attacking force advanced, escaped through the neighbouring jungle. There had been a few guns in the enemy's position of either brass or iron, which fired, at good range, 3 lb. shot upon the column, but the carriages only were found, the guns having been concealed or carried off. There were many imitations of guns, made out of the stems of the Palmyra tree, which could do mischief at short distances, and gave the semblance of a heavier fire. Our Commissariat was left far in the rear, owing to the swampy road, and the column was obliged to be halted on the 19th and 20th instant.

The force marched, on the 21st, to Oktadah, about 8 miles; the enemy continued the same system of firing on the advance, and running off on the approach, of the leading troops. An attempt was made this day to cut off the retiring garrison by the detachment of Ramghur Irregular Cavalry, who succeeded in capturing one man, but the body, keeping to the jungle, escaped. A halt became necessary on the 22nd. The cart carriage was now, from practice and lighter loads, becoming more efficient, and the force has been enabled to move on since that date by successive marches to this place, encamping on the 23rd at Zeengike; 24th at Yeenrigien; 25th at Thatoun, 11 miles; 26th at Kyik-Ko, 12 miles; 27th near Beling, $13\frac{1}{2}$ miles; and to-day, having crossed the Don-woon river, has taken up its ground close to the stockade.

The positions occupied by the enemy were all well chosen, and some of them finished with much labour and skill, especially at Gongoo, at Yeen-sagein, commanding the passage of a tide creek, which from the height of the ruined bridge must be at times impassable; and at Thatoun, where advantage had been taken of the remains of an ancient wall, which appears as if it had encircled the town, a parapet had been raised, ditches dug, and well scarped, and the appearance of strength given by mounting upon one face 25 of their Palmyra guns, which traverse upon forked rests easily in every direction, and at a distance might be mistaken for iron ordnance. It is difficult from the result to account for such elaborate and expensive preparations. On approaching this last place the Ramghur Irregular Cavalry*, supported by a party of the rifles of the 1st Madras Native Infantry, and some sepoy of the 10th Bengal Native Infantry, made a long and fatiguing detour, in the hope of intercepting the garrison, which was not successful.

The town of Beling is surrounded by a stout timber stockade, of about 12 feet high, but without any attempt at other defences; their guns could not be fired over the works. A return is enclosed of those found in the place. From a list in the Burmese language, it is ascertained that Inoun-boaa, took from hence six brass guns, none of which have been brought back. Those must have been used at Gongoo and at Go, on the approach to Thatoun, and most probably concealed in their neighbourhood.

The people of the country, Taliens and Kareens, but many Burmans also, have been coming in for protection since the taking of Gongoo, the numbers increasing as the force advanced, and the report spread of the good treatment they receive. At Kyik-Ko, on the 26th, a deputation arrived, with a respectful petition signed by twenty of the head men of Beling, and other officers who had served under Mounbooa, late Governor of Martaban. They solicited, agreeably to the Proclamation, to be received under British protection, for which they and the inhabitants were most anxious, and that no time might be lost in taking charge of Beling, lest the place should be plundered. The villages, on the last day's march, were fully occupied, the people standing about, looking with perfect confidence on our line as it passed. On approaching this town the force was met by the deputation of the day before, the gates were opened, and the inhabitants, of whom it contained a tolerable number, were apparently well pleased with the change. Many more are flocking to their homes, and we have the advantage of supplies from a very tolerable bazaar.

All accounts agree that a revolution has taken place at Ava, and although I have no sources of information upon which I can rely, I give the following rumours as currently believed. The King has been deposed and, with his Queen, placed in confinement, the throne having been assumed by one of his younger brothers. Moun-Kyook-loau, the Queen's brother, is said to have left Shoiyzen, and gone towards Ava, in which direction Mee-yay-beeales, who lately had supreme command here, is supposed to have also fled. Mounbooa ex-Governor of Martaban, is reported to be somewhere in this vicinity, the particular spot not divulged, anxious to be captured. He would gladly give himself up, but for the fear that his chief wife, who is at Ava, would in that case be put to death. Mouw-oum-beery, his head theeaghee or writer, is now here, having come in with his family two days ago. Moun-goon is said, with 500 men, to be at Sitang.

I am happy to report that the troops are healthy. Their discipline and general steadiness of conduct, especially at this place, deserve all praise. I purpose to march upon Sitang on the 30th instant.

I have, &c.

S. W. STEEL, Brigadier-General, Commanding Martaban Column.

Return of Killed and Wounded at Gongoo on the 18th of January, 1853.

(Extract.)

Camp, near Sitang, February 3, 1853.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Governor General of India in Council, that the force under my command arrived this morning, and encamped near this place. I should have marched in yesterday, the 2nd instant, but the river, at the end of a march of ten miles on the 1st, was too deep to be forded by the commissariat carts, which had therefore to be unloaded, and stores brought over by elephants, obliging me to halt one day.

Moun-goon, the Chief of Sitang, had come into my camp yesterday, under the proclamation. He accompanied our march to this place, and seems disposed in every way to give all the assistance the country can furnish. The people in the villages on the route, since leaving Beling, have remained in their houses with the utmost confidence, showing in various ways their kindly feeling towards the troops. As an instance, jars of cooled water were placed for their use along the road passing through each village. At this place there was a large band of their music playing as we entered, and many other signs of rejoicing were observed. There are no defences whatever to the place. The outline of the strong stockade of the former war can with difficulty be traced on the small hill which commands the whole position.

The force will continue its advance the day after to-morrow ; and I expect to reach Shway-gyeen by the 14th.

Naval Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Indian Seas, to C.
Allen, Esquire, Secretary to the Governor of India.*

SIR, Rangoon, February 7, 1853.

IN reference to my letter of the 25th ultimo, I have the honour to acquaint you, for the information of the Governor-General of India in Council, in consequence of a requisition from Captain Sparks, the Deputy Commissioner in Pegu, for the necessity of occupying Donabew, and dispersing the Burmese force collected in that neighbourhood under Nya-myat-toon, Brigadier Dickinson, the Commandant of this garrison, determined to send a detachment, consisting of 300 men belonging to the 67th Regiment Bengal Native Infantry, for that purpose ; and I directed Captain Loch, C.B., of Her Majesty's ship Winchester, with the force named No. 1 in the inclosure, to accompany, and act with the military.

The combined force arrived at Donabew on the 2nd of February, and landed without any opposition, where they procured guides and collected information.

On the morning of the 3rd, they advanced in the direction they believed would be the nearest route to the enemy, Captain Loch taking with him, in addition, two 3-pounder field-guns belonging to the Phlegethon. For the first two miles they proceeded through paddy-fields, and then entered a pathway in a dense jungle, with high trees and thick brush-wood. After a march of 15 miles, they halted for the night, using every precaution by placing pickets, but were disturbed occasionally by the enemy firing musketry and sounding horns.

Early on the following morning they again advanced about five miles, when the path terminated by the bank of a deep and broad nullah or creek, the opposite of which was high and strongly intrenched.

The enemy at once opened a heavy and continuous fire of musketry on the advanced guard of seamen and marines, from breastworks in which they lay concealed, while our men were completely exposed.

In such a narrow pathway, with an impenetrable jungle on each side, it was impossible to bring up the whole force at once to surround and storm the post; and nearly every man that approached the edge of the creek was shot down.

Repeated but unsuccessful attempts were made by Captain Loch to lead his gallant followers over the creek, and grapple with the enemy, till at last, in one of these daring acts, he received a mortal wound, and was carried to the rear.

The command of the naval force now devolved on Commander Rowley Lambert, who also with his brave companions made two or three determined yet vain attempts to get across to the enemy, in which many valuable lives were lost. The First Lieutenant of his ship was killed: most of his officers were severely wounded. The military force had also suffered considerably both in officers and men. Therefore, reluctantly, though prudently, he deemed it advisable to withdraw his men. The fire of the enemy still continued unabated. To find another passage was utterly impracticable; their position was surrounded by an impenetrable barrier of trees and brushwood ; and the only road open to their retreat was by the one they had advanced.

9. The force was collected, and measures were adopted for retiring. The wounded were numerous, and were conveyed to the boats by the seamen ; for many of the dooley-bearers had decamped. To bring away the two field-pieces was impossible, for every spare man was required to carry the wounded. They were consequently spiked, and their carriages destroyed. The enemy kept up a distant fire for several hours after the retreat was commenced ; but never dared to approach the rear, which was ably and well supported by the grenadier company of the 67th Regiment.

After twelve hours' fatiguing march the forces reached Donabew. The seamen and marines embarked in their boats, and a steamer was placed at the disposal of the officer in command of the troops, of which he availed himself for the conveyance of his men back to Rangoon.

I herewith inclose a list of the killed and wounded. (No. 2.)

Commander Lambert speaks in the highest terms of all who served with him, and received valuable assistance from Lieutenant Horatio Nelson. He particularly mentions Lieutenants Glover and Bushnell ; also Messrs. Hinde and Wilson, mates. These officers, although severely and painfully wounded, endured the fatigue of a long march, encouraging their men, who were nearly exhausted from the heavy burden they had to bear in carrying the wounded.

Captain Loch expired, on board the Phlegethon, about forty hours after he had received his wound.

This officer's character is so well known that it scarce requires a comment from me; but his having served on two stations under my immediate orders, I may add, that it would be impossible to find a more gallant, intelligent officer, devoted to his profession, which, by his untimely death, has lost one of its highest ornaments.

I have, &c.,

G. R. LAMBERT, Commodore, 1st Class,
Commander-in-Chief.

Commodore Lambert to C. Allen, Esquire.

SIR, Rangoon, February 13, 1853.

I REQUEST you may be pleased to lay before the Governor-General in Council the enclosed report of the proceedings of the naval force in the Bassein River.

Commander Rennie's conduct has met my entire approval, in which I am sure his Lordship in Council will concur.

I have, &c.

G. R. LAMBERT, Commodore
First Class, Commander-in-Chief.

Commander J. Rennie, I.N., Commanding the E.I.C. Steam-frigate Zenobia, Senior Naval Officer in the Bassein River, to Commodore Lambert.

(Extract.) Bassein, February, 3, 1853.

I HAVE the honour to forward for your Excellency's information a detailed report of my proceedings since assuming charge as Senior Naval Officer in the Bassein River.

I arrived here on the evening of the 19th ultimo, and in conjunction with the officer commanding the garrison, was immediately requested by the Commissioner, Captain Fytche, to furnish a force for the purpose of effecting the important objects as stated in his letter, No. 18, of 1853.

At 8 A.M. of the 21st, accompanied by the Commissioner, I proceeded in the E.I.C. steam-vessel Nemesis, towing the boats of the E.I.C. steam-frigate Zenobia, up the Dugga Creek, for the purpose of driving out the chief at Khyoung Gou.

On reaching the village of Khan Gee Goung at 5 P.M. (some distance above where the Nemesis grounded on a former occasion), we found the depth of water would not permit of our proceeding further in the steam-vessel. I at 8 P.M. therefore left with the boats of the vessels, and reached the enemy's outposts at 2 P.M. of the following day, the 22nd.

On nearing the position the Burmese opened fire on the boats from a stockade on the left bank, from which they were speedily expelled by a discharge of grape and canister. Cutting our way through the stakes which extended right across the creek, and for some twenty yards in depth, we at once pushed on for the village of Khyoung Gou, about three miles distant.

Having been informed that the chief in command was entrenched behind a breastwork, and had thrown out strong parties in the jungle to intercept our advance, Captain Fytche directed the Kareens who accompanied us to proceed as flankers, whilst he himself led the way in a large war boat.

On our arrival we found the post deserted, and immediately started the natives in pursuit, who came up with the Burmese rear guard, and pressed them so closely that the chief in command had to divest himself of his gilt trappings, even to his inner garments, to facilitate his escape.

The Burmese troops on being driven from Khyoung Gou retreated to Eugma, a large village, sixteen miles inland, nearly equidistant from Donabew and Pantano; and, the natives assuring us that there was a tolerable road all the way, we determined to follow them; accordingly landed one 12-pounder and three 3-pounder guns, and at daylight on the 23rd started off in pursuit.

Our advance-guard, consisting of a large body of natives, was led by the Deputy Commissioner in person, who at 2 P.M. came in collision with a strong party of the enemy headed by a chief on horseback, who, flourishing his dha, gallantly charged down on Captain Fytche, and was mortally wounded by him; upon which his followers, four hundred in number, fled with a loss of five killed and two wounded. We pursued them through Eugma, a village consisting of above three thousand houses, and, finding they were completely broken, halted for the night, and bivouacked in an open plain.

The Commissioner, at the request of the country people, burned both Eugma and Khyoung Gou, to which latter place we returned on the evening of the 24th, and as we learned that the Burmese force had retreated to the northward for the purpose of joining the Mynghee at Kyouk Khyounz Ko-say, we re-embarked in our boats, and after a fatiguing pull reached the Nemesis at 5 P.M. of the 25th.

On the 26th, we proceeded at daylight in tow of the Nemesis, through the Dugga Creek, back to, and up, the Bassein River, till 5 P.M., when we anchored for the night at Pyagee, and at daylight of the 27th proceeded on to Na Thoung Goung, a large town, and beyond which there was not sufficient water for the steam-vessel: here we obtained information that the Mynghee had broken up from his encampment two days previous and had retired to Lamena, and that the force we had driven from Eugma, amounting to twelve hundred men, had passed on to join him.

The Commissioner having determined on attacking the Mynghee, we started in our boats at 5 A.M. of the 28th, and reached Lamena at 6 P.M. On our arrival, the people, if not hostile, appeared very lukewarm in our cause; and he could obtain no authentic information of the enemy's movements. About 10 P.M., however, Captain Fytche informed me he had received credible intelligence of the Mynghee's force, amounting to from two thousand five hundred to three thousand fighting men, being in a position not more than eight miles off; and that they would not move till after their morning meal: his only fear was that they would escape us, to prevent which he determined to send forward all the native force in whom any reliance could be placed, who by a forced march, and making a circuit to the right would be enabled to head the Myinghee's troops and to stop their retreat. To give confidence to these natives, and ensure his directions being followed out, he was desirous of having an European officer to accompany them: and, as this officer might be placed in a critical position should he be deserted, it was requisite that he should possess coolness and judgment, and I was glad to find in Mr. Baker, the chief officer of the Nemesis (who volunteered), the requisite qualifications: accordingly he left, accompanied by the Commissioner's Sheristadar, at 3-30, on the 29th: and, to allow him time to reach his post, we waited until 7 A.M., before moving from Lamena, which we did with all our Europeans and the four small guns—the latter, with the ammunition, drawn by bullocks.

On arriving at the spot indicated as the Myinghee's position, we discovered that he had moved at 2 A.M., instead of sunrise, as we had been led to believe, and was then encamped at a position eight miles in advance of us.

The men being much knocked up by a march of about 12 miles, in the heat of the day, and as our native force, who had rejoined us here, had failed in the object for which they had been sent forward, we determined to encamp where we were, and sent out scouts to watch the enemy's movements, by whom we were informed that the Myinghee was apparently unconscious of our approach, and that he certainly would not move before sunrise.

Captain Fyche was resolved on getting in front of the enemy's position, which we effected by a circuitous movement on his right flank, having left our ground at 1 A.M., and marched till 5 A.M., when we discovered his encamping ground, and took up a position half a mile in front, on the road by which he would have to advance.

At daybreak, the enemy commenced their march, and were overheard by Captain Fytche, who had ridden down close to their advanced column, rejoicing in the idea of cutting up Mungwa, and his dacoits, for whom they had mistaken us. It was just sunrise as their advanced guard, consisting of eight hundred armed men, approached our position, and as our guns were partially hidden from their view, and our small party, consisting of but eighty blue jackets, were kneeling down, and almost concealed by the moving mist, they came on shouting and yelling to within two hundred yards, when they opened a well directed fire of musketry upon us: two of our party were hit, and, the enemy being within good range of our guns, we returned their fire with a general discharge of grape and canister, which effectually stopped their advance, and, on receiving a second discharge, they broke and fled, a confused rabble; forty-eight dead bodies proved the effect of our fire; and fifty prisoners, amongst whom were his two sons, the ardour of our pursuit, which we continued till 7 A.M., when we reached a jungle totally impenetrable to an European.

The object of the expedition having been thus crowned with the most complete success, we returned to Lamena the same evening, having accomplished a march of upwards of thirty miles, since 1 A.M. The following day we returned to the Nemesis, at Nathaung-goung, where, at the Commissioner's request we remained the following day, and leaving on the 2nd in tow of the steam-vessel, arrived at Bassein, at noon, on the 3rd of February.

The successful result of the expedition, I need not observe, is entirely attributable to the excellent arrangements made by the Commissioner Captain Fytche, to whose opinion I always deferred, and who set us a gallant example by being ever in advance.

I have also the utmost pleasure in bringing to your Excellency's notice the conduct of every officer and man comprising our small band, more particularly Captain Goodwin, of the F.I.C. steam-vessel Nemesis, who ably seconded me; Lieut. Aylesbury, I.N., who commanded the small armed party; Lieut. G. Rennie Manderson, of the Bengal Artillery, of whose volunteered services I gladly availed myself, and put him in charge of the guns; and of Mr. Arthur Baker, first officer of the Nemesis, who most efficiently assisted in moving our Artillery, and who, from his letter to my address (a copy of which I beg to forward), was, whilst in advance with the native force, in a trying and critical position.

Enclosed, I have the honour to forward a nominal roll of officers and men under my command, composing the expedition, also a detail of Ordnance captured by the force.

A. Baker, Esquire, to Commander J. Rennie, I.N., commanding the E.I.C. Steam-frigate, Zenobia, to Senior Officer, Bassein.

H.C. Steamer Nemesis, Bassein River,

SIR,

February 1, 1853.

AGREEABLY to your request, I started from the village of Se Whyat Kua, at 3 A.M., on Saturday, the 29th of January, accompanied by 300 natives and an interpreter, amongst them there were 130 muskets and the rest dha and spearmen.

When about half way to the place of rendezvous my party was fired at from a small belt of jungle which I thought (and the natives agreed with me) was a signal to the Mynghee that a party was approaching him.

On my arrival at the place appointed, which was about 9 A.M., I observed several horsemen, to whom I immediately gave chase, but they, unfortunately, were too swift, and soon got out of sight. I then crossed the plain to a village, and there received information that the men I saw were stragglers from the Mynghee's advanced guard, which had passed an hour before. On hearing this, I immediately sent out scouts, who brought me information that the above party were quietly eating about 4 miles off, and that the main body were advancing in great numbers. I then placed the rocket gun that I had with me in the road, and having distributed the musket men among the bushes, awaited their coming. I had not waited long before I observed a large mass of men advancing me, in numbers, as far as I could judge, fully 4000. Having allowed them to advance sufficiently near, I discharged three rockets in succession, which caused them all to halt and sit down, with the exception of a party of horse and musket men: these made towards the men I had placed as skirmishers. About this time, on looking round, I discovered that only about 40 of my men had remained by me, the rest having deserted; considering my force altogether unequal to the one opposed, my only plan was to retreat from the place I had occupied in their front, and fall back on the jungle in the rear, from which I directed my course towards your party with my few remaining followers.

I have, &c.,

A. BAKER,

1st Officer of the E.I.C. Steamer, Nemesis.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE EXTRAORDINARY of APRIL 7, 1853.

Buckingham-Palace, April 7, 1853.

THIS Day, at ten minutes after one o'clock, the Queen was happily delivered of a Prince.
His Royal Highness Prince Albert, several Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and the Ladies of Her Majesty's Bedchamber, being present.

This great and important news. was made known to the Town by the firing of the Park and Tower Guns, and the Privy Council being assembled as soon as possible thereupon, at the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, it was ordered, that a form of Thanksgiving for the Queen's safe delivery of a Prince be prepared by His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, to be used in all churches and chapels throughout England and Wales, and the town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, on Sunday the 10th day of April, or the Sunday after the respective Ministers shall receive the same.

Her Majesty and the infant Prince are, God be praised, both doing well.

At the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 7th day of April, 1853.

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

It is this day ordered by their Lordships, that His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury do prepare a Form of Prayer and Thanksgiving to Almighty God for Her Majesty's safe delivery of a Prince; and that such Form of Prayer and Thanksgiving be used in all churches and chapels in England and Wales, and in the town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, upon Sunday the 10th day of this instant April, or the Sunday after the respective Ministers of such churches and chapels shall receive the same:

And it is hereby further ordered, that Her Majesty's Printer do forthwith print a competent number of copies of the said Form of Prayer and Thanksgiving, that the same may be forthwith sent round and read in the several churches and chapels in England and Wales, and of the town of Berwick-upon-Tweed.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 7th day of April, 1853,

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

It is this day ordered by their Lordships, that every Minister and Preacher, as well of the Established Church in that part of Great Britain called Scotland as those of the Episcopal Communion, protected and allowed by an Act, passed in the tenth year of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Anne, intituled "An Act to prevent the disturbing those of the Episcopal Communion in that part of Great Britain called Scotland, in the exercise of their religious worship, and in the use of the Liturgy of the Church of England; and for repealing the Act, passed in the Parliament of Scotland, intituled 'An Act against irregular Baptisms and Marriages,'" do, at some time during the exercise of Divine Service in their churches, congregations, or assemblies, on Sunday the 10th day of this instant April, or on the Sunday after the Ministers or Preachers of such churches, congregations, or assemblies, respectively, shall be enabled so to do, put up Prayers and Thanksgivings to Almighty God for Her Majesty's safe delivery of a Prince.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of APRIL 12, 1853.

Lord Chamberlain's Office, April 11, 1853.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Royal Highness Prince Albert will, by the desire of Her Majesty, hold Levees at St. James's-Palace, on behalf of Her Majesty, on the following days, at two o'clock:

Wednesday, the 20th instant.

Wednesday, the 27th instant.

It is Her Majesty's pleasure that presentations to His Royal Highness at these Levees shall be considered equivalent to presentations to the Queen.

Addresses to the Queen may either be forwarded to Her Majesty through the Secretary of State for the Home Department, or may be reserved until Her Majesty shall hold a Levee.

REGULATIONS TO BE OBSERVED AT THE LEVEES
AT ST. JAMES'S-PALACE.

The Noblemen and Gentlemen, who purpose to attend the Levees, at St. James's-Palace, are requested to bring with them two large cards, with their names clearly written thereon, one to be left with the Queen's Page in Attendance in the Presence-chamber, and the other to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, who will announce the name.

Those Gentlemen who are to be presented are hereby informed, it is absolutely necessary that their names, with the name of the Nobleman or Gentleman who is to present them, should be delivered at the Lord Chamberlain's Office, before twelve o'clock, on the Monday previous to each Levee, in order that they may be submitted for approbation; it being Her Majesty's command, that no presentation shall be made at the Levees but in conformity with the above regulations.

It is particularly requested, that in every case the names be very distinctly written upon the cards to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, in order that there may be no difficulty in announcing them.

The state apartments will not be open for the reception of Company coming to Court, until half-past one o'clock.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 1st day of April, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the ninth and tenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the more easy recovery of small debts and demands in England," it is among other things enacted, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order that the said Act be put in force in such county or counties as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, should seem fit, and to divide the whole or part of any such county (including all counties of cities and counties of towns, boroughs, towns, ports, and places, liberties and franchises therein contained or thereunto adjoining) into districts, and to order that the County Court should be holden for the recovery of debts and demands under the said Act, in each of such districts; and from time to time to alter such districts as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, should seem fit, and from time to time, with the advice aforesaid, to declare by what name, and in what towns and places, the County Court should be holden in each district.

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by an Order in Council of the ninth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, to order that the said Act be put in force in the counties and places therein specified, and the same was put in force accordingly.

And whereas it hath been represented that it would be to the advantage of the public if the following alteration were made in certain of the districts of the courts, as specified or set forth in the aforesaid Order;

Her Majesty having taken the premises into consideration is thereupon pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the thirty-first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, the parish of Northaw, now in the district of the County Court of Hertfordshire, holden at Saint Albans, shall be in the district of the County Court of Hertfordshire, holden at Barnet.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 11th day of March, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve and ratify the scheme duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For the application of a share of the proceeds of certain estates, formerly belonging to the prebend of Sawley, in the cathedral church of Lichfield, in aid of the fabric fund of the said cathedral church.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 1st day of April, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representations duly made (as set forth in this Gazette) by Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches—

Assigning a particular district to the consecrated church of the Holy Trinity, situate at Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, and in the diocese of Lichfield, to be called "The District Chapelry of the Holy Trinity, Wednesbury Heath."

RESOLUTIONS AND ORDERS OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Martis, 12^o die Aprilis, 1853.

Resolved, 1. "That the Capital Trading Stock of the Corporation of the Governor and Company of Merchants of Great Britain, (trading to the South Seas and other parts of America, and for encouraging the Fishery,) which is called and known by the name of South Sea Stock: The Capital Stocks of the £3 per Centum Annuities, called and known by the name of the Old South Sea Annuities, and by the name of the New South Sea Annuities: The Capital Stock of the £3 per Centum Annuities (created by an Act passed in the twelfth year of King George the First, intituled 'An Act for granting to His Majesty the sum of £1,000,000, to be raised by way of Lottery'), called and known by the name of the Bank Annuities 1726: and the Capital Stock of the £3 per Centum Annuities (created by an Act passed in the twenty-fourth year of King George the Second, intituled 'An Act for granting to His Majesty the sum of £2,100,000, to be raised by Annuities and a Lottery, and charged on the Sinking Fund, redeemable by Parliament'), called and known by the name of the £3 per Centum Annuities 1751, shall be paid off and redeemed."

2. "That every person, body politic and corporate, who now is, or hereafter may be, interested in the Capital Stocks of any of the said £3 per Centum Annuities, who shall, in manner hereinafter directed, give notice at any time on or before Friday, the 3rd day of June, 1853, of his assent to receive other Government Securities in lieu and in place of the said Capital Stocks of the said Annuities, instead of being paid in money, shall, at the option of the said parties, receive for every £100 thereof, £82 10s. in a New Stock of Three-and-a-Half per Centum Annuities, which said Annuities shall be paid at the rate of £3 10s. per centum per annum, until the 5th day of January, 1894, from and after which day the said Annuities shall be subject to redemption by Parliament; or for every £100 of the said Capital Stocks of Annuities the sum of £110 in a New Stock of Two-and-a-half per Centum Annuities, which said Annuities shall be paid at the rate of £2 10s. per centum per annum, until the 5th day of January, 1894, from and after which day the said Annuities shall be subject to redemption by Parliament ; or for every sum of £100 of the Capital Stocks of the said £3 per Centum Annuities, an Exchequer Bond for the like amount, payable to bearer, and carrying interest at the rate of £2 15s. per centum per annum, payable half-yearly on the 1st day of March and the 1st day of September in every year, until the 1st day of September in a year to be named in such bond, and not later than 1st September, 1864, inclusive, and thenceforth £2 10s. per centum per annum, payable half-yearly in like manner, until and including the 1st of September, 1894, and thereafter to be subject to redemption at par, at the option of the holder, or at the option of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, as shall be named in such bond."

3. " That the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury be authorised and empowered to fix the number of years during which the interest of £2 15s. per Centum shall be payable on such Bond, subject to the limitation of the foregoing Resolution ; and likewise to determine whether such Bond, after the 1st of September, 1894, shall be redeemable at their option only, or shall also be redeemable at the option of the holder ; and that the said Commissioners shall give notice in the London Gazette of what they shall determine in these respects as soon as may be after the passing of any Act in pursuance of these Resolutions."

4. " That the dividends and interest payable on such New £3 10s. per Centum Annuities, on such New £2 10s. per Centum Annuities, and on such Exchequer Bonds, shall be charged and chargeable upon the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.”

5. “That the dividends now payable by law on 5 July and 5 January in every year on the said Capital Trading Stock and on the said Capital Stock of New South Sea Annuities, Annuities 1726, and Annuities 1751, shall continue payable until the 5 January, 1854, inclusive, and no longer.

“That the dividends now payable by law on 10 October and 5 April in every year on the said Capital Stock of Old South Sea Annuities shall continue payable until 5 April, 1854, inclusive, and no longer.”

6. “That if the Corporation of the Governor and Company of Merchants of Great Britain trading to the South Seas and other parts of America, and for encouraging the Fishery, shall at any time on or before Friday the 1st day of July, signify to the Commissioners of Her Majesty’s Treasury their assent to commute and exchange the said Capital Trading Stock, or any part thereof, into any one or more of the said New £3 10s. per Centum Annuities, New £2 10s. per Centum Annuities, or Exchequer Bonds, the said Corporation shall be permitted to make such commutation and exchange upon the same terms, and subject to the like conditions, as are granted to the person or persons, bodies politic or corporate, interested in, or entitled to, the Capital Stock of £3 per Centum Annuities now proposed to be paid off and redeemed.”

7. “That all and every person or persons, bodies politic or corporate, possessed of any part of the said £3 per Centum Annuities, and who shall desire to signify his, her, or their assent to receive the said New £3 10s. per Centum Annuities, New £2 10s. per Centum Annuities, or Exchequer Bonds in lieu thereof, shall on or before the 3rd day of June, 1853, but within the usual hours of transacting business at the Bank of England, or at the South Sea House, by themselves or some agent or agents for that purpose duly authorised, signify to the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, or to the Governor and Company of Merchants of Great Britain trading to the South Seas, as the case may be, such assent in writing under his, her, or their hand or hands, or the hand or hands of his her or their agent or agents, together with the amount of his, her, or their respective share or shares in the said £3 per Centum Annuities, and which said assent shall be entered in a book or books to be opened and kept by the said Governor and Company of the Bank of England, and by the said Governor and Company of Merchants of Great Britain trading to the South Seas, for that purpose; and in case of any transfer of such share or shares of such Annuities, or any part or parts thereof, after such assent, the part or parts of such Annuities so transferred shall be entered in the said book or books separately from the said £3 per Centum Annuities, in respect of which no such assent shall be signified, and every such person or persons so assenting, or his, her, or their assigns, or the executors or administrators of such assigns, under any such transfer, shall be entitled for every £100 Capital Stock of the said £3 per Centum Annuities to £82 10s. of the Capital Stock of New £3 10s. per Centum Annuities, or to £110 of the Capital Stock of the New £2 10s. per Centum Annuities, or to an Exchequer Bond of £100, bearing interest as aforesaid: Provided always, that if any person or persons holding any such £3 per Centum Annuities, shall not be within the limits of the United Kingdom at any time between the 8th day of April and the 3rd day of June, 1853, both inclusive, but shall be in any other part of Europe, it shall be lawful for such person or persons to signify such assent at any time before the 30th day of July, 1853 ; and if any such person or persons shall not at any time between the 8th day of April, 1853, and the 30th day of July, 1853, be within any part of Europe, it shall be lawful for him, her, or them to signify such assent at any time before the 1st day of February, 1854, such person or persons proving to the satisfaction of the Governor or Deputy Governor of the Bank of England, or to the Governor of the South Sea Company, his, her, or their absence from the United Kingdom, or out of Europe, as above specified, and that his, her, or their share or shares of such £3 per Centum Annuities stood in his, her, or their name or names respectively, or in the name or names of any one or more trustee or trustees, on his, her, or their behalf, in the books of the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, or Governor and Company of Merchant Traders to the South Seas, on the 3rd day of June, 1853 : Provided also, That such person or persons so absent from the United Kingdom, or out of Europe, shall signify such his, her, or their assent, within ten days after his, her, or their return to the United Kingdom."

8. "That provision shall be made for paying off such proprietor or proprietors of any of the said Capital Trading Stock or Capital Stocks of Annuities before mentioned, as shall not signify his assent to accept and receive New £3 10s. per Centum Annuities, or New £2. 10s. per Centum Annuities, or Exchequer Bonds, in lieu thereof."

9. "That every person or persons, body politic or corporate, who now is, or hereafter may be, interested in or entitled to any part of the Capital Stock of the Consolidated £3 per Centum Annuities, or of the Capital Stock of the Reduced £3 per Centum Annuities, payable at the Bank of England, or at the Bank of Ireland, and who shall at any time after the passing of an Act in pursuance of these Resolutions, and before the 10th day of October, 1853, signify to the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, or to the Governor and Company of the Bank of Ireland, by an entry to be made in books to be opened for such purpose, his desire to commute and exchange any or all of the said Annuities to which he may be entitled, into any one or more of the said New £3 10s. per Centum Annuities, New £2 10s. per Centum Annuities, or Exchequer Bonds, shall be permitted to make such commutation and exchange upon the same terms and subject to the like conditions as are granted to the person or persons, bodies politic or corporate, interested in or entitled to the Capital Stocks of £3 per Centum Annuities proposed to be paid off and redeemed as aforesaid."

10 "That nothing herein contained shall extend to authorise the commutation of the said Consolidated £3 per Centum Annuities, or the said Reduced £3 per Centum Annuities, into the said New £2 10s. per Centum Annuities, after the amount entered for commutation into such New £2 10s. per Centum Annuities in the said books of the Bank of England, and Bank of Ireland, shall have reached the sum of Thirty Millions; and that the power of commutation of the said £3 per Centum Stocks shall thereafter be limited to the two other options hereinbefore given; that is to say: the option of exchange for £3 10s. per Centum Annuities, and the option of exchange for Exchequer Bonds."

11. "That the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury be authorised and empowered to issue at any time between the 5th of April, 1853, and the 5th of April, 1854, Exchequer Bonds, payable to bearer, upon the like terms and conditions as hereinbefore described, and after public notice in the London Gazette, from time to time to sell such Exchequer Bonds, or any part thereof, and to apply the proceeds in redeeming any part of the Capital Trading Stock or Capital Stock of Annuities now proposed to be paid off and redeemed, or in purchasing and cancelling any Exchequer Bills, or in exchanging such Bonds for Exchequer Bills, upon such terms as the said Commissioners shall think proper, or in purchasing and cancelling any of the Consolidated £3 per centum Annuities, or Reduced £3 per Centum Annuities, payable at the Bank of England or at the Bank of Ireland, as the case may be."

12. "That the interest on such Exchequer Bonds shall be charged and chargeable on the said Consolidated Fund."

13. "That no amount of such Exchequer Bonds shall be issued exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Millions."

14. "That it shall be lawful for the Accountant-General of the Courts of Chancery in England and Ireland respectively, and for the Accountant in Bankruptcy in England, at any time before the 3rd day of June, 1853, to signify to the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, or to the Corporation of the Governor and Company of the Merchants of Great Britain trading to the South Seas and other parts of America, and for encouraging the Fishery, on behalf of any suitor or suitors, or others interested in any such £3 per Centum Annuities hereinbefore referred to as are proposed to be paid off and redeemed, standing in the names of such Accountants-General and Accountant respectively, their assent to accept and receive shares in the said New £3 10s. per Centum Annuities, or New £2 10s. per Centum Annuities, or Exchequer Bonds, in lieu of all such £3 per Centum Annuities standing in their names respectively; and the said Accountants-General and Accountant respectively shall be fully indemnified against all actions, suits, and proceedings for and in respect of any action, matter, or thing done by them respectively in pursuance thereof."

15. "That all executors, administrators, guardians, and trustees interested in or entitled to any part of the said Capital, Trading Stock, or of the Capital Stock of the Old South Sea £3 per Centum Annuities, of the New South Sea £3 per Centum Annuities, of the £3 per Centum Annuities created by the Act 12th George the First, of the £3 per Centum Annuities created by the Act 24th George the Second, of the Consolidated £3 per Centum Bank Annuities, and of the Reduced £3 per Centum Bank Annuities, whether payable at the Bank of England or at the Bank of Ireland, as the case may be, who shall signify their desire to convert the Annuities to which they may be respectively interested into any of the New £3 10s. per Centum Annuities, New £2 10s. per Centum Annuities, or Exchequer Bonds, shall be indemnified."

Resolutions agreed to.

Ordered, That Mr. Speaker do give Notice, in the manner required by the Act, passed in the twenty-fourth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Second, intituled "An Act for granting to His Majesty the sum of two millions one hundred thousand pounds, to be raised by Annuities and a Lottery, and charged on the Sinking Fund, redeemable by Parliament," that the Capital Stock of the said Annuities will be paid off and redeemed.

Ordered, That Mr. Speaker do give Notice to the Corporation of the Governor and Company of Merchants of Great Britain, trading to the South Seas and to other parts of America, and for encouraging the Fishery, that the Capital Trading Stock of the said Corporation, and the Capital Stocks of Old South Sea Annuities and New South Sea Annuities will be paid off and redeemed.

I do hereby give notice accordingly, in pursuance of the provisions of the Act passed in the 24th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Second, intituled "An Act for granting to His Majesty the sum of two millions one hundred thousand pounds, to be raised by Annuities and a Lottery, and charged on the Sinking Fund redeemable by Parliament, that the Capital Stock of the said Annuities will be paid off and redeemed in the manner specified in the foregoing resolutions.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled “An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage,” it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners of Her Majesty’s Treasury from time to time, and at any time after the passing of that Act, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage, payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters, or newspapers, or of any other printed papers.

And whereas a communication is about to be established, by Canadian packet-boats, between British North America and the United Kingdom.

Now we, the undersigned, being two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty’s Treasury, do, in exercise of the power and authority vested in us by the said Act, and of all other powers and authorities enabling us in this behalf, direct:—

First. That all letters, printed newspapers, printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament and the colonial Legislatures, printed books, and all other packets whatsoever, sent by the post between the United Kingdom and British North America, the sea conveyance of which shall be by Canadian packet-boat, direct or viâ the United States, shall be charged and chargeable with precisely the same rates of postage as if the sea conveyance thereof were by British packet-boat, direct or viâ the United States ; and that all printed newspapers and other printed papers, that would pass free of postage if sent by British packet-boat, shall and may be forwarded free of postage by any Canadian packet-boat.

Secondly. That it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Postmaster-General from time to time to account for, and pay over to the Colonial Government, or proper authorities in the province of Canada, for the sea and colonial inland conveyance of any letters, printed newspapers, printed votes and proceedings of Parliament and of the Colonial Legislatures, printed books, and other packets, transmitted between the United Kingdom and British North America, by Canadian packet-boat, direct or viâ the United States, so much of the respective rates of postage so to be charged and chargeable thereon, as the Postmaster-General, with the concurrence of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, shall from time to time think fit.

And we direct, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act, or by any Treasury Warrants which have been issued under the same, or by an Act, made and passed in the first year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intuled "An Act for the management of the Post-office ;" and that all such exemptions and privileges shall remain in full force.

And we direct, that the expression "British packet-boat," when used in this Warrant, shall be construed to have the meaning by the Interpretation Clause of the Act of the 1st of Vic., c. 36, given to the terms "packet boats" and "Post-office packets ;” and that the expression “ Canadian packet-boat” used in this Warrant shall include vessels employed by or under the Colonial Government of Canada, for the conveyance of letters and packets between any part of British North America and the United Kingdom, direct or via the United States, and also vessels for the conveyance of post letters under contract with such Colonial Government ; and that all the other terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be considered to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

Provided, lastly, and we hereby declare and direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty’s Treasury, or any two of them, by Warrant under their hands, at any time hereafter, to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby fixed, or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and from time to time to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of APRIL 15, 1853.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 1st day of April, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the fifth and sixth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, entitled "An Act to amend the law of copy-right," it is, among other things, enacted, that it shall not be lawful for any person, not being the proprietor of the copyright, or some person authorized by him, to import into any port in the United Kingdom, or into any other part of the British dominions, for sale or hire, any printed book, first composed, or written, or printed and published in any part of the United Kingdom wherein there shall be copyright, and reprinted in any country or place whatsoever out of the British dominions:

And whereas by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the eighth and ninth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to regulate the trade of the British possessions abroad," books, wherein the copyright is subsisting, first composed, or written, or printed in the United Kingdom, and printed or reprinted in any other country, are absolutely prohibited to be imported into the British possessions abroad: And whereas by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the tenth and eleventh years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled “An Act to amend the Law relating to the protection in the colonies of works entitled to copyright in the United Kingdom;” it is enacted, that in case the legislature, or proper legislative authorities, in any British possession, shall be disposed to make due provision for securing or protecting the rights of British authors in such possession, and shall pass an Act or make an Ordinance for that purpose, and shall transmit the same, in the proper manner, to the Secretary of State, in order that it may be submitted to Her Majesty, and in case Her Majesty shall be of opinion that such Act or Ordinance is sufficient for the purpose of securing to British authors reasonable protection within such possession, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, if she think fit so to do, to express Her royal approval of such Act or Ordinance, and thereupon to issue an Order in Council, declaring that so long as the provisions of such Act or Ordinance continue in force within such colony, the prohibitions contained in the aforesaid Acts, and hereinbefore recited, and any prohibitions contained in the said Acts, or any other Acts, against the importing, selling, letting out to hire, exposing for sale or hire, or possessing foreign reprints of books, first composed, written, printed, or published in the United Kingdom, and entitled to copyright therein, shall be suspended, so far as regards such colony; and thereupon such Act or Ordinance shall come into operation except so far as may be otherwise provided therein, or may be otherwise directed by such Order in Council: And whereas an Ordinance has been passed by the Legislature of the Island of Mauritius, No. 24, of 1851, "for securing in "this Colony the rights on works entitled to "copyright in the United Kingdom," whereby provision is made for protecting the rights of British authors in the said island :

And whereas Her Majesty hath expressed Her royal approval of the said Ordinance :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of Her Privy Council, and by the authority of the Act hereinbefore lastly recited, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that so long as the said Ordinance shall remain and continue in force within the said island, all prohibitions in either of the said hereinbefore-recited Acts of the Imperial Parliament, or in any other Acts thereof contained, against the importing into the said island, or against the selling, letting out to hire, exposing for sale or hire, or possessing therein, foreign reprints of books, first composed, written, printed, or published in the United Kingdom, and entitled to copyright therein, shall be suspended, so far as regards the said island.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and the Most Noble the Duke of Newcastle, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 1st day of April 1853.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Foreign-Office, April 19, 1853.

The Earl of Clarendon, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received from Lord Bloomfield, Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of Berlin, a copy of an instruction addressed by the Prussian Government to their authorities in the provinces, stating that Passports granted by Foreign Consuls in Foreign States are contrary to the Police Regulations, and are not to be regarded as valid; and directing them to cause the necessary steps to be taken for insuring the strict observance of those regulations in future.

REGULATIONS RESPECTING PASSPORTS ISSUED AT THE FOREIGN OFFICE TO BRITISH SUBJECTS.

1. Applications for Foreign Office Passports must be made in writing; and addressed to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, with the word "Passport" written upon the cover.

2. The fee on the issue of a Passport is 7s. 6d.

3. Foreign Office Passports are granted only to British subjects; including in that description foreigners who have been naturalized by Act of Parliament, or by Certificates of Naturalization granted before the 24th day of August, 1850: in this latter case, the party is described in the Passport as a "Naturalized British subject."

4. Passports are granted between the hours of twelve and four on the day following that on which the application for the Passport has been received at the Foreign Office.

5. Passports are granted to persons who are either known to the Secretary of State or recommended to him by some person who is known to him; or upon the written application of any Banking Firm established in London or in any other part of the United Kingdom.

6. Passports cannot be sent by the Foreign Office to persons already abroad. Such persons should apply to the nearest British Mission or Consulate.

7. Foreign Office Passports must be countersigned at the Mission, or at some Consulate in England, of the Government of the country which the bearer of the Passport intends to visit.

8. A Foreign Office Passport granted for one journey may be used for any subsequent journey, if countersigned afresh by the Ministers or Consuls of the countries which the bearer intends to visit.

Admiralty, 12th April, 1853.

By the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

RULES, ORDERS, AND REGULATIONS

For the preservation of Her Majesty's moorings, and for the mooring, anchoring, and placing of all private ships of war, transports, and all other private and merchant ships and vessels, lighters, barges, boats, and other craft whatsoever, in the harbour or haven of Milford, in the county of Pembroke, for the purpose of insuring free and safe ingress, egress, and regress unto, into, and from Her Majesty's docks, dock-yard, arsenals, wharfs, and moorings therein, pursuant to an Act of Parliament made and passed in the 54th year of His Majesty King George the Third, and intituled "An Act for the better regulation of the several ports, harbours, roadsteads, sounds, channels, bays, and navigable rivers in the United Kingdom, and of His Majesty's docks, dock-yards, arsenals, wharfs, moorings, and stores therein, and for repealing several Acts passed for that purpose;" it is hereby ordered,

1. That no private ship of war, transport, or other private or merchant ship or vessel, lighter, barge, boat, or other craft whatsoever, shall be moored, anchored, or placed within the following spaces or limits; viz.: a line extending from the shore at the north-west angle of Ford Pater to the White Buoy, at the Carr Spit; and thence by a straight line running eastward from the said buoy to the Red Buoy, at the Doek-yard Bank ; and thence by another straight line from the said Red Buoy to the Black Buoy, on the Doek-yard Bank ; and thence, southerly, from the said Black Buoy by another straight line to the south shore, at the Camber, in the dock-yard, near its eastern extremity, except in case of necessity, to prevent damage to herself or that of the Queen's ships which may be at any contiguous mooring, and then to remove as soon as possible thereafter ; except also in cases where any of the said ships, vessels, or craft may be consigned to the dock-yard, and must therefore necessarily anchor contiguous thereto till they can come to the cranes and wharfs for delivery of their cargoes, and then to be placed in such situations as Her Majesty's officers or Queen's pilots, by whom they are conducted, shall direct.

Nor shall any private ship of war, transport, or other private or merchant ship or vessel, lighter, barge, boat, or other craft whatsoever be made fast to or moored or secured by any of the mooring anchors or chains to which access can be had when the tide is out, or be made fast to any of the buoys or piles of Her Majesty within the said harbour, in the fronts of the said dock-yard or other premises belonging to it, nor anchor or moor, so as to swing within any of the said buoys or piles.

2. All private ships of war, transports, and other private and merchant ships and vessels, lighters, barges, boats, and other craft whatsoever, are hereby prohibited from being breamed in any part of the said harbour or haven of Milford, except on the shores at Pembroke, or to the westward of the Pennarmouth, and eastward of Pembroke Ferry ; and all private ships of war, transports, and other private and merchant ships or vessels, lighters, barges, boats and other craft (except any having gunpowder on board not exceeding two tons in weight, and keeping to the northward of the beacon on the Carr Rocks, or having any gunpowder on board not exceeding one ton in weight, for the use of the Stone Quarries and town of Pembroke, and passing up Pennar Pill) are hereby prohibited from coming or entering into the said harbour above Milford, being laden with or having on board any quantity of gunpowder exceeding five pounds' weight in the whole; and all such gunpowder, except as aforesaid, is hereby appointed to be left and deposited at the depôt established for that purpose, on board Her Majesty's ship Mulgrave, moored to the eastward of the quarantine ground in the said harbour, nearly opposite the town of Milford, where the same will be taken and received according to the provisions of the said Act. The said vessels may be distinguished during the day by wearing a red burgee.

And it is hereby ordered, that no gunpowder exceeding five pounds' weight in the whole be landed between the town of Milford and Lawrenny Ferry, or below Bentlass, in Pennar Pill, or any part of the south side of the haven of Milford above Bullwell.

3. And for the protection of the said harbour or haven, it is hereby ordered, that no person or persons shall take any ballast or shingle from the shores or banks, or any portion of the shores or banks, between Pennarmouth, to a distance of one mile to the eastward of Pembroke Ferry, on any account or pretence whatsoever, without being duly authorized by us, or other sufficient authority of Her Majesty's Government; but this regulation is not to restrict the raising of the sea sand for agricultural or other purposes, in the shoal water to the eastward of Pembroke Ferry, by the barges and craft which have hitherto been or may be employed thereon.

By command of their Lordships.

R. Osborne,

Secretary of the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

FROM THE
LONDON GAZETTE of APRIL 29,

India Board, April 28, 1853.

THE papers, of which the following is a copy, have been received at the East India House this day:

NOTIFICATION.

Fort William, March 19, 1853.

THE Most Noble the Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in publishing, for general information, extracts of a despatch from Brigadier-General Steel, C.B., dated the 23rd of February, in which he reports the occupation of Tounghoo, by the force under his Command, and the expulsion of the Burmese troops from the eastern side of the province.

Although the invariable retreat of the enemy before the force has afforded it little opportunity of proving its superiority in the field, yet its steady discipline, its forbearance from all excesses, and its alacrity in the performance of every duty, have well deserved the applause of the Governor-General in Council, and command his confidence.

His Lordship in Council desires to convey to Brigadier-General Steel his best thanks for the manner in which he has conducted the expedition to its successful issue; as well as to the several officers whom the Brigadier-General has specially named in his despatch.

And to all, officers, non-commissioned officers, and soldiers, the Governor-General in Council has to offer the assurance of his approbation.

By Order of the Most Noble the Governor-General in Council.

C. ALLEN, Officiating Secretary to the Government of India.

Extract of a Despatch from Brigadier-General S. W. Steel, C.B., Commanding the Martaban Column, dated Camp Tounghoo, February 23, 1853, to C. Allen, Esq.

MY last despatch, dated the 15th instant, reported my having marched that day from Shoeegyne. Between that place and Kyouk-Ghee, the villages were entirely deserted, from fear of the Burman forces; a few of the inhabitants stole in from the jungle, to communicate with us; they were supplied with copies of the Proclamation, and encouraged to return to their homes.

The force arrived at Kyouk-Ghee on the 17th instant, apparently before it was expected. No one had come out to meet us; and the few people outside of the stockade, looked in silent wonder on our approach across the fine running stream which nearly surrounds the place. The highest authority left within the town was an officer of inferior rank, called a Goung, who opened the gates and accompanied us around the enclosure, pointing out the guns, and other arms, of which a return is enclosed. The stockade is on the same simple plan, and about the same size as Beeling, but more dilapidated. Safeguards were posted to protect the place, and a fine bazaar was opened, to which the troops and followers were admitted. Captain Clogstoun, an officer of the Quarter-Master-General's Department, had proceeded with an escort of Irregular Horse, to reconnoitre the road in advance, when it was discovered that some of the chiefs who had left Kyouk-Ghee during the previous night, were but a short distance in front : the remainder of the horse were immediately sent on under their Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Lambert, to join the escort in advance. They fell in with the party, and a number of carts loaded with families, women, children, and baggage, about five miles from camp. There were with this party about 100 or more men, armed with muskets, two guns and some jingals ; and in the first encounter, before it was discovered that they did not intend to fire, two or three of their men were hurt. Two of the chief officers belonging to Kyouk-Ghee, with two Tseetkays, or assistants to Mounbwa, Ex-Governor of Martaban, were brought in. They had no desire to escape, but asserted that they had been forced by Mounbwa to accompany him. I permitted them all, according to their desire, to return and reside in the town of Kyouk-Ghee. Mounbwa, riding in a cart and commonly dressed, was not recognised, and escaped in the crowd. A company of the 5th Madras Native Infantry, under Captain James, was sent out to escort the families into the town, which was safely effected by the evening. Five elephants and twenty-five ponies were captured on this occasion.

The force marched again the following morning, the 18th, and, coming on without a halt, was able to reach the Sitang river, at Thantabin, by a march of $18\frac{1}{4}$ miles, on the 21st instant. On the opposite bank of the river, attended by a party of thirty men, armed with muskets, a mounted officer was seen, who hailed the first of our advance who entered the bed of the river, asking what we wanted ; saying we were both great nations and ought not to be at war ! He was informed in reply, that if he had any communication to make, he might come across the river ; he declined this proposal very peremptorily, and shortly afterwards the whole party disappeared. I have since learned that he is named Moungray, an officer of some rank, and that he returned direct to this city. The river, about four feet deep at the ford, with a rapid current, was passed yesterday, commencing at day-light. The guns were all over, the troops crossing on the elephants, and the line of march formed on the right bank in order for the advance, by 7 A.M. We were met, not far from the river, by two of the chief officers of this city, attended by a great number of the inhabitants, with offerings of fruits, and expressing in many ways, besides the open avowal in words, their extreme joy at our arrival. Thus accompanied, the troops, at 10 A.M., entered this extraordinary city. It is a large square enclosure, surrounded by a high brick wall, with solid rampart, and outside by a broad wet ditch; each face is considerably upwards of a mile in length. The town occupies but a small portion of the enclosure, temples, kyooms or monasteries, groves of lofty trees, and extensive fruit gardens, are interspersed among large open spaces, in one of which the force is now encamped. There is also a large natural tank. In the arsenal the guns and ammunition were found, of which a return is enclosed. The wall is of very ancient date, and the place is untenable as a fortification, independently of its vast size, from the extensive dilapidation of the wall in many places, and the weak points offered by the exposed position of all the wooden gates : the latter have been newly put up within the last three months, and attempts recently made to repair the fallen wall.

The information given on my arrival here was, that Mounbwa and other chiefs were probably still within reach of a forced march, as they had only commenced their retreat by the high road to Ava, on the report brought by "Mounglay" at noon the previous day, of our being then within nine miles of them. I was therefore induced to permit the detachment of Ramghur Irregular Cavalry, under Lieutenant Lambert, to proceed on their track, accompanied, as volunteers, by Captain Fanshawe, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, Captain Clogstoun, and Lieutenant Maxwell, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General, and by my A.-D.-C. Captain Travers. A very energetic pursuit was undertaken, and continued for more than twenty miles; it was given up on finding that the flying chiefs were then nearly ten miles in advance, and the horses unfit for farther rapid movement: they returned to camp at 10 P.M. I may therefore venture to state, that that part of the proclamation promulgated on the 20th of December last, which asserted that "such Burman troops as may still remain within the province, shall be driven out," had been executed to the very letter by the 22nd instant, as on that day the last of the broken forces of the Burman Army was driven beyond the utmost limit contemplated. The establishment of Civil Government will immediately follow; the Commissioner appointed to these provinces having been expected at Shoee-Gyne by the 20th instant.

The instructions which I received on being honoured with the command of the force, to advance from Martaban, having been fully carried out, I trust I may be permitted to bring to the favourable notice of the Most Noble the Governor-General of India in Council, the exemplary conduct of the troops employed on that service: passing through a country never before traversed by a disciplined army, by a difficult route, imperfectly known, and obliged, in all difficulties, to depend upon their own resources, I hope that the successful occupation of the country thus far, will be considered creditable to the Army of the East India Company. The enemy, by uniformly retreating before the force, has given it no opportunity of gaining those honours which are only won by brilliant deeds of arms, and every soldier so ardently covets ; but the perfect state of discipline evinced by the whole of the troops ; their kind treatment of the people, which inspired perfect confidence wherever they advanced ; their forbearance from all excesses, and their high military bearing on all occasions, may well be taken as proof that the opportunity alone was wanting to add to the fame of their former fields. The victory which they have achieved, is that difficult one of self-control, and to them is due the success of the campaign.

The Officers in Command, and on the Staff, have by their zealous cooperation, rendered my share of the service performed comparatively easy : the efficiency of the small park of Madras Artillery, commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Anstruther, C.B., has been always conspicuous. Lieutenant A. Fraser, of the Bengal Engineers, Assistant Field Engineer, has been indefatigable in his exertions, both in the higher professional duties of an Engineer, and at the head of the company of Madras Sappers and Miners, who have maintained their well-earned name, in overcoming the many difficulties of the route of march. To Lieutenant-Colonel Poole, 5th Regiment Madras Native Infantry, commanding the Line of Infantry ; Major Gerrard, commanding the 1st Bengal Fusiliers ; Captain Geils, commanding the detachment 1st Madras Fusiliers ; Major Shubrick, commanding the 5th Madras Native Infantry ; Major Welchman, commanding the 10th Bengal Native Infantry ; Major Forster, commanding the details from Martaban ; and to Lieutenant Lambert, commanding the detachment of Ramghur Irregular Cavalry ; to each and all of them, I am indebted for their ready and untiring aid on all emergencies. Of the European troops it is impossible to speak too highly. The sepoys of all the regiments of infantry have cheerfully turned out whenever required, to assist in working parties on all occasions of difficulty, each vying with the other to forward the service. In the departments of the Assistant Adjutant-General under Major Neill, and of the Assistant Quartermaster-General under Captain Dallas, the duties have always been zealously and efficiently performed ; Major Bayly, Deputy Judge Advocate-General, from the general good conduct of the force, has happily had but little to do in his own department, and I am indebted to him for willing assistance on all occasions. From my personal Staff, Captain Travers, Aide-de-Camp, I have ever received the most active service ; Captain Dallas, as extra Aide-de-Camp, has given to me all the time not taken up by his own department ; Captain Hamilton, Deputy Baggage-Master, has performed the laborious duties of that office with exemplary zeal and patience. Staff-Surgeon Davidson has given unremitting attention to the care and comfort of those requiring the assistance of the Medical Department. To the most efficient arrangements of the Commissariat Department, made under the orders of Major Budd, Deputy Commissary-General at Rangoon, and at Moulmein by Acting Head-Overseer Norris, the Force is entirely indebted for having been enabled to continue its progress unchecked by want of supplies. I am very grateful to Major Hill, commanding at Pegu, for his ready assistance in passing on the convoys from Rangoon. Lieutenant Brander, Sub-Assistant Commissary-General in the Bengal Commissariat, and Lieutenant Chapman, of the Madras Commissariat, have exerted themselves in every way during the march of the column, and the result has been that the troops have been as well provisioned as if in garrison. I would apologize for this long detail, but I feel that when the State has been served so ably, it becomes the duty of him who has to report the result, to bring prominently forward the names of those who have had the good fortune to be employed during the service.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MAY 13, 1853.

THE Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury hereby give notice, to all whom it may concern, in the exercise of the authority vested in them by the 3rd section of an Act, passed in the present session of Parliament, intituled "An Act for redeeming or commuting the Annuity payable to the South Sea Company, and certain Annuities of three pounds per centum per annum, and for creating new Annuities of three pounds ten shillings per centum per annum, and two pounds ten shillings per centum per annum, and issuing Exchequer Bonds," that they have determined that such Exchequer Bonds, as shall be issued under the authority of the said Act, shall bear interest at the rate of two pounds fifteen shillings per centum per annum, until the 1st day of September, 1864, such Bonds to carry interest thereafter at the rate of two pounds ten shillings per centum per annum, until the 1st day of September, in the year 1894, then to be redeemable at par, at the option of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury only, so soon as Parliament shall have made due provision in respect thereof.

The interest on these Bonds will be payable half-yearly, on the 1st of March, and the 1st of September, in each year.

Whitehall, Treasury Chambers, this 13th day of May, 1853.

W. E. Gladstone.

Alfred Hervey.

THE Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury hereby give notice to all holders of Exchequer Bills, whether dated in June or in March, who shall desire to exchange such Exchequer Bills for Exchequer Bonds, bearing interest at two pounds fifteen shillings per centum per annum, until the 1st day of September, 1864, and thereafter at two pounds ten shillings per centum per annum, until the 1st day of September, 1894, issuable under the authority of an Act passed in the present session of Parliament, that they may exchange such Exchequer Bills at par for an equal amount of Exchequer Bonds on notifying such desire in writing to Her Majesty's Paymaster-General, at the Pay Office, Whitehall, on any day not later than the 25th day of May instant, and delivering such Exchequer Bills, with lists thereof, at the same time, at the Pay Office, according to the forms, which will be supplied on application at that office.

Such Exchequer Bills will be immediately registered and stamped, and will be returned to the holders, from day to day, on the day but one following such delivery for stamping; the current rates of interest on such bills up to the 8th day of June next inclusive, will be paid on and after the 10th day of June; and such bills, so stamped, will, from and after the 8th day of June, bear interest at the rates fixed for the Exchequer Bonds, and will be exchanged for such bonds, with the coupons attached, as soon as such bonds and coupons can be prepared; but not later than the 1st day of September next.

Whitehall, Treasury Chambers, this 13th day of May, 1853.

W. E. Gladstone.

Alfred Hervey.

IT is hereby notified, that the Right Honourable the Earl of Clarendon, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received from Viscount Stratford de Redcliffe, Her Majesty's Ambassador at the Sublime Porte, a despatch, dated Constantinople, April the 12th, 1853, inclosing the translation of a circular memorandum, addressed by the Porte to the Foreign Missions, announcing the raising of the blockade of the coasts of Antivari, in consequence of the cessation of hostilities against Montenegro. The tenor of the circular memorandum, addressed by the Porte to the Foreign Missions, is as follows:

(Traduction du Turc.)

Memorandum remis par Rifaat Pacha à Son Excellence le Vicomte Stratford de Redcliffe, le 10 Avril, 1853.

VOTRE Excellence sait que pour réprimer la révolte des habitans de Monténégro, qui fait partie de l'Empire Ottoman, révolte qui a éclaté der-nièrement, le blocus avait été établi sur les côtes d'Antivari. Comme, sous les auspices de Sa Majesté le Sultan, la tranquillité a été rétablie à Monténégro, Sa Hautesse a ordonné la levée du blocus, ce qui a été porté à la connaissance des autorités de la Sublime Porte là-bas.

Je m'empresse d'informer Votre Excellence aussi de la levée du blocus, pour la connaissance de ceux qu'il faut.

1er. Rejeb, 1269.

(Translation of the above).

Memorandum transmitted by Rifaat Pasha to His Excellency Viscount Stratford de Redcliffe, on the 10th of April, 1853.

YOUR Excellency knows that, with a view to repress the revolt of the inhabitants of Montenegro, which forms a portion of the Ottoman Empire, a revolt which lately broke out, a blockade was established on the coasts of Antivari. Inasmuch as, under the auspices of His Majesty The Sultan, tranquillity has been re-established in Montenegro, His Highness has ordered the raising of the blockade, which fact has been made known to the authorities of the Sublime Porte in that quarter.

I hasten to inform Your Excellency also, of the raising of the blockade, for the information of those whom it concerns.

Exchequer Bills.

*Office of Her Majesty's Paymaster-General,
Whitehall, May 16, 1853.*

The Exchequer Bills, dated in the month of June, 1852, (per Act 15 Victoria, cap. 10, £17,742,800, anno 1852,)

with the interest due thereon, will be paid off on the 9th June, 1853, when the interest will cease. Such bills will be received at this Office daily, from half past ten till three o'clock, until the 2nd day of June, 1853, inclusive.

Printed forms, containing instructions for the preparation of the lists, and the arrangement of the bills, may be obtained on application at this Office.

The bearers must endorse each bill with their usual signatures, and they must insert their names and addresses in each list; and where the names of holders are inserted in the bills, the indorsements of such holders must also be obtained previously to their lists and bills being left for examination.

New bills, bearing interest at the rate of one penny by the day, upon every one hundred pounds, and dated the said 9th day of June, 1853, may be obtained in payment of the principal of the whole, or part, of the Exchequer Bills issued under the Act above mentioned, on the claimants specifying, in their lists, the amount of new bills required by them.

The new bills, together with the interest on the bills left on or before the said 2nd day of June for exchange, will be issued on the 10th day of June, 1853: the bearers must attend at this Office to sign receipts for the payment of principal and interest.

Payment, in money, may be obtained at this Office for any of the said Exchequer Bills, upon the claimants leaving the bills for examination one day prior to that on which such payment is desired.

N.B.—With reference to the exchange of Exchequer Bills for Exchequer Bonds, see separate notice, dated 13th current.

FROM THE

*LONDON GAZETTE of MAY 31,

Lord Chamberlain's Office, May 30, 1853.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the State Apartments at Windsor Castle will be closed from Tuesday the 7th of June until Wednesday the 15th of June, both days inclusive.

Whitehall, May 30, 1853.

The following Addresses of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland having been transmitted by Robert Montgomery, Lord Belhaven, Her Majesty's Commissioner, to the Right Honourable Viscount Palmerston, G.C.B., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, have been by him presented to the Queen; which Addresses Her Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Church of Scotland, now met in General Assembly, have received with deep gratitude the gracious letter in which your Majesty has been pleased to express your resolution to countenance our present meeting by the sanction of your royal authority.

We derive great encouragement from the confidence with which your Majesty looks forward to the results of our solemn deliberations, in the expectation of our counsels being guided by the same wisdom, moderation, and anxious care, which distinguished former Assemblies of this National Church in the determination of questions affecting the moral and spiritual welfare of the people of Scotland.

It is highly gratifying to us again to receive the assurance of your Majesty's resolution to uphold and support the Church of Scotland in the full enjoyment of its rights and privileges; and it is our earnest prayer that, through the blessing of the Almighty, we may be enabled to use all the means within our reach to advance the honour and glory of God, by labouring with the utmost fidelity and earnestness for the increase of true religion and virtue among the people of whom we have the oversight.

We hail with cordial satisfaction the renewed appointment of Lord Belhaven as your Majesty's representative in this General Assembly, as he has long been honourably distinguished as a zealous member of this National Church, who has given the most substantial proofs of the steadfast attachment to its interests, and who, in many previous Assemblies, has discharged his important duties with strict fidelity to his Sovereign, and with most considerate regard to the convenience and comfort of the members of the Church.

Your Majesty's Royal Warrant for two thousand pounds, to be applied to the reformation of the Highlands and Islands, calls for the warmest expressions of gratitude, and we pledge ourselves to exercise the most vigilant and earnest diligence in the administration of this fund for the furtherance of the Gospel among the inhabitants of the mountains and isles of Scotland, who, in the absence of this munificent aid, might sink into utter despondency, if the pressure of temporal destitution, with which so many of them have been visited, were aggravated by the deeper horrors of a famine of the Word of God.

That the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, whose dominion ruleth over all, may, in the multitude of His mercies, impart to your Majesty, your Royal Consort, and all the Royal Family, the most precious gifts of His providence, and the unsearchable riches of His grace, that you may long sway a sceptre of righteousness and peace over a people enlightened and sanctified through the truth, and adorning the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things, and that when time shall be no longer, the Lord Most High may, through eternity, be your exceeding great reward, is the fervent prayer of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most loyal and faithful subjects,

The Ministers and Elders of the Church of Scotland.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and at our appointment, by

Jas. Barr, D.D., Moderator.

Edinburgh, 24th May, 1853.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Church of Scotland, embrace with pleasure the opportunity which our meeting in General Assembly affords us, of approaching your Throne with our cordial congratulations on the birth of another Prince.

Attached to your Majesty's person and Government, no less by affection than by the principles of duty, we cannot fail to rejoice in whatever contributes to your domestic felicity; and regarding every increase of your Royal Family as a further security to our religion and liberties, we feel called upon at the present time to express our gratitude for that Divine goodness which has given us an additional pledge for the permanent continuance of the United Kingdom under the government of that august house to which, under God, we owe our national prosperity.

That Almighty God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, may protect your Majesty's person, prosper your reign, and establish your throne in righteousness, that the dew of His blessing may descend upon your Royal Consort Prince Albert, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and all the Royal Family; and that after a long and happy reign upon the earth, you may come to the inheritance of an incorruptible crown, is the earnest prayer of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most loyal and most faithful subjects,

The Ministers and Elders met in the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

Signed in our name, in our presence,
and at our appointment, by

Jas. Barr, D.D., Moderator.

Edinburgh, 24th May, 1853.

Whitehall, May 27, 1853.

Addresses of congratulation to the Queen, on the occasion of the Birth of another Prince, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Home Department, for presentation, from the undermentioned places, were presented accordingly to Her Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

The Lieutenant-Governor, the Bailiff, the Jurats of the Royal Court, the Clergy, the Queen's Procureur, and the Deputies of the several parishes and cantons of Her Majesty's island of Guernsey.

The Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Bolton.

FROM THE
LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 7, 1853.

Buckingham-Palace, June 4, 1853.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, and Officers of the city of London, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was read by the Right Honourable J. A. Stuart Wortley, M.P., the Recorder, and which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive upon the Throne :

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Lord Mayor and Aldermen of the city of London, humbly approach your Royal Person to offer to your Majesty our most sincere congratulations on the recent birth of a Prince.

We desire to express to your Majesty our feelings of duty and affection, the deep interest we take in all that concerns the domestic happiness of your Majesty and of your Royal Consort, and our attachment to the free constitution under which we live.

We declare to your Majesty the unshaken loyalty of our fellow citizens, their firm reliance on the free institutions of the country, and the just legal authority of the Crown, uniformly directed to promote the best interests of the nation, in strict accordance with the principles of the British constitution.

We fervently pray that your Majesty may be long preserved to reign over a free, happy, and contented people, and that the Throne may be secured to your Majesty's descendants to the latest posterity.

Signed, by order of Court,

Henry Alworth Merewether.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

“ I thank you very sincerely for your loyal and dutiful Address, and for the affectionate interest which you have expressed in my domestic happiness.

“ I have the most entire reliance on the loyalty and attachment of the city of London.

“ It is at all times my earnest endeavour to maintain and strengthen the free institutions which this country has long enjoyed, and which afford the best guarantee for the welfare of all classes of my subjects.”

They were all very graciously received, and had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.

Buckingham-Palace, June 4, 1853.

This day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, Common Council, and Officers of the city of London, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was read by the Right Honourable J. A. Stuart Wortley, M.P., the Recorder, and which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive upon the Throne :

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the city of London, in Common Council assembled, humbly approach your Royal Person to offer to your Majesty our most sincere congratulations on the recent birth of a Prince.

We desire again to express to your Majesty our feelings of loyal duty and affection, and the deep interest we take in all that concerns the domestic happiness of your Majesty, and of your Royal Consort.

As representatives of the citizens of this ancient city in the municipal councils of the corporation, we declare to your Majesty the unshaken loyalty of our fellow citizens, their firm reliance on the free institutions of the country and the just authority of the Crown.

We fervently pray that your Majesty may be long preserved to reign over a free, happy, and contented people, and that the Throne may be secured to your Majesty's descendants to the latest posterity.

Signed, by order of Court,

Henry Alworth Merewether.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

“ I have received your dutiful and affectionate Address with feelings of the greatest satisfaction.

"I fully appreciate the loyalty of the citizens of London, and their warm attachment to the free institutions of this country.

"The welfare of my people engages my constant attention, and I derive my greatest gratification from the assurance that they are happy and contented."

They were all very graciously received, and had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.

Buckingham-Palace, June 4, 1853.

This day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Lieutenancy for the city of London, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was read by the Lord Mayor, and which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive on the Throne.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and the rest of your Majesty's Commissioners of Lieutenancy for the city of London.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and the rest of your Majesty's Commissioners of Lieutenancy for the city of London, humbly offer to your Majesty, our warmest congratulations on the birth of another Prince.

We rejoice in the opportunity of renewing the expression of our unabated loyalty, and the assurance of our heartfelt sympathy in all that conduces to the domestic happiness of your Majesty and your Royal Consort, and we fervently pray that it may please Almighty God, in His merciful providence, ever to bless and prosper your Illustrious Family and the People committed to your charge.

Henley Smith, Clerk and Treasurer.

To which Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

“ I thank you for your loyal and dutiful Address, and I receive with heartfelt satisfaction the renewed assurance of your sympathy in all that conduces to my domestic happiness.”

FROM THE LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 14, 1853.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HER Majesty in Council was this day pleased, upon a representation of the Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education, to appoint the Reverend Henry Ryder
 Poole Sandford, B.A., to be one of Her Majesty's Assistant Inspectors of Schools.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th
 day of June, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by the "Foreign Deserters Act, 1852," it is provided, that whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that due facilities are or will be given for recovering and apprehending seamen who desert from British Merchant Ships in the territories of any Foreign Power, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, stating that such facilities are or will be given, declare that seamen, not being slaves, who desert

from Merchant Ships belonging to a subject of such Power, when within Her Majesty's dominions, or the territories of the East India Company, shall be liable to be apprehended and carried on board their respective ships, and may limit the operation of such Order, and may render the operation thereof subject to such conditions and qualifications, if any, as may be deemed expedient:

And whereas it hath been made to appear to Her Majesty, that due facilities have been or will be given for recovering and apprehending seamen who desert from British Merchant Ships in the territories of His Majesty the King of Denmark; that is to say: such or the like facilities as are hereinafter given for recovering and apprehending seamen who desert from Danish merchant ships in the dominions of Her Majesty or the territories of the East India Company:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers vested in Her Majesty by the said "Foreign Deserters Act, 1852," and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order and declare, and it is hereby ordered and declared, that from and after the publication hereof in the London Gazette, seamen, not being slaves, and not being subjects of Her Majesty, who desert from Merchant Ships belonging to subjects of His Majesty the King of Denmark, when within Her Majesty's dominions, or the territories of the East India Company, shall be liable to be apprehended and carried on board their respective ships.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and the Commissioners for the affairs of India, are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by the "Foreign Deserters Act, 1852" it is provided, that whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that due facilities are or will be given for recovering and apprehending seamen who desert from British Merchant Ships in the territories of any Foreign Power, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, stating that such facilities are or will be given, declare that seamen, not being slaves, who desert from Merchant Ships belonging to a subject of such Power, when within Her Majesty's dominions, or the territories of the East India Company, shall be liable to be apprehended and carried on board their respective ships, and may permit the operation of such Order, and may render the operation thereof subject to such conditions and qualifications, if any, as may be deemed expedient :

And whereas it hath been made to appear to Her Majesty, that due facilities have been or will be given for recovering and apprehending seamen who desert from British Merchant Ships in the territories of His Royal Highness the Grand Duke of Oldenburg :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers vested in her by the said "Foreign Deserters Act, 1852," and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order and declare, and it is hereby ordered and declared, that from and after the publication hereof in the London Gazette, seamen, not being slaves, who desert from Merchant Ships belonging to subjects of the Grand Duke of Oldenburg, when within Her Majesty's dominions, or the territories of the East India Company, shall be liable to be apprehended and carried on board their respective ships.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and the Commissioners for the affairs of India, are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament, held in the eighth and ninth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act "for the general regulation of the Customs," it is amongst other things enacted, that the several sorts of goods enumerated in the table therein following, denominated "a table of prohibitions "and restrictions inwards," shall either be absolutely prohibited to be imported, or shall be imported only under the restrictions mentioned in such table.

And whereas, among other sorts of goods, the following are enumerated in the said table, viz. :

"Goods of places within the limits of the East India Company's Charter, unless into ports approved of by the Lords of the Treasury, and declared by Order in Council to be fit and proper for such importation."

And whereas the port of Grimsby has been approved of by the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury for that purpose ;

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to declare, and it is hereby declared, that the port of Grimsby is fit and proper for the importation of goods of places within the limits of the East India Company's Charter.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by an Act passed in the session of Parliament, held in the first year of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to amend an Act for the regulation of municipal corporations in England and Wales," it is amongst other things enacted, that if the inhabitant householders of any town or borough in England or Wales shall petition Her Majesty to grant to them a charter of incorporation, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty by any such charter, if she shall think fit, by the advice of Her Privy Council, to grant the same, to extend to the inhabitants of any such town or borough, within the district to be set forth in such charter, all the powers and provisions of the Act of the fifth and sixth William the Fourth, chapter seventy-six, for regulating corporations, whether such town or borough be or be not a corporate town or borough or be or be not named in either of the schedules to the said Act ; provided nevertheless that notice of every such petition and of the time when it shall please Her Majesty to order that the same be taken into consideration by her Privy Council, shall be published by the London Gazette, one month at least before such petition shall be so considered.

And whereas the inhabitant householders of the town of Brighton, in the county of Sussex, and of the borough of Aberavon, in the county of Glamorgan respectively, have presented petitions to Her Majesty in Council, praying that charters of incorporation may be granted to the said town and borough ; Her Majesty was this day pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the said petitions be taken into consideration by a committee of the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, on Saturday, the sixteenth day of July next.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by an Act, passed in the tenth year of the reign of Her Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more easy recovery of small "debts and demands in England," it is, among other things, enacted, that it should be lawful for Her Majesty, with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order that the said Act be put in force in such county or counties as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, should seem fit, and to divide the whole or part of any such county including all counties of cities and counties of towns, cities, boroughs, towns, ports, and places, liberties and franchises therein contained or (hereunto adjoining) into districts ; and to order that the County Court should be holden for the recovery of debts and demands, under the said Act, in each of such districts ; and, from time to time, to alter such districts as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, should seem fit ; and, from time to time, with the advice aforesaid, to declare by what name, and in what towns and places, the County Court should be holden in each district :

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by an Order in Council, of the ninth day of March one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, to order that the said Act be put in force in the counties and places therein specified, and the same was put in force accordingly :

And whereas it hath been represented, that it would be to the advantage of the public, if the following alteration were made in certain of the districts of the Courts, as specified or set forth in the aforesaid Order :

Her Majesty, having taken the premises into consideration, is thereupon pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that, from and after the thirtieth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, so much of the district of the County Court of Brecknockshire, holden at Crickhowell, as is included within a line drawn from the point where the three counties of Monmouth, Glamorgan and Brecon meet, northward along the boundary between the said counties of Glamorgan and Brecon to the place called Rhyd-y-Milwr (being the place where the boundary between the hundreds of Penkelly and Crickhowell, in the said county of Brecon, meets the said boundary of the county of Glamorgan); thence in a straight line in a north-easterly direction across the mountain called Trefil Ddû to the place called the Duke's Table, being at or near the source of the river Sirhowy; thence in a straight line in an easterly direction across the mountain called Trefil Glas, and Llangattock Hills to a stone boundary-post standing on the bank of Clydach Brook, a little to the north of the Farm House called Blaen Clydach; thence first in a south-easterly direction, and thence in an easterly direction, along the middle of the said last-mentioned brook or river to the mouth of a certain brook called Llamarch Brook, which empties itself into the Clydach Brook or river; and thence in a southerly direction up the middle of the course of the said Llamarch Brook to where it meets the northern boundary of the county of Monmouth; thence westward along the said northern boundary of the county of Monmouth to the point where the three counties of Monmouth, Glamorgan and Brecon meet as first described, shall be within and form part of the district of the County Court of Monmouthshire holden at Tredegar.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve and ratify the schemes duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For substituting money payments to the prebendary of Ipthorne in the cathedral church of Chichester, for the property belonging to such prebend.

For substituting money payments to the precentor of the cathedral church of York, for the property belonging to the said precentorship.

For substituting money payments to the prebendary of the prebend of Holme, in the cathedral church of York, for the property belonging to the said prebend.

For substituting money payments to the prebendary of Leighton Beaudesert, otherwise Leighton Buzzard, in the cathedral church of Lincoln, for the property belonging to him as such prebendary.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representations made (as set forth in this Gazette) by Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches—

That banns of marriage should hereafter be published, and that marriages should hereafter be solemnized in the district church of Saint Luke, Berwick Street, in the parish of Saint James, Westminster, in the county of Middlesex, and diocese of London.

To unite and consolidate certain contiguous portions of the parishes of Langley Marish, otherwise Langley Marsh, and Horton, in the county of Buckingham, and in the diocese of Oxford, and the adjoining parish of Stanwell, in the county of Middlesex, and in the diocese of London, and to form the same into one consolidated chapelry for all Ecclesiastical purposes for the consecrated church of Saint Thomas, situate in that part of the chapelry or reputed chapelry of Colnbrook (which is within the said parish of Langley Marsh, otherwise Langley Marsh) to be called "The Consolidated Chapelry of Saint Thomas Colnbrook;" and that the right of presentation and appointment of an Incumbent or spiritual person to serve the said church of Saint Thomas, at Colnbrook aforesaid, should be vested in, belong to, and whenever occasion may require, be exercised by, the Bishop of the diocese of Oxford for the time being.

That banns of marriage should hereafter be published, and that marriages should hereafter be solemnized in the church of the chapelry district of Saint John the Evangelist Abram, in the parish of Wigan, in the county of Lancaster, and diocese of Chester.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853,

And also to command that the said royal concession and declaration be recorded in Her Majesty's College of Arms, otherwise to be void and of none effect.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time by warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage, payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such warrant ; and from time to time by warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and to make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof ; and it is provided that the power thereby given should extend to any increase, or reduction or remission of postage.

And whereas it is expedient that new regulations should be made for the transmission by the post of the printed publications hereinafter mentioned; Now we, the undersigned, being two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do, in exercise of the power or authority in us for such purpose vested in and by the said Act, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf by this warrant under our hands, direct that every printed price current, commercial list, course of exchange, shipping list, or other publication, respectively printed and published in the United Kingdom, although not strictly a newspaper, but bearing a newspaper stamp, the circulation of which by the post under the newspaper privilege shall be from time to time approved and allowed by the Postmaster-General, may be sent by the post free of British postage, or liable to British postage, according to the regulations and rates hereinafter set forth: that is to say; by the post from one town or place to another within the United Kingdom (except by private ships), free. But if there be any writing or marks on the publication so sent, in addition to the name and address of the person to whom sent, one penny.

By the post of a post town addressed to a person within the limits of such post town, or the suburbs thereof, one penny, which rate shall cover any writing or marks upon such publication.

Between places within the United Kingdom, by private ships, one penny.

By packet boats from the United Kingdom to any of Her Majesty's colonies, free; by private ships, one penny each.

From the United Kingdom to a foreign country in which British newspapers are allowed to pass by post, free of postage, by packet-boat free, and by private ships one penny each.

From the United Kingdom to a foreign country in which British newspapers are not allowed to pass by post free of postage, the same rate shall be chargeable on every printed publication sent by the post under the regulations of this warrant (whether by packet-boat or private ship), as if the same were a British newspaper.

By packet-boats between any of Her Majesty's colonies, whether direct or through the United Kingdom, free.

And we direct, that in all cases in which any printed publications sent by the post, under the regulations of this warrant, shall pass through a foreign country, or be transmitted by a foreign packet-boat, they shall be chargeable with any foreign postage payable thereon.

And we direct, that no such printed publications shall be sent by the post under the regulations of this warrant, unless the following conditions be observed :

First. No such printed publication shall exceed the weight of two ounces.

Second. Every such publication shall be sent without a cover, or in a band or cover open at the sides or ends.

Third. The rate of postage chargeable under the regulations aforesaid, on any publication posted within the United Kingdom, shall be pre-paid on the same being posted, not in money but by a postage stamp affixed outside the publication, or the band or cover thereof.

Fourth. There shall be no word or communication printed on the publication after it be published, nor (except in the case of a publication sent by the post from one town or place to another, within the United Kingdom, and a publication sent by the post of a post town addressed to a person within such post town, or its suburbs, on which respective publications a postage rate will be chargeable under this warrant), any writing or marks upon it other than the name and address of the person to whom sent, nor shall there be any word or communication printed on the cover of any publication whatever, sent by the post under the regulations of this warrant, or any writing or marks upon it, except the name and address of the person to whom sent, and the printed name and address of the newsvender who shall send it.

Fifth. There shall be no paper or thing enclosed in or with any such printed publication.

And in case any such publication or packet shall exceed two ounces in weight, or shall not be sent without a cover, or be sent in a band or cover not open at the sides or ends, or if the postage chargeable under the regulations of this warrant on any publication posted within the United Kingdom shall not be prepaid on the same being posted, not in money, but by a postage stamp or postage stamps affixed outside the publication or the band or cover thereof, every such publication or packet shall be charged with the like rate of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter; and in case either of the fourth or fifth conditions before mentioned shall not be fulfilled (except as aforesaid), the whole of such publication or packet shall be charged with treble the rates of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter.

And we further direct that every printed publication bearing a date of the day of publication sent by the post under the regulations of this warrant addressed to places out of the United Kingdom, shall, in all cases, be put into a post-office or receiving-office in the United Kingdom within seven days next after the day on which the same shall be published, the day of publication to be ascertained by the date of such paper; and in case any such publication, addressed to places out of the United Kingdom, shall be put into a post office or receiving-office after the expiration of such seven days, the Postmaster-General may either detain the publication or forward it by post charged with full postage as a letter.

And we further direct that, for the purposes of this warrant, every printed bonâ fide supplement or additional sheet to any such publication shall be considered as a distinct publication, unless sent in the same cover or together with the publication to which it is a supplement or addition; and that every such supplement or additional sheet shall bear the stamp of a newspaper supplement, except that no such stamp shall be required on any supplement to the publication called Lloyd's List, provided such publication bear a newspaper stamp, and the supplement be sent with it.

And we further direct, that on every printed price current, commercial list, course of exchange, shipping list, or other printed publication which shall be posted within the United Kingdom, or posted in any of Her Majesty's Colonies (for transmission by packet-boat to any other of Her Majesty's Colonies), without bearing a newspaper stamp, or being a supplement to any such publication without bearing the stamp of a newspaper supplement (except as aforesaid), there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such publications, the full letter rates of postage.

And we further direct, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed, or construed to extend to any printed votes or proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, nor to any British newspapers liable to the stamp duties and duly stamped.

And we further direct that the several terms and expressions used in this warrant, shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act.

And we further direct, that this warrant shall come into operation on the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

Provided lastly, and we hereby declare and direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any two of them, by warrant under their hands at any time hereafter to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby altered or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and from time to time to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

Whitehall, Treasury-Chambers, the tenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 17, 1853.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve and ratify the schemes duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For authorizing the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the Dean and Chapter of the cathedral church of Carlisle, and now vested in the said Commissioners.

For authorizing the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the Dean and Chapter of the cathedral and metropolitical church of Saint Peter, at York, and now vested in the said Commissioners.

For making better provision for the cure of souls in certain parishes in the counties of Cornwall, Durham, Gloucester, Lancaster, Lincoln,

Stafford, Wilts, and York (as set forth in this Gazette), and for compensating certain spiritual persons whose emoluments have been diminished by reason of proceedings under an Act 6 and 7 Vict., intituled "An Act to make better provision for the spiritual care of populous parishes."

For assigning the right of patronage of the new parish of Baldhu, in the county of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter, to the Right Honourable Evelyn Viscount Falmouth, and his heirs for ever.

For substituting a money payment to the Prebendary of Grantham Australis, in the cathedral church of Salisbury, for the property belonging to him as such prebendary.

IT is hereby notified, that Rear Admiral Henderson, Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Forces in the Rio de la Plata, has received a notification from Commodore Jos. Halsted Coe, the Chief of the National Squadron of the Argentine Confederation, relating to the blockade of Buenos Ayres, the translation of which is as follows :

"Outer Roads of Buenos Ayres, on board the national steamer of war Correo, April 23, 1853.

"The undersigned has the honour to inform you, that he has received instructions and orders from his Excellency, the Director of the Argentine Confederation, Brigadier-General Don Justo José de Urquiza, to communicate to you, that his Excellency, considering that the moment has arrived to conclude and put an end to the existing state of things in the province of Buenos Ayres, considers one of the most expedient measures to be the establishment, by water, of a rigorous blockade of that part of the port which is in the power of the insurgents of the town of Buenos Ayres (que dominan los revolucionarios de la plaza de Buenos Aires).

“And the undersigned, in carrying it out, gives notice to you that the blockade of the above-mentioned part of this port is established from this date, granting a term of six days, counted from the same date, for foreign vessels to leave the inner roads, and twenty days for those that are in the outer roads.

“Which I have the honour of communicating to you for the ends consequent thereupon.

(Signed) “JOS. HALSTED COE.”

“To Admiral Henderson, Commander-in-Chief of the Forces of Her Britannic Majesty, in the Rio de la Plata.”

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representations made (as set forth in this Gazette) by Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches—

For assigning a particular district to the consecrated church of Saint Gabriel, situate in or near Warwick-square, in the district parish of Saint Peter, Pimlico, in the county of Middlesex, and diocese of London, to be called "The District Chapelry of Saint Gabriel, Pimlico."

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, 18th June, 1853.

A CHAPTER of the Most Ancient and Most Noble Order of the Thistle having been summoned for this day, the following Knights Brethren, in their mantles and collars, assembled in the Palace; viz.:—

The Earl of Aberdeen, the Duke of Roxburghe, the Earl of Rosebery, the Earl of Mansfield, the Duke of Montrose, and the Earl of Camperdown, attended by the undermentioned Officers of the Order, in their mantles and wearing their chains and badges; viz.: Sir John-Stewart Richardson, Bart., Secretary of the Order, and Frederic-Peel Round, Esq., Gentleman Usher of the Green Rod.

At three o'clock the Knights Brethren were called over by the Secretary, when (Her Majesty and His Royal Highness the Prince Albert having passed into the Throne-room) they proceeded, with the Officers of the Order, into the presence of the Sovereign.

The Queen being seated in the chair of state, and His Royal Highness the Prince Albert at the table on the right hand of Her Majesty, the Sovereign was pleased to command the other Knights Brethren to take their seats at the table, according to their seniority in the Order, the Officers of the Order standing in their places at the bottom of the table.

The Sovereign was then pleased to signify Her royal pleasure touching the election of a Knight into the Order; whereupon the Knights Brethren proceeded to the election, and the suffrages having been collected by the Secretary (commencing with the junior Knight), were by him, kneeling, presented to the Sovereign, who was pleased to declare, that the Right Honourable Archibald-William, Earl of Eglinton, had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Ancient and Most Noble Order of the Thistle.

Then, by command of the Sovereign, the Earl of Eglinton was received, at the door of the Chapter-room, by the Duke of Montrose and the Earl of Camperdown, the two junior Knights Brethren present, and conducted between them to Her Majesty, preceded by the Secretary (bearing on a velvet cushion the ensigns of the Order) and by the Gentleman Usher of the Green Rod.

The sword of state being thereupon delivered to the Sovereign, by His Royal Highness the Prince Albert, the senior Knight, the Earl of Eglinton, kneeling near the Queen, was knighted therewith; after which his Lordship had the honour to kiss Her Majesty's hand; the Earl rising, the oath was administered to his Lordship by the Secretary.

The Earl of Eglinton, then again kneeling, and the Secretary, on his knee, presenting to Her Majesty the ribband and jewel of the Order, the Queen was graciously pleased to place the same over the Earl's left shoulder.

His Lordship, having again kissed the Sovereign's hand, and after receiving the congratulations of the Knights Brethren, retired.

The Chapter being ended, the Knights Brethren were, by command of Her Majesty, again called over by the Secretary, and, with the Officers of the Order, retired from the presence of the Sovereign with the usual reverences.

Whitehall, June 20, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to direct letters patent to be passed under the Great Seal, constituting and appointing the Right Honourable Henry Labouchere, the Right Honourable Sir John Patteson, Knt., and George Cornwall Lewis, Esq., to be Her Majesty's Commissioners for enquiring into the existing state of the Corporation of the city of London.

Whitehall, June 20, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to present the Reverend Malcolm Munro Ross to the church at Tomintoul, in the parish of Kirkmichael, in the presbytery of Abernethy, and shire of Banff, vacant by the death of the Reverend George Bruce.

Foreign-Office, June 21, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of M. Franz Knoop, as Consul at Hong Kong, for His Majesty the King of Hanover.

The Queen has also been pleased to approve of Don Placido Filippo de Jove e Hevia, as Consul at Malta, for His Royal Highness the Duke of Parma.

Westminster, June 14, 1853.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 24, 1853.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th
day of June, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the ninth and tenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act "to amend an Act for regulating the sale of "waste land belonging to the Crown in the "Australian Colonies, and to make further provision for the management thereof," after reciting that it might be expedient that various rules and regulations should be made respecting the more effectually making demises or licences for any term of years, not exceeding fourteen, of any such waste lands as therein mentioned, and respecting the reservation on such demises or licences of any such rents or other pecuniary services, and respecting the insertion therein of such conditions and clauses of forfeiture as are therein mentioned, and respectiug any other matters and things which might be requisite either for carrying into more complete effect the occupation in manner therein mentioned of such waste lands as aforesaid, or for preventing the abuses incident thereto, it was enacted, that it should be lawful for Her Majesty, by any Order in Council, to make and establish all such rules and regulations as to Her Majesty should seem meet for the purposes aforesaid, or for any of them, and any such rules and regulations again to repeal, renew, alter, and amend; and that all such Orders in Council should have the force and effect of law in the colonies aforesaid.

And whereas Her Majesty, by an Order in Council, dated the nineteenth June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, did establish certain rules and regulations relative to the occupation of the waste lands of the Crown in the colony of South Australia, more particularly with reference to pastoral purposes.

And whereas it is expedient that additional rules and regulations, as hereinafter contained, should now be made and established for demising lands supposed to contain minerals, not auriferous, and for working the same. It is hereby ordered by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice of her Privy Council, that within the said colony of South Australia it shall be lawful for the Governor of the said colony to demise lands supposed to contain minerals, not auriferous, to any party or parties desirous of working the same, on the following conditions:—

1. The extent of land so to be granted shall be fixed from time to time by the Governor, with the advice of his Council.
2. That the term of the lease shall be for a term not exceeding fourteen years, at a rental of ten shillings per acre per annum, payable yearly in advance. The lessee, on payment of such rent in advance, being entitled to the right of search during the first year, and to the option of giving up the lease. The lease to date from the commencement of the second year.

3. Any person claiming a lease on the above conditions who shall remove, or cause to be removed, any ore from the land before a lease thereof shall be accepted by him, shall forfeit his claim thereto.
4. At the termination of the lease, the land shall be open to sale, by public auction, to the highest bidder.
5. Should the land not be purchased by the lessee, the value (to be estimated) of any improvements he may have made, or buildings he may have erected thereon, will be added to the upset price of the land, and he will be allowed compensation for the same, if sold.
6. The lease to become void and forfeited if the rent is not duly paid in advance, and if the land is not bonâ fide applied to mining purposes. And it is further ordered that the terms defined in the Order in Council of the nineteenth June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, whenever they herein occur, shall respectively have the same significations as in the aforesaid Order in Council.

And the Most Noble the Duke of Newcastle, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

W. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representations made (as set forth in this Gazette) by Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches —

To unite and consolidate certain contiguous portions of the parishes of Saint Chad and Saint Alkmund, Shrewsbury, in the county of Salop, and diocese of Lichfield, and to form the same into one consolidated chapelry for all ecclesiastical purposes for the consecrated church of the Holy Trinity, situate at Bicton, in the said parish of Saint Chad, Shrewsbury, to be called "The Consolidated Chapelry of Bicton," and that the right of presentation and appointment of an incumbent to serve the said church of the Holy Trinity, at Bicton aforesaid, should be vested in the vicar or incumbent of the parish church of the said parish of Saint Chad, Shrewsbury.

To unite and consolidate certain contiguous portions of the consolidated chapelry of Highgate, the parish of Saint Pancras, and the district chapelry of Kentish Town, in the county of Middlesex, and diocese of London, and to form the same into one consolidated chapelry for all ecclesiastical purposes for the consecrated church of Saint Anne, situate at Brookfield, in the said consolidated chapelry of Highgate, to be called "The Consolidated Chapelry of Saint Anne, Brookfield, Highgate Rise," and assigning the right of presentation and appointment of an incumbent or perpetual curate to serve the said church of Saint Anne, at Brookfield aforesaid, to Anne Barnett, of Highgate Rise, in the said county of Middlesex, Spinster, during her life, and after her decease, to the Bishop of the diocese of London, for the time being.

India-Board, June 22, 1853.

The papers, of which the following is a copy, have been received at the East India House :

NOTIFICATION.

Fort William, April 22nd, 1853.

The Most Noble the Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in publishing, for general information, extracts from despatches, reporting the operations of Brigadier-General Sir John Cheape, K.C.B., against the force under Myat-toon, who had established himself near to Donabew.

The Governor-General in Council regards with the highest admiration the gallantry, perseverance, and cheerful endurance displayed by the force under the Brigadier-General's command, throughout a service which was rendered peculiarly severe, not more by the formidable resistance that was offered than by the sufferings incident to prolonged exposure in pestilent jungle, and at such a time.

His Lordship in Council, regretting the loss that has been incurred, fully appreciates the service that has been done, and he requests the Major-General Commanding the troops in Ava, to convey to Brigadier-General Sir John Cheape, to the officers and soldiers whom he has specially named, and to all who were under his command, the approbation and cordial thanks of the Supreme Government.

By Order of the Most Noble the Governor-General of India in Council.

C. ALLEN, Officiating Secretary to the Government of India.

Extract of a letter from Major-General H. Godwin, C.B., Commanding the Forces in Ava, Arracan, and the Tenasserim Provinces, to C. Allen, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India, April 1st, 1853.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for the information of the Governor-General in Council, reports from Sir J. Cheape, dated the 13th and 25th ultimo, detailing the proceedings of his force since his report of the 3rd ultimo, forwarded in my despatch, of the 15th instant.

The Governor-General in Council will see and appreciate this most arduous service ; protracted as it has been from time to time by the difficult nature of the country, added to which unwilling, if not false guides, leading him in wrong directions.

The Brigadier-General so forcibly represents his various attacks, and the gallantry of the troops on every occasion, that I can add nothing more than my high sense and appreciation of their admirable conduct.

Extract of a Despatch from Brigadier General Sir J. Cheape, K. C. B., Commanding the Bengal Division, to the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army of Ava.

Donabew, March 25th, 1853.

WHILE at Kyomtano I ascertained the jungle to the westward to be quite impenetrable, and that there were only two routes to Kyomenzeen, one to the Southward viâ Gyet-thoun-zeen, and the other to the northward, by Ngyoung-youn ; the distance by these routes was said to be about equal, and the same opposition and obstacles were to be expected by either. I resolved to follow the latter route.

It was desirable to give the enemy as little time as possible for preparation, and on the evening of the 17th instant, at 2 P. M., I sent on the right wing under Major Wigstone, 18th R. I., consisting of H. M.'s 18th R. I. Regiment, H. M.'s 80th Regiment, and the 4th Seikh Local Regiment, with a detail of Sappers and some rockets, to take post at a breastwork about three miles in advance, in the middle of the forest and on the verge of a large lake. It was of importance to clear the road so far, to enable the force to march early next morning without waiting for the fog to clear off.

Major Wigstone found the road clear till within about a mile of the breastwork ; he had then to cut his way through many obstructions, and to open the road round felled trees and to clear away abattis. On reaching the breastwork, he found it occupied, and it was most gallantly carried by the 18th R. I. who were leading, and by the 4th Seikh Local Regiment in support ; several jingals and arms of different sorts were captured. Major Armstrong, 4th Seikh Local Regiment, on this occasion personally distinguished himself, and I beg to send a copy of Major Wigstone's letter of date the 20th instant, reporting most favourably of the conduct of the troops. A prisoner was taken upon this occasion, who was of some use in our further advance in describing and pointing out the enemy's position.

Major Wigstone bivouacked here for the night and was undisturbed ; and early next morning (the 18th instant), I moved on with the force from Kyomtano, carrying seven days' provisions. We passed Major Wigstone's party, and moved with our left wing, under Lieutenant-Colonel Sturt, consisting of H. M.'s 51st K. O. L. I., and the 67th B. N. I. in front, followed by the guns, and irregular cavalry, and leaving the right wing to bring up the rear and to furnish the rear guard.

As the road was greatly obstructed and the progress slow, I took the opportunity to send back to Kyomtano, with some irregulars, the sick and wounded of Major Wigstone's party; the escort rejoined us again with the empty doolies.

After going about two miles through forest and passing breastworks from which only an occasional shot was fired, our guides, instead of going further by the road we had traversed on the 11th instant, turned sharp off to the left; along this path the obstructions and felled trees continued for about a mile, and the road was so rough that one of the ammunition waggons was overturned and the pole broken; it was necessary to leave it, and the ammunition boxes were packed on spare hackeries.

We arrived at noon at a piece of water on our right, where I halted for an hour to refresh the men; and at 1 P.M., we moved on; the obstructions were very great, and it occupied about two hours getting a mile further; there was some firing also, and the enemy were reported to be in a position close at hand.

We at last had a very sharp fire opened on us from the left. A fire had been lighted in that quarter to obscure the vision, and the whole place was obstructed and entangled with abattis in front and along the left; part of the 67th N. I., with the rifles, engaged the enemy to the left; and we managed to clear the path to the front so as to advance the 51st K. O. L. I., and to bring the guns and rockets to bear upon the enemy, whose position, however, was so covered and hidden that we could only judge of it from the direction of the fire on our troops.

The road or path was at length sufficiently cleared, and the charge was ordered; the breast-work was most gallantly carried by H. M's 51st K. O. L. I., and the 67th N. I., Captain Singleton, 51st Regiment, leading the advance. Ensign Boileau, of the 67th N. I. was, I regret to say, killed, while gallantly attacking the enemy on our left flank.

The enemy's loss I was unable to ascertain, but his force here consisted of 1,000 men, with one gun, which was carried off, and Myat-toon was present in person. This I learned from a prisoner who was taken.

We lost no time in following up the enemy, but, after proceeding along an open road for about a mile, I thought it advisable, it being nearly 5 P.M., to halt at a piece of water, Ngyoung-Kymug, said to be distant about three miles from Kyomtano, but with a heavy jungle intervening, in which the enemy were reported to be in force.

At 8 P.M. I fired, at the request of Captain Smith, Deputy Commissioner, three signal rockets, for the information of Captain Fytche, who had promised to cooperate to the westward and northward of Kyomcazeen; they were replied to by guns; and during the night, on the report that the enemy were felling trees close in our front, a few shot and shells were fired at them, with good effect I believe.

On the morning of the 19th instant, at 7 A.M., we moved on, the right wing leading, and the left wing in rear of the Artillery. H. M. 80th Regiment formed the advance guard, and was followed by the Sappers clearing the road; the enemy's position was described as being at Na-young-Goun-lya, the head of the piece of water on our right, and along the edge of which or very near it the road lay. I expected to find the enemy posted on the opposite bank, and that we should have to come under a flanking fire before being able to reach his right and turn the position where the nullah is dry. It did not seem reasonable to expect that his left flank would be found unprotected, and I, therefore, did not think it worth while to pass a party across the water to try that flank; it would have been useless, as I afterwards found that an extensive and impassable marsh, though invisible from our side, covered his left flank; the forest was so dense on our left that to cut a new road direct from the nullah, entirely round the enemy's right, would have been very laborious, and would have occupied a very long time, and the sickness amongst our troops had become so alarming that great danger would have accrued from the delay. I was withal unwilling to diverge from the path our guides led us; there had been already so much uncertainty and difficulty about finding the road, that it seemed the safest plan to get at the enemy as speedily as we could, and I trusted to a rapid advance, supported by our guns and rockets, and relied on carrying the enemy's breastwork on the right the moment we should reach it.

On coming opposite his left flank, the firing commenced, and here our rockets were advanced and opened fire; the 4th Seikh Local Regiment were sent on to support the 80th Regiment, and the 18th Royal Irish in support of them; the Sappers worked away at the path, which was much entangled with wood, and the guns were shortly got into position and opened; the firing had, however, become very heavy, and it was reported to me that Major Wigstone was wounded. On reaching the front I found that Major Armstrong was also wounded, as well as many other officers and men, and that the fire of the enemy on the path leading up to the breastwork was so heavy, that our advanced party had not succeeded in carrying it ; the most strenuous exertions were made, and Lieutenant Johnson, the only remaining officer of the 4th Seikh Local Regiment, persevered most bravely, but it only increased the loss. The 80th and Seikhs then went on in the hopes of getting round the extreme right of the enemy; the jungle, however, was so thick, and the abattis so strong, that our men got dispersed, and could not get through it.

It was at this point that the 18th Royal Irish came up, and the fire of musketry and grape was so heavy, that they also got scattered and sustained great loss. Lieutenant Cockburn was wounded. I was here joined by Major Holdich, now in command of the Right Wing.

Although it was difficult from the dense smoke, and under so heavy a fire, to discern exactly what was between us and the breastwork to be assailed, I succeeded, at last, in ascertaining that there was no water, and no obstacle that could not be easily surmounted, if the troops could pass through the enemy's fire, a distance of only 20 or 30 yards. The "assembly" was accordingly sounded, with a view of getting together as many men of the right wing as could be collected.

In the mean time Major Reid, of the Artillery, brought up in the most gallant manner his 24-pounder howitzer. It was dragged through the bushes by the hand, chiefly by men of the 51st Regiment, and opened within 25 yards of the enemy with marked effect ; it was, however, in a much exposed position, and I regret to say Major Reid was almost immediately wounded : the fire from this gun was kept up in the most spirited manner by Lieutenant Ashe.

Finding the right wing much weakened from the loss they had sustained, and the number of men it was necessary to employ as skirmishers on the bank of the nullah, for the purpose of keeping down the enemy's fire, I ordered a reinforcement from the left wing, they were joined by the men of the right wing that had been collected by Major Holdich, and who were led by Ensign Wolsely, and the whole advanced in a manner that nothing could check. The fire was severe, and I am grieved to say, that gallant young officer, Lieutenant Taylor, 9th M.N.I., doing duty with H. M.'s 51st K.O.L.I., fell mortally wounded. Ensign Wolsely, H. M.'s 80th Regiment, was also struck down, as well as many other gallant soldiers; but the breastwork was at once carried, and the enemy fled in confusion, the few who stood being shot or bayoneted on the entrance of our men.

Lieutenant Trevor, of the Engineers, with Corporal Livingstone and Private Preston, of H. M.'s 51st K.O.L.I., first entered the enemy's breastwork, the two former each shooting down one of the enemy opposing their entrance. The lead devolved on them, and on Sergeant Preston, of H. M.'s 51st K.O.L.I., and Serjeant-Major Quin, of H. M.'s 80th, when Lieutenant Taylor, Ensign Wolsely, and Colour-Serjeant Dunahoe, fell in the advance.

Our two guns, which fell into the enemy's hands on the 4th of last month, were here recaptured; they had been fired with the most deadly effect, and were well served to the last; in attempting to carry off one of them 12 men were left dead by a discharge from our 9-pounder gun.

The enemy sustained, I understand, a heavy loss in killed and wounded. His whole force and means were concentrated in this position, and I imagine he must have had about 4,000 men in these breastworks, which extended 1,200 yards in length.

The Chief, I am sorry to say, escaped, but I lost no time in sending on Major Cotton, of the 67th N.I., with 100 men of his own regiment and 100 of the 51st K.O.L.I., under Captain Irby, to Kyomtano, about two miles distant. Here they found Captain Fytche on the opposite bank of the nullah.

Myat-toon's force being broken up and dispersed, it remained for Captain Fytche and Captain Smith, the Deputy Commissioners, to take measures for his pursuit and apprehension. Parties of Captain Fytche's Kareens were immediately detached for the purpose; the report brought in stated that he was moving about with merely a few followers in different quarters; and a number of his principal followers surrendered themselves.

The inhabitants, of whom there was a very large number, probably 10,000 to 20,000, had concealed themselves in the jungle, but began to come in on the 20th, and, under directions from Captain Fytche, commenced to move off, with such property as they had, in boats, of which there were an immense number in the creek or nullah.

He had given them notice of his intention to burn the place down immediately on our leaving it.

On the morning of the 20th, Captain Tarleton, R.N., to whom I had forwarded intimation on the previous day of our having forced Myat-toon's position, arrived at Kyomcazeen, with several boats. He had been long lying at the mouth of the creek with steamers and gun-boats to cut off Myat-toon's retreat in that direction.

His cooperation was now most valuable, and the exertions of his officers and men must have been very great, in cutting through felled trees thrown across a narrow nullah, and in removing stakes and obstructions of every description impeding the passage along a distance of 15 miles.

Difficulties and impediments seemed to vanish before him and his boats' crews, and by 1 P.M. of the 21st we had a sufficient number of the boats found in the nullah prepared for the conveyance of our sick and wounded men and of our Artillery. The whole started off, were shipped on board the steamer on the following morning, and carried up to Donabew the same day; every bad case of the sick and wounded being transhipped to the "Phelegethon" on passing Yandoon, which vessel was dispatched to Rangoon. Such dispatch, under no ordinary difficulties, seems to me well worthy of being recorded.

We reached Kyomtano on the night of the 22nd, and Akyo on the following day, and on the evening of the 24th, the whole force, with baggage and stores, had arrived at Donabew.

I grieve to say the sickness was very great from cholera, in particular at Kyomtano. A return is appended of the loss we have sustained from sickness as well as in engagements with the enemy.

A return of the captured ordnance is also forwarded. The guns and rocket tube belonging to the steamers have been made over to Captain Tarleton.

I propose to embark immediately with the whole of the troops, and return to Prome. Such of the men as cannot be conveyed in the steamers, will proceed in country boats.

I trust the manner in which the service has been performed, will be approved of by the Major-General;—Myat-toon's force has been dispersed and scattered; his guns taken, and his stronghold and villages, containing his supplies and resources, burnt down, and the population removed; he himself is a fugitive and an outlaw ; and although he will probably be joined by some of the worst and most desperate characters amongst his former followers, he will never be able to regain his former importance and power, and will, no doubt, ere long, be captured by the exertions and vigilance of the civil authorities.

On the conclusion of this service it is my duty to bring to the notice of the Major-General the excellent conduct of the troops.

Major Reid, and the officers and men of the Artillery, have rendered the most efficient service during the whole of the operations, and the brave and gallant manner in which the guns were brought forward and worked on the 19th instant, will, I trust, receive the especial notice of the Major-General.

To Lieutenant McGrath, who was slightly wounded, and Lieutenants Ashe and Dobbin, my acknowledgements are due for their gallant conduct, and also to Mr. Conductor Lisby, who was always in advance with the rockets, which he fired on every occasion with such precision and effect, as to be of essential service to us ; he was, I am grieved to say, very severely wounded after firing almost his last rocket on the 19th instant ; he may, I trust, recover, and I would recommend him most strongly to the Major-General's notice and the favour of Government.

To Lieutenant Mullins, and the detachment of Madras Sappers and Miners, the greatest praise is due ; the work executed by the men was most laborious, and the zeal and talent with which their energies were directed by Lieut. Mullins, are most creditable to him. He was ably seconded by Lieut. Trevor, and I am mainly indebted to these officers and the men under them for enabling the troops to reach the enemy's position.

To Lieut.-Col. Sturt, commanding the left wing of the force, and to Major Wigstone, commanding the right wing, my best acknowledgments are due, for the aid I have received from them, and for the gallant manner in which they brought their troops into action.

I beg to bring to the Major-General's notice Major Holdich, H.M.'s 80th Regiment, Major Cotton, 67th N.I., Major Armstrong, 4th Seikh Local Regiment, Captain Irby, H.M.'s 51st K.O.L.I., and Captain Armstrong, of H.M.'s 18th R.I. Regiment, and the officers and men of the detachments under their respective commands: the whole of them behaved with great gallantry, and are entitled to my best acknowledgments.

My best thanks are due to Captain Bruce, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, for the able manner in which he has performed his duties, and for the assistance he has afforded me on every occasion.

To Captain Garden, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General, I have to tender my best acknowledgments, for the very efficient aid I have received from him in his department, the duties of which have been very arduous.

I would bring to the notice of the Major-General Lieutenant Pilmer, H.M.'s 51st K.O.L.I., Brigade Quartermaster 1st Madras Brigade, who, by permission, accompanied this expedition. He has rendered the most essential service to the force, in carrying orders and in seeing them executed, in many cases of emergency and urgency, and has undergone great fatigue and shown much zeal for the service. He is a most able Staff Officer, and I would recommend him strongly to the Major-General's notice.

Lieutenant Thompson, my Aide-de-Camp, has been of the greatest service to me, and has shown great intelligence as well as displayed great gallantry, and I would recommend him strongly to the notice and favour of the Major-General.

To Surgeon Andrews, 67th N. I., and the Medical department, I have to return my best thanks for the performance of their very arduous duties in the care of the sick and wounded ; and to Assistant-Surgeon Murphy, Staff Surgeon to the Division, in particular, my special thanks are due ; he was the senior medical officer until the arrival of the reinforcements from Rangoon, and all the arrangements made by him have been most perfect. On the 19th instant, the wounded men were attended to by him under a very heavy fire, and though wounded (I am happy to say very slightly), it did not deter him a moment from the zealous discharge of his duties ; he has performed them throughout in the most unwearied and able manner, accompanying the men in the boats to the steamers, and seeing them carefully attended to and disposed of : I consider the force fortunate indeed in having a medical officer of his talent and character in such trying circumstances, and I feel assured the Major-General will accord his approbation of the services of this officer.

The deficiency in the Commissariat Department was supplied from Rangoon, Lieutenant McKellar being sent from thence. The duties have been most ably and creditably performed by this officer ; and the force, ever since his arrival, has been most regularly and amply supplied with provisions, although under circumstances of great difficulty from want of transport. His very efficient subordinate, Mr. Conductor Horton, I am grieved to say, died on the march from Kyomtano, on the 18th instant, of cholera, brought on, I fear, by over exertion and fatigue in the discharge of his duties. He was a most energetic officer, and is a loss to the service.

Captain Smith, the Deputy Commissioner, has accompanied the force throughout this service, and has been most zealous in obtaining for us every aid the country could supply.

The cooperation of the Naval force has been most effective, and has conduced greatly to the success of the expedition ; and I feel deeply indebted to Commodore Lambert, and to Captain Tarleton and his officers and men, for the aid and assistance they have so promptly given us on every opportunity or occasion of difficulty.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 28, 1853.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve and ratify the scheme duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For determining the portion of improved value to be made payable to the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners in a certain lease of a coal mine about to be granted by the Vicar of Batley, in the county of York.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day
of June, 1853,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representation duly made (as set forth in this Gazette) by Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches—

Assigning a particular district to the consecrated church of Saint Mark, situate in Albert-road, Regent's-park, in the parish of Saint Pancras, in the county of Middlesex, and in the diocese of London, to be called "The District Chapelry of Saint Mark, Saint Pancras."

Downing-Street, June 27, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to issue the following Additional Instructions, under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet, to the Governor of New Zealand, for the purpose of providing for the maintenance of the terms of purchase of land and pasturage in the Settlement of Otago, in that Colony, until the General Assembly of the Colony shall otherwise enact, and for other purposes therein specified :

Whereas by an Act of the 15th and 16th years of Our reign, chapter 72, entitled "An Act to grant a Representative Constitution to the Colony of New Zealand," it is amongst other things provided, that, subject to the provisions therein contained, it should be lawful for the General Assembly of the said colony to make laws for regulating the sale, letting, disposal, and occupation of the waste lands of the Crown in New Zealand, and all lands wherein the title of natives should be extinguished, as thereafter mentioned, and all such other lands as are described in an Act of the session holden in the 10th and 11th years of Her Majesty, chapter 112, "to promote colonization in New Zealand, and to authorize a loan to the New Zealand Company," as demesne lands of the Crown should be deemed and taken to be waste lands of the Crown, within the meaning of the Act: provided always, that subject to the said provisions, and until the said General Assembly should otherwise enact, it should be lawful for Her Majesty to regulate such sale, letting, disposal, and occupation by instructions to be issued under the Signet and Royal Sign Manual. And whereas the New Zealand Company, on the 1st day of August, 1849, issued certain terms of purchase of land and pasturage in the Settlement of Otago (in substitution for other terms of purchase and pasturage therein mentioned), of which said first-mentioned terms of purchase and pasturage a copy is annexed to these instructions.

2. And whereas the Directors of the New Zealand Company did, on the 5th day of July, 1850 (in pursuance of the powers and authorities given to them in that behalf by the Act of the 10th and 11th years of Her Majesty, c. 112, entitled "An Act to promote colonization in New Zealand, and to authorize a loan to the New Zealand Company"), give notice to one of Our Principal Secretaries of State, that they were ready to surrender the charters of the said Company to Us, whereby the lands, tenements, and hereditaments of the said Company in New Zealand, including the lands to which the said terms of purchase and pasturage relate, reverted to, and became vested in Us as part of Our demesne lands in New Zealand, subject, nevertheless, to the contracts which were then subsisting in regard to any of the said lands.

3. And whereas from the 5th day of July, 1850, as aforesaid, the terms of purchase and pasturage aforesaid have been maintained in the said settlement of Otago, so far as the vesting in Us of the lands to which the same related, and the cessation of the operations of the New Zealand Company in New Zealand, allowed of the same being done, the sum payable to the New Zealand Company under the said terms on all sales of land on account of its capital and risk having been paid to Us instead of the said Company. And whereas, on the 23rd day of November last past, the Otago Association had failed in effecting the sale of the 2000 properties in the said terms of purchase and pasturage specified, by which event, under the terms aforesaid, the option of disposing of the whole of the remaining lands to which the said terms relate to other persons has devolved on Us.

4. And whereas it is expedient that provision should be made for the maintenance of the said terms of purchase and pasturage, so far as the same can conveniently be done, until the General Assembly of New Zealand may otherwise provide: now, therefore, We do, in pursuance of the said Act, and in exercise of the powers thereby in Us vested, and of all and every other the powers in Us in that behalf vested, hereby declare that the said terms of purchase and pasturage shall continue to be observed, so far as this can be done, in respect of all sales of land and licences for the pasturage of lands to which the said terms relate, until the General Assembly of New Zealand shall otherwise enact.

5. And We do further declare that all sums received from and after the 23rd day of November last past, or which shall hereafter be received in respect of the purchase-money of such land, shall be appropriated according to the said terms, except that the two-eighths of the purchase-money assigned by the said terms of purchase to the New Zealand

Company, and, since the 5th day of July, 1850, payable to Us, shall cease to be paid, and that in lieu thereof there shall be paid to the New Zealand Company, in conformity with the 74th section of the hereinbefore recited Act, a sum equal to one-fourth part of every sum paid on the sale or alienation of any land in the said settlement ; and except that no farther selections shall be made by Us, or on Our behalf, or by the trustees for religious and educational uses, as required under the 19th section of the beforementioned terms of purchase.

6. And We do further declare that it shall be lawful for Our Colonial Land and Emigration Commissioners to exercise, during the continuance in force of these general instructions, such functions as are by the said terms directed to be exercised by the New Zealand Company within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and for such person or persons as you may appoint in that behalf to exercise such functions as are thereby directed to be exercised by the New Zealand Company, or by its Agents, in New Zealand.

Terms of Purchase of Land referred to in the foregoing Instructions.

OTAGO.

THE following Regulations are substituted for those dated respectively the 14th of May and 24th of November, 1847, and the 15th of April, 1848.

1. The Association of Lay Members of the Free Church of Scotland, as reported by the General Assembly of May, 1845, with the addition of such other Members as have been, or hereafter may be from time to time appointed by the Association, to be recognized as the party to promote the settlement now in progress.

2. The lands to be sold under the following arrangements to persons brought forward or approved by the Association; and the Association, (including those persons) to carry out the enterprise on their own principles, and, so far as possible, in their own name, looking only to the Company for such assistance and acts of management in the matter of surveys, emigration, and general process of founding and maintaining the settlement as may be requisite.

3. Amendments which experience may from time to time show to be desirable, to be made by the Company and the Association, concurrently, in those parts of the following arrangements in which they are not already provided for.

4. The site of the settlement to continue to be at Otago in the Middle Island of New Zealand, on the land granted to the Company by a deed under the seal of the territory, bearing date the 13th day of April, 1846, and already decided on, surveyed and laid out.

5. The settlement to comprise 144,600 acres of land, divided into 2,400 properties, and each property to consist of $60\frac{1}{4}$ acres, divided into three allotments, namely, a town allotment of a quarter of an acre in a spot selected as the site of a town, a suburban allotment of 10 acres in the vicinity of a town site, and a rural allotment of 50 acres, be the measurements more or less.

But each class of land to be sold separately, if so desired by the purchaser; and, in case of such separate sale, the rural allotment to be reduced, if so desired, to 25 acres.

6. The 2,400 properties, or 144,600 acres, to be appropriated as follows, namely:—

2,000 properties, or 120,500 acres, for sale to private individuals;

100 properties, or 6,025 acres, for the estate to be purchased by the Local Municipal Government;

100 properties, or 6,025 acres, for the estate to be purchased by the trustees for religious and educational uses; and

200 properties, or 12,050 acres, for the estate to be purchased by the New Zealand Company.

7. The price of the land for sale in the United Kingdom to be fixed for the present at 40s. an acre, or 120*l.* 10s. a property, if the property be purchased entire as defined in paragraph 5. But if purchased separately, the price of each class of land to be as follows, viz.:—Town land, 12*l.* 10s. per allotment of a quarter acre; suburban land, 30*l.* per allotment of 10 acres; and rural land, 50*l.* per allotment of 25 acres.

The said prices to be charged on the estates of the Municipal Government, of the trustees for religious and educational uses, and of the New Zealand Company, in the same manner as on the 2,000 properties intended for sale to private individuals; and the purchase-money, amounting (at the rate of 40s. an acre) to 289,200*l.* to be appropriated as follows, namely:

Emigration and supply of labour (three-eighths, 7s. 6*d.* in 1*l.*, or 37½ per cent.), 108,450*l.*

Civil uses to be administered by the Company, viz.:—Surveys and other expenses of founding and maintaining the settlement, roads, bridges, and other improvements, including steam if hereafter deemed expedient, and if the requisite funds be found available (two-eighths, 5s. in 1*l.*, or 25 per cent.), 72,300*l.*

Religious and educational uses, to be administered by trustees (one-eighth, 2s. 6*d.* in 1*l.*, or 12½ per cent.), 36,150*l.*

The New Zealand Company, on account of its capital and risk (two eighths, 5s. in 1*l.*, or 25 per cent.), 72,300*l.*

It is to be observed that from the sum of 36,150*l.* to be assigned to the trustees of religious and educational uses, will be defrayed 12,050*l.*, the price of the 100 properties or 6,025 acres to be purchased as the estate of that trust.

In like manner, out of the sum of 72,300*l.* to be assigned to the New Zealand Company, will be defrayed 24,100*l.*, the price of the 200 properties or 12,050 acres to be purchased by the Company as its estate.

But the 100 properties, or 6,025 acres, constituting the estate to be purchased by the local municipal government, must be separately paid for by that government; and until payment therefore of the price, 12,050*l.*, together with colonial interest thereon. the land will be held by the administrators of the Fund for Civil Uses, with power to dispose of the same, if such payment be not made within one year after the completion of the sales or the remainder of the 2,400 properties.

8. The Company to reserve to itself the power of increasing the prices above mentioned from time to time, as may be arranged after consultation with the Association.

9. In consideration of the consent given by the Company to contribute to the emigration and other special funds, in the same proportions as private purchasers, on account of the 200 properties to be selected as the Company's estate, in lieu of those properties being free of charge or deduction, as was originally intended; and in consideration of the expenses to which the Company is subjected in its general superintendence of the interests of the several settlements, and which ought to be borne in due proportions by the several settlements respectively; the Company to be entitled to charge commission, at the rate of 5 per cent. on the gross amount of the funds appropriated to emigration and to civil uses; and such charge to be debited to those funds respectively.

10. The purchase of the surface, under the present arrangements, to include in every case coal and all other minerals whatever, granted to the Company by the Crown. and lying underneath the allotment purchased; but the Company to have power to exclude lands containing, in considerable quantities, coal or other minerals, from the allotments intended for sale or appropriation, and to reserve them for the purpose of being disposed of in the manner under mentioned.

Lands so reserved and containing coal, to be disposed of by lease or otherwise, in such way as may from time to time be agreed on between the Company and the Association, with a view to prevent the coal-field from becoming a monopoly in the hands of private individuals, injurious to the public interests, and to ensure to the community a due supply of fuel at the cheapest possible rate.

Lands reserved as above, and containing other minerals, to be disposed of in such way as the Company, after consultation with the Association, may from time to time consider most expedient.

11. Reservations to be made, so far as may be practicable. of the sites of villages and towns, with suburban allotments adjacent, in the several parishes and hundreds, which are to be laid out in accordance with the Government regulations on this head.

12. In laying out the chief town of the settlement, named "Dunedin," due provision to be made for public purposes, as fortifications, public buildings, sites for places of public worship and instruction, baths, wharfs, quays, cemeteries, squares, a park and other places for health and recreation; for all which, instructions have already been given to the Company's Principal Agent.

13. Successive parties of colonists to be despatched from time to time, as the Company and Association may deem expedient, whatever the quantity of land sold, due regard being had always to the wishes and convenience of purchasers, and to the proportion between capital and labour; but purchasers to be at liberty to proceed to the settlement at such times as they may individually prefer, without waiting for the parties in question.

14. Five years from the 23rd of November, 1847, the date of the embarkation of the first party, to be allowed to the Association for effecting the sale of the 2,000 properties, or 120,500 acres to private individuals; but on their failing to complete such sale within the time stated, the Company to have the option of disposing of the whole of the remaining lands to other persons.

In the event, however, of the whole 2,000 properties being sold to private individuals within the said period, the Association to have further the refusal, on such terms as shall then be agreed upon, of the entire remainder of the block of 400,000 acres, or such portion of the same as the Company shall not have returned to the Crown under the terms of Mr. Hope's letter of the 7th August, 1845.

15. The full sum, stated in paragraph 7, as the price of each entire property, or each separate allotment desired to be purchased (accompanied by an authority from the Association for receiving such sum), to be paid to the Commercial Bank of Scotland, in Edinburgh, or to Messrs. Smith, Payne, & Smiths, Bankers, in London, on the New Zealand Company's account; and the Bankers' receipt to be transmitted to the New Zealand House, accompanied by a letter stating particulars of the entire properties, or the separate allotments, desired to be purchased, and, at full length, the name, surname, and residence of the person in whose favour the conveyance is required to be prepared.

16. For each allotment purchased as above mentioned, the purchaser to receive a conveyance with as little delay as practicable.

17. Ballots for priority of choice to be discontinued, and each allotment to be assigned to the person first making application for it at the appointed place in the settlement, in accordance with the regulations which may be prescribed from time to time by the Company's Principal Agent in New Zealand, or other officer duly authorized in that behalf.

18. Disputes and simultaneous applications for any particular allotment to be determined either by arbitration or by lot, if the parties concur in desiring either of these modes of decision; and, in default of such concurrence, by the Company's Agent, or other authorized officer. Such determination to be in every case conclusive and binding as against all parties interested.

But if the Company's Agent or other officer decline to give any decision, the parties to be at liberty to have recourse to such remedy as they possess, at law or in equity.

19. Purchasers to be allowed to select out of the whole of the lands of each class which may be surveyed, laid out and open to selection at the time in the settlement.

The municipality and the trustees for religious and educational uses to be entitled to select their respective estates in the proportion of one property or allotment each for every 20 properties or allotments sold to private individuals; and the New Zealand Company in the proportion of two properties or allotments for every 20 so sold.

20. Seventy-five properties, or $4,568\frac{3}{4}$ acres, to be placed at the disposal of the Company's Agent, for sale in New Zealand, at the following increased prices, each kind of allotment being sold separately, if so desired by the purchaser; namely, town land, 40*l.* per allotment of a quarter-acre; suburban land, 40*l.* per allotment of 10 acres; and rural land, 50*l.* per allotment of 25 acres.

21. The whole proceeds of the increased prices mentioned in the paragraphs 7 and 20, and also of coals and other minerals disposed of especially under the provisions of paragraph 10, and of the sites of villages and towns with suburban allotments adjacent, as provided for in paragraph 11, to be in all cases appropriated (by eighths) in the proportions and manner laid down in paragraph 7.

22. The Association (including the purchasers and colonists whom they have brought forward or approved) having prepared a deed of trust and relative institutes, dated 6th November, 1847, as a constitution for church and schools, the same to be held as part of the terms of purchase; to trustees appointed thereunder, the funds for religious and educational uses to be handed over as collected, on the completion of each party; the provisions of such deed of trust and relative institutes to be duly observed in all respects; and in this and all other matters the Association to have respect to the full exoneration of the Company from responsibility at the earliest possible period.

23. The emigration fund to be applied as may be decided on from time to time by the Company, after consultation with the Association; and the selection of free or assisted passengers to be entirely confided to the Association.

Purchasers desirous of recommending labourers to the Association for free or assisted passages, to give to the Association written notice of the desire to make such recommendation, with full particulars of the labourers recommended, six weeks before the sailing of the vessel in which the labourers, if approved, are proposed to be sent.

Two-thirds of the amount of the emigration fund (or 30% on each entire property purchased) to be applied to the provision of a supply of labour in accordance with the Government regulations; and the remainder (or 15% on each entire property), subject to the concurrence of the Company, to the passages from the United Kingdom of persons who, under those regulations, are not strictly eligible, such as the parents of grown-up children, children under seven years of age, in excess of the authorized number, and, to a limited extent, purchasers, as detailed in paragraphs 24 to 27 below.

24. Chief-cabin passengers, being purchasers, to be entitled, at any time within 12 months from the date of their respective purchases, to receive one-third of the emigration fund accruing thereon (or 15% on each entire property), as an allowance towards defraying the expense actually and reasonably incurred for the passages to the settlement of the said purchasers and their families, at the rates laid down by the New Zealand Company.

25. Fore-cabin and steerage passengers, being purchasers, with regard to whom the Otago Association may be satisfied that they intend to be hirers of labour in the colony, to be allowed at any time within 12 months from the date of their respective purchases, the same sum as chief-cabin passengers, if, to the satisfaction of the Association, not intending to be hirers of labour, but to be, in fact, labourers themselves, the whole emigration fund accruing on their purchases (or 45% on each entire property), provided in every case that the sum specified be actually and reasonably expended as stated in paragraph 24 above.

26. Passages to be reserved for purchasers and for labourers recommended by them, and approved by the Association, in the ships chartered by the Company, provided that application for such passages be made six weeks before the sailing of the ship in which the parties desire to proceed.

27. Purchasers proceeding direct to the settlement from India or Ceylon, to be placed so far on the same footing as purchasers in the United Kingdom, as to have the same allowance for the passage of themselves and their families, provided the amount be shown to the satisfaction of the Company's Principal Agent to have been actually and reasonably expended on such passage at rates proportionate to those of the Company from England, and provided also the interval between the purchaser's arrival in the settlement and his purchase (whichever be prior in order of time) do not exceed 12 months.

28. The expenditure of the Association, including the committee in London, to be met in the first instance by the Company, to such moderate extent as may be necessary, it being understood that, with the exception of a paid secretary and travelling expenses, if incurred, the members of the Association are to act gratuitously; the whole of such expenditure, together with that already incurred under the arrangements prior to the 14th of May 1847, to be charged to the fund for founding and maintaining the settlement.

29. Subject to the modifications mentioned in the foregoing paragraphs, and to the exception of officers and funds relating to religious and educational uses, the appointment of officers, and the management and expenditure of the several funds, to be vested altogether in the Company; but all reasonable attention to be paid by the Court of Directors to the recommendations of the Association.

30. In case of any difference arising between the Company and any purchaser with respect to the construction of these presents, or the execution of any contract founded thereon, such difference to be decided by two arbitrators, one to be named by each party, or by an umpire to be named by the arbitrators.

In the event, also, of any difference or question arising, either between private parties, or between such parties and the Company or other public body, or between such public bodies only, and relating to water connected with any land referred to in these presents, or to the possession or use of such water, or to the erection of mills or machinery to be moved thereby, or to any other right or privilege connected therewith, such difference or question to be decided in like manner, either by arbitrators or by an umpire, the whole to be named respectively as above mentioned.

By order of the Court of Directors.

OTAGO.

Terms of Pasturage referred to in the foregoing Instructions.

THE issue of licenses for the pasturage of lands at the disposal of the New Zealand Company in the settlement of Otago, will be allowed until further notice, under such regulations, subject to the following conditions, as may be prescribed from time to time by the Company's Principal Agent in New Zealand or other officer duly authorized in that behalf.

Duration of Licenses.

1. Licenses for the pasturage of land in the Otago Settlement or block of 400,000 acres, while such land continues unappropriated and not required for any purpose other than pasturage, to be granted for periods not exceeding one year, nor less than six months, to end on the 31st of December in each year, but to be otherwise sooner determinable, as hereinafter mentioned. Fresh licenses to be in like manner issued at the end of each year.

Licenses.

2. The persons qualified to hold such licenses, on making application as hereinafter mentioned, to be the owners of not less than 20 acres of suburban or 25 acres of rural land in the settlement, under titles originally derived from the Company; or, with the consent of such owners, their immediate lessees or tenants, to the like extent; in the latter case, however, the owner not to be qualified to hold a pasturage license in respect of the same lands as his tenant.

Applications for Licenses.

3, Applications for such licenses to be made in writing; to be delivered, within the periods hereinafter mentioned, to such persons, and at such times and places as may be appointed by the Company's Principal Agent or other authorized officer; and to contain the following particulars, or such others as the said agent or other officer may deem necessary, viz. :—

Name and residence of the applicant;

Quantity and class of land under titles originally derived from the Company, held by the applicant in the settlement as owner, and not let (with the privilege of pasturage thereto attached) to any lessee or tenant;

Quantity and class of land under titles originally derived from the Company, held by the applicant in the settlement (with the privilege of pasturage thereto attached) as the immediate lessee or tenant of the owner, with the name and residence of such owner ;

Number and description of the live stock proposed to be depastured under the license.

Apportionment of Pasturage.

4. No license to be granted, within the boundaries of the settlement, for any defined pasturage run ; but the extent or amount of pasturage to be enjoyed by each licensee, and the mode of using the same, whether in commonage, in runs, or otherwise, to be decided by wardens elected annually under the following arrangements, viz. :—

A public advertisement to be issued by the Company's Principal Agent or other authorized officer, in the month of October in each year, calling a general meeting of the persons qualified to hold licenses in the settlement, to be held on a specified day in the ensuing month.

At the meeting held accordingly in the month of November, three wardens to be elected by a majority of votes, for the year commencing on the 1st of December then next ensuing. Persons duly qualified to be entitled to votes in the following proportions, viz. :—

For 20 acres and under 40 acres of suburban land, or 25 acres and under 50 acres of rural land, one vote ;

For 40 acres and under 80 acres of suburban land, or 50 acres and under 100 acres of rural land, two votes ;

For 80 acres and under 120 acres of suburban land, or 100 acres and under 150 acres of rural land, three votes ;

For 120 acres and under 160 acres of suburban land, or 150 acres and under 200 acres of rural land, four votes ;

For 160 acres and under 200 acres of suburban land, or 200 acres and under 250 acres of rural land, five votes ;

For 200 acres and upwards of suburban land, or 250 acres and upwards of rural land, six votes

The Company's Principal Agent or other authorized officer to preside, but to have no vote except in the case of an equality of votes.

In the event of the death, resignation, or refusal to act of any of the wardens so elected, the remaining wardens to supply the vacancy by electing his successor within one month.

Applications for licenses, in the prescribed form duly filled up, to be delivered to the appointed persons, and at the appointed times and places, on or before the 15th days of the months of November and May respectively.

Licenses, to take effect respectively on the 1st of January and the 1st of July then next ensuing, to be issued to applicants duly qualified, and a list of the licensees, with an abstract of the contents of their several applications, to be supplied to the wardens, by the Company's Principal Agent or other authorized officer, on or before the last days of the said months of November and May.

The pasturage to be apportioned, the mode of using it to be decided, and the parties interested to be apprised accordingly, by the wardens, in the months of December and June, for the half years commencing respectively on the 1st of January and the 1st of July then next ensuing.

In such apportionment, regard to be had to any advantages which it may be considered ought to attach to priority of title, and to such other general rules as the said wardens may deem suited to the circumstances of the case, or to the condition of the settlement; the privilege of pasturage, however, to be in proportion to the quantity of land in respect of which each license may be held.

New purchasers of land, being duly qualified and making the requisite application, to be admitted to a proportionate privilege of pasturage at each half-yearly apportionment.

In every case the apportionment of the pasturage, and the regulations as to the mode of using it, to be agreed to by two at least of the wardens for the time being; in the event of their failing, from non-agreement or other cause, to make any such apportionment and regulations within the respective months of December and June, or to fill up a vacancy within one month after such vacancy occurring, the powers hereby intended to be conferred upon such wardens, in regard of those duties respectively, to be thereupon held and exercised in each case respectively by the Company's Principal Agent, or other authorized officer.

Yearly Charges on Licenses.

5. The said licenses to be subject to no charge whatever, except the fee mentioned in the next paragraph.

Fees on Licenses.

6. On the issue of each license a fee to be paid of 10s. 6d.

Reservation of Rights.

7. Any portion of the pasturage land to be liable to be taken at any time by the Company's Principal Agent, or other authorized officer, for any purpose other than pasturage.

No license to confer any right to the soil, or power of breaking up the same, or of subletting the pasturage apart from the land in respect of which the license is issued, without the consent of the Company's Principal Agent, or other authorized officer, or otherwise to abridge or suspend the rights and powers of the Company in and over the land to be depastured.

Improvements.

8. No allowance to be made to the holder of any license for any improvements which he may think proper to effect.

Disputes among Individuals.

9. Disputes among licensees to be determined in such manner as the wardens may decide ; such decision to be in every case conclusive and binding as against all parties interested.

Non-observance of Terms.

10. In the event of neglect or non-observance by any licensee of these terms, or of the regulations to be prescribed by the Company's Principal Agent, or other authorized officer, as above mentioned, so far as the same may respectively affect the rights or interests of the Company itself, such agent or other officer to have power to declare the license determined ; the same to become thereupon null and void as by lapse of time, and the said agent or other officer to be at liberty to resume forthwith the pasturage thereby allowed, and the wardens to apportion the same as if no such license had ever been issued.

Extension of Pasturage

11. Pasturage licenses to be also granted in such additional block (if at the disposal of the Company) as, with the original Otago block of 400,000 acres, will form the tract or district to be erected hereafter into a county, according to the Royal Instructions of 5th December, 1840, while the land therein contained continues unappropriated and not required for any purpose other than pasturage; such additional block to comprise, as nearly as may be, 600,000 acres.

The conditions attached to such licenses to be in all respects the same as those attached at the time to licenses within the original Otago block, with one exception only, viz., that the fee and yearly charge be one-half of the fee and yearly charge at the time on licenses for the pasturage of the general demesne lands of the Crown in the Southern Province of New Zealand not allotted to any settlement.

LONDON GAZETTE of JULY 8, 1853.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th
 day of June, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS there was this day read at the Board a report from the Right Honourable the Lords of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, dated the thirtieth May last past, humbly setting forth that the Lords of the Judicial Committee have taken into consideration the practice of the Committee with a view to greater economy, despatch, and efficiency in the appellate jurisdiction of Her Majesty in Council, and that their Lordships have agreed humbly to report to Her Majesty, that it is expedient that certain changes should be made in the existing practice in Appeals, and recommending that certain rules and regulations therein set forth, should henceforth be observed, obeyed, and carried into execution, provided Her Majesty is pleased to approve the same:

Her Majesty having taken the said report into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and of the rules and regulations set forth therein, in the words following; videlicet:—

I. That, any former usage or practice of Her Majesty's Privy Council notwithstanding, an appellant who shall succeed in obtaining a reversal or material alteration of any judgment, decree, or order appealed from, shall be entitled to recover the costs of the appeal from the respondent, except in cases in which the Lords of the Judicial Committee may think fit otherwise to direct.

II. That the registrar, or other proper officer having the custody of records in any Court or special jurisdiction from which an appeal is brought to Her Majesty in Council be directed to send by post, with all possible despatch, one certified copy of the transcript record in each cause to the Registrar of Her Majesty's Privy Council, Whitehall; and that all such transcripts be registered in the Privy Council Office, with the date of their arrival, the names of the parties, and the date of the sentence appealed from; and that such transcript be accompanied by a correct and complete index of all the papers, documents, and exhibits in the cause; and that the Registrar of the Court appealed from, or other proper officer of such Court, be directed to omit from such transcript all merely formal documents, provided such omission be stated and certified in the said index of papers; and that especial care be taken not to allow any document to be set forth more than once in such transcript; and that no other certified copies of the record be transmitted to agents in England, by or on behalf of the parties in the suit; and that the fees and expenses incurred and paid for the preparation of such transcript be stated and certified upon it by the registrar or other officer preparing the same.

III. That when the record of proceedings or evidence in the cause appealed has been printed or partly printed abroad, the Registrar or other proper officer of the Court from which the appeal is brought, shall be bound to send home the same in a printed form, either wholly or so far as the same may have been printed, and that he do certify the same to be correct, on two copies, by signing his name on every printed sheet, and by affixing the seal, if any, of the Court appealed from to these copies, with the sanction of the Court.

And that in all cases in which the parties in appeals shall think fit to have the proceedings printed abroad, they shall be at liberty to do so, provided they cause fifty copies of the same to be printed in folio, and transmitted, at their expense, to the Registrar of the Privy Council, two of which printed copies shall be certified as above by the officers of the Court appealed from ; and in this case no further expense for copying or printing the record will be incurred or allowed in England.

IV. That on the arrival of a written transcript of appeal at the Privy Council Office, Whitehall, the appellant or the agent of the appellant prosecuting the same, shall be at liberty to call on the Registrar of the Privy Council to cause it, or such part thereof as may be necessary for the hearing of the case, and likewise all such parts thereof as the respondent or his agent may require, to be printed by Her Majesty's printer, or by any other printer on the same terms, the appellant or his agent engaging to pay the cost of preparing a copy for the printer at a rate not exceeding one shilling per brief sheet, and likewise the cost of printing such record or appendix; and that one hundred copies of the same be struck off, whereof thirty copies are to be delivered to the agents on each side, and forty kept for the use of the Judicial Committee; and that no other fees for solicitors' copies of the transcript, or for drawing the joint appendix, be henceforth allowed, the solicitors on both sides being allowed to have access to the original papers at the Council Office, and to extract, or cause to be extracted and copied, such parts thereof as are necessary for the preparation of the petition of appeal, at the stationer's charge not exceeding one shilling per brief sheet.

V. That a certain time be fixed within which it shall be the duty of the appellant, or his agent, to make such application for the printing of the transcript, and that such time be within the space of six calendar months from the arrival of the transcript and the registration thereof in all matters brought by appeal from Her Majesty's colonies and plantations east of the Cape of Good Hope, or from the territories of the East India Company, and within the space of three months in all matters brought by appeal from any other part of Her Majesty's dominions abroad; and that in default of the appellant, or his agent, taking effectual steps for the prosecution of the appeal within such time or times respectively, the appeal shall stand dismissed without further order, and that a report of the same be made to the Judicial Committee by the Registrar of the Privy Council at their Lordships' next sitting.

VL That whenever it shall be found that the decision of a matter on appeal is likely to turn exclusively on a question of law, the agents of the parties, with the sanction of the Registrar of the Privy Council, may submit such question of law to the Lords of the Judicial Committee in the form of a special case, and print such parts only of the transcript as may be necessary for the discussion of the same; provided that nothing herein contained shall in any way bar or prevent the Lords of the Judicial Committee from ordering the full discussion of the whole case, if they shall so think fit; and that in order to promote such arrangements and simplification of the matter in dispute, the Registrar of the Privy Council may call the agents of the parties before him, and having heard them, and examined the transcript, may report to the Committee as to the nature of the proceedings.

And Her Majesty is further pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the foregoing rules and regulations be punctually observed, obeyed, and carried into execution in all appeals or petitions and complaints in the nature of appeals brought to Her Majesty, or to Her heirs and successors, in Council, from Her Majesty's colonies and plantations abroad, and from the Channel Islands or the Isle of Man, and from the territories of the East India Company, whether the same be from courts of justice or from special jurisdictions, other than appeals from Her Majesty's Courts of Vice-Admiralty, to which the said rules are not to be applied.

Whereof the Judges and officers of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice abroad, and the Judges and officers of the Superior Courts of the East India Company, and all other persons whom it may concern, are to take notice, and govern themselves accordingly. Wm. L. Bathurst.

The Queen has been pleased to grant unto Thomas Marriott, late of Bowden, in the parish of Henstridge, in the county of Somerset, but now of Horsington, in the same county, Clerk, Her royal licence and authority that he and his issue may, in compliance with the direction contained in the last will and testament of his maternal uncle, William Manning Dodington, late of Horsington, in the county of Somerset, Esquire, deceased, take and use the surname of Dodington, in addition to and after the surname of Marriott, and that they may also assume and use the arms of Dodington quartered with those of Marriott; such arms being first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms, and recorded in the Herald's Office, otherwise the said royal licence and permission to be void and of none effect :

And also to command that the said royal concession and declaration be recorded in Her Majesty's College of Arms.

WHEREAS the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury did, by virtue of the powers vested in them by the 3rd section of the Act of the 8th and 9th Victoria, cap. 94, entitled "An Act for regulating the trade of the isle of Man," by their order of the 10th November, 1845, order and declare that all or any articles legally importable into the Isle of Man and not enumerated in the table annexed to the said Act, and upon which the duty of fifteen pounds per cent. is thereby imposed, should and might from and after the passing of the said before-mentioned Act be imported into the Isle of Man duty free, so long as that order or any part thereof affecting such articles should continue in force. And whereas it is also by the said 3rd section of the said Act enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury "at any time and from time to time, as they shall consider expedient, to revoke the whole or any part of such order or orders, for admitting the aforesaid articles, or any of them, duty free, such order of revocation to take effect from a day to be named therein."

We, being two of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do, by virtue of the powers above recited, vested in us, revoke so much of such order of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury of the 10th November, 1845, as permitted the importation of perfumed spirits duty free into the Isle of Man, and, therefore, perfumed spirits will, from and after the date of this our order, under the 2nd section of the said Act of the 8th and 9th Victoria, cap. 94, become subject to the duty of fifteen pounds per cent. ad valorem.

And we do further direct that this our order be published in the London and Dublin Gazettes, in accordance with the provisions of the said Act.

Thomas Perry, of Wolverhampton, in the said county of Stafford, Esquire, Her royal licence and authority that he and his issue may, in compliance with the wish of his said maternal uncle, Thomas Perry, deceased, expressed in his last will and testament, take and henceforth use the surname of Perry, in addition to and before that of Herrick, and that he and they may also bear the arms of Perry quarterly, in the second quarter, with those of Herrick ; such arms being first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms and recorded in the Herald's office, otherwise the said royal licence and permission to be void and of none effect :

And also to command that the said royal concession and declaration be recorded in Her Majesty's College of Arms.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," certain scales of weight and rates of postage were fixed and made chargeable and payable upon, for, or in respect of letters, newspapers, parliamentary proceedings, and printed papers, transmitted and forwarded by the post, and various regulations were made for facilitating the transmission of such letters and papers by the post.

And whereas by an Act, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office," the proviso concerning the maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, as fixed in and by the said first-mentioned Act, is repealed;—and in order to prevent packets of an unwieldy bulk, or an inconvenient size, being transmitted by the post, power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury at any time or times thereafter, by Warrant under their hands, to fix a maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, and from time to time to repeal or revoke such maximum weight wholly or in part, and declare any other maximum weight in lieu thereof; and all letters are to be forwarded, conveyed, and delivered by the post, in conformity with any such warrant, and also in conformity with, and under and subject to, all such orders, conditions, limitations, regulations, and restrictions, as to the form, size, or dimensions thereof, whether in proportion to the weight or otherwise, as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury shall from time to time direct. And by the said Act power is also given to the Postmaster-General to collect and receive the Foreign and Colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post, and also, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, to require the postage, British, Colonial, or Foreign, of any letters sent by the post, to be pre-paid, either in money or in stamps, as he may think fit, on the same being put into the Post-office; and also, with such consent, to abolish or restrict the pre-payment in money of postage on letters sent by the post, either altogether or on certain letters, and to require the pre-payment thereof to be in stamps, and to refuse to receive or send by the post any letters tendered contrary to any regulations thereby made. And it is also declared and enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General, and any officer of the Post-office, to detain any letters which shall be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations of that Act, or the first-mentioned Act, or contrary to the regulations of any Treasury Warrant, to be issued under or by virtue of that Act or which had been or should be issued under or by virtue of the said first-mentioned Act, and to open such letters and either to return them to the senders thereof, or to forward them to the places of their destination, charged, in either case, with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, shall from time to time direct.

Now we, the undersigned, being two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said before-mentioned Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers, enabling us in this behalf, by this Warrant under our hands, order and direct, that printed books, printed magazines, printed reviews, and printed pamphlets, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to the colony of the Gold Coast in Africa, or posted in the said colony, addressed to the United Kingdom, may be transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and the said colony of the Gold Coast, subject to the several regulations and rates hereinafter contained ; that is to say :

On every packet consisting of a single printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than, one shall be sewed or bound together, if not exceeding half a pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of , sixpence.

And on every such packet, if exceeding half a pound and not exceeding one pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of one shilling.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and not exceeding two pounds in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of two shillings.

And on every such packet, if exceeding two pounds and not exceeding three pounds in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of three shillings.

And for every additional one pound in weight, of any such packet above the weight of three pounds, there shall be charged and taken an additional rate of postage of one shilling, and every fraction of such additional pound shall be charged as an additional pound.

And we further order and direct, that no such packet, if containing more than one printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, or containing any paper or thing besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, or containing any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall not be sewed or bound together, or which packet, in length, or breadth, or width, or depth, shall exceed the dimensions of two feet, or twenty-four inches, shall be forwarded by the post under the provisions aforesaid.

And we further order and direct, that as to any packet hereinbefore authorized to be sent by the post, under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in the United Kingdom, the postage thereof shall in every case be pre-paid at the time of the same being posted, not in money, but by being duly stamped, with the proper British postage stamp or stamps affixed thereto, which stamp or stamps shall in every case be affixed or appear on the outside of every such packet, near the address, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon under or by virtue of this Warrant; and as to any such packet posted in the Colony of the Gold Coast, the postage thereof shall in every case be pre-paid, either in money or by the proper colonial postage stamp or stamps being affixed thereto at the time of the same being posted.

And we further order and direct, that every such packet shall be sent without a cover, or in a cover or envelope open at the ends or sides, and shall contain printed matter only, with the binding thereof, and there shall be no writing or marks upon the cover or envelope thereof, or upon or within any part of the contents thereof, other than the name and address of the person to whom the packet shall be sent.

And in order to prevent any obstacles to the due and regular transmission of letters by the post, we further direct, that it shall be lawful for any officer of the Post-office in the United Kingdom to delay the transmission of any packet posted or forwarded by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, for the space of twenty-four hours from the time at which (or at his option until the dispatch of the mail next after that by which) the same ought otherwise to have been forwarded by him.

And we further direct, that nothing hereinbefore contained shall be construed to interfere with or affect the transmission by the post of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or of printed votes and proceedings of the Colonial Legislatures, nor of printed papers or other printed publications which are allowed to pass by the post under the newspaper privilege.

And we further order and direct, that if any packet sent, or tendered, or delivered in order to be sent by the post, under the provisions of this present Warrant, shall contain any paper or thing besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, and the binding thereof, or shall have any writing or marks upon the same or upon the cover or envelope thereof, except the name and address of the person to whom it is forwarded, or shall not be open at the ends or sides, or shall in length, or breadth, or width, or depth, exceed the dimensions of two feet or twenty-four inches, or shall contain more than one printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, or shall contain any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall not be sewed or bound together, or if the postage of any such packet posted in the United Kingdom, shall not be duly and properly pre-paid by British stamps when posted, or if the postage of any such packet, posted in the Colony of the Gold Coast, shall not be duly and properly pre-paid in money, or by colonial stamps, when posted, the same shall and may be detained and opened at any place in the United Kingdom, and at the option of the Postmaster-General, shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, or be given up to the person to whom it shall be addressed, or forwarded to the place of its destination; and any such packet, on being so returned, given up, or forwarded, shall be chargeable with the like amount of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter.

And we further direct, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any packets sent through any foreign country to which a transit rate of postage would be payable thereon, nor to any packets sent by private ships.

And we further order and direct that the term “by the post” used in this Warrant, shall, as to the sea conveyance, include the conveyance by packet-boat ; and that the several other terms and expressions used in this Warrant, shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects, as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

And we further direct that this Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

Provided, lastly, and we do hereby declare and direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty’s Treasury, or any two of them, by Warrant under their hands, at any time hereafter to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby fixed or altered, or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and from time to time to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," certain scales of weights and rates of postage were fixed and made chargeable and payable upon, for, or in respect of letters, newspapers, parliamentary proceedings, and printed papers, transmitted and forwarded by the post, and various regulations were made for facilitating the transmission of such letters and papers by the post.

And whereas by an Act, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office," the proviso concerning the maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, as fixed in and by the said first-mentioned Act is repealed; and in order to prevent packets of an unwieldy bulk, or an inconvenient size, being transmitted by the post, power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, at any time or times thereafter, by Warrant under their hands, to fix a maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, and from time to time to repeal or revoke such maximum weight wholly or in part, and declare any other maximum of weight in lieu thereof; and all letters are to be forwarded, conveyed, and delivered by the post, in conformity with any such warrant, and also in conformity with, and under and subject to, all such orders, conditions, limitations, regulations, and restrictions, as to the form, size, or dimensions thereof, whether in proportion to the weight or otherwise, as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury shall from time to time direct. And by the said Act power is also given to the Postmaster-General to collect and receive the Foreign and Colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post, and also, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, to require the postage, British, Colonial, or Foreign, of any letters sent by the post, to be pre-paid, either in money or in stamps, as he may think fit, on the same being put into the Post-office ; and also, with such consent, to abolish or restrict the pre-payment in money of postage on letters sent by the post, either altogether or on certain letters, and to require the pre-payment thereof to be in stamps, and to refuse to receive or send by the post any letters tendered contrary to any regulations thereby made. And it is also declared and enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General, and any officer of the Post-office, to detain any letters which shall be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations of that Act, or the first-mentioned Act, or contrary to the regulations of any Treasury Warrant, to be issued under or by virtue of that Act, or which had been or should be issued under or by virtue of the said first-mentioned Act, and to open such letters and either to return them to the senders thereof, or to forward them to the places of their destination, charged, in either case, with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, shall from time to time direct.

Now we, the undersigned, being two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said before-mentioned Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers, enabling us in this behalf, by this Warrant under our hands, order and direct, that printed books, printed magazines, printed reviews, and printed pamphlets, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to the colony of Prince Edward Island, or posted in Prince Edward Island, addressed to the United Kingdom, may from henceforth be transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and Prince Edward Island, subject to the several regulations and rates hereinafter contained ; that is to say :

On every packet consisting of a single printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall be sewed or bound together, if not exceeding half a pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of sixpence.

And on every such packet, if exceeding half a pound and not exceeding one pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of one shilling.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and not exceeding two pounds in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of two shillings.

And on every such packet, if exceeding two pounds and not exceeding three pounds in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of three shillings.

And for every additional one pound in weight, of any such packet above the weight of three pounds, there shall be charged and taken an additional rate of postage of one shilling, and every fraction of such additional pound shall be charged as an additional pound.

And we further order and direct, that no such packet, if containing more than one printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, or containing any paper or thing besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, or containing any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall not be sewed or bound together, or which packet, in length, or breadth, or width, or depth, shall exceed the dimensions of two feet, or twenty-four inches, shall be forwarded by the post under the provisions aforesaid.

And we further order and direct, that as to any packet hereinbefore authorized to be sent by the post, under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in the United Kingdom, the postage thereof shall in every case be pre-paid at the time of the same being posted, not in money, but by being duly stamped, with the proper British postage stamp or stamps affixed thereto, which stamp or stamps shall in every case be affixed or appear on the outside of every such packet, near the address, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon under or by virtue of this Warrant ; and as to any such packet posted in Prince Edward Island, the postage thereof shall in every case be pre-paid, either in money or by the proper colonial stamp or stamps being affixed thereto at the time of the same being posted.

And we further order and direct, that every such packet shall be sent without a cover, or in a cover or envelope open at the ends or sides, and shall contain printed matter only, with the binding thereof, and there shall be no writing or marks upon the cover or envelope thereof, or upon or within any part of the contents thereof, other than the name and address of the person to whom the packet shall be sent.

And in order to prevent any obstacles to the due and regular transmission of letters by the post, we further direct, that it shall be lawful for any officer of the Post-office in the United Kingdom to delay the transmission of any packet posted or forwarded by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, for the space of twenty-four hours from the time at which (or at his option until the dispatch of the mail next after that by which) the same ought otherwise to have been forwarded by him.

And we further direct, that nothing hereinbefore contained shall be construed to interfere with or affect the transmission by the post of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or of printed votes and proceedings of the Colonial Legislatures, nor of printed papers or other printed publications which are allowed to pass by the post under the newspaper privilege.

And we further order and direct, that if any packet sent, or tendered, or delivered in order to be sent by the post, under the provisions of this present Warrant, shall contain any paper or thing besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, and the binding thereof, or shall have any writing or marks upon the same or upon the cover or envelope thereof, except the name and address of the person to whom it is forwarded, or shall not be open at the ends or sides, or shall in length, or breadth, or width, or depth, exceed the dimensions of two feet or twenty-four inches, or shall contain more than one printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, or shall contain any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall not be sewed or bound together, or if the postage of any such packet posted in the United Kingdom, shall not be duly and properly pre-paid by British stamps when posted, or if the postage of any such packet, posted in Prince Edward's Island, shall not be duly and properly pre-paid in money, or by colonial stamps, when posted, the same shall and may be detained and opened at any place in the United Kingdom, and at the option of the Postmaster-General, shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, or be given up to the person to whom it shall be addressed, or be forwarded to the place of its destination; and any such packet, on being so returned, given up, or forwarded, shall be chargeable with the like amount of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter.

And we further direct, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any packets sent through a foreign country to which a transit rate of postage would be payable thereon, nor to any packets sent by private ships.

And we further order and direct that the term "by the post" used in this Warrant, shall, as to the sea conveyance, include the conveyance by packet-boat; and that the several other terms and expressions used in this Warrant, shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects, as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

And we further direct that this Warrant, so far as respects any packet hereinbefore authorised to be sent by the post under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in the United Kingdom, shall come into operation on the first day of September next; and that so far as respects any packet hereinbefore authorised to be sent by the post under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in Prince Edward Island, this Warrant shall come into operation on the day of the date hereof.

Provided, lastly, and we do hereby declare and direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any two of them, by Warrant under their hands, at any time hereafter to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby fixed or altered, or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and from time to time to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of AUGUST 9, 1853.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 8th day of August, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

THIS day the Right Honourable Duncan McNeill, the Lord Justice General of Scotland, was, by Her Majesty's command, sworn of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took his place at the Board accordingly.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 8th day of August, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HER Majesty in Council was this day pleased, upon a representation of the Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education, to appoint the Reverend William Parsons Warburton, M.A., to be one of Her Majesty's Inspectors of Schools.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 8th day
of August, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held* in the sixth and seventh years of the reign of His late Majesty, King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act for rendering more easy the taking the poll at county elections," it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, from time to time, on petition from the justices of any county, riding, parts, or division in England or Wales, in quarter sessions assembled, representing that the number of polling places for such county, riding, parts, or division is insufficient, and praying that the place or places mentioned in the said petition may be a polling place or polling places for the county, riding, parts, or division of the county within which such place or places is or are situate, to declare that any place or places mentioned in the said petition shall be a polling place or polling places for that county, riding, parts, or division; and that the justices of the peace for such county, riding, parts, or division, in quarter sessions or some special sessions assembled, as mentioned in the Act, passed in the third year of the reign of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to settle

 " and determine the divisions of counties and the " limits of cities and boroughs in England and " Wales, in so far as respects the election of " Members to serve in Parliament," shall, conformably to the said last-mentioned Act, divide such county, riding, parts, or division into convenient polling districts, and assign one of such districts to each polling place :

" And whereas the justices of the peace for the county of Kent, assembled at the general quarter sessions of the peace holden by adjournment at Saint Augustines, near Canterbury, in and for the eastern division of the said county, on the 8th day of April last have presented a petition to Her Majesty in Council, representing that the number of polling places for the eastern division of the said county of Kent is insufficient, and praying that the towns of Sheerness, Faversham, Hythe, Dover, and Sandwich respectively, situate within the said eastern division, may be polling places for the said eastern division :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, having taken the said petition into consideration, is pleased in pursuance of the above first-mentioned Act of Parliament, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to declare, order, and direct, and it is hereby declared, ordered, and directed, that the said towns of Sheerness, Faversham, Hythe, Dover, and Sandwich, shall be polling places for the eastern division of the county of Kent, and farther that the justices of the peace in and for the said eastern division, in quarter sessions or some special sessions assembled, as mentioned in the said Act of the third year of the reign of His Majesty King William the Fourth, shall divide the said eastern division of the county of Kent, into convenient polling districts, and assign one of such districts to each polling place.

C. C. Greville.

India-Board, August 15, 1853.

A DISPATCH has been this day received at the East India-House, from the Governor-General of India in Council, inclosing the Notification of which the following is a copy :

NOTIFICATION.

Fort William, June 30, 1853.

IN the proclamation by which the province of Pegu was annexed to the British dominions in the East, the Governor-General in Council declared that he desired no further conquest in Burmah, and was willing to consent that hostilities should cease.

Therefore, the Burman troops were everywhere withdrawn ; the King was dethroned by his brother, the Mengdoon Prince ; and an Envoy was sent from Ava to sue for peace.

The Burman Envoy, confessing their inability to resist the power of the British Government, and submissively soliciting its forbearance, announced his willingness to sign a treaty in accordance with the Proclamation, objecting only to the frontier being placed at Meeaday.

The Government of India, while it maintained its undoubted right to fix the frontier where it has been placed, at the same time gave signal proof of the sincerity of its desire for the renewal of friendly relations between the States ; for, in the hope of at once concluding a Treaty of Peace, the Governor-General in Council consented to withdraw the frontier from Meeaday, and place it, in strict conformity to the most literal wording of the Proclamation, immediately to the northward of Prome and Tounghoo, cities which have been described, at all times, as within the northern limits of Pegu, in the official records of transactions between the States.

But, when this concession was offered, the Burman Envoy, wholly receding from his previous declarations, refused to assent to any treaty by which a cession of territory should be made.

Thereupon, the negotiations were at once broken off; the frontier of the British Territories was finally fixed to the north-west of Meeaday and Tounghoo; and the Envoy was directed to quit the camp.

The Envoy proceeded to the capital, whence he has now conveyed to the Government of India the sentiments and proposals of the Court of Ava.

The King expresses his desire for the cessation of war.

The King announces, that "Orders have been issued to the Governors of Districts, not to allow the Burmese troops to attack the territories of Meeaday and Tounghoo, in which the British Government has placed its garrisons." Furthermore, the King has set at liberty the British subjects who had been carried prisoners to Ava; and he has expressed his wish, that "the merchants and people of both countries should be allowed, in accordance with former friendship, to pass up and down the river, for the purpose of trading."

Mindful of the assurance he gave that hostilities would not be resumed so long as the Court of Ava refrained from disputing our quiet possession of the province of Pegu, the Governor-General in Council is willing to accept these pacific declarations and acts of the King, as substantial proof of his acquiescence in the proposed conditions of peace, although a formal treaty has not been concluded.

Wherefore, the Governor-General in Council permits the raising of the river blockade; consents to the renewal of former intercourse with Ava; and now proclaims the restoration of peace.

The Army of Ava will no longer be maintained on a war establishment. At the same time, a force will be permanently retained in Pegu, amply adequate for its defence, and fully prepared for the event of war.

The Governor-General in Council, while he announced the successive events of the war, has gladly seized each fitting occasion for bestowing promptly on the several officers whose services were mentioned with distinction, the cordial thanks and approbation of the Government of India.

His Lordship in Council deems it unnecessary now to repeat in detail acknowledgments of individual merit that are still so recent; but he cannot close the record of this war without again conveying to the Services generally an assurance of the admiration with which he has viewed the combined exertions whereby, under God's good providence, the supremacy of our power in the East has once more been asserted and upheld.

A full and fitting recognition of the services of Her Majesty's Naval Squadron, belongs to a higher authority than his. But the Governor-General in Council begs leave to offer to Commodore Lambert, to the officers, seamen, and marines, who have been employed on the coast of Burmah, and more especially to the officers and crew of H. M. S. Fox, an acknowledgment of the deep obligation which the Government of India owes to them, for the gallantry, the good conduct, the unflinching endurance, and ready cheerfulness, with which they have performed the harassing duties, by which the Government of India has profited so largely.

With sentiments of equal cordiality, the Governor-General in Council once again renews to Major-General Godwin, and, through him, to Brigadier-General Sir John Cheape, to Brigadier-General Steel, and to all the officers and non-commissioned officers and soldiers of the armies of Bengal and Madras, who have been serving in Pegu, his best and truest thanks for the courage, the fortitude, and steady discipline, which they have exhibited on every service in which they have been employed throughout the war with Burmah.

To Captain Lynch and to the officers, seamen, and marines of the Indian Navy, and, at the same time, to the officers and men of the Bengal Marine, and to the commanders and crews of the River Flotilla, the Governor-General in Council desires to offer the assurance of his full approbation, and of his entire appreciation of the exertions and privations they have undergone in the course of the trying duties in which they have been engaged.

In testimony of the sense that is entertained of the services and conduct of the combined force, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that a donation of six months' batta shall be issued to all officers, non-commissioned officers, and men of the several Naval and Military Forces that have been employed during the progress of the war with Burmah.

And it shall be the further care of the Governor-General in Council to bring these services and conduct under the special notice, and recommend them to the most favourable consideration, of Her Majesty's Government, and of the Honourable Court of Directors.

By order, &c.,
J. P. GRANT,
Officiating Secretary to the Government of India.

Foreign-Office, August 3, 1853.

FROM THE LONDON GAZETTE of AUGUST 23, 1853.

The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Saturday, August 20, 1853.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

WE are commanded by Her Majesty to release you from your attendance in Parliament, and at the same time to express Her Majesty's cordial approbation of the zeal and assiduity with which, during a protracted and laborious session, you have applied yourselves to the consideration of many subjects of great importance to the public welfare.

Her Majesty has seen with much satisfaction, that by the remission and reduction of taxes which tended to cramp the operations of trade and industry, you have given fresh extension to a system of beneficent legislation, and have largely increased the means of obtaining the necessaries of life.

The provision which you have made for meeting the demands of the public service, not only in the present but also in future years, is of a nature to give permanent stability to our finances, and thereby to aid in consolidating the strength and resources of the empire.

The buoyant state of the revenue, and the steady progress of our Foreign trade, are proofs of the wisdom of the commercial policy now firmly established; while the prosperity which pervades the great trading and producing classes, happily without even a partial exception, affords continued and increasing evidence of the enlarged comforts of the people.

The measure which you have passed for the future Government of India has been readily sanctioned by Her Majesty, in the persuasion that it will prove to have been wisely framed, and that it is well calculated to promote the improvement and welfare of Her Majesty's Eastern Dominions.

Her Majesty regards with peculiar satisfaction the provision you have made for the better administration of Charitable Trusts. The obstacles which existed to the just and beneficial use of property set apart for purposes of charity and of education have been a serious public evil, to which Her Majesty is persuaded that in your wisdom you have now applied an efficient remedy.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

We are commanded by Her Majesty to thank you for the supplies which you have granted for the service of the present year, and for the provision which you have made for the defence of the country, both by sea and land. Her Majesty will apply them with a due regard to economy, and consistently with that spirit which has at all times made our national security the chief object of Her care.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Her Majesty commands us to inform you, that she continues to receive from Her allies the assurance of their unabated desire to cultivate the most friendly relations with this country.

It is with deep interest and concern that Her Majesty has viewed the serious misunderstanding which has recently arisen between Russia and the Ottoman Porte.

The Emperor of the French has united with Her Majesty in earnest endeavours to reconcile differences, the continuance of which might involve Europe in war.

Acting in concert with Her allies, and relying on the exertions of the conference now assembled at Vienna, Her Majesty has good reason to hope that an honourable arrangement will speedily be accomplished.

Her Majesty rejoices in being able to announce to you the termination of the war on the frontiers of the settlement of the Cape of Good Hope; and She trusts that the establishment of Representative Government in that colony may lead to the development of its resources, and enable it to make efficient provision for its future defence.

We are also commanded to congratulate you that by the united exertions of the Naval and Military Forces of Her Majesty and of the East India Company the war in Burmah has been brought to an honourable and successful issue; the objects of the war having been fully attained, and due submission made by the Burmese Government, peace has been proclaimed.

Her Majesty contemplates, with grateful satisfaction and thankfulness to Almighty God, the tranquillity which prevails throughout Her dominions, together with that peaceful industry and obedience to the laws which ensure the welfare of all classes of Her subjects. It is the first desire of Her Majesty to promote the advance of every social improvement, and, with the aid of your wisdom, still further to extend the prosperity and happiness of Her people.

Then a Commission for proroguing the Parliament was read; after which the Lord Chancellor said,

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

By virtue of Her Majesty's Commission, under the Great Seal, to us and other Lords directed, and now read, we do, in Her Majesty's name, and in obedience to Her commands, prorogue this Parliament to Thursday the twenty-seventh day of October next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Thursday the twenty-seventh day of October next.

At the Court at Osborne-House, Isle of Wight, the 19th day of August 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

IT is this day ordered by Her Majesty in Council that the Parliament be prorogued from Saturday the twentieth day of August instant to Thursday the twenty-seventh day of October next

By the QUEEN.

A PROCLAMATION.

In order to the Electing a Peer of Scotland.

VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS Francis William, Earl of Seafield, was duly elected and returned to be one of the sixteen Peers of Scotland, to sit in the 1853.

House of Peers in the present Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and is since deceased: In order to the electing another Peer of Scotland to sit in his room, We do, by the advice of Our Privy Council, issue forth this Our Royal Proclamation, strictly charging and commanding all the Peers of Scotland to assemble and meet at Holyrood House, at Edinburgh, on Wednesday the seventh day of September next ensuing, between the hours of twelve and two in the afternoon, to nominate and choose another Peer of Scotland to sit and vote in the House of Peers in this present Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the room of the said Francis William, Earl of Seafield, deceased, by open election and plurality of voices of the Peers that shall be then present, and of the proxies of such as shall be absent (such proxies being Peers, and producing a mandate in writing duly signed before witnesses, and both the constituents and proxy being qualified according to law): and the Lord Clerk Register, or such two of the Principal Clerks of the Session as shall be appointed by him to officiate in his name, are hereby respectively required to attend such meeting, and to administer the oaths required by law to be taken there by the said Peers, and to take their votes; and immediately after such election made and duly examined, to certify the name of the Peer so elected, and to sign and attest the same in the presence of the said Peers the electors, and return such certificate into Our High Court of Chancery of Great Britain: and We strictly charge and command that this Our Royal Proclamation be duly published at the Market Cross at Edinburgh, and in all the county towns of Scotland, ten days at least before the time hereby appointed for the meeting of the said Peers to proceed on such election.

Given at Our Court at Osborne-House, Isle of Wight, this nineteenth day of August, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and in the seventeenth year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 13th day of June, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the third and fourth years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to regulate the Trade to China and India," it was among other things enacted, that it should and might be lawful for His Majesty to appoint not exceeding three of His Majesty's subjects to be Superintendents of the Trade of His Majesty's subjects to and from the dominions of the Emperor of China; and by any Order or Orders in Council to make and issue directions and regulations touching the said trade and for the government of His Majesty's subjects within the said dominions:

And whereas by a certain other Act passed in the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the better government of Her Majesty's subjects resorting to China," it was among other things enacted, that it should be lawful for Her Majesty to authorize the Superintendent of the Trade of Her Majesty's subjects in China (so long as such Superintendent should be also the Governor of the Island of Hong-Kong) to enact, with the advice of the Legislative Council of the said Island of Hong-Kong, all such Laws and Ordinances as might from time to time be required for the peace, order, and good government of Her Majesty's subjects being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within any ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China; and that it should also be lawful for Her Majesty, by any Order or Orders in Council, to ordain, for the government of Her Majesty's subjects, being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within any ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China, any Law or Ordinance which to Her Majesty in Council might seem meet :

And whereas by a certain other Act passed in the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to remove doubts as to the " exercise of power and jurisdiction by Her Majesty " within divers countries and places out of Her " Majesty's dominions, and to render the same
 " more effectual," it was among other things enacted, that it should be lawful for Her Majesty to hold, exercise, and enjoy any power or jurisdiction which Her Majesty now hath or may at any time hereafter have within any country or place out of Her Majesty's dominions, in the same and as ample a manner as if Her Majesty had acquired such jurisdiction by the cession or conquest of territory :

And whereas by Treaty, Grant, Sufferance, or other lawful means, Her Majesty hath power and jurisdiction over British subjects within the dominions of the Emperor of China, and the same or certain parts thereof have heretofore been exercised on behalf of Her Majesty by Her Majesty's Consular officers resident within the said dominions :

And whereas in pursuance of the powers vested in Her Majesty by the above-recited Act of the third and fourth years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, Her Majesty was pleased, by an Order in Council passed on the twenty-fourth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, to prohibit her subjects from resorting, for the purposes of trade and commerce, to any other ports in the dominions of the Emperor of China than those of Canton, Amoy, Foochowfoo, Ningpo, and Shanghae, or than might be in the occupation of Her Majesty's forces.

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by a certain other Order in Council, passed on the second day of October, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, to order, that if any law or ordinance made in pursuance of the above-recited Act passed in the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the better government of Her Majesty's subjects resorting to China," should be in anywise repugnant to or at variance with the above-recited Order of Her Majesty in Council of the twenty-fourth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, or with certain Orders passed by His late Majesty King William the Fourth, on the ninth of December, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three, for the government and trade of His Majesty's subjects at Canton in the dominions of the Emperor of China, and for the appointment of a court of justice with criminal and Admiralty jurisdiction for the trial of offences committed by His Majesty's subjects within the said dominions and the ports and havens thereof, or on the high seas within one hundred miles from the coast of China; or with a certain other Order passed by Her Majesty on the fourth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, directing that the said court of justice should be holden in the Island of Hong-Kong, for the purposes aforesaid ; then such law or ordinance, so long as the same should be in force, should be obeyed and observed ; anything in the said recited Orders in Council contained to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding :

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased by a certain other Order in Council, passed on the seventeenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, to order that Her Majesty's Consuls and Vice-Consuls resident within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or such other persons as by warrant under the hand and seal of the Chief Superintendent of the Trade of Her Majesty's subjects in China, for the time being, should be appointed to act provisionally as Consuls or Vice-Consuls, should severally in the districts within which they might respectively be appointed to reside, have and hold all necessary power and authority to exercise jurisdiction over British subjects within such districts as aforesaid, for the repression and punishment of crimes and offences by them committed within the dominions of the Emperor of China, and for the arrangement and settlement of all and all manner of differences, contentions, suits, and variances that might or or should happen to arise between them or any of them : and should moreover have power and authority, as far as in them might lie, to compose and settle all and all manner of differences, contentions, suits and variances, that might or should happen to arise between British subjects and the subjects of the Emperor of China, or between British subjects and the subjects of any foreign Power, and which might be brought before them for settlement ; and Her Majesty was further pleased to order that Her Majesty's Consuls and

Vice-Consuls in China, or any persons acting provisionally as such Consuls or Vice-Consuls, should, in the exercise of the jurisdiction so granted to them be governed by such laws and ordinances in that behalf as might be enacted with the advice of the Legislative Council of the Island of Hong-Kong, by the Superintendent of the Trade of Her Majesty's subjects in China for the time being, being the Governor of Hong-Kong; and Her Majesty was further pleased to appoint the Colony of Hong-Kong as the British colony, wherein crimes and offences committed by British subjects within the dominions of the Emperor of China, which it might be expedient should be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished within Her Majesty's dominions, should be so inquired of, tried, determined, and punished:

And whereas, in virtue of the powers conferred upon Her Majesty by the above-recited Act passed in the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the better government of Her Majesty's subjects resorting to China," divers ordinances have, by authority of Her Majesty, from time to time, been enacted by the Superintendent of the Trade of Her Majesty's subjects in China, being the Governor of the Island of Hong-Kong, with the advice of the Legislative Council of the said island: and whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the same:

I. Now, therefore, in pursuance of the above-recited Act passed in the third and fourth years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to regulate the trade to China and India," and in pursuance of the above-recited Act, passed in the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the better government of Her Majesty's subjects resorting to China," and in execution of the powers thereby in Her Majesty in Council vested, Her Majesty is pleased, with the advice of her Privy Council, to order, and doth hereby order, that from and after the first day of November next ensuing each and every Ordinance enacted as aforesaid by the Superintendent of the Trade of Her Majesty's subjects in China, being the Governor of the Island of Hong Kong, with the advice of the Legislative Council of the said island, between the twenty-third day of January, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, and the twenty-eighth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two, shall be and is hereby repealed : Provided always, that anything done by the Chief Superintendent or any Consul or Vice-Consul, or person duly authorized to act as such, in pursuance of any Ordinance so repealed previously to the first day of November next ensuing, shall have the same force and effect as if this present Order had not been passed.

II. And it is further ordered, that the term "Chief Superintendent" in this present Order shall be construed to mean the Superintendent of British Trade in China for the time being, or the person duly authorized to act as such ; and the term "Consul" shall be construed to include all and every officer in Her Majesty's service, whether Consul-General, Consul, Vice-Consul, or Consular Agent, or person duly authorized to act in any of the aforesaid capacities within the dominions of the Emperor of China, and engaged in carrying out the provisions of this Order ; and that wherever in this Order, with reference to any person, matter or thing, any word or words is or are used importing the singular number, or the masculine gender only, yet such word or words shall be understood to include several persons, as well as one person, females as well as males, and several matters or things as well as one matter or thing, unless it be otherwise specially provided, or there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction ; and that the terms " British ship or vessel," or " ship or vessel under the British Flag," shall be taken and held to include any ship or vessel British-registered and navigated according to law, and any ship or vessel owned by a party entitled by law to be an owner of a British-registered vessel, and any ship or vessel provided with sailing-letters from the Governor of the Colony of Hong Kong, or from the Chief Superintendent of Trade ; and that the term " crew" shall be taken and held to include all persons employed in navigating any ship or vessel which may be proceeded against for a breach of the provisions of the present Order.

III. And it is further ordered, that the Chief Superintendent, or Consul in the port, place, or district in which he may reside, shall have full power and authority to carry into effect, and to enforce by fine or imprisonment, as hereinafter provided, the observance of the stipulations of treaties now existing or which may hereafter be made between Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, and the Emperor of China, his heirs and successors, and to make, and enforce by fine or imprisonment, rules and regulations for the observance of the stipulations of such treaties, and for the peace, order, and good government of Her Majesty's subjects being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within any British ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China, and to enforce in like manner such rules and regulations, as have heretofore been made and continue unrepealed at the time of the passing of the present Order.

IV. And it is further ordered, that all rules and regulations heretofore made and continuing unrepealed, or to be hereafter made by the Chief Superintendent or Consul, as aforesaid, shall forthwith be printed, and a copy of the same be affixed and kept affixed and exhibited in some conspicuous place in the public office of the said Chief Superintendent or Consul ; and printed copies of the said rules and regulations shall be provided by the said Chief Superintendent or Consul, and sold at a price not exceeding one dollar for each copy, and for the purpose of convicting any person offending against the said rules and regulations, and for all other purposes of law whatsoever, a printed copy of the said rules and regulations, certified under the hand of the said Chief Superintendent or Consul to be a true copy thereof, shall be taken as conclusive evidence of such rules and regulations ; and no penalty shall be incurred, or shall be enforced, for the breach of any such rules or regulations to be hereafter made, until the same shall have been so affixed and exhibited for one calendar month in the public office of the Consular district within which the breach of such rules or regulations shall be alleged to have been committed: Provided always, that no rule or regulation to be hereafter made by any of Her Majesty's Consuls, and to be enforced by a penalty, shall take effect until it has been submitted to, and approved by, the Chief Superintendent, and has thereupon been printed, and a copy of the same has been affixed and exhibited as aforesaid for one calendar month in the public office of the Consular district.

V. And it is further ordered, That it shall be lawful for the Chief Superintendent or Consul as aforesaid, upon information, or upon the complaint of any party, that a British subject has violated any of the stipulations of treaties between Her Majesty and the Emperor of China, or has disregarded or infringed any of the rules and regulations for the observance of the stipulations of such treaties, affixed and exhibited according to the provisions of the next preceding article of this present Order, to summon before him the accused party, and to receive evidence and examine witnesses as to the guilt or innocence of such party in regard to the offence laid to his charge ; and to award such penalty of fine or imprisonment to any party convicted of an offence against the said treaties or the said rules and regulations, as may be specified in the said treaties or in the said rules and regulations ; and any charge against a British subject for a breach of treaties, or for a breach of the rules and regulations for the observance of such treaties, shall be heard and determined by the Chief Superintendent or Consul without assessors : Provided always, that in no case shall the penalty to be attached to a breach of the said rules and regulations exceed five hundred dollars, or three months' imprisonment.

VI. And it is further ordered, That any charge against a British subject for a breach of rules and regulations other than those relating to the observance of treaties, shall in like manner be heard and determined by the Chief Superintendent or Consul ; and in all cases in which the penalty shall not exceed two hundred dollars or one month's imprisonment, the Chief Superintendent or Consul shall hear and determine the charge summarily without the aid of assessors ; but where the penalty attached to a breach of the rules and regulations, other than those relating to the observance of treaties, shall amount to more than two hundred dollars or to imprisonment for more than one month, it shall be obligatory upon the Consul, but not upon the Chief Superintendent, before he shall proceed to hear the charge, to summon two British subjects of good repute residing within his district to sit with him as assessors, which assessors shall however have no authority to decide on the innocence or guilt of the party charged, or on the amount of fine or imprisonment to be awarded to him on conviction; but it shall rest with the Consul to decide on the guilt or innocence of the party charged, and on the amount of fine or imprisonment to be awarded to him: Provided always, that in no case shall the penalty to be attached to a breach of rules and regulations other than those for the observance of treaties exceed five hundred dollars or three months' imprisonment; and provided further, that in the event of the said assessors or either of them dissenting from the conviction of the party charged, or from the penalty of fine or imprisonment awarded to him by the Consul, the Consul shall take a note of such dissent, with the grounds thereof, and shall require good and sufficient security for the appearance of the party convicted at a future time, in order to undergo his sentence or receive his discharge; and the Consul shall within twenty days report his decision, with all the particulars of the case, together with the dissent of the assessors or either of them, and the grounds thereof, to the Chief Superintendent; and the Chief Superintendent shall have authority to confirm, or vary, or reverse the decision of the Consul, as to him may seem fit: Provided always that if an appeal shall be entered against the decision of the Consul, no such report shall be made to the Chief Superintendent on the ground of the dissent of the assessors, or either of them, but the appeal shall be prosecuted in the manner hereinafter ordered.

VII. And it is further ordered, that in any question relating to the observance of treaties, or of rules and regulations for the observance of treaties, or of rules and regulations other than those for the observance of treaties, a report of any or every decision made by a subordinate Consular officer, with or without the aid of assessors, shall be sent in to the superior Consular officer of the district, and that on the receipt of such report, the superior Consular officer of such district shall proceed, without assessors, to revise such decision as to him may seem fit, and such revision shall have, for the purposes of this Order, the same effect as if the case had been originally heard and determined by such superior Consular officer with or without the aid of assessors: Provided always, that in any case in which the assessors or either of them shall dissent from the decision of a subordinate Consular officer, such decision shall not be subject to revision by the superior Consular officer, but, in the event of no appeal being entered as aforesaid, shall be submitted to the Chief Superintendent for revision in the same manner as if such decision had been made by the superior Consular officer.

VIII. And it is further ordered, That any party tried and convicted before a Consul for a breach of treaties between Her Majesty and the Emperor of China, or for a breach of rules and regulations for the observance of such treaties, or for a breach of rules and regulations other than those relating to the observance of treaties, may appeal, after sentence given by such Consul, to the Chief Superintendent, who shall have power to confirm, or vary, or reverse such sentence, as to him may seem fit, and to adjudge the expenses of such appeal, and from whose decision there shall be no appeal; and upon notice given of such appeal, which notice must be given to the Consul in writing, signed by the party appealing, within fifteen days the Consul shall be entitled to require reasonable security from the party so appealing, which security shall in part consist of one or two sufficient sureties to be approved by the Consul, to the intent that if the Chief Superintendent should confirm or vary the sentence passed by the Consul, the appellant shall submit to such sentence, and likewise pay what shall be adjudged by the Chief Superintendent for expenses: Provided always, that the Consul shall forthwith report such appeal and transmit a copy of the proceedings of such trial to the Chief Superintendent, and the party appealing against the sentence of the Consul shall be required to prosecute his appeal before the Chief Superintendent within such time as shall be by the Consul, with the approval of the Chief Superintendent, assigned for the prosecution of such appeal; and if the party appealing shall not duly prosecute his appeal within such time as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the Consul to enforce his sentence in the same manner as if such appeal had not been interposed.

IX. And it is further ordered, That if any party charged with an offence committed against such treaties, or such rules and regulations as aforesaid, shall escape or remove from the Consular district within which such offence was committed, and shall be found within another Consular district, it shall be lawful for the Consul within whose district such party shall be found, to proceed against him in the same manner as if the offence had been committed within such district.

X. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for the Consul of the district, within which the party sued shall be found, to hear and determine any suit of a civil nature against a British subject, arising within any part of the dominions of the Emperor of China, whether such suit be instituted by a subject of the Emperor of China or by a subject or citizen of a foreign State in amity with Her Majesty; and if either or any party in such suit shall be dissatisfied with the decision given by such Consul, it shall be lawful for such party within fifteen days to give to the Consul notice of appeal to the Chief Superintendent; whereupon the Consul shall, with as little delay as possible, transmit all the documents which were produced before him, and none other, together with a statement of the grounds on which he has formed his decision, to the Chief Superintendent, and shall forthwith notify to the several parties the transmission of the process; and saving the provision contained in Article XV of this Order, the Chief Superintendent shall decide on such documents and on such statement, and shall communicate his decision to the Consul, who shall forthwith proceed to carry the same into execution; and against such decision of the Chief Superintendent there shall be no appeal: Provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Consul to require from any party appealing to the Chief Superintendent, or to the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong-Kong in the case hereinafter mentioned, reasonable security, which shall consist, in part, of one or two sufficient sureties to be approved by the Consul, that such party shall abide by the decision to be given respectively by the Chief Superintendent, or by the said Supreme Court.

XI. And it is further ordered, That it shall be lawful for the Consul of the district, within which the party sued shall be found, in like manner to hear and determine any suit of a civil nature, arising within any part of the dominions of the Emperor of China, instituted by a British subject against a subject of the Emperor of China, or against a subject or citizen of a Foreign State in amity with Her Majesty, provided that the defendant in such suit shall consent to submit to his jurisdiction and give sufficient security that he will abide by the decision of the Consul, or in case of appeal by that of the Chief Superintendent, and will pay such expenses as the Consul or Chief Superintendent shall adjudge; and if either or any party in such suit shall be dissatisfied with the decision given by such Consul, it shall be lawful for such party within fifteen days to give to the Consul notice of appeal to the Chief Superintendent, and the proceedings in such a suit, or in an appeal arising therefrom, shall be conformable to and under the same conditions as the proceedings in a suit, or in an appeal arising therefrom, in which a British subject is defendant, and a subject of the Emperor of China, or a subject or citizen of a foreign State in amity with Her Majesty, is plaintiff.

XII. And it is further ordered, That in the event of any suit of a civil nature arising between British subjects within the dominions of the Emperor of China, it shall be lawful, upon the application of a party, for the Consul of the district, within which the party sued shall be found, to hear and determine such suit, subject to an appeal to the Chief Superintendent in any case where the sum in dispute shall not exceed one thousand dollars; and every such appeal shall be made and conducted in the same manner and form and under the same conditions as in cases in which the defendant only is a British subject: Provided always, that when the sum in dispute shall exceed one thousand dollars, the appeal shall lie to the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong-Kong, and not to the Chief Superintendent.

XIII. And it is further ordered, That it shall be lawful for any of Her Majesty's Consuls, before whom any suit whatever of a civil nature is brought for decision, to summon two, and not more than four, British subjects of good repute, residing within his district, to sit with him as assessors at the hearing of such suit; and in case the sum sought to be recovered shall exceed five hundred dollars, such suit shall not be heard by the Consul without assessors, if within a reasonable time such assessors can be procured; and the assessors aforesaid shall have no authority to decide on the merits of such suit, but in the event of such assessors or or any or either of them dissenting from the decision of the Consul, the Consul shall enter the fact of such dissent and the grounds thereof in the minutes of the proceedings, and in case of appeal shall transmit the same to the Chief Superintendent together with the documents relating to the suit.

XIV. And it is further ordered, That it shall be lawful for the Chief Superintendent or Consul to enforce his decision against a British subject in a civil suit, by distress or imprisonment, in like manner as a decision of the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong-Kong in a civil suit is enforced within the said Colony.

XV. And it is further ordered, that in an appeal to the Chief Superintendent from the decision of a Consul, it shall not be open to either or any party to adduce any further evidence than that which has been laid before the Consul; and that a party shall not be required to appear personally to prosecute an appeal or support a sentence: Provided always, that in all appeals from the decision of a Consul, it shall be lawful for a party to allege facts essential to the issue of the suit, which have come to his knowledge subsequently to the decision of the Consul, and to produce evidence in support of such facts: and Provided also, that in an appeal to the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong-Kong, it shall moreover be lawful for the said Supreme Court to admit any further legal evidence, besides that adduced before the Consul, on its being established to the satisfaction of the said Supreme Court, by oath or affidavit, that the party desiring to produce such further evidence, was ignorant of the existence of such evidence, or was taken by surprise at the hearing before the Consul, or was unable to produce it before the Consul, after due and reasonable diligence and exertion on his part in that behalf, or where, under the circumstances of the case, it shall appear to the said Supreme Court that further evidence ought to be received.

XVI. And it is further ordered, that the Chief Superintendent or Consul shall have power in a civil suit to examine on oath or in such form and with such ceremony as he may declare to be binding on his conscience, any witness who may appear before him, and shall have power, on the application of any party in the said suit, to issue a compulsory order for the attendance of any person, being a British subject, who may be competent to give evidence in such suit, and any British subject having been duly served with any such compulsory order, and with a reasonable notice of the day of the hearing of such suit, upon his expenses of appearing as a witness having been paid or tendered to him by the party at whose application he shall have been ordered to attend, shall, on his wilful default to appear as a witness at the hearing of such suit, be punished with a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or with imprisonment for a period not exceeding thirty days, at the discretion of the said Chief Superintendent or Consul ; and every witness, being a British subject, so examined as aforesaid, in case of wilful false testimony, may be convicted of and punished for the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

XVII. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for the Chief Superintendent or Consul to promote the settlement of a suit or contention by amicable agreement between the parties, and with the consent of the several parties to refer the decision of a suit or contention to one or more arbitrators, and to take security from the parties that they will be bound by the result of such reference, and the award of such arbitrator or arbitrators shall be to all intents and purposes deemed and taken to be a judgment or sentence of the Chief Superintendent or Consul, in such suit or contention, and shall be entered and recorded as such, and shall have the like effect and operation, and shall be enforced accordingly, and shall not be open to appeal.

XVIII. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for any of Her Majesty's Consuls to cause to be apprehended and brought before him any British subject who may be charged with having committed any crime or offence within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or within any British ship or vessel being within one hundred miles from the coast of China, or within any ship or vessel on the high seas within the same limits not being lawfully entitled to claim the protection of the flag of any State or nation, or within any Chinese ship or vessel within the said limits; and such Consul shall thereupon proceed with all convenient speed to inquire of the same, and for such purpose and end shall have power to examine on oath, or in such form and with such ceremony as he shall declare to be binding on his conscience, any witness who may appear before him to substantiate the charge; and shall have power to compel any person, being a British subject, who may be competent to give evidence, as to the guilt or innocence of the party so charged, to appear and give evidence, and to punish the wilful default of any such person to appear and give evidence, after reasonable notice of the day of the hearing of such charge, by fine or imprisonment, in like manner as provided in the Article XVI of this Order ; and shall examine every such witness in the presence and hearing of the party accused, and afford the accused party all reasonable facility for cross-examining such witness ; and shall cause the deposition of every such witness to be reduced to writing, and the same to be read over, and, if necessary, explained to the party accused, together with any other evidence that may have been urged against him during the course of the inquiry ; and shall require such accused party to defend himself against the charge brought against him, and, if necessary, advise him of the legal effects of any voluntary confession, and shall take the evidence of any witness whom the accused party may tender to be examined in his defence ; and every witness, being a British subject, so examined as aforesaid, in case of wilful false testimony, may be convicted and punished for the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury : and when the case has been fully inquired of, and the innocence or guilt of the person accused established to the satisfaction of the Consul, the Consul, as the case may be, shall either discharge the party accused from custody, if satisfied of his innocence, or proceed to pass sentence on him, if satisfied of his guilt : and it shall be lawful for any Consul, having inquired of, tried, and determined, in the manner aforesaid, any charge which may be brought before him, to award to the party convicted any amount of punishment not exceeding imprisonment for one month, or a fine of two hundred dollars.

XIX. And it is further ordered, that if the crime or offence whereof any person, being a British subject, may be accused before any of Her Majesty's Consuls as aforesaid, shall appear to such Consul to be of such a nature as, if proved, would not be adequately punished by the infliction of such punishment as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such Consul to summon two, or not more than four, British subjects of good repute, residing within his district, to sit with him as assessors for inquiring of, trying, and determining the charge against such person; and the Consul who shall try any such charge with the assistance of assessors as aforesaid, shall, if he is himself convinced of the guilt of the party accused, have power to award any amount of punishment not exceeding imprisonment for twelve months, or a fine of one thousand dollars; and the assessors aforesaid shall have no authority to decide on the innocence or guilt of the party accused, or on the amount of punishment to be awarded to him on conviction; but in the event of the said assessors, or any or either of them, dissenting from the conviction of, or from the amount of punishment awarded to the accused party, the said assessors, or any or either of them, shall be authorized to record in the minutes of the proceedings the grounds on which the said assessors, or any or either of them, may so dissent; and the Consul shall forthwith report to Her Majesty's Chief Superintendent the fact that such dissent has been so recorded in the minutes of the proceedings, and shall as soon as possible lay before him copies of the whole of the depositions and proceedings, with the dissent of the assessor or assessors recorded therein; and it shall be lawful thereupon for Her Majesty's Chief Superintendent, by warrant under his hand and seal, addressed to the Consul by whom the case was determined, to confirm, or vary, or remit altogether, as to him may seem fit, the punishment awarded to the party accused; and such Consul shall give immediate effect to the injunction of any such warrant.

XX. And in order more effectually to repress crimes and offences on the part of British subjects within the dominions of the Emperor of China, it is further ordered, That it shall and may be lawful for any of Her Majesty's Consuls to cause any British subject who shall have been twice convicted before him of any crime or offence and punished for the same, and who, after execution of the sentence of the Consul, on any second conviction, shall not be able to find good and sufficient security to the satisfaction of the Consul for his future good behaviour, to be sent out of the dominions of the Emperor of China; and to this end any such Consul as aforesaid shall have power and authority, as soon as may be practicable after execution of the sentence on such second conviction, to send any such twice convicted party to the Colony of Hong-Kong, and meanwhile to detain him in custody, until a suitable opportunity for sending him out of the said dominions shall present itself; and any person so to be sent out of the said dominions as aforesaid shall be embarked in custody on board one of Her Majesty's vessels of war, or if there should be no such vessel of war available for such purpose, then on board any British vessel, bound to Hong-Kong; and it shall be lawful for the commander of any of Her Majesty's ships of war, or of any British vessel bound to Hong-Kong, to receive any such person as aforesaid under a warrant from the Consul addressed to the Chief Magistrate of Police of the Colony of Hong Kong, and thereupon to convey him in custody to Hong-Kong, and on his arrival there to deliver him with the said warrant into the custody of the said Chief Magistrate of Police, or other officer of Her Majesty within the said Colony lawfully acting as such, who on the receipt of the said warrant and of the party therein named, shall be authorized to commit and shall commit such party to the common gaol of the said Colony, to be there detained in custody subject to the directions of the Chief Superintendent for any period not exceeding three months; and any such party so embarked on board any of Her Majesty's ships of war or any British vessel bound to Hong-Kong, for conveyance in custody to Hong-Kong, shall be conveyed to Hong-Kong in the same manner as if he were a distressed British subject, unless he shall be willing and able himself to defray the expenses of his passage to Hong-Kong.

XXI. And it is further ordered, That in any case in which any British subject shall be accused before any of Her Majesty's Consuls of the crime of arson, or housebreaking, or cutting and maiming, or stabbing, or wounding, or assault endangering life, or of causing any bodily injury dangerous to life, the proceedings before the Consul shall be carried on with the aid of assessors convened in the manner aforesaid; and it shall be lawful for the Consul, if to him it shall seem fit, to cause any person convicted before him of any of the crimes aforesaid, over and above any fine or imprisonment which may be awarded to such person, to be sent out of the dominions of the Emperor of China and to the Colony of Hong-Kong in the manner pointed out in the next preceding Article of this Order, notwithstanding the crime laid to the charge of such person may be the first of which he has been convicted before the Consul.

XXII. And it is further ordered, That it shall be lawful for any of Her Majesty's Consuls within the dominions of the Emperor of China, upon information laid before him by one or more credible witnesses that there is reasonable ground to apprehend that any British subject is about to commit a breach of the public peace, to cause such British subject to be brought before him, and to require such British subject to give sufficient security to keep the peace; and in the event of any British subject being convicted of and punished for a breach of the peace to cause such British subject after he shall have undergone the punishment which may have been awarded to him by the Consul, to find security for his good behaviour; and in the event of any British subject, who may be required as aforesaid to give sufficient security to keep the peace, or to find security for his good behaviour, being unable or wilfully omitting to do so, then and in that case it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul to send such British subject out of the dominions of the Emperor of China and to the Colony of Hong-Kong, in the manner pointed out in Article XX of this Order.

XXIII. And it is further ordered, That in all cases in which a British subject shall have been sent out of the dominions of the Emperor of China to the Colony of Hong-Kong, as provided in Articles XX, XXI, and XXII of this Order, the Consul sending him out shall forthwith report such Act of deportation, with the grounds of his decision, to Her Majesty's Chief Superintendent; and on the arrival of such person at Hong-Kong, after the sentence of the Consul shall have been duly executed, it shall be lawful for the Chief Superintendent to send him to England; and a party so to be sent to England by the Chief Superintendent may be embarked and conveyed to England in the manner provided in Article XX of this Order with regard to the embarkation and conveyance of such party to the Colony of Hong-Kong: Provided always, that if the Chief Superintendent shall consider that any such act of deportation inflicts upon the party a severer punishment than this offence has deserved, it shall be lawful for the Chief Superintendent to vary or remit such punishment, as to him shall seem fit.

XXIV. And it is further ordered, That a report of every sentence passed by a subordinate Consular officer in the matters referred to in Articles XVIII, XIX, XX, XXI, and XXII, of this Order, and awarding a fine exceeding twenty dollars, or imprisonment for more than ten days, shall be sent in to the superior Consular officer of the district, and on the receipt of such report, such superior Consular officer shall proceed without assessors to revise such sentence as to him may seem fit; and if the sentence should have been pronounced by the subordinate Consular officer without assessors or with the concurrence of assessors, then the decision pronounced by the superior Consular officer on revision of the proceedings shall be final; but if the sentence of the subordinate Consular officer shall have been pronounced with dissent on the part of the assessors or of any or either of them, then the superior Consular officer shall not proceed to revise such sentence, but shall submit the whole proceedings to the Chief Superintendent in the same manner as if the case had been originally heard and decided by the superior Consular officer with dissent on the part of the assessors, or of any or either of them.

XXV. And it is further ordered, That it shall be lawful for any of Her Majesty's Consuls to send any person sentenced to imprisonment under this Order, at any time while such sentence of imprisonment is in course of execution, to the Colony of Hong-Kong in any of Her Majesty's ships of war, or in any British vessel, to undergo his term of imprisonment in the common gaol of the said colony; and it shall be lawful for the Commander of any of Her Majesty's ships of war, or of any British vessel, to receive any such person on board, with a copy of such sentence and a warrant from the Consul for its due execution, addressed to the Chief Magistrate of Police of the said colony, and thereupon to convey him in custody to Hong-Kong, and on his arrival there to deliver him with the said copy of such sentence and warrant into the custody of the said Chief Magistrate of Police, or other Officer of Her Majesty within the said Colony lawfully acting as such, who on the receipt of the said warrant, and of the person therein named, shall be authorized to commit, and shall commit such person to the common gaol of the said colony, and such sentence shall be enforced to execution in the said common gaol, in the same manner as if the sentence had been awarded by the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong-Kong.

XXVI. And it is further ordered, That in cases of assault it shall be lawful for the Consul before whom complaint is made, to promote reconciliation between the parties, and to suffer compensation and amends to be made, and the proceedings thereby to be stayed.

XXVII. And it is further ordered, That save and except as regards offences committed by British subjects against the stipulations of Treaties between Her Majesty and the Emperor of China, or against rules and regulations for the observance of the stipulations of such Treaties, duly affixed and exhibited according to the provisions of Article IV of this Order, or against rules and regulations for the peace, order, and good government of Her Majesty's subjects, being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within any British ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China, duly affixed and exhibited as aforesaid, and save and except as regards the offence of engaging in trade declared by Article XXXIV of this Order to be unlawful, no act done by a British subject being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within any ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China shall, by the Chief Superintendent, or by any of Her Majesty's Consuls, be deemed and taken to be a crime or misdemeanour, or offence, rendering the person committing it amenable to punishment, which, if done within that part of Her Majesty's dominions called England, would not by a court of justice, having criminal jurisdiction in England, have been deemed and taken to be a crime, or misdemeanour, or offence, rendering the person so committing it amenable to punishment.

XXVIII. And it is further ordered, that a minute of the proceedings in every case heard and determined before a Consul in pursuance of this Order, shall be drawn up and be signed by the Consul, and shall, in cases where assessors are present, be open for the inspection of such assessors, and for their signature, if they shall therein concur; and such minute, together with the depositions of the witnesses, shall be preserved in the public office of the said Consul, and a copy of every such minute and of such depositions shall, if the Chief Superintendent shall see fit to require them, be transmitted by the Consul to the said Chief Superintendent.

XXIX. And it is further ordered, that the Chief Superintendent shall have the same power and jurisdiction in regard to breaches of treaties, and breaches of rules and regulations, and in regard to crimes and offences committed by British subjects, as are granted to Her Majesty's Consuls by the provisions of this present Order; and if any person charged with an offence against any such treaties, or against any such rules and regulations, or with any crime or offence committed within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or within any British ship or vessel within one hundred miles from the coast of China, or within any ship or vessel on the high seas within the said limits not being lawfully entitled to claim the protection of the flag of any state or nation, or within any Chinese ship or vessel within the said limits, shall escape to, or be found within the Colony of Hong-Kong, it shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate of Police of the said colony, for the time being, or other officer of Her Majesty within the said colony, lawfully acting as such, and he is hereby required, on a requisition addressed to him by the Chief Superintendent under his hand and seal, to cause such person to be apprehended and brought before him, the said Chief Magistrate or other officer; and the said Chief Magistrate or other officer on such person being brought before him, shall proceed to inquire into the offence laid to the charge of such person, in the same manner as if such person was charged with having committed an offence within the colony of Hong-Kong, and the said Chief Magistrate or other officer having so inquired, shall report the result of such inquiry to the Chief Superintendent, and shall forthwith transmit to him the depositions with all the documents or other proofs which have been made or produced before him against or in behalf of the person so charged, and shall meanwhile detain the person so charged in custody or hold him to bail, and the Chief Superintendent shall thereupon direct the person so charged to be discharged, or shall proceed to award to such person the punishment to which he may be liable under the provisions of this Order; in the same manner as if the case had been originally inquired of, tried, and determined by the Chief Superintendent; and the decision of the Chief Superintendent in every such case shall be final, and any sentence of imprisonment awarded by the Chief Superintendent shall be enforced to execution in the common gaol of the colony of Hong-Kong, in the same manner as if the sentence had been awarded by the Supreme Court of the said colony: Provided always, that the Chief Superintendent may, if he deems it advisable for the better decision of such cases, call in the assistance of two or more assessors, who, however, shall only have power to advise, but shall not have power to decide; and provided further, that the said Chief Magistrate of Police of the Colony of Hong-Kong, or any person lawfully acting on his behalf, or under his authority, shall not be liable to any action for damages in consequence of proceedings taken by him in pursuance of any requisition addressed as aforesaid, by the Chief Superintendent to the said Chief Magistrate.

XXX. And it is further ordered, that save and except as regards offences committed by British subjects against the stipulations of Treaties between Her Majesty and the Emperor of China, or against rules and regulations for the observance of the stipulations of such Treaties, duly affixed and exhibited according to the provisions of Article IV of this Order, or against rules and regulations for the peace, order, and good government of Her Majesty's subjects, being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within any British ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China, duly affixed and exhibited as aforesaid, and save and except as regards the offence of engaging in trade declared by Article XXXIV of this Order to be unlawful, which offences shall be enquired of, tried, determined, and punished, in the manner hereinbefore and by Article XXXIV of this Order provided, and not otherwise, the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong-Kong shall have and may exercise, concurrently with the said Chief Superintendent or Consul, authority and jurisdiction in regard to all crimes and offences, committed by British subjects being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, and the ports and havens thereof, or on the high seas within any ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China, in the same and as ample a manner as if such crimes and offences had been committed within the Colony of Hong-Kong: Provided always, that the Supreme Court shall not be bound, unless in a fit case it shall deem it right so to do, by writ of certiorari or otherwise, to debar or prohibit the Chief Superintendent or Consul from taking cognizance, pursuant to the provisions of Articles XVIII, XIX, XX, XXI, and XXII, of this Order, of any crime, or misdemeanour, or offence, committed by a British subject, being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within any ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China.

XXXI. And it is further ordered, That it shall be lawful for the Chief Superintendent or Consul, to cause any British subject charged with the commission of any crime or offence the cognizance whereof may at any time appertain to him, to be sent, in any of Her Majesty's ships of war, or in any British vessel, to the Colony of Hong-Kong, for trial before the Supreme Court of the said Colony ; and it shall be lawful for the commander of any of Her Majesty's ships of war or of any British vessel to receive any such person on board, with a warrant from the said Chief Superintendent or Consul, addressed to the Chief Magistrate of Police of the said colony, and thereupon to convey him in custody to Hong-Kong, and on his arrival there to deliver him, with the said warrant, into the custody of the said Chief Magistrate of Police, or other officer of Her Majesty within the said colony lawfully acting as such, who on the receipt of the said warrant and of the party therein named, shall be authorized to commit, and shall commit such party so sent for trial to the common gaol of the said colony, and it shall be lawful for the keeper of the said common gaol to cause such party to be detained in safe and proper custody, and to be produced upon the order of the said Supreme Court ; and the Supreme Court at the sessions to be next holden shall proceed to hear and determine the charge against such party in the same manner as if the crime, with which he may be charged, had been committed within the Colony of Hong-Kong.

XXXII. And it is further ordered, That the Chief Superintendent or Consul, on any occasion of sending a prisoner to Hong-Kong for trial, shall observe the provisions made with regard to prisoners sent for trial to a British colony in an Act passed in the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled " An Act to remove doubts as to the exercise of power and jurisdiction by Her Majesty within divers countries and “ places out of Her Majesty’s dominions, and to “ render the same more effectual.”

XXXIII. And it is further ordered, That the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong-Kong shall have and may exercise, concurrently with the Chief Superintendent or Consul, authority and jurisdiction in regard to all suits of a civil nature between British subjects arising within any part of the dominions of the Emperor of China; Provided always, that the said Supreme Court shall not be bound, unless in a fit case it shall deem it right so to do, by writ of certiorari or otherwise, to debar or prohibit the Chief Superintendent or Consul from hearing and determining, pursuant to the provisions of the several Articles of this Order, any suit of a civil nature between British subjects, or to stay the proceedings of the Chief Superintendent or Consul in any such matter.

XXXIV. And it is further ordered, That all trade whatsoever of Her Majesty’s subjects in, to, or from any part of the coast of China to the northward of the thirty-second degree of north latitude, shall be unlawful; and each and every party engaged in such trade, as principal, agent, shipowner, shipmaster, or supercargo, shall be liable to be apprehended by any of Her Majesty’s Consuls, and shall be sent by him to Hong-Kong, in any of Her Majesty’s ships of war or in any British vessel, for trial before the Chief Superintendent, and it shall be lawful for the Commander of any of Her Majesty’s ships of war or of any British vessel, to receive any such party on board under a warrant from the said Consul addressed to the Chief Magistrate of Police of the Colony of Hong-Kong, and thereupon to convey him in custody to Hong-Kong, and on his arrival there to deliver him, with the said warrant, into the custody of the said Chief Magistrate of Police, or other officer of Her Majesty within the said colony lawfully acting as such, who, on the receipt of the said warrant and of the party therein named, shall be authorized to commit, and shall commit such party so sent for trial to the common gaol of the said colony, and it shall be lawful for the keeper of the said common gaol to cause such party to be detained in safe and proper custody, and to be produced upon the order of the said Chief Superintendent, and the said Chief Superintendent shall forthwith proceed to hear and determine the charge against such party, and such party upon conviction before the Chief Superintendent shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, and the sentence of the Chief Superintendent shall be enforced to execution in the same manner as if the sentence had been awarded by the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong-Kong.

XXXV. And it is further ordered, That it shall be lawful for any of the Commanders of Her Majesty's ships, or any other officer duly authorized in that behalf, to seize any ship or vessel under the British flag which may reasonably be suspected of having been engaged, or of being engaged, in trade declared in the next preceding Article to be unlawful, and to bring such ship or vessel, and the master, officers, supercargo, and crew thereof to the Colony of Hong-Kong, or to any other place where the Chief Superintendent may for the time being be resident, or direct the same to be brought, and there to detain such ship or vessel, and the master, officers, supercargo, and crew thereof, until the said Chief Superintendent shall have tried and determined the charges which may be brought against them, or any of them, of having been engaged in such unlawful trade.

XXXVI. And it is further ordered, That all finer and penalties imposed under this Order may be levied by distress and seizure and sale of ships, and goods and chattels ; and no bill of sale, mortgage, or transfer of property made after the apprehension of a party, or with a view to security in regard to crimes or offences committed or to be committed, shall avail to defeat any of the provisions of this Order.

XXXVII. And it is further ordered, That it shall be lawful for the Chief Superintendent, from time to time, to establish rules of practice to be observed in proceedings before the said Chief Superintendent or Consul, and to make regulations for defraying the expenses of witnesses in such proceedings and the costs of criminal prosecutions, and also to establish rates of fees to be taken in regard to civil suits heard and determined before the said Chief Superintendent or Consul, and it shall be lawful for the said Chief Superintendent or Consul to enforce by seizure and sale of goods, or if there be no goods, by imprisonment, the payment of such established fees, and of such expenses as may be adjudged against the parties, or either or any of them: Provided always, that a table specifying the rates of fees to be so taken shall be affixed and kept exhibited in the public office of the said Chief Superintendent or Consul.

XXXVIII. And it is further ordered, That all fees, penalties, fines, and forfeitures levied under this Order, save and except such penalties as are by treaty payable to the Chinese Government, shall be paid to the public account, and be applied in diminution of the public expenditure on account of the Superintendence and Control of British Trade in China: Provided always, that in the event of the Chinese authorities declining to receive fines payable to the Chinese Government as aforesaid, the same shall be paid to the public account, and applied in the manner last mentioned.

XXXIX. And it is further ordered, That it shall be lawful for any of Her Majesty's Consuls to grant probate of the will or letters of administration to the intestate estate of a British subject deceased and leaving property within the limits of the district within which such Consul shall exercise authority; and in the case of a party so deceased either leaving a will or intestate, it shall be lawful for the Consul, provided that probate of the will or letters of administration to the estate of the party deceased shall not have been applied for within thirty days by any person lawfully entitled thereto, to administer to such estate, and to reserve to himself out of the proceeds of such estate a commission not exceeding two and a-half per centum.

XL. And it is further ordered, That a register shall be kept by each and every of Her Majesty's Consuls, of all British subjects residing within the ports, places, or districts of China within his jurisdiction, and that every British subject now residing within the dominions of the Emperor of China who shall not be already enrolled in any such Consular register, shall within a reasonable time after the promulgation of this Order, to be specified in a notice to be affixed and publicly exhibited in the Consular Office, apply to the Consul of the district to be enrolled in such register; and every British subject who may arrive within the said dominions, save and except any British subject who may be borne on the muster-roll of any British ship arriving in a port of China, shall within a reasonable time after his arrival, to be specified as aforesaid, apply to the Consul of the district to be enrolled in such register; and any British subject who shall refuse or neglect to make application so to be enrolled, and who shall not be able to excuse, to the satisfaction of the said Consul, such his refusal or neglect, shall not be entitled to be recognized or protected as a British subject in any difficulties or suits whatsoever, in which he may have been involved within the dominions of the Emperor of China within the time during which he shall not have been so enrolled.

XLI. And it is further ordered, That the Consul within his Consular district may exercise any of the powers which by any Acts of the Imperial Parliament now enacted or hereafter to be enacted for the regulation of merchant seamen, or for the regulation of the mercantile marine, may be exercised by one or more justices of the peace within Her Majesty's dominions.

XLII. And it is further ordered, That nothing in this Order contained shall be taken or construed to preclude a British Consul within the dominions of the Emperor of China from performing any act of administration, or jurisdiction, or other act, which British Consuls within other States at amity with Her Majesty, are by law, usage, or sufferance, enabled to perform.

XLIII. And it is further ordered, That it shall be lawful for the Chief Superintendent or Consul to execute a writ of the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong-Kong, and take security from each and every party named in such writ for his appearance in person or by his attorney at Hong-Kong, and in default of such security, to send such party to Hong-Kong, in the manner pointed out in Article XXXI of this Order; Provided always, that the Chief Superintendent or Consul shall not be liable to an action for the escape of any party captured under any such writ.

XLIV. And it is further ordered, That any suit or action brought against the Chief Superintendent or Consul in the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong-Kong, by reason of anything done under the authority and in execution of the power or jurisdiction of Her Majesty entrusted to him by this Order, shall be commenced or prosecuted within six months after he shall have been within the jurisdiction of the said Court, and not otherwise, and the defendant in every such action or suit shall be entitled to the benefit of the provisions made with respect to defendants in actions or suits, in an Act passed in the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty, intituled "An Act to remove doubts as to the exercise of power and jurisdiction by Her Majesty within divers countries and places out of Her Majesty's dominions, and to render the same more effectual."

XLV. And it is further ordered, That the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong Kong shall have power to take cognizance of offences committed by British subjects within the Peninsula of Macao, and of suits originating there when the party offending or the party sued shall come or be found within its jurisdiction ; but it shall not have power to issue any warrant or writ to be executed or served within the Peninsula of Macao.

XLVI. And it is further ordered, That if any provision of any Article of this Order shall be in anywise repugnant to, or at variance with, certain Orders passed by His late Majesty King William the Fourth, on the ninth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three, or certain Orders passed by Her Majesty on the fourth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, and on the twenty-fourth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, and on the second day of October, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, and on the seventeenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, or any of them, then such provision of such Article of this Order, so long as the same shall be in force, shall be obeyed and observed, anything in the said recited Orders in Council contained to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding.

XLVII. And it is further ordered, that if any law or ordinance hereafter made in pursuance of the Act of the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the better government of Her Majesty's subjects resorting to China," shall be in any wise repugnant to or at variance with any of the provisions of this present Order of Her Majesty in Council, then such law or ordinance, so long as the same shall be in force, shall be obeyed and observed, anything in this Order contained to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding.

XLVIII. And it is further ordered that this Order shall take effect from and after the first day of November next ensuing.

And the Right Honourable the Earl of Clarendon and his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, two of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein, as to them may respectively appertain.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Osborne-House, Isle of Wight,
the 19th day of August, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the "Foreign Deserters Act, 1852," it is provided that, "whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that due facilities are or will be given for recovering and apprehending seamen who desert from British Merchant Ships in the territories of any Foreign Power, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, stating that such facilities are or will be given, declare that seamen, not being slaves, who desert from Merchant Ships belonging to a subject of such Power, when within Her Majesty's dominions or the territories of the East India Company, shall be liable to be apprehended and carried on board their respective ships, and may limit the operation of such Order, and may render the operation thereof subject to such conditions and qualifications, if any, as may be deemed expedient.

And whereas it hath been made to appear to Her Majesty, that due facilities will be given for recovering and apprehending seamen who desert from British Merchant Ships in the territories belonging to His Majesty the King of the Kingdom of the Two Sicilies:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty by virtue of the powers vested in Her by the said "Foreign Deserters Act, 1852," and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order and declare, and it is hereby ordered and declared, that from and after the publication hereof in the London Gazette, seamen, not being slaves, who desert from Merchant Ships belonging to subjects of the King of the Kingdom of the Two Sicilies within

Her Majesty's dominions or the territories of the East India Company, shall be liable to be apprehended and carried on board their respective ships.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and the Commissioners for the affairs of India, are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the sixth and seventh years of the reign of His late Majesty, King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act for rendering more easy the taking the poll at county elections," it is enacted that it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, from time to time, on petition from the justices of any county, riding, parts, or division in England or Wales, in quarter sessions assembled, representing that the number of polling places for such county, riding, parts, or divisions is insufficient, and praying that the place or places mentioned in the said petition may be a polling place or polling places for the county, riding, parts, or division, of the county within which such place or places is or are situate, to declare that any place or places mentioned in the said petition shall be a polling place or polling places for that county, riding, parts or division, and that the justices of the peace for such county, riding, parts, or division, in quarter sessions, or some special sessions assembled, as mentioned in he Act passed in the Third year of the reign of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to settle and determine the divisions of counties and the limits of cities and boroughs in England and Wales, in so far as respects the election of Members to serve in Parliament," shall, conformably to the said last-mentioned Act, divide such county, riding, parts, or division, into convenient polling districts, and assign one of such districts to each polling place:

And whereas the justices of the peace for the county of Oxford, assembled in quarter sessions of the peace, holden at Oxford, in and for the said county, on the twenty-seventh day of April last, have presented a petition to Her Majesty in Council, representing that the number of polling places for the said county of Oxford is insufficient, and praying that Banbury, Chipping Norton, Bicester, and Tetsworth, situate in the said county, may be declared polling places for the said county:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty having taken the said petition into consideration is pleased, in pursuance of the above first-mentioned Act of Parliament, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to declare, order, and direct, and it is hereby declared, ordered, and directed, that Banbury, Chipping Norton, Bicester, and Tetsworth, shall be polling places for the county of Oxford; and, further, that the justices of the peace for the said county, in quarter sessions, or some special sessions, assembled, as mentioned in the said Act of the Third year of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, shall divide the said county of Oxford into convenient polling districts, and assign one of such districts to each polling place.

At the Court at Osborne-House, Isle of Wight,
the 19th day of August, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the representations made by the Right Honourable Viscount Palmerston, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State (as set forth in this Gazette), for the discontinuance of burials in the following parishes—

BETHNAL GREEN—In the churchyard of St. Bartholomew Bethnal Green, no interment shall take place on the north side of the Church, nor within six feet of the wall of the St. Bartholomew's Schools. With the exception of rights of burial in private graves, not more than one body shall in future be deposited in any grave opened in the churchyard. With the exception of private rights of burial, interments in the same shall be wholly discontinued on and after first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five; LAMBETH—Interments in the burial-ground of Regent-street Chapel, and also under the Chapel; and in the burial-ground of Esher-street Chapel, to cease; NEWINGTON—Interments in York-street Chapel Burial-ground, Walworth, to be discontinued; SAVOY Interments in the vaults under St. Mary's German Lutheran Church, in the Savoy, to cease at once, and in the burial-ground of the same on and after the first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five; ST. JOHN SOUTHWARK—Interments to be discontinued in the Old Burial-ground, held in common by the parishes of St. Olave and St. John Southwark, and situated within the parish of St. John; ST. OLAVE SOUTHWARK—Interments to be discontinued in the churchyard; KENSINGTON—

Interments to be wholly discontinued in the churchyard and church vaults of St. Mary Abbots; GREENWICH—Interments in the burial ground of Maize-hill Chapel, Greenwich, to be wholly discontinued at the end of twelve months; BERMONDSEY—Interments in the vaults under the Roman Catholic Chapel, in Parker's-row, Bermondsey, and the garden attached to the convent, to cease, in the remaining part of the burial-ground they should be wholly discontinued on and after the first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five; and from the date of the order of closing the ground, not more than one body to be buried in one grave; ST. PETER-LE-POER—Interments in the vaults under the parish church, to be wholly discontinued; should be taken into consideration by a Committee of the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, on the 3rd day of October next.

NOTIFICATION.

WHEREAS there was concluded between Her Majesty and the United States of America, on the 8th day of February, 1853, a Convention in the following terms, for the settlement of outstanding claims, by means of a Mixed Commission:

Whereas claims have at various times since the signature of the Treaty of Peace and Friendship between Great Britain and the United States of America, concluded at Ghent on the 24th of December, 1814, been made upon the Government of Her Britannic Majesty on the part of Corporations, Companies, and private individuals, citizens of the United States, and upon the Government of the United States on the part of Corporations,

Companies, and private individuals, subjects of Her Britannic Majesty ; and whereas some of such claims are still pending, and remain unsettled, Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the President of the United States of America, being of opinion that a speedy and equitable settlement of all such claims will contribute much to the maintenance of the friendly feelings which subsist between the two countries, have resolved to make arrangements for that purpose by means of a Convention, and have named as their Plenipotentiaries, to confer and agree thereupon, that is to say :

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, the Right Honourable John Russell (commonly called Lord John Russell), a Member of Her Britannic Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, a Member of Parliament, and Her Britannic Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs ;

And the President of the United States of America, Joseph Reed Ingersoll, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Her Britannic Majesty ;

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed as follows :

ARTICLE I.

The High Contracting Parties agree that all claims on the part of Corporations, Companies, or private individuals, subjects of Her Britannic Majesty, upon the Government of the United States, and all claims on the part of Corporations, Companies, or private individuals, citizens of the United States, upon the Government of Her Britannic Majesty, which may have been presented to either Government for its interposition with the other since the signature of the Treaty of Peace and Friendship concluded between Great Britain and the United States of America at Ghent, on the 24th of December, 1814, and which yet remain unsettled, as well as any other such claims which may be presented within the time specified in Article III hereinafter, shall be referred to two Commissioners, to be appointed in the following manner; that is to say: one Commissioner shall be named by Her Britannic Majesty, and one by the President of the United States. In case of the death, absence, or incapacity of either Commissioner, or in the event of either Commissioner omitting or ceasing to act as such, Her Britannic Majesty, or the President of the United States, respectively, shall forthwith name another person to act as Commissioner in the place or stead of the Commissioner originally named.

The Commissioners so named shall meet at London, at the earliest convenient period after they shall have been respectively named, and shall, before proceeding to any business, make and subscribe a solemn Declaration that they will impartially and carefully examine and decide, to the best of their judgment, and according to justice and equity, without fear, favour, or affection to their own country, upon all such claims as shall be laid before them on the part of the Governments of Her Britannic Majesty and of the United States, respectively; and such Declaration shall be entered on the record of their proceedings.

The Commissioners shall then, and before proceeding to any other business, name some third person to act as an arbitrator or umpire in any case or cases on which they may themselves differ in opinion. If they should not be able to agree upon the name of such third person, they shall each name a person ; and in each and every case in which the Commissioners may differ in opinion as to the decision which they ought to give, it shall be determined by lot which of the two persons so named shall be the arbitrator or umpire in that particular case. The person or persons so to be chosen to be arbitrator or umpire shall, before proceeding to act as such in any case, make and subscribe a solemn Declaration, in a form similar to that which shall already have been made and subscribed by the Commissioners, which shall be entered on the record of their proceedings. In the event of the death, absence, or incapacity of such person or persons, or of his or their omitting, or declining, or ceasing to act as such arbitrator or umpire, another and different person shall be named as aforesaid to act as such arbitrator or umpire in the place and stead of the person so originally named as aforesaid, and shall make and subscribe such declaration as aforesaid.

ARTICLE II.

The Commissioners shall then forthwith conjointly proceed to the investigation of the claims which shall be presented to their notice. They shall investigate and decide upon such claims in such order and in such manner as they may conjointly think proper, but upon such evidence or information only as shall be furnished by or on behalf of their respective Governments. They shall be bound to receive and peruse all written documents or statements which may be presented to them by or on behalf of their respective Governments, in support of or in answer to any claim, and to hear, if required, one person on each side on behalf of each Government, as counsel or agent for such Government, on each and every separate claim. Should they fail to agree in opinion upon any individual claim, they shall call to their assistance the arbitrator or umpire whom they may have agreed to name, or who may be determined by lot, as the case may be; and such arbitrator or umpire, after having examined the evidence adduced for and against the claim, and after having heard, if required, one person on each side as aforesaid, and consulted with the Commissioners, shall decide thereupon finally and without appeal. The decision of the Commissioners, and of the arbitrator or umpire, shall be given upon each claim in writing, and shall be signed by them respectively. It shall be competent for each Government to name one person to attend the Commissioners as agent on its behalf, to present and support claims on its behalf, and to answer claims made upon it, and to represent it generally in all matters connected with the investigation and decision thereof.

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the President of the United States of America hereby solemnly and sincerely engage to consider the decision of the Commissioners conjointly, or of the arbitrator or umpire, as the case may be, as absolutely final and conclusive upon each claim decided upon by them or him respectively, and to give full effect to such decisions without any objection, evasion, or delay whatsoever.

It is agreed that no claim arising out of any transaction of a date prior to the 24th of December, 1814, shall be admissible under this Convention.

ARTICLE III.

Every claim shall be presented to the Commissioners within six months from the day of their first meeting, unless in any case where reasons for delay shall be established to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, or of the arbitrator or umpire in the event of the Commissioners differing in opinion thereupon; and then and in any such case the period for presenting the claim may be extended to any time not exceeding three months longer.

The Commissioners shall be bound to examine and decide upon every claim within one year from the day of their first meeting. It shall be competent for the Commissioners conjointly, or for the arbitrator or umpire if they differ, to decide in each case whether any claim has or has not been duly made, preferred, or laid before them, either wholly or to any and what extent, according to the true intent and meaning of this Convention.

ARTICLE IV.

All sums of money which may be awarded by the Commissioners, or by the arbitrator or umpire, on account of any claim, shall be paid by the one Government to the other, as the case may be, within twelve months after the date of the decision, without interest, and without any deduction, save as specified in Article VI hereinafter.

ARTICLE V.

The High Contracting Parties engage to consider the result of the proceedings of this Commission as a full, perfect, and final settlement of every claim upon either Government, arising out of any transaction of a date prior to the exchange of the ratifications of the present Convention; and further engage that every such claim, whether or not the same may have been presented to the notice of, made, preferred, or laid before the said Commission, shall, from and after the conclusion of the proceedings of the said Commission, be considered and treated as finally settled, barred, and thenceforth inadmissible.

ARTICLE VI.

The Commissioners and the arbitrator or umpire shall keep an accurate record and correct minutes or notes of all their proceedings, with the dates thereof, and shall appoint and employ a clerk or other persons to assist them in the transaction of the business which may come before them.

Each Government shall pay to its Commissioner an amount of salary not exceeding three thousand dollars, or six hundred and twenty pounds sterling a-year, which amount shall be the same for both Governments.

The amount of salary to be paid to the arbitrator or arbitrators, as the case may be, shall be determined by mutual consent, at the close of the Commission.

The salary of the clerk shall not exceed the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, or three hundred and ten pounds sterling a-year.

The whole expenses of the Commission, including contingent expenses, shall be defrayed by a rateable deduction on the amount of the sums awarded by the Commission; provided always, that such deduction shall not exceed the rate of five per cent. on the sums so awarded.

The deficiency, if any, shall be defrayed in moieties by the two Governments.

ARTICLE VII.

The present Convention shall be ratified by Her Britannic Majesty, and by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof; and the ratifications shall be exchanged at London as soon as may be within twelve months from the date hereof.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seals of their arms.

Done at London, the eighth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

J. RUSSELL.

(L.S.)

J. R. INGERSOLL.

And whereas the ratifications of the said Convention were exchanged at London, on the 26th of July last; and whereas Commissioners, on the part of Her Majesty and of the United States of America, are about to meet for the purpose of carrying out the stipulations of such Convention:

Notice is hereby given, that all persons, subjects of Her Majesty, who may have claims to prefer upon the Government of the United States, must, in conformity with the provisions of the said Convention, transmit to Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, within six months from the day of the first meeting of the Commissioners (of which day notice will hereafter be given), the particulars of their claims, together with the requisite evidence or information in support thereof, for the purpose of being submitted to the Commissioners.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of AUGUST 26, 1853.

AT the Court at Osborne-House, Isle of Wight,
the 19th day of August 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS there was this day read at the Board, the Draft of a Proclamation, regulating the rates at which certain foreign coins are to pass current within Her Majesty's West India Colonies; Her Majesty having taken the same into consideration, was pleased by and with the advice of Her Privy Council to approve thereof, and to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the said

Proclamation do take effect and come in force in each of Her said colonies, upon and after such day as shall be for that purpose limited by the governor or officer administering the government of each of the said colonies respectively, by any Proclamations to be by them respectively issued for such purpose in each of such colonies.

And the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and the Most Noble the Duke of Newcastle, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

C. C. Greville.

DRAFT PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS by Our Proclamation given at Our Court at Windsor, on the fourteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-eight, and in the second year of Our reign, rates were fixed at which certain coins of foreign countries shall circulate and be received in payments in Our West India Colonies, and whereas it has been represented to us by the Commissioners of Our Treasury, that it is expedient that, in addition to the coins named in Our said Proclamation, the rates at which the gold coins of the United States of North America shall circulate in Our said colonies, shall be ascertained and fixed.

Now, therefore, We, by the advice of Our Privy Council, have thought fit to declare and ordain, and by the advice aforesaid, We do hereby declare and ordain that throughout Our said colonies the gold coins of the said United States, of the denominations hereinafter mentioned, shall circulate and be received in payment as being of the full value and equivalent to current money of

Our United Kingdom at the rates hereinafter specified ; that is to say :

The Eagle at the rate of forty-one shillings sterling.

The Half-Eagle at the rate of twenty shillings and six pence sterling.

The Quarter-Eagle at the rate of ten shillings and three pence sterling.

The Gold Dollar at the rate of four shillings and one penny.

And in all payments to be made in Our said colonies, tender and payment in the said coins or either of them, at the respective rates aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken to be a lawful tender in the same manner as if such tender had been made in the current coin of Our United Kingdom.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 8th day of August, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve and ratify the schemes duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For regulating the episcopal income of the Bishop of Peterborough.

For regulating the incomes of the future Deans and Canons of Westminster.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 8th day of August, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representations made (as set forth in this Gazette) by Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches—

Assigning particular districts

To the consecrated church of St. Paul, situate at Bryncoedifor, in the parish of Dolgelly, in the county of Merioneth, and diocese of Bangor, to be named "The District Chapelry of Bryncoedifor."

To the consecrated church of All Saints, situate at Blakeney, in the parish of Awre, in the county and diocese of Gloucester, to be named "The District Chapelry of Blakeney."

And also

To unite and consolidate certain contiguous portions of the parishes of King's Norton and Alvechurch, in the county of Worcester, and of the parish of Solihull, in the county of Warwick, and all in the diocese of Worcester, and to form the same into one consolidated chapelry for all ecclesiastical purposes for the consecrated church of Saint Mary, situate at Withall, in the said parish of King's Norton, to be named "The Consolidated Chapelry of Withall," and vesting the right of presentation and appointment of an incumbent or perpetual curate to serve the said church of Saint Mary, at Withall, in the incumbent for the time being of the parish church of the said parish of King's Norton.

Osborne-House, August 23, 1853.

This day had audience of Her Majesty ;

Joseph Reed Ingersoll, Esq., Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the United States of America, to deliver his letter of recall ;

And James Buchanan, Esq., to deliver his credentials in the same character :

To which they were respectively introduced by the Earl of Clarendon, K.G., Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

Foreign-Office, August 24, 1853.

It is hereby notified, that the Right Honourable the Earl of Clarendon, K.G., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received from Sir Charles Hotham, K.C.B., Her Majesty's Minister on a Special Mission, and from Martin T. Hood, Esq., late Her Majesty's Consul at Buenos Ayres, despatches, dated respectively the 22nd and 24th of June last, announcing that the Blockade of the Port of Buenos Ayres, heretofore established by the Provisional Director-General Urquiza, has ceased to exist since the 20th of June aforesaid.

Foreign-Office, August 25, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. Philip T. Heartt as Consul at Glasgow, of Mr. James Mc Dowell as Consul at Leith, and of Mr. John L. Nelson as Consul at Turk's Island, for the United States of America.

NOTIFICATION.

OWING to the rise in the price of grain, I have been induced to order that—

1. The exportation of every kind of grain, especially wheat, Indian corn, rye, oats, and their respective flours and pastes, is prohibited until further notice.

2. During the said prohibition, the controul in conformity with the Customs' regulation will be put in force.

3. Grain, flours, pastes, which may be seized in contravention of this order will, independently of the penalties incurred towards the finance, be confiscated for the benefit of the poor of the parish where they were seized.

4. A particular notification will be published as to the commerce of grain, flour, and pastes, with the Duchies of Modena and Parma, and also on the application of this order to the territory of the free port of Venice.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of SEPTEMBER 16, 1853.

AT the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 15th day of September, 1853,

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament, held in the eleventh and twelfth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled
"An Act to renew and amend an Act of the "tenth year of Her present Majesty, for the more "speedy removal of certain nuisances and the "prevention of contagious and epidemic diseases,"

after reciting that it is expedient, that when any part of the United Kingdom shall appear to be threatened with or affected by any formidable epidemic, endemic, or contagious disease, measures of precaution should be taken with promptitude, according to the exigency of the case; it is enacted, that in Great Britain, the Lords and others of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, or any three or more of them (the Lord President of the Council, or one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State being one), may, by Order or Orders to be by them, from time to time, made, direct that the provisions in the said Act contained for the prevention of epidemic, endemic, and contagious diseases, be put in force in Great Britain, or in such parts thereof, or in such places therein, respectively, as in such Order or Orders respectively may be expressed, and may, from time to time, as to all or any of the parts or places to which any such Order or Orders may extend, and in like manner revoke or renew any such Order, and, subject to revocation and renewal as aforesaid, every such Order shall be in force for six calendar months, or for such shorter period as in such Order shall be expressed.

And whereas the United Kingdom appears to be threatened with a formidable epidemic disease, and a case has arisen for putting in force the provisions of the said Act ;

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered by the Lords and others of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom the Right Honourable Viscount Palmerston, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State is one), in pursuance and exercise of the powers so vested in them as aforesaid, that the provisions contained in the said hereinbefore recited Act for the prevention of epidemic, endemic, and contagious diseases, be but in force throughout the whole of Great Britain immediately from and after the date of this Order.

And it is further ordered that this Order shall continue in force for six calendar months from and after the date hereof. C. C. Greville.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 8th day of August, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve and ratify the schemes duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For regulating the deaconries of the future deans and canons of the cathedral church of Saint Paul in London.

For making better provision for the cure of souls in certain parishes, and augmenting the incomes of the incumbents of certain benefices or churches in the counties of Berks, Kent, Middlesex, Norfolk, Salop, and York (as set forth in two schedules in the Gazette), and transferring certain tithes, or tithe rent charges, as therein particularly described, to the Incumbent of Castle Eden, in the county and diocese of Durham, the Vicar of Kirkby Wharfe, in the county and diocese of York, the Rector of Saint Peter, at Arches, in the county of Lincoln, the Vicar of Lympne, in the county of Kent, and the Vicar of Eastry, and their respective successors in the said churches.

For authorizing the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the treasurership of the cathedral church of Salisbury, and the Prebend of Calne, in the said cathedral church.

For authorizing the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the Prebend of Carlton cum Thurlby, in the cathedral church of Lincoln.

NOTIFICATION.

WITH reference to the Notification which appeared in the Gazette of the 23rd ultimo, that a Convention had been concluded between Her Majesty and the United States of America, for the settlement of all outstanding claims by means of a Mixed Commission, and that Commissioners were about to meet for the purpose of carrying out the stipulations of such Convention :

Notice is hereby given, that the Commissioners held their first Meeting on the 15th instant, and that all persons, subjects of Her Majesty, who may have claims to prefer upon the Government of the United States, arising out of transactions of a date subsequent to the 24th of December, 1814, and prior to the 26th of July, 1853 (the date of the exchange of the ratifications of the Convention), should forthwith transmit the particulars of the same to Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, together with the requisite evidence or information in support thereof, for the purpose of being submitted to the Commissioners.

Notice is also hereby given, that in conformity with the following stipulation of the third Article of the Convention :

“Every claim shall be presented to the Commissioners within six months from the day of their first meeting, unless in any case where reasons for delay shall be established to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, or of the arbitrator or umpire in the event of the Commissioners differing in opinion thereupon; and then and in any such case the period for presenting the claim may be extended to any time not exceeding three months longer :”

Every claim which may not be presented to the Commissioners before the 15th of March, 1854, will be inadmissible, unless reasons for delay be established to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, or of the arbitrator or umpire; and that every claim which shall not be presented to the Commissioners before the 15th of June, 1854, will, in conformity with the fifth Article of the Convention, be considered and treated as finally settled, barred, and thenceforth inadmissible.

GENERAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

NOTIFICATION.

*General Board of Health, Whitehall,
September 20, 1853.*

IT is the painful duty of the General Board of Health to notify a third visitation of epidemic cholera. This disease again, first breaking out in Persia, has extended within the present year over a large portion of Russia, stretching as far northwards as Archangel, on the shores of the Arctic Ocean; it has ravaged Denmark, Norway, and Sweden, and then developing itself in the north of Germany, it has attacked Stettin, Berlin, Rotterdam, and Hamburg; and subsequently it has appeared in England, again breaking out on its north-east coast, in the near neighbourhood of the town in which it made its first appearance in this country in 1831.

In this wide-spread course it has everywhere overleaped the barriers which Quarantine has erected to stay its progress; and where this means of protection has been most rigidly enforced, it has not only disappointed the expectation of those who have relied upon it as a safeguard, often to the neglect and exclusion of the most important precautions, but has aggravated the evils of the pestilence, and added disastrous consequences of its own.

The experience already obtained of this pestilence at Newcastle, Gateshead, and Hexham is decisive, that where the conditions are favourable to its localization and development, as is the case in these towns, the disease has lost nothing of its former virulence. In the two former, indeed, the severity of the disease, as far as it has yet extended, has greatly exceeded that of any former visitation, and it has attacked in all those places, as it has abroad, a much larger proportion of the middle and higher classes.

It is deeply to be lamented that the interval between the last visitation of this pestilence and the present has not been generally employed in effecting a larger amount of improvement in our cities and towns. From such inspections as the General Board have recently been enabled to make of the state of populous districts the former seats of the Disease, in apprehension of its re-appearance, they are compelled to state that there are extensive districts, and even entire towns, in which no perceptible improvement of any kind has been effected. On the other hand there are instances in which, even where no general permanent works of improvement have been effected, better supplies of water, extensive flagging and paving, more frequent scavenging, and a more active removal of nuisances in epidemic localities have been accomplished. Combined and permanent works, involving elaborate engineering measures, capable of remedying the neglect of years, cannot be effected in a few weeks. But the consciousness of past neglect should stimulate to immediate and resolute exertion, that all which the time requires and which can be done may be done. The results in some instances, even of limited and partial improvements, are highly encouraging. During the present epidemic in Hamburg, which has now been prevailing upwards of six weeks, only six cases of cholera have occurred in the improved parts of the town; and during the whole of the epidemic in the metropolis in 1849, not a single case of cholera occurred in any one of the model dwellings for the poor, occupied by similar classes of the population, though the pestilence raged in the districts in which these buildings are situated, and there were instances of two and even four deaths in single houses close to their walls.

Even in towns in which the greatest amount of improvement has been effected, and in which works under the Public Health Act are most advanced, much remains to be done, and may be done. Local Boards of Health are invested under the Public Health Act with ample powers for cleansing, for the removal of nuisances, for preventing the carrying on of unwholesome or noxious trades in such a manner as to injure health, for preventing the occupation of cellars as dwelling-houses unless under certain conditions, for preventing the occupation of any dwelling-house which, on the certificate of an officer of health, shall appear to be in such a filthy and unwholesome state as to endanger the health of any person, until such house shall have been properly and effectually whitewashed, cleansed, and purified, and for administering the Common Lodging Houses Act, the provisions of which are most important. All those powers should be exercised at the present juncture with extraordinary activity, vigilance, and stringency.

But though it may be needful to prosecute the work of cleansing more vigorously than in ordinary periods, yet it should be done under supervision and with extraordinary care. In removing accumulations of filth precautions should be taken for disinfection and for preventing the increase of noxious evaporation. The contents of foul drains, sewers, and ditches, should in no case be spread upon the surface, and no large accumulation of filth should be removed, excepting under the directions of a medical officer. The escape of noxious effluvia is far more dangerous in an epidemic than in an ordinary season.

The evil of overcrowding, not only in common lodging-houses, but in tenements of all descriptions occupied by the poorer classes, especially by the Irish, an immediately removeable evil, should be at once and by all practicable means reduced.

Wherever local Boards of Health exist, they should in all cases co-operate with the boards of guardians, and it is believed that the boards of guardians will, on their part, co-operate with local boards. The existing means for the extraordinary service now required is divided amongst independent local jurisdictions; medical officers in England and Wales being under boards of guardians; works of sewage and cleansing in towns, not under the Public Health Act, being under town commissioners acting under local Acts; and the enforcement of orders required for the public service being with the magistrates or municipal authorities. It is confidently expected that a common feeling will give precedence to the branch of service specially needed on this occasion, and ensure that unity of action which it is the main object of the rules and regulations issued herewith to authorize and promote for the common object.

Experience has shown that in the case of the actual outbreak of the epidemic, the chief measures to be relied on for checking its spread, are those which prevent overcrowding, remove persons from affected houses, and bring the infected population under prompt and proper treatment during the premonitory stage of the disease. During the epidemic of 1849 an organization for effecting these objects was brought into operation, the main parts of which were the establishment of a system of house-to-house visitation, the opening of dispensaries and houses of refuge in affected districts for the gratuitous supply of medicines, the establishment of houses of refuge for the reception of such indigent persons as appeared to be in imminent danger, resident in most filthy and overcrowded houses, the provision of temporary hospitals for the reception of those who could not be properly treated at their own homes, and in some instances the supply of tents for the removal of the most susceptible and destitute classes to a distance from infected localities. The result of this system was, that out of 130,000 premonitory cases brought under its operation, no fewer than 6,000 of which were on the point of passing into the developed stage, only 250 went into the collapsed stage of cholera, or one in 520. But of the 43,737 cases under visitation in the metropolis, including 978 cases on the point of passing into the collapsed stage of cholera, only 52 actually did so,—not 1 in 800; so that taking together the general result of this extended experience, it appears that the proportion of cases under early treatment which passed from the premonitory into the developed stage varied from 1 in 500 to 1 in 800.

No doubt is now entertained of the efficacy of this system, or of the duty of local authorities to carry it into effect on the very first appearance of this disease in an epidemic form; and, as none can well where or how suddenly the pestilence may alight, it is the duty of local authorities to be prepared for the emergency before its arrival. Preparation will be attended with little cost ; the power to act with promptitude and efficiency when the necessity for action arises will be attended with a great economy of money as well as of life.

With reference to those precautions against the disease which each individual may take for himself, or the heads of families or establishments for those under their charge, the first in importance are personal and household cleanliness, and the freest ventilation of living and sleeping rooms with pure air ; the purity of the air we breathe being even more essential than the wholesomeness of food and drink.

When the disease has actually broken out and become epidemic in any district or locality, then the one essential precaution is not to neglect for a single hour any degree of looseness of bowels. This symptom being commonly without pain, and so slight that it is difficult to conceive that it can be of the smallest consequence, naturally leads to neglect, and this neglect has cost the lives of thousands. Were any additional proof of this required it would be found in the events that are now occurring at Newcastle and Gateshead ; all the medical men there bear testimony that premonitory diarrhœa is all but universal, and that life depends on instant attention to this symptom.

Thus, one physician says, "He has never yet seen a case without premonitory symptoms ;" another states, "He has found in a great number of instances where the men said they had been first seized with collapse, there had been neglected diarrhœa for 24 or even 48 hours or longer ;" another declares, "In all cases of collapse investigated, it is found there had been neglected diarrhœa." Even in the cases in which death takes place with the greatest rapidity, the suddenness is apparent only, not real; for the fatal collapse is the final but gradual result of diarrhœa neglected for several hours, and sometimes entire days. It must then be repeated, that in any district in which cholera is epidemic, life may depend on obtaining prompt and proper relief for painless and apparently trifling looseness of the bowels.

The measure of precaution next in importance, relates to the proper regulation of the diet. Great moderation, both of food and drink, is absolutely essential to safety during the whole duration of the epidemic period; an act of indiscretion has been often followed by a severe attack; intemperance at such a time is fraught with the most extreme danger. During the epidemic of 1849, sudden and fatal attacks of the disease followed immediately on the indulgence of habits of drinking after the receipt of weekly wages. The intervals between the meals should not be long; cholera being uniformly found to prevail with extraordinary intensity among the classes that observe the protracted fasts common in Eastern and some European countries.

The utmost practicable care should be taken against fatigue, which is a very powerful predisposing cause of the disease. Employers and persons engaged in laborious occupations, should endeavour, as far as possible, so to arrange the amount and time of work as to avoid physical exhaustion.

Warm clothing is of great importance. During the present epidemic in Hamburgh, it has been found that incautious exposure to cold and damp, has brought on an attack as rapidly as improper food or excess. This precaution against damp is rendered doubly important by the peculiarity of the present season. Long continued and excessive rains have, in many places, surcharged the ground with moisture, especially undrained and low-lying districts, placing, in many instances, the land contiguous to towns, and beyond the usual range of town drainage, almost in the condition of marshes. The exhalations arising from a surface thus saturated often with water, holding decomposing matter in solution, spread to the towns and affect the inhabitants, however well drained the immediate sites of the towns may be. The General Board were so apprehensive that disease would be extensively produced by this unusual and dangerous state of a large portion of the country (an apprehension which was subsequently realized by the breaking out of disease, allied in character to cholera, in sixty towns), that in their Notification, issued in December, 1852, they represented to local authorities, that this calamity afforded a special occasion for administering extraordinary assistance to the poor, to enable them to keep large fires in their rooms, to protect themselves from cold and damp by warm clothing, to sustain their strength by a solid and nutritive diet, and to counteract the predisposition to disease induced under these peculiar circumstances, by suitable tonics and other remedies, under medical direction. This representation was made when there was a threatening of the return of the cholera; it is now amongst us, and the General Board would remind affluent, that the opportune supply to their poorer neighbours and dependants of wholesome food, warm clothing, and bedding, and even such remedies (to be always in readiness) as their medical attendant may recommend for looseness of bowels, is charity in the truest sense, and may be the means of saving many lives.

It is also much to be desired, and the General Board would strongly recommend, that the higher classes should co-operate with the clergy who have done so much to promote the object of the legislature under the Public Health Act, in making frequent visits among the poor, and impressing upon them the importance of following the instructions here laid down, with reference to which there is a perfect accordance between the College of Physicians and the General Board of Health.

In conclusion, after the large experience of this disease which has been obtained since the General Board of Health issued their first notification (1848), they can now repeat with greater confidence what they then urged, that, formidable as this malady is in its intense form and developed stage, there is no disease against which it is in our power to take such effectual precaution, both as collective communities and private individuals, by attention to it in its first or premonitory stage, and by the removal of those agencies which are known to propagate the spread of all epidemic diseases or where that may be impracticable by removal from them. Though, therefore, the issues of events are not in our hands, there is ground for hope, and even confidence, in the sustained and resolute employment of the means of protection which experience and science have now placed in our reach.

By order of the General Board of Health.

Whitechapel Union. Parish of Christchurch, Spitalfields.

An order from the Poor Law Board to the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of the parish of Christchurch, Spitalfields, in the county of Middlesex, and to all others whom it may concern, dated the 9th day of September, 1853, directs that so much of the Act 13 and 14 Vict., (cap. 57), entitled "An Act to prevent the holding of vestry or other meetings in churches, and for regulating the appointment of vestry clerks," as relates to the appointment of a vestry clerk, shall forthwith be applied to and put in force within the said parish of Christchurch, Spitalfields.

FROM THE SUPPLEMENT

LONDON GAZETTE of SEPTEMBER 20, 1853.

DIRECTIONS AND REGULATIONS OF
THE GENERAL BOARD OF HEALTH,
Issued under Authority of the Nuisances
Removal and Diseases Prevention Act, 1848,
Section X.

To Local Boards of Health acting under the Public Health Act, 1848 ;

To Town Councils or other Bodies acting under the Authority of Local Acts of Parliament in which the Provisions of the Public Health Act are included ;

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions in England and Wales, named in the First Schedules hereunto annexed ;

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Parishes in England and Wales, named in the Second Schedule hereunto annexed ;

To the Overseers of the Poor of all Parishes, Townships, and Places not comprised in the Unions and Parishes mentioned in the First and Second Schedules hereunto annexed ;

To the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of Cities and Boroughs, Commissioners under Local Acts, the Surveyors of Highways, their Deputies and Assistants, Road Trustees, Commissioners, County Surveyors, and other Persons by Law intrusted with the Care and Management of all Streets, public Ways and Places in any Parish or Place in England and Wales ;

To the Owners and Occupiers of Houses, Dwellings, Churches, Buildings, and places of Assembly within the said Unions and Parishes, and others having the Care and Ordering thereof ;

And to all whom it may concern ;—

WHEREAS by the provisions of “The Nuisances Removal and Diseases Prevention Act, 1848,” for the prevention of epidemic, endemic, and contagious diseases, We, the General Board of Health, are authorized to issue such Directions and Regulations as We shall think fit for the prevention (as far as possible) or mitigation of epidemic, endemic, or contagious disease : And whereas by the said Act it is provided that the Directions and Regulations to be issued as aforesaid shall extend to all parts or places in which the said provisions of the said Act shall for the time being be in force, under the Order of Her Majesty’s Privy Council, unless such Directions or Regulations shall be expressly confined to some of such parts or places, and then to such parts or places as in such Directions and Regulations shall be specified :

And whereas by an Order of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, bearing date the 15th day of September, 1853, the said provisions of the said Act were directed to be put in force throughout the whole of Great Britain for a period of six calendar months thence next ensuing :

Now, in exercise of the authority vested in us as aforesaid, We, the General Board of Health, do issue the Directions and Regulations hereinafter contained, to extend to all parts and places within the several unions, parishes, and places throughout England and Wales ; that is to say :—

I. We direct that all the local authorities charged by the Common Lodging Houses Act, 1851, with the execution of that Act, shall see that the provisions of the said Act, and any Act amending the same, are enforced forthwith.

II. We direct the Guardians, Overseers, and persons as aforesaid, to order the clerk to the Guardians of any such union or parish, forthwith upon the publication of these Directions, to make out, from the Medical Officer's books, or other sources of information readily obtainable by him, a list of the places within his union or parish where cases of cholera, diarrhœa, typhus fever, or epidemic or any endemic disease, may have lately been frequent ; and to give the list or portions of the list relating to particular districts to the Medical Officer of each district to which it shall relate. And the Medical Officer of every union or parish shall visit the places within his district named in such list, and any other places within it, and examine the houses situate in such places, as to their present condition in respect to cleanliness, or as to any existing predisposing and removeable causes of disease likely to affect the inmates thereof.

III. We direct the Guardians, Overseers, or persons to whom these Regulations may apply to order the said Medical Officer to inquire into the state of the health of the inhabitants of all such places, and into the state of health of the children in schools, of the workpeople in places of work, and of the inmates of common lodging houses, and where he shall ascertain that any case of diarrhœa or of any premonitory stages of an epidemic disease exists to treat or direct the treatment of the same at once.

IV. And such Medical Officer, where it may be necessary, shall certify in writing to the Guardians of his union or parish all such places as are in a state dangerous to health, or as need frequent and effectual cleansing by way of preservation against disease, and such dwelling-houses as are in a filthy and unwholesome condition, and all such nuisances and matters injurious to health as ought to be abated, cleansed, and removed under these Regulations.

V. We direct that all Town Councils, and other governing bodies of cities and boroughs, Commissioners under Local Acts, Local Boards of Health, Surveyors and District or Assistant Surveyors of Highways, Road Trustees or Commissioners, County Surveyors, and others now by law intrusted with the care and management of the streets and public ways and places within the parishes and places to which these Directions and Regulations extend,—

Shall see to the effectual and continued cleansing of all such of the streets, rows, lanes, mews, courts, alleys, and passages, and public ways and places, under their respective care and management, as by the Medical Officer of the Guardians or others authorized to superintend the execution of these Directions and Regulations shall be certified in writing to be in a state dangerous to health, or to require frequent and effectual cleansing by way of precaution against disease,—

And shall cause all filth, ordure, and nuisances to be removed therefrom.

VI. We direct that where any such streets, rows, lanes, mews, courts, alleys, and any passages, public ways, or places to which any houses or tenements adjoin, which have not been intrusted by law to the care or management of any Town Council, Local Board of Health, Commissioners, Surveyors, Trustees, or others, have been certified in writing by such Medical Officer as aforesaid to be in a state dangerous to health, or to require such frequent and effectual cleansing, every occupier of a house or tenement so adjoining shall keep or cause to be kept sufficiently cleansed every part of the street, row, lane, mews, court, alley or passage, way or place, which adjoins the house or tenement occupied by him, which works of cleansing and removal of filth, ordure, and nuisances required by these Directions and Regulations shall be done by effectual washing or otherwise, and with the use of fluids or substances for preventing the escape of noxious effluvia during the operation, when the Medical Officer of the Guardians or others authorized to superintend the execution of these Directions and Regulations shall direct and prescribe the same.

VII. We do hereby require the said Guardians and Overseers, and all other persons to whom these present Regulations are addressed, by themselves or by their officers or persons, already employed by them, or to be specially appointed by them in this behalf, to superintend and see to the execution of the foregoing Directions and Regulations within their respective unions, parishes, or places over or in which they may legally have jurisdiction.

VIII. And where it shall appear that by want or neglect of the Town Council of any city or borough, Local Board of Health, Commissioners, Surveyors, Trustees, or others intrusted with the care and management of streets and public ways and places as aforesaid, or by reason of poverty of the occupiers or otherwise, there is any default or delay in the cleansing of or removing nuisances from any street, row, lane, mews, court, alley, passage, or public way or place certified as aforesaid, within any of the said unions, parishes, or places, we direct the Guardians of such union or parish, or the Overseers of such parish, and all other persons having legal authority within such parish or place, to cause such street, row, lane, mews, court, alley, passage, way, or place to be effectually cleansed, and all nuisances to be removed therefrom, and to do all acts, matters, and things necessary for that purpose.

IX. We also direct—

That

When and so often as any dwelling house in any part or place to which these Directions and Regulations extend is in such a filthy and unwholesome condition as to be a nuisance to or injurious to the health of any person ; or

Where, upon, adjoining to, or near any premises, or any part or place, as aforesaid, there is any foul and offensive drain, ditch, gutter, privy, cesspool, or ashpit, or any drain, ditch, gutter, privy, cesspool, or ashpit, kept or constructed so as to be a nuisance to or injurious to the health of any person ; or

Where, upon, adjoining to, or near any such premises, swine, or any accumulation of dung, manure, offal, filth, refuse, or other matter or thing is kept, so as to be a nuisance to or injurious to the health of any person ; or

Where, upon, adjoining to, or near any such premises, being a building used wholly or in part as a dwelling house, or being premises underneath any such building, any animal is kept so as to be a nuisance to or injurious to the health of any person.

In each of the above-recited cases the owner or occupier, and persons having the care or ordering of such dwelling-house, or of the premises where the nuisance or matter injurious to health may be or where they by reason of poverty or otherwise are unable, then the Town Council, Local Board of Health, Guardians Commissioners, or Overseers, shall cleanse, whitewash, or otherwise purify, as the case may require, such dwelling-house or building, or abate or remove the nuisance or matter injurious to health as aforesaid, with all reasonable speed after the publication of these our Directions and Regulations, or after the nuisance or matter injurious to health shall have arisen.

X. Wherever there shall not be a Town Council, Local Board of Health, or other governing body of a city or borough, or Commissioners having jurisdiction for the removal of nuisances, or where such Council, Local Board of Health, governing body, or Commissioners shall not cause to be effectually executed such Directions, We direct the said Guardians and Overseers, as the case may be,—

To visit, from time to time, or cause to be visited, the several dwellings and places where there may be ground for believing that necessity will arise for executing such Directions

And where, from the poverty of occupiers or otherwise, there may be default or delay in the cleansing or purifying of any such dwelling-house, or the abatement or removal of any such nuisance or matter injurious to health, and the Medical Officer, or other person duly authorized as aforesaid, shall have certified that the same requires immediate attention, and where, from want of co-operation of the owners or occupiers, there is any default or delay in cleansing any foul and offensive drain, ditch, watercourse, or gutter into which several dwellings or tenements may drain,—

To cause such dwelling-houses to be cleansed and purified, and such drain, ditch, watercourse, or gutter to be frequently and effectually cleansed, and such nuisance or matter injurious to health to be abated and removed respectively, and to do all acts and provide all matters and things necessary for that purpose.

XI. Every Medical Officer shall forthwith upon any unusual amount of diarrhœa, or any case of cholera, or of typhus, or other epidemic, endemic, or contagious disease, becoming known to him within his district, report the same to the Board of Guardians of his union or parish.

XII. On the occurrence of any unusual prevalence of diarrhœa, or of severe premonitory symptoms of the disease of cholera, or any severe epidemic disease, in any school, or place of work, or among the inmates of any establishment, which shall appear to be overcrowded, the Medical Officer shall, so soon as he shall be informed thereof, and if he deem it necessary, order the separation of the inmates of such school, place of work, or establishment, and direct such measures to be taken as shall appear to him to be expedient to prevent the spread of the disease.

XIII. And where it shall sufficiently appear to such Guardians, Overseers, or others to whom these Regulations apply, by certificate of their Medical Officer, or of the Medical Superintending Inspector of the General Board of Health, or otherwise, that cholera, or any other severe epidemic, endemic, or contagious disease, is present or imminent in any union, parish, or place, and that extraordinary medical aid is required for persons resident within such union, parish, or place attacked or threatened to be attacked by cholera, or other severe epidemic, endemic, or contagious disease, or for the discovery and treatment of persons so attacked or threatened, we direct such Guardians, Overseers, or persons as aforesaid, to provide, as soon as may be practicable, sufficient medical aid for examination, by house-to-house visitation, of the state of the inhabitants of the union, parish, or place, and for medical treatment of persons found to be threatened or affected with cholera, or such epidemic disease, or symptoms premonitory thereof, and for warning and instruction of such persons, and for the provision in suitable places of such medicines as may be required within their respective unions or parishes for necessitous persons attacked by cholera or by premonitory symptoms, and to make arrangements for the distribution of notices stating the places where such aid and medicines shall have been provided.

XIV. To ensure proper treatment in their own houses to many of the poorer class, We require the said Guardians, where it shall appear to their Medical Officer, or to the Medical Superintending Inspector of the General Board of Health, that such extraordinary aid is requisite, to provide suitable rooms or places capable of accommodating necessitous cases, to which persons attacked by cholera, who cannot be properly treated in their own homes, may be conveyed.

XV. We direct the said Guardians, where it shall appear to their Medical Officer, or to the Medical Superintending Inspector of the General Board of Health, requisite, to provide rooms or places of refuge to which may be removed the families of such necessitous persons as have been attacked with cholera, and also such necessitous persons living under the same roof with or in the vicinity of persons attacked, as the Medical Officers, acting under the authority of the said Guardians, may deem it necessary to remove, and to cause the houses, rooms, or dwellings from which persons may have been so removed to the houses of refuge to be cleansed and purified by the owners or persons having the care or ordering thereof, or, in their default, by the said Guardians.

XVI. On the occurrence of any case of cholera, or other epidemic, endemic, or contagious disease, in any room occupied by one family or more, the Medical Officer of the union or parish attending the case shall cause to be removed either the patient or so many of the occupants of such room as he shall consider would, unless removed, tend to prevent the recovery of the patient, or endanger the spreading of the disease.

XVII. In case of death by cholera, or any other severe epidemic, endemic, or contagious disease, the last Medical Attendant upon the person of the deceased, or, in case of there having been no Medical Attendant, the housekeeper or person present at the death, or who shall be in charge of the body, shall forthwith notify the fact of the death to the Medical Officer of the district charged with the execution of these Orders, for the prevention of the spread of such disease, and the Medical Officer shall give such directions as may appear to him needful in respect to the care, removal, and the time of interment of the body, for preventing the communication or spread of disease.

And We hereby authorize and require all persons to give such information or such assistance to such Medical Officer, and to be otherwise aiding him, as he may need in the execution of these Orders.

XVIII. In the event of the fatal termination of any case of cholera, or of severe epidemic, endemic, or contagious disease, in any room occupied as a living or sleeping room by one family or more, or by numerous persons, the Medical Officer of the district, so soon as he shall be informed of the death, shall cause to be removed, as speedily as may be, the corpse from the same premises, or, if this be not convenient, shall cause the persons occupying such rooms to be removed therefrom until the corpse can be conveniently removed and properly interred.

XIX. And We direct the said Guardians to make arrangements for obtaining daily lists of persons attacked by cholera or other epidemic disease within their respective unions or parishes, with the particulars of their cases and treatment, and for communicating the same daily to the General Board of Health.

XX. And We direct the said Guardians, where it may appear needful, to appoint such additional Medical Officers, and also to appoint such other officers as may be necessary to execute and superintend the execution of these Regulations, and to publish and circulate, by private handbills or other means, notices of the provisions of the said Act for the Prevention of Nuisances, and of our Directions, Regulations, and Instructions, or of such part of any of them as it may appear to them expedient to make publicly known.

XXI. And We direct that in these Directions and Regulations the words "Guardians of the Poor" shall mean the Guardians, Directors, Wardens, Governors, or other like officers having the management of the poor of any union, parish, or place where the matter requiring the cognizance of any such officers arises; and the word "parish" shall include every place where the relief of the poor is administered by a Board of Guardians for such place.

Given under our Hands and under the Seal of the General Board of Health, this twentieth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

(Signed) Edwin Chadwick.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

THE Minister of Marine hereby gives notice that on account of the change which has taken place in the Friesche Sea Gat, the outside buoy and the outer buoys, have been placed more eastward, and the number diminished by a black and a white buoy, so that at present the white flag buoy is the fourth white buoy on entering; that likewise the painted buoy, indicating the Sea Gat, has been substituted by a red anchor-shaped buoy with a basket top.

This red anchor-shaped buoy is placed in 100 palms depth, in the following bearings:

The large lighthouse at Schiermonnikoog,
S. $\frac{3}{4}$ E.

The large lighthouse at the Englishman's Bank,
S.W. $\frac{3}{4}$ S.

The bearings in which this buoy, coming from sea can be recognized, are: the steeple of Wieram in three, with the lighthouses on the Englishman's Bank, (namely Wieram, to the west of the small lighthouse).

The outside 1st black buoy lies in 42 palms depth, and in these bearings:

The large lighthouse at Schiermonnikoog, S. to
E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E.

The large lighthouse at the Englishman's Bank,
S.W. to W.

The outside 1st white buoy lies in 45 palms depth, bearing:

The large lighthouse at Schiermonnikoog, S.
to E.

The large lighthouse at the Englishman's Bank,
S.W. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. and on the mark, the steeple of Wieram, in the small lighthouse on the Englishman's Bank.

The course to be followed is S.W. to W., from the red buoy to the 4th buoy, as near as possible in the middle of the channel.

The shallowest sounding at the entrance of the Channel is from 33 to 35 palms, it is shallowest along the white buoys.

No change has taken place in the buoys farther inland. It must be borne in mind that with northerly winds and ebb tide, the navigation between the outer buoys is generally very difficult and the sea very rough. It is very difficult to enter with south-westerly winds at flood tide. The bearings are taken by unadjusted compass, and the soundings at ordinary low water.

Ere long buoys will likewise be placed in the Middle Gat, of which further notice will be given.

The Hague, the 18th of August, 1853.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

THE Minister of Marine hereby gives notice, in connexion with sundry former notices, that, for better observation at sea, large anchor-shaped beacon buoys have been placed as outer buoys in most of the mouths of rivers in the kingdom, furnished with a crown or top basket, and more especially—

Outside the North-cast Friesche Sea Gat.

The above-mentioned buoys, lying outside the Friesche Sea Gat, those of Terschelling and the Flie, as also those outside the East Gat of the Western Schelde, are painted red, the others are black.

For the same purpose an iron pyramidical sea buoy has for some time been placed outside the Slijkgat of Goedereede.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

THE Minister of Marine hereby gives notice that for the better indication of the Eyerland Shallows, a lighthouse has now been erected on the Robbebol, (west point or Horst of Flieland), as also a screen on the Texel Downs near the Koog.

It is considered useful for the general benefit of navigation to repeat and make known the following, as a continuation to the notices regarding those shallows, dated the 16th April and 27th October, 1852.

1. The depth at five fathoms water, at ordinary low water, extends along that part of the coast, from opposite the Koog on Texel, along the Eyerland Shallows, to opposite Flieland, about N.E. and S.W. to N.E. by E., and S.W. by W., (per compass) and especially:

- a. In the W.N.W. from the screen near the Koog, at the distance of half a German mile.
- b. Along the west coast of the Eyerland Shallows in the W.N.W. at $\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile distance from the look-out post, in the Downs of Eyerland;
- c. In the W.N.W. at fully half a mile distance from the lighthouse of the Robbebol;
- d. And in the N.N.E. at nearly $\frac{2}{3}$ of a mile distance from the above-mentioned lighthouse;

2. The screen has been placed in the Downs of Texel, near the Koog, for the better, surer, and quicker observation of the island Texel, and as a warning for the Eyerland Shallows; the lighthouse on the Robbebol, (Horst or west end of Flieland), has been erected for the same purpose, as also to make ships keep further off the coast at this point.

3. The screen is placed on the Down near the Koog, bearing N.E. by E., and S.W. by W., about 30 Netherland ells above high water; and in shape resembles the roof of a house.

4. The lighthouse on the west corner of the Robbebol, is placed 18 Netherland ells above highest water, and remains dry in ordinary spring tides. This light is furnished with two oval screens, the one bearing N.E. and S.W., and the other N.W. and S.E.

This part of the coast is generally approached far too closely, especially by small ships and ignorant parties, and very great risk is incurred by sailing near the coast and shallows; even in fine weather with the wind off land, ships as well by day and night, are very apt to run aground or out of their course with squally weather and by the misguidance of the currents along the coast and at the mouth of the river.

5. The lighting of the coast hereabouts, may also be considered as very satisfactory, for :

a. The light of Flieland is, with ordinary beacon sight, visible at fully $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles distance, close up to the coast of Flieland, in the Eyerland Shallows, and even at a small distance from the coast of Texel, near the Koog;

b. The revolving light of Treschelling is also visible from sea at 5 miles' distance to a little north of the Eyerland Shallows; and

c. The light of Kijkduin, which (when repaired) will soon be visible at a distance of 5 miles, remains visible, coming from the west, until after having reached the south-west beyond, and past the west corner of the Downs of Texel; especially when observed at some elevation from the rigging when close on the Texel coast, the light of Flieland is or soon becomes visible.

Although the above-mentioned observations will be found very useful, as well for guidance as warning, still mariners are strongly recommended when sailing round or along that coast (corner of Texel) to keep well off the coast, and not to omit betimes frequently to use the sounding lead.

The currents close in shore would greatly mislead ships, especially in stormy weather and with spring tides, wishing to work their way up close in shore, particularly for those who are little acquainted with the locality; and in thick or foggy weather, or at night, if neglected, bad charts and uncertain marks would soon cause the loss of the ship.

Hydrographical Office.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Lighthouses on the Coast of Spain.

THE Minister of Marine has communicated to this office, through the Ministry of Public Works, the following detailed information respecting the situation of two new light-houses erected on the coasts of the Spanish Peninsula by the Corps of Engineers of Roads, Canals, and Ports :—

ATLANTIC OCEAN.

Lighthouse on the Cies Islands.

Province of Pontevedra.

From the 19th of November next a new light-house, established on the top of Mount “Faro,” which is the foremost point of the southern extremity of the “Isla del Centro,” will be lighted every night, from sunset to sunrise.

This lighthouse lies in—

42° 12' 23'' N. latitude, and

2° 41' 50'' W. longitude from the Observatory of San Fernando.

Its apparatus is of the second catadioptrical order, with eclipses every other minute. The light's elevation above the level of the sea is of 650 feet, Burgos measure, and produces a tangent of 31 miles; but it will be visible from a greater or minor distance, according to the state of the atmosphere and the elevation of the observer.

Lighthouse of Castro Urdiales.Province of Santander.

From the 19th of November next a new lighthouse, established on the tower of the Castle of "Santa Ana," will be lighted every night from sunset to sunrise. Its distance from the line of level of the sea waters is of 52 feet, Burgos measure, and the rocks on which the hermitage of "Santa Ana" is situated extend themselves, in the south-eastern direction, to the distance of 318 feet.

This lighthouse lies in—

43° 24' 10" N. latitude, and

2° 56' 10" E. longitude from the Observatory of S^a Fernando.

Its apparatus is of the fifth catadioptrical order, with a fixed light, varied with red flashes every three minutes, and illuminates an arch of the horizon of 270 degrees. This light's elevation above the level of the sea is of 143 feet, and produces a tangent of 13 miles; but it will be visible from a greater or minor distance, according to the state of the atmosphere and the elevation of the observer. The above is hereby published, by command of the Queen, for the guidance of mariners.

Madrid, 23rd August, 1853.

NOTICE

Relating to the lighting of the Coast Lights on Lindesnæs (Naze) and Lights on Lister.

IN conformity with the Department's notice of the 2nd December last year, it is hereby made known that the light on Lindesnæs (Naze) and Lister third Light, after having undergone the alterations already advertized, will be re-lighted on the 16th September next, at the same time with the other lights in the Kingdom, and will continue to burn during the same period as follows :

Lindsnæs (Naze) Light is a revolving light, with a flash every minute, of the 1st class (Fresnel's system), and lights all round at sea.

The height of the light above the sea is 159 Norwegian feet (212 English), and is seen 6 miles (24 English), longitude $7^{\circ} 3'$ east of Greenwich, and north latitude $5^{\circ} 58'$.

The light is fixed on a 10 feet high tower of stone, on which is constructed a 7 feet wall of iron. To serve as a day mark the stone tower is white, and the upper part of iron painted red.

Lister Light, 3rd fixed light of the 2nd class (Fresnel's system), and is visible every where at sea.

The towers form an obtuse triangle, the point of which is towards the sea. The centre of the middle tower is 150 Norwegian feet from the centre of the other towers, and the base line is 282 Norwegian feet.

The direction of the centre tower with the northernmost tower is N.W. and S.E. by compass, distance 150 Norwegian feet.

With the southernmost tower the direction is N.W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W. and S.E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E., distance 150 Norwegian feet.

The northernmost and southernmost tower is N.N.W. $\frac{3}{4}$ W. and S.S.E. $\frac{3}{4}$ E., distance 282 Norwegian feet, in which direction two of the lights may be seen all round.

The height of the lights above the sea in all the three towers is 125 Norwegian feet.

Visible from $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5 Norwegian miles (18 to 20 English), longitude $6^{\circ} 32' 15''$ E. from Greenwich, north latitude $58^{\circ} 5' 30''$. All the lights are on high towers, which in order to serve as day marks are painted white.

As the Oxo' Light, in conformity with the notice of the Department of the 30th June last, has been alight since the 16th July, there is only one of the lights enumerated in the notice of 2nd December, 1852, and extinguished this summer, which still remains to be re-lighted, namely, Ilvidingso.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," certain scales of weight and rates of postage were fixed and made chargeable and payable upon, for, or in respect of letters, newspapers, parliamentary proceedings, and printed papers, transmitted and forwarded by the post, and various regulations were made for facilitating the transmission of such letters and papers by the post.

And whereas by an Act, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office," the proviso concerning the maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, as fixed in and by the said first-mentioned Act is repealed; and in order to prevent packets of an unwieldy bulk, or an inconvenient size, being transmitted by the post, power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, at any time or times thereafter, by Warrant under their hands, to fix a maximum weight of letters to be sent by the post, and from time to time to repeal or revoke such maximum weight wholly or in part, and declare any other maximum of weight in lieu thereof; and all letters are to be forwarded, conveyed, and delivered by the post, in conformity with any such warrant, and also in conformity with, and under and subject to, all such orders, conditions, limitations, regulations, and restrictions, as to the form, size, or dimensions thereof, whether in proportion to the weight or otherwise, as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury shall from time to time direct. And by the said Act power is also given to the Postmaster-General to collect and receive the Foreign and Colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post, and also, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

to require the postage, British, Colonial, or Foreign, of any letters sent by the post, to be pre-paid, either in money or in stamps, as he may think fit, on the same being put into the Post-office ; and also, with such consent, to abolish or restrict the pre-payment in money of postage on letters sent by the post, either altogether or on certain letters, and to require the pre-payment thereof to be in stamps, and to refuse to receive or send by the post any letters tendered contrary to any regulations thereby made. And it is also declared and enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General, and any officer of the Post-office, to detain any letters which shall be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations of that Act, or the first-mentioned Act, or contrary to the regulations of any Treasury Warrant, to be issued under or by virtue of that Act, or which had been or should be issued under or by virtue of the said first-mentioned Act, and to open such letters and either to return them to the senders thereof, or to forward them to the places of their destination, charged, in either case, with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, shall from time to time direct.

Now we, the undersigned, being two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said before-mentioned Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers, enabling us in this behalf, by this Warrant under our hands, order and direct, that printed books, printed magazines, printed reviews, printed pamphlets (whether British, Colonial, or Foreign), may from henceforth be transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and the colony of New Zealand, subject to the several regulations and rates hereinafter contained (that is to say):

On every packet consisting of a single printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall be sewed or bound together, if not exceeding half a pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of sixpence.

And on every such packet, if exceeding half a pound, and not exceeding one pound in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of one shilling.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and not exceeding two pounds in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of two shillings.

And on every such packet, if exceeding two pounds, and not exceeding three pounds in weight, there shall be charged and taken one uniform rate of postage of three shillings.

And for every additional one pound in weight, of any such packet above the weight of three pounds, there shall be charged and taken an additional rate of postage of one shilling, and every fraction of such additional pound shall be charged as an additional pound.

And we further order and direct, that no such packet, if containing more than one printed book or printed magazine or printed review or printed pamphlet, or containing any paper or thing besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, or containing any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets, or parts of which when more than one shall not be sewed or bound together, or which packet in length or breadth or width or depth shall exceed the dimensions of two feet or twenty-four inches shall be forwarded by the post under the provisions aforesaid.

And we further order and direct, that as to any packet herein before authorised to be sent by the post under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in the United Kingdom, the postage thereof shall in every case be pre-paid at the time of the same being posted not in money but by being duly stamped with the proper British postage stamp or stamps affixed thereto, which stamp or stamps shall in every case be affixed or appear on the outside of every such packet near the address, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon, under or by virtue of this warrant, unless any such packet be sent from any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty, which shall keep a postage account with the General Post-office, in London, in which case the same shall be forwarded post paid, and the postage thereof shall be charged in such postage account; and as to any such packet posted in New Zealand, the postage thereof shall, in every case, be pre-paid either in money or by the proper Colonial postage stamp or stamps being affixed thereto at the time of the same being posted.

And we further order and direct that every such packet shall be sent without a cover or in a cover or envelope, open at the ends or sides, and shall contain printed matter only, with the binding thereof, and there shall be no writing or marks upon the cover or envelope thereof, or upon or within any part of the contents thereof other than the name and address of the person to whom the packet shall be sent, unless any such packet be sent from any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty, which shall keep a postage account with the General Post-office in London, in which case the same may, in addition to the name and address of the person to whom it shall be sent, have printed or written thereon, or upon the cover or envelope thereof, the words "On Her Majesty's service," and also the name of the department or public office from which the packet shall be forwarded, together with the name of any public officer employed in or belonging to any such department or office who may be authorized to affix his name to letters and packets sent by the post as a certificate that they are on the public service.

And in order to prevent any obstacles to the due and regular transmission of letters by the post, we further direct that it shall be lawful for any officer of the post-office in the United Kingdom to delay the transmission of any packet posted or forwarded by the post under the provisions of this Warrant, either for the space of twenty-four hours from the time at which (or at his option until the despatch of the mail next after that by which) the same ought otherwise to have been forwarded by him.

And we further direct that nothing hereinbefore contained shall be construed to interfere with or affect the transmission by the post of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or of printed votes and proceedings of the Colonial Legislatures, nor of printed papers or other printed publications which are allowed to pass by the post under the newspaper privilege.

And we further order and direct that if any packet sent or tendered, or delivered in order to be sent by the post, under the provisions of this present Warrant, shall contain any paper or thing

besides a printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, and the binding thereof, or shall have any writing or marks upon the same, or upon the cover or envelope thereof, except the name and address of the person to whom it is forwarded, and also as to any such packet sent from any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty which shall keep a postage account with the General Post-office in London, except the words "On Her Majesty's service," and the name of the department or public office from which the same shall be forwarded, with the name of any public officer employed in or belonging to any such department or office, who may be authorized to affix his name to letters, and packets, sent by the post as a certificate that they are on the public service, or shall not be open at the ends or sides, or shall in length, or breadth, or width, or depth, exceed the dimensions of two feet, or twenty-four inches, or shall contain more than one printed book, or printed magazine, or printed review, or printed pamphlet, or shall contain any printed book, printed magazine, printed review, or printed pamphlet, the several sheets or parts of which, when more than one, shall not be sewed or bound together, or if the postage of any such packet, posted in the United Kingdom, shall not be duly and properly pre-paid by British stamps, when posted (any such packet sent from any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty which shall keep a postage account with the General Post-office in London, and the postage thereof shall be charged in such account only excepted), or if the postage of any such packet, posted in New Zealand, shall not be duly and properly pre-paid in money, or by colonial stamps, when posted, the same shall and may be detained and opened at any place in the United Kingdom, and, at the option of the Postmaster-General, shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, or be given up to the person to whom it shall be addressed, or be forwarded to the place of its destination ; and any such packet, on being so returned, given up, or forwarded, shall be chargeable with the like amount of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter.

And we further direct, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any packets sent through Egypt, or any foreign country to which a transit rate of postage would be payable thereon.

And we further order and direct, that the term, "by the post," used in this Warrant shall, as to the sea conveyance, include the conveyance by packet-boat or private ship, and that the several other terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning, in all respects, as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

And we further direct, that this Warrant, so far as respects any packet hereinbefore authorized to be sent by the post under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in the United Kingdom, shall come into operation on the 1st day of November next, and that so far as respects any packet hereinbefore authorized to be sent by the post, under the provisions aforesaid, which shall be posted in New Zealand, this Warrant shall come into operation on the day of the date hereof.

Provided lastly, and we do hereby declare and direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for the time being, of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any two of them, by Warrant, under their hands, at any time hereafter, to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby fixed or altered, or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and, from time to time, to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Santo Domingo, inclosing a Notice to Mariners, a copy of which is subjoined, relative to a Lighthouse recently erected in that city.

By order,
T. H. Farrer.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Santo Domingo Light.

FROM the 14th August, 1853, the Dominican Government have ordered a white fixed light to be exhibited between sunset and sunrise, from the bastion of San José, at the city of Santo Domingo. The cupola of the iron frame work, the columns of which are painted white, the cornices red and blue, rises 113 feet above low water mark; the lantern with the reflectors commences at 100 feet.

The lighthouse is situated in latitude $13^{\circ} 28' 5''$ north, longitude $69^{\circ} 52' 30''$ west of Greenwich. It bears north 58° west (true) distant 1423 yards from Punta Torrecilla; and south 44° west, distant 617 yards from the Homenaje, or signal tower of the fort.

The fixed white light consists of nine reflectors of the first class, patent of Messrs. Alcot and Brothers, at Rochester, in the state of New York; and may be seen, with a clear atmosphere, in from 18 to 20 miles. Its range extends nearly in a half circle from south to east and westward.

Vessels coming from the east running for Santo Domingo roads, ought to keep in mind that having doubled Punta Causedo, the light will show over the land, somewhat to the north of Punta Torrecilla, and that from this point, from whence as already observed, the light bears N. 58° W., distant 1423 yards, a short reef extends south-westward, upon which the water breaks when the sea is agitated. Bearing up for the anchorage, as indicated in the Colombian Pilote, and other sailing directions, this danger ought to be guarded against.

A duty of $6\frac{1}{4}$ cents (equal to $3\frac{1}{8}$ d.) per ton, is levied from every vessel, national and foreign, that comes from abroad, for the support of the light.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations having, with the concurrence of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, determined to exercise the powers given to them by the Mercantile Marine Act, 13 and 14 Vict., chap. 93, section 32, of dispensing with the observance of so much of the General Merchant Seamen's Act, 7 and 8 Vict., chap. 112, as relates to the Register Tickets of Seamen.

Notice is hereby given, that from and after the first day of October next the system of registering seamen by means of tickets will be discontinued, and that after that date neither masters of British ships nor British seamen will be required to observe any of the provisions of the said Act, 7 and 8 Vict., chap. 112, requiring such tickets to be procured, kept, or produced, or otherwise relating thereto.

The special tickets issued for the purpose of recording voluntary contributions to the Merchant Seamen's Fund, under the Act for winding up that fund, 14 and 15 Vict., chap. 102, will still continue to be issued by shipping masters, and to be used as heretofore, and those masters and seamen who wish to keep up these contributions with a view to earning pensions for themselves or their families, are hereby warned that they must keep their fund tickets, and produce them for the purpose of having their contributions recorded, upon pain of forfeiting their claims upon the fund.

With a view to the correctness of the records henceforth to be kept, mariners are hereby warned, that by the 75th sect. of the Act 13 and 14 Vict., cap. 93, it is provided, that, if any seaman, on or before being engaged, makes a false statement of the name of his last ship, or last alleged ship, or of his own name, he shall forfeit out of his wages a sum not exceeding five pounds.

ROYAL DECREE.

IN consequence of the extraordinary measures taken by neighbouring states to encourage the importation of grain and other articles of food, it appears necessary here also to facilitate their introduction. We therefore &c., &c., decree :

Art. 1. The duties on the importation of the undermentioned goods shall be diminished to the following scale :

	Cents.
Potatoes	5	per 10 mud.
Millet	1	" 100 kilos.
Wheat	10	" last.
Maize, barley, malt, buck- wheat, oats, beans, vetches, peas, lentils, groats, pearl barley ...	"	" 100 kilos.

Art. 2. The above regulations shall come into operation five days after the date of the Staats Blad and Staats Courant, in which this Decree is published, and shall remain in vigour till the 1st of July, 1854, or till it is otherwise determined by law.

THE Council of Public Health of the Kingdom considering the difficulties which have occurred in the sanitary service in consequence of the present classification of susceptible goods, merchandize, and substances, and wishing, for the benefit of commerce, to obviate, as far as may be compatible with the security of public health, the recurrence of such difficulties, makes known that by virtue of the powers given to it by the 19th Article of the Decree of the 3rd January, 1837, it has resolved as follows; viz. :

1st. Are considered susceptible—

Cotton, raw or manufactured.

Hair, manufactured, or in any other state.

Hemp, raw or manufactured.

Letters, newspapers, and correspondence.

Horse-hair, in any state.

Hides, fresh, dry, or manufactured.

Fresh remains of animals.

Wool and flax, raw or manufactured.

Skins and feathers, manufactured or in any other state.

Silk, raw or manufactured.

2nd. All the merchandize and substances mentioned in the preceding Article are subject to quarantine, and to the expurgation prescribed by the regulations in force.

3rd. Are revoked,—the edicts of the 3rd January, 1821, 9th November, 1844, and 1st September, 1848.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations, with a view of preventing the spread of Cholera on board Merchant Shipping, have caused to be issued and circulated the following Instructions and Notice for the information and warning of Mariners and Shipowners :

CHOLERA.

Instructions to Captains of Ships prepared by the General Board of Health.

“CAPTAINS of Ships are hereby warned,—

I. What to avoid.

OVERCROWDING.—The amount of breathing space for the men which may suffice in ordinary times is insufficient in an epidemic season. Increase space as much as practicable. Permit no sails, large trunks, or any part of the cargo to occupy the fore-castle. If sufficient additional space cannot be otherwise obtained, erect a temporary tent on deck by awning, sails, &c., for the men at night, taking care that they sleep warm and dry. Ventilate the fore-castle and every part of the ship with fresh air as freely as possible. Pure air is the first essential requisite to safety.

DAMPNESS.—To lessen the danger from dampness let the boards be dry-rubbed. Let the men change their wet clothes whenever practicable, and never allow the wet clothes to remain below an instant. A thick flannel belt or bandage around the stomach or loins would be a great defence for sailors. Flannels or Guernsey frocks should be worn next the skin. Sudden and violent attacks of cholera often follow a chill.

FILTH.—Let every part of the ship be kept as clean and sweet as possible, and enjoin personal cleanliness on the men. Vessels affected by bilge water should be pumped out frequently, especially steamers.

UNWHOLESOME FOOD.—Articles of food which may be taken with little inconvenience in ordinary times may be dangerous in an epidemic season. The best articles of food are meat, good biscuits, rice, oatmeal, and good potatoes. Solid food is better than fluids, and therefore at this time it would be desirable to give the crew beef and mutton instead of soup. Care should be taken to avoid all tainted meat and decayed vegetables. Special attention should be paid to having a supply of pure water. All river water near towns should be avoided.

EXCESS.—Great moderation both in food and drink is absolutely essential to safety. A single act of indiscretion has been followed by a severe attack ; intemperance at such a time is fraught with extreme danger. An epidemic atmosphere commonly produces great depression, both of body and mind, and a desire for stimulants. If for the relief of this feeling recourse be had to gin or brandy, the result may be fatal.

PURGATIVE MEDICINES.—No purgative medicines of any kind should be taken at this season,—unless under medical direction. Glauber's Salts and Epsom Salts are especially dangerous. Owners and masters should provide themselves with the necessary medicines immediately.

II. What to do.

Cholera is commonly not so sudden in its attack as is supposed. It usually gives warning of its approach for some hours, and often for a day or two, by some degree of looseness of the bowels. This may be slight, and it is almost always without pain ; but let no one be put off his guard by this circumstance. The Master should, by observation and inquiry, take notice of the health of the crew ; and for his guidance, until such time as he may be able to obtain medical assistance, the following recommendations are subjoined :

If any man should be attacked with any degree of looseness of the bowels the following medicine should be given to him at once : fifteen or twenty grains of opiate confection, mixed with two table spoonsful of peppermint water, or with a little weak brandy and water warm. This should be repeated every three or four hours, or oftener if the attack is severe. If this medicine is not at hand, eight or ten drops of laudanum may be substituted for the opiate confection.

If the purging is severe, and especially if attended with vomiting or coldness, the man should go to bed immediately, and be kept warm. Bottles of hot water, or bags filled with salt or bran, should be applied to the stomach and feet and along the spine.

A large poultice of mustard and vinegar should be put over the stomach, and kept on fifteen or twenty minutes. The above medicines should be continued every hour, or every two or three hours, according to the emergency of the case, until a doctor can be got. Rest and warmth in bed are essential until medical assistance arrives ; but not a moment should be lost in seeking medical aid."

CHOLERA.

Notice to Masters and Owners of Ships prepared and issued by the Board of Trade.

"THE approach of cholera having rendered it necessary to take all possible precautions, and experience having shown that the disease spreads rapidly and fatally wherever there is overcrowding, dirt, and want of ventilation, the attention of Masters and Owners of Ships is specially called to the following sections of the Mercantile Marine Act—

Section 63. 'Every place in any ship occupied by seamen or apprentices, and appropriated to their use, shall have a space of not less than nine superficial feet for every adult, measured on the deck or floor of such place, which shall be kept free from stores or goods of any kind not being their personal property in use during the voyage; and every such place shall be securely and properly constructed and well ventilated.'

Section 69. 'If any place in any ship occupied by seamen or apprentices, and appropriated to their use, is not in the whole sufficiently large to give such space as hereinbefore required, or if any such place is not securely and properly constructed and well ventilated, the Owner shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds; and if any such space as aforesaid is not kept free from goods and stores as aforesaid, the Master shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds.'

Masters and Owners of Ships are hereby warned that the Board of Trade will, if occasion shall arise, take measures to enforce the above enactments, by inspection, and, if necessary, by legal proceedings.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Santo Domingo, a copy of which is subjoined, (referring to the Notice to Mariners, dated 22nd August last, on the subject of the Lighthouse recently erected in that city, and inserted in the Gazette of the 30th ultimo,) notifying certain alterations in the above Light ordered by the Dominican Government since the date of the last notice on the subject.

By order,

T. H. Farrer.

British Consulate, Santo Domingo, September 6, 1853.

My Lords,

I HAD the honour of enclosing to your Lordships, on the 22nd of August last, a "Notice to Mariners," conveying information respecting the Santo Domingo Lighthouse.

I state in that notice, among other details—

"The fixed white light consists of nine reflectors of the first class, the patents of Messrs. Alcot and Brothers, at Rochester, in the state of New York, and may be seen with a clear atmosphere in from 18 to 20 miles."

Since this was written the Dominican Government has directed that only six, and sometimes only five, reflectors shall be lighted, which greatly lessens the power and distance at which the light can be observed.

As the notice that it may be seen in from 18 to 20 miles might tend to lead mariners astray and into danger, considering themselves when first observing the light at a much greater distance from the port than they are in reality, I beg your Lordships will cause the following change to be made in the notice ; namely :

“ The fixed white light consists originally of nine reflectors, of the first class, the patent of Messrs. Alcot and Brothers, at Rochester, in the State of New York, and might be seen with a clear atmosphere, were all those reflectors properly lighted, at a distance of from 18 to 20 miles. But as the Dominican Government have recently given orders that only 6, and sometimes only 4 reflectors shall be lighted, by which its effect is greatly lessened, the distance at which it can be seen does probably not surmount 10 or 11 English miles.”

If the former notice should have been already published, your Lordships will perhaps consider it expedient to make likewise this correction known.

I have the honour, &c.,

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

THE Minister of Marine has communicated to this office, through the Department of Public Works, the following detailed information relative to the situation of a new light-house, erected on the coasts of the Spanish Peninsula, by the Corps of Engineers of Roads, Canals, and Ports, according to which the subsequent notice has been drawn up :—

MEDITERRANEAN SEA.

Coast of Valencia.

Light-house of the Isla Plana, or Tabarca. (Province of Alicante.)

From the 1st of January, 1854, a new light-house, established on the “Isla Plana, or Tabarca,” and at a distance of 2010 feet, Burgos measure, from the eastern point of the island, and of 560 feet from the sea shore in the northward direction, will be lighted every night from sunset to sunrise.

This light-house lies in—38° 10' 13" north latitude, and 5° 45' 38" east longitude, from the Observatory of St. Fernando.

Its apparatus is of the third catadioptrical order, with a permanent natural light, varied with flashes every two minutes. The elevation of the light above the level of the sea is of 98·9 feet, and produces a tangent of 10·9 miles; but it may be visible from a greater or minor distance, according to the state of the atmosphere and the elevation of the observer.

The above notice is published hereby, in fulfilment of a Royal Order, for the guidance of mariners.

Par l'Empereur :

Le Ministre Secrétaire d'Etat au Département de l'Agriculture, du Commerce, et des Travaux Publics, MAGNE.

Whitehall, October 5, 1853.

The Queen, taking into Her royal consideration that upon the decease of Henry Peyto, Baron Willoughby de Broke, in the month of December last, the title and dignity of Baron Willoughby de Broke devolved upon his nephew, Robert John Barnard, now Robert John Verney, Baron Willoughby de Broke, he being the only son and heir of Robert Barnard, Clerk, by Louisa, his wife, who was the only sister that left issue of the said Henry Peyto, late Baron Willoughby de Broke, and that, according to the ordinary rules of honour, the sister of the said Robert John, Baron Willoughby de Broke, cannot enjoy that place and precedence which would have been due to her in case her late mother, the said Louisa Barnard, had survived her brother, Henry Peyto, Baron Willoughby de Broke, and had thereby succeeded to the title and dignity of Baroness Willoughby de Broke, Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to ordain and declare, that Louisa, wife of Joseph Townsend, Esquire, and only sister of the said Robert John, Baron Willoughby de Broke, shall henceforth have, hold, and enjoy the same title, place, pre-eminence, and precedence, as if her late mother, Louisa Barnard, had survived her brother, Henry Peyto, Baron Willoughby de Broke, and had thereby succeeded to the title and dignity of Baroness Willoughby de Broke :

And Her Majesty has been further pleased to command that the said royal order and declaration be registered in Her College of Arms.

DIRECTIONS AND REGULATIONS OF
THE GENERAL BOARD OF HEALTH,
Issued under Authority of the Nuisances
Removal and Diseases Prevention Act, 1848,
Section X.

To Local Boards of Health acting under the Public Health Act, 1848 ;

To Town Councils or other Bodies acting under the Authority of Local Acts of Parliament in which the Provisions of the Public Health Act are included ;

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions in England and Wales, named in the First and Third Schedules hereunto an-nexed ;

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Parishes in England and Wales, named in the Second Schedule hereunto annexed ;

To the Overseers of the Poor of all Parishes, Townships, and Places not comprised in the Unions and Parishes mentioned in the Schedules hereunto annexed ;

To the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of Cities and Boroughs, Commissioners under Local Acts, the Surveyors of Highways, their Deputies and Assistants, Road Trustees, Commissioners, County Surveyors, and other Persons by Law intrusted with the Care and Management of all Streets, public Ways and Places in any Parish or Place in England and Wales ;

To the Owners and Occupiers of Houses, Dwellings, Churches, Buildings, and places of Assembly within the said Unions and Parishes, and others having the Care and Ordering thereof ;

And to all whom it may concern ;—

WHEREAS Directions and Regulations, bearing date the 20th day of September, 1853, were issued by Us, the General Board of Health, according to the provisions of “ The Nuisances Removal and Diseases Prevention Act, 1848,” acting under an Order of the Lords and others of Her Majesty’s Most Honourable Privy Council, bearing date the 15th day of September, 1853 :

And whereas doubts have arisen in relation to those of the said Directions numbered respectively 9 and 10 in the copies thereof printed by the Queen’s Printers; and it is expedient to remove the same and to make other Regulations in place thereof:

Now, therefore, in exercise of the Authority vested in us as aforesaid, We, the General Board of Health, do hereby, from and after the expiration of one week from the date hereof, revoke the Regulations and Directions, numbered respectively 9 and 10, above referred to, and from and after such period :

We direct,

1. That when any dwelling-house in any place to which these Directions and Regulations extend is in such a filthy and unwholesome condition as to be a nuisance or injurious to health; or,

Where upon, adjoining to, or near any premises or place as aforesaid there is any drain, ditch, gutter, watercourse, privy, cesspool, or ashpit kept or constructed so as to be a nuisance or injurious to health; or,

Where upon, adjoining to, or near any such premises or place, swine or any other animal, or any accumulation of dung, manure, offal, filth, refuse, or other matter or thing, shall be kept so as to be a nuisance or injurious to health :

Then the owner or occupier, or the person having the care of such dwelling-house or premises, or the person causing the nuisance aforesaid, shall forthwith cleanse, whitewash, ventilate, or otherwise purify, as the case may require, such dwelling-house or premises, or otherwise abate or remove the nuisance or matter injurious to health as aforesaid.

And if default be made herein by reason of the poverty of the owner, occupier, or other person or otherwise, and complaint shall have been made as hereinafter provided,

The Local Authority empowered to act in the place where the premises complained of shall be situate,

Or, if there shall be no such Local Authority, or the Local Authority shall delay for an unreasonable time, the Guardians of the Union or Parish, or the Overseers respectively, shall forthwith take all proper means for carrying into effect the Directions above prescribed for the owner or occupier.

2. Complaint as to any of the matters in the preceding Direction may be made to the Board of Guardians and Overseers respectively, or to the Local Authority of the Union, Parish, or Place wherein the matter of complaint exists; and the Board of Guardians or Overseers respectively, on receipt of such complaint, shall either cause proceedings to be taken under the first section of the Nuisances Removal and Diseases Prevention Act, 1848, or forward the complaint to such Local Authority, who shall proceed thereon forthwith; unless where there has been previous default on the part of such Local Authority, when the Board of Guardians or Overseers shall themselves forthwith, if necessary, act on the complaint as above directed.

3. That the Guardians of any Union or Parish, or the Overseers respectively, if they deem it necessary by reason of the appearance or reasonable apprehension of cholera in such Union or Parish, shall cause any such dwelling-house or premises to be cleansed and purified, and any such nuisance or matter injurious to health, as herein-before described, to be forthwith removed and abated, without any previous complaint being made to them or to the Local Authority.

4. That where any Medical Officer engaged in carrying our Regulations into execution shall certify in writing that any dwelling-house or room is so overcrowded as to threaten danger to the health of the inmates on the occurrence of cholera or any epidemic disease, and shall specify in such certificate the number of inmates which shall not be exceeded in such house or room, the owner or occupier having the control of such house or room shall forthwith reduce the number of inmates as specified in such certificate, notwithstanding any measures may have been taken to ventilate, purify, or cleanse the house or room.

5. That the Provisions of the Common Lodging Houses Act, shall extend to rooms occupied by members of different families, whether for weekly, monthly, quarterly, or longer periods.

6. The expression Local Authority used herein shall signify the Town Council, Local Board of Health, or any Trustees or Commissioners for the draining, paving, lighting, cleansing, managing, or directing the police of any town, borough, or place, or any other body of a like nature, or any Commissioners of Sewers, or any body, excepting Boards of Guardians and Overseers, having by law powers for the removal of nuisances; and the other words used shall be herein interpreted as in our Regulations and Directions dated the 20th of September last.

Given under our Hands and under the Seal of the General Board of Health, this twelfth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

(Signed) Shaftesbury.
Edwin Chadwick.
T. Southwood Smith.

Then follow several Schedules containing the names of the unions, parishes, &c. to which the present directions and regulations apply.

DIRECTIONS AND REGULATIONS OF
THE GENERAL BOARD OF HEALTH,
Issued under Authority of the Nuisances
Removal and Diseases Prevention Act, 1848,
Section X.

To Officers of the Customs and Coast Guard, Medical Officers of Quarantine, Union and Parochial Medical Officers, and Pilots ;

To Persons in Command of Merchant Ships arriving at Ports in England and Wales ;

And to all whom it may concern :—

WHEREAS by the provisions of "The Nuisances Removal and Diseases Prevention Act, 1848," for the prevention of epidemic, endemic, and contagious diseases, we, the General Board of Health, are authorized to issue such directions and regulations as we shall think fit, for the prevention, as far as possible, or mitigation of epidemic, endemic, or contagious disease. And whereas by the said Act it is provided, that the directions and regulations to be issued as aforesaid shall extend to all parts or places in which the said provisions of the said Act shall, for the time being, be in force under the Order of Her Majesty's Privy Council, unless such directions or regulations shall be expressly confined to some of such parts or places, and then to such parts or places as in such directions and regulations shall be specified ;

And whereas by an Order of Her Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, bearing date the 15th day of September, 1853, the said provisions of the said Act were directed to be put in force throughout the whole of Great Britain for a period of six calendar months thence next ensuing :

Now, in exercise of the authority vested in us as aforesaid, we, the General Board of Health, do issue the directions and regulations hereinafter contained, to extend to all vessels arriving in ports, harbours, rivers, creeks, or roads throughout England and Wales, that is to say :

I. That in every case when a vessel arrives in port, the captain shall report to the Customs officer (whether inspector or surveyor,) who first comes on board, or to the officer of the Coast-guard, as the case may be, or to the pilot, the number of persons on board, whether passengers or seamen, who from illness, from whatsoever cause, are unable to stand or to work.

II. That the said Customs officer shall see such persons, and if upon inquiry the illness, from whatsoever cause, be such that there is reasonable ground for desiring medical advice, or if such advice be desired by the person suffering, then such officer shall send notice thereof to the nearest union or parochial medical officer, or to any medical practitioner who may have been specially appointed to act as officer of quarantine.

III. That for the purpose of sending such notification, the captain shall provide a boat and men, as he may be requested, to convey the notice, and to bring back such medical officer to examine the case or cases of sickness on board.

IV. Where the Customs or Coast-guard officer cannot consistently with his duty quit the ship, then he shall require the officer in command of the ship to send the last-mentioned notice, and shall note in his official book the date and hour of his having done so ; and in case the officer in command of the ship refuse or fail to send such notice, the Custom House officer shall report the fact to the first visiting officer by whom the vessel may be boarded, that proceedings may be taken against the commanding officer according to law for wilful neglect of the directions of the General Board of Health.

V. Where there is no medical officer of quarantine, the principal offices of the Customs, or the inspecting commanders of the Coast-guard, shall see their subordinate officers furnished with the name and address of the union or parochial medical officer.

VI. And we do further order, that in the event of the occurrence of one or more of such cases of illness, and upon request from any passengers or seamen, or without such request where there is reasonable ground for believing that there is a case of cholera or other epidemic disease on board, or where more than one person on board is suffering from illness of the like symptoms, the captain of any British ship shall, himself, forthwith, and without any inquiry by any Customs officer or pilot, send such notice as aforesaid, and procure the attendance of any union or parochial medical officer or medical officer of quarantine.

VII. And we do hereby order and direct, that such union or parochial medical officer or medical officer of quarantine shall, upon receiving such notification, forthwith go on board the vessel and examine the cases of sickness on board, and act in respect thereto as if such cases had occurred in dwellings on shore.

VIII. And in case he shall find that the cabin or hold of the vessel where the sick person lies is in a filthy condition and without proper accommodation, or that from the number of persons on board there is danger of the spreading of the disease, or that there is not on board proper attendance or means for the suitable treatment of the sick, we do further order and direct, that in every such case the medical office shall take order for providing suitable accommodation on shore for such patients, for their removal thereto, and for their treatment therein.

IX. And in case of any vessel arriving at or lying in any port, river, or creek, or near the coast, in any part of the United Kingdom, out of the jurisdiction of the Poor Law Amendment Act, where no medical officers are appointed, then application shall be made by the captain, or any officer in charge, to any duly licensed medical practitioner.

X. And we do further order, that where there is on board of such vessel any case of epidemic, endemic, or contagious disease, or in case of the arrival of the vessel from any port or coast of any country where it is known that cholera or other epidemic or endemic diseases are prevalent, such medical officer shall and is hereby authorized to take measures for the protection of the passengers and crew on board such vessel; and for such purpose all directions and regulations of this Board in force for the time being under any Order of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council with respect to dwellings on shore, shall, in so far as applicable, extend to such vessel.

XI. And we do hereby order and direct, that all officers of Customs, or of the Coast-guard, appointed to take charge of vessels on their arrival, and every pilot, shall keep and carry with them copies of these our directions, and shall call the attention of the captain of the vessel to them.

Given under our hands, and under the seal of the General Board of Health, this thirteenth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

GENERAL SUPERINTENDENCY OF HEALTH.

The Chief Magistrate of Health, at his ordinary sitting, held the 16th of September, ordains :

That from henceforth vessels coming from Christiana and Lørvigen (places infected by the cholera) are to be subjected to a quarantine of 10 days (should the voyage be unattended by symptoms of disease) for the passengers and goods, with purification in the lazaret-houses of the 1st class. Vessels whose voyage may have been attended by symptoms of the disease will be refused entrance ; and the rest of the ports of Norway continue to be considered as localities suspected of being infected.

And on other deliberations, held the same day, the college above named ordained :

That Lübeck, together with its port of Travemünde (places suspected of being infected by the cholera), be subjected to a quarantine of 10 days for the passengers only, all their articles of wearing apparel being exposed to the open air on board of the vessel.

The Chief Magistrate of Health, at his ordinary sitting, held the 23rd September, ordains :

I. That from henceforth vessels coming from—

1. London, as well as the other ports on the banks of the Thames ;
2. From Newcastle ;
3. From Billequay, on the south bank of the Tyne (all of which places are infected by the cholera), be subjected to a quarantine of 10 days (should the voyage be unattended by symptoms of the disease) for the passengers and goods, with purification in the lazarett-houses of the 1st class. Vessels whose voyages may have been attended by symptoms of the disease will be refused entrance.

II. That vessels coming from the ports of the United Kingdom of Great Britain, as well as from the Kingdom of Belgium and Holland (localities suspected of being infected by the cholera) be subjected to a quarantine of 10 days for the passengers only, all their articles of wearing apparel being exposed to the open air on board of the vessel.

III. That the north of France, as well as Gibraltar (localities suspected of being infected by the cholera) be subjected to 7 days' observation for passengers only, all their wearing apparel being exposed to the open air on board of the vessel.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul-General, at Hamburg, inclosing a Notification issued by the Oldenburg Government, a translation of which is subjoined, relative to two New Beacons which have been erected on the Island of Wangerooge, with the view of facilitating the navigation of vessels entering the River Weser.

By order,
James Booth.

NOTIFICATION.

It is hereby made known for the information of the seafaring people, that for the more easily making the Weser Schlüssel buoy, marking the entrance to the Weser, two beacons have been erected on the north-west side of the island of Wangerooge.

These beacons stand on two of the highest downs of the island, at a distance from each other of 750 feet in the direction N.E. $\frac{1}{8}$ E. and S.W. $\frac{1}{8}$ W., and both are in a straight direct line with the Weser Schlüssel buoy.

The south-western beacon, crowned with a 14 feet square \square head, stands 54 feet high, the north-eastern beacon stands 50 feet high, and has a round head of 14 feet in diameter.

Vessels coming from the westward and intending to make the first Weser Schlüssel buoy, upon having properly neared the island of Wangerooge, must continue their easterly course until both beacons appear in a direct line, in S.W. $\frac{1}{8}$ W., as per compass, and so that the south-western is covered by the north-eastern beacon, and in $8\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms of low water they will see the first Weser Schlüssel buoy; or, if it should be drifted away, they will be, according to the above directions, close upon the position of the said buoy.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Note from the Austrian Minister at this Court, inclosing a Notification, a translation of which is subjoined, issued by the Maritime Authorities at Trieste, enjoining all Foreign Vessels, whenever they are in Austrian Ports, Roadsteads, or Anchorages, to exhibit a Light from the foremast between Sunset and Sunrise.

By order,

James Booth.

(Copy.) No. 2019.

(Translation.)

NOTIFICATION.

Of I. R. Central Maritime Government, which extends to Foreign Vessels, also the obligation to keep a lantern lighted at the foremast, whenever they are in Austrian maritime ports, roads, and anchorages, during the night.

By virtue of the s. 21 of the Regulation of the 25th January last, No. 8025, relative to signals in Austrian vessels by night, or in case of fog, all Austrian sailing vessels or steamers, whether of war or for trade, which may be at anchor in Austrian ports, unless they are close to a mole, or anchored in a line (in andana), are bound to keep lighted, from the moment of sunset to that of sunrise, a lantern with plain light (luce naturale) at the foremast, so as to be easily seen from all points of the horizon.

The above obligation, imposed with the view of preventing as far as possible the danger of running down, is now by this present notification with the said view, and in the way above mentioned, extended also to all foreign ships which shall be at night in the ports, roads, and other anchorages of the Austrian coast, in the same manner as is regulated for national vessels, under the penalty of a fine of five florins, convention money, to be recovered from the respective captain or master, for every violation of the above order, which shall for them be in force on the 1st day of July next.

The I. R. port and health officers are directed to provide, as well directly as by the functionaries subordinate to them, for the exact observance and fulfilment of the present regulation.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of OCTOBER 25, 1853.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 24th day of October, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

IT is this day ordered by Her Majesty in Council, that the Parliament, which stands prorogued to Thursday the twenty-seventh day of October instant, be further prorogued to Tuesday the twenty-ninth day of November next.

By the QUEEN.

A PROCLAMATION.

In order to the Electing of a Peer for Scotland.

VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS Alexander George, Lord Saltoun was duly elected and returned to be one of the sixteen Peers of Scotland, to sit in the House of Peers in the present Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and is since deceased: In order to the electing another Peer of Scotland to sit in his room, We do, by the advice of Our Privy Council, issue forth this Our Royal Proclamation, strictly charging and commanding all the Peers of Scotland to assemble and meet at Holyrood House, at Edinburgh, on Wednesday, the sixteenth day of November next ensuing, between the hours of twelve and two in the afternoon, to nominate and choose another Peer of Scotland to sit and vote in the House of Peers in this present Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the room of the said Alexander George, Lord Saltoun, deceased, by open election and plurality of voices of the Peers that shall be then present, and of the proxies of such as shall be absent (such proxies being Peers, and producing a mandate in writing duly signed before witnesses, and both the constituents and proxy being qualified according to law): and the Lord Clerk Register, or such two of the Principal Clerks of the Session as shall be appointed by him to officiate in his name, are hereby respectively required to attend such meeting, and to administer the oaths required by law to be taken there by the said Peers, and to take their votes; and immediately after such election made and duly examined, to certify the name of the Peer so elected, and to sign and attest the same in the presence of the said Peers the electors, and return such certificate into Our High Court of Chancery of Great Britain; and We strictly charge and command that this Our Royal Proclamation be duly published at the Market Cross, at Edinburgh, and in all the county towns of Scotland, ten days at least before the time hereby appointed for the meeting of the said Peers to proceed on such election.

Given at Our Court at Windsor, this twenty-fourth day of October in the year of our Lord, one thousand hundred and fifty-three, and in the seventeenth year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.

At the Court at Windsor, the 24th day of October, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

THIS day the Right Honourable John Parker was, by Her Majesty's command, sworn of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took his place at the Board accordingly.

At the Court at Windsor, the 24th day of October 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representation duly made (as set forth in this Gazette) by Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches —

To unite and consolidate certain contiguous portions of the parishes of the Holy Trinity, Micklegate; Saint Mary Bishophill Senior; and Acomb, in the city and county of York, and in the diocese of York; and to form the same into one consolidated chapelry for all ecclesiastical purposes for the consecrated church of Edward the Confessor, situate at Dringhouses, in the said parish of the Holy Trinity, Micklegate, to be named "The Consolidated Chapelry of Dringhouses," and vesting the right of presentation and appointment of an incumbent or perpetual curate to serve the said church of Edward the Confessor, at Dringhouses aforesaid, whenever occasion may require, in Matthew Alexander Eason Wilkinson, of Manchester, in the county of Lancaster, Esquire, his heirs and assigns, for ever.

At the Court at Windsor, the 24th day of October 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order, with reference to the representations made by one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State (as set forth in this Gazette) that burials be discontinued—

(Translation.)

THE Council of Public Health of the Kingdom, wishing to prevent all disputes regarding the application of the regulations contained in the edicts of the 25th of July and 5th of December, 1850, and 3rd of July, 1851, for the conditional admission to free pratique of ships, &c., proceeding from suspected ports, has deliberated upon, and hereby ordains the observance of the following:

Art. 1. Ships proceeding from suspected ports, and having been eight days on their voyage are to be allowed free pratique at all the ports of the kingdom.

Art. 2. Ships proceeding from suspected ports, and having been less than eight whole days on their voyage, must complete them at the port of their arrival by a quarantine of observation.

Art. 3. The days of the voyage shall be reckoned from the moment of departure as shown by the Log Book.

Art. 4. The edicts of the 24th and 25th of October, 1850, continue in force.

Lisbon, September 29, 1853.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Pro-Consular Agent at Rome, inclosing the following translation of a Pontifical Edict, granting free importation of Corn into the Papal States until the end of February, 1854.

By order,

James Booth.

(Copy.)

NOTIFICATION OF CARDINAL ANTONELLI.

To do away with the uncertainty arising from the moveable Tariffs regulating the importation and exportation of corn, in the present state of things, the Holiness of our Lord, having heard the Council of Ministers, has ordered us to publish, as we do in his sovereign name, the free importation of wheat, Indian corn, and flour, large wheat ("farro"), barley, oats, pulse (excepting lupins), potatoes, chestnuts, and their flours, until the end of February, 1854, whatever may be the medium price of the said articles resulting from the corn tables, as well for the section of the Mediterranean as for that of the Adriatic, derogating for this purpose from every law or regulation to the contrary.

The Pro-Minister of the Finances is charged with the apposite execution.

Secretary of State's Office, 5th October, 1853.

(Signed) J. CARD. ANTONELLI.

(Translation.)

NOTIFICATION.

JAMES, of the Holy Roman Church, Cardinal Antonelli, Deacon of St. Agatha, in Suburra, Secretary of State of his Holiness, our Lord, Pope Pius IX.

In order to remove the uncertainty arising from the sliding scale, by which the importation and exportation of corn are regulated, his Holiness, our Lord, having heard the Council of Ministers, has, in the present state of things, ordered us to declare, as we do hereby declare, in his sovereign name, that the importation of wheat, of Indian corn, and the flour thereof, of (Farro, Epeautre, Triticum spelta) spelt, of barley, of oats, of legumes (except of lupini), potatoes, of chestnuts, and the flour thereof, shall be free until the end of February, 1854, whatever may be the average price of the said articles, according to the Food Returns, as well for the section of the Mediterranean as for that of the Adriatic, every law and enactment to the contrary being for this purpose suspended.

The Pro-Minister of Finance is charged with the execution hereof.

From the Secretary of State's Office,
October 5, 1853,

THE Earl of Clarendon has received a Dispatch from Mr. Turnbull, Her Majesty's Consul at Marseilles, of which the following is a copy :

Marseilles, October 19, 1853.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour of informing your Lordship that, on account of the Quarantines established in the Roman and Neapolitan ports on arrivals from England, the steamers sailing from hence for Civita Vecchia and Naples refuse to receive passengers coming from England, and destined for those ports, unless it appears from the visas on their passports that they have been seven days out of England previous to embarking; this being necessary to prevent the vessel being put into Quarantine at Civita Vecchia or Naples, and to allow the travellers admission in free pratique.

I have, &c.

At the Court at Windsor-Castle, 28th October, 1853.

A CHAPTER of the Most Ancient and Most Noble Order of the Thistle having been summoned for this day, the following Knights Brethren, in their Mantles and Collars, assembled in St. George's Hall; viz. :—

The Earl of Aberdeen, the Earl of Mansfield, and the Earl of Elgin, attended by the undermentioned Officers of the Order, in their mantles and wearing their chains and badges ; viz.: Sir John-Stewart Richardson, Bart., Secretary of the Order, and Frederic-Peel Round, Esq., Gentleman Usher of the Green Rod.

At three o'clock the Knights Brethren were called over by the Secretary, when (Her Majesty and His Royal Highness the Prince Albert having passed into the Throne-room), they proceeded, together with the Officers of the Order, through the grand reception-room into the Throne-room.

The Queen being seated in Her chair of State, and His Royal Highness the Prince Albert at the table on the right hand of Her Majesty, the Sovereign was pleased to command the other Knights Brethren to take their seats at the table, according to their seniority in the Order, the Officers of the Order standing in their places at the bottom of the table.

The Sovereign was then pleased to signify Her royal pleasure touching the election of a Knight into the Order ; whereupon the Knights Brethren proceeded to the election, and the suffrages having been collected by the Secretary (commencing with the junior Knight), were by him, kneeling, presented to the Sovereign, who was pleased to declare that the Right Honourable Thomas, Earl of Haddington, had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Ancient and Most Noble Order of the Thistle.

Then, by command of the Sovereign, the Earl of Haddington was received, at the door of the Chapter-room, by the Earl of Mansfield and the Earl of Elgin, the two junior Knights Brethren present, and conducted between them to Her Majesty, preceded by the Secretary (bearing on a velvet cushion the ensigns of the Order) and by the Gentleman Usher of the Green Rod.

The sword of state being thereupon delivered to the Sovereign, by His Royal Highness the Prince Albert, the senior Knight, the Earl of Haddington, kneeling near the Queen, was knighted therewith; after which his Lordship had the honour to kiss Her Majesty's hand; the Earl rising, the oath was administered to his Lordship by the Secretary.

The Earl of Haddington, then again kneeling, and the Secretary, on his knee, presenting to Her Majesty the ribband and jewel of the Order, the Queen was graciously pleased to place the same over the Earl's left shoulder.

His Lordship, having again kissed the Sovereign's hand, and after receiving the congratulations of the Knights Brethren, retired.

The Chapter then proceeded to a second election, and the suffrages having been collected as before, and presented to the Sovereign, Her Majesty was pleased to declare, that the Most Noble George-Augustus-Frederick-John, Duke of Atholl, had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Ancient and Most Noble Order of the Thistle, whereupon his Grace was introduced and knighted, and the oath having been administered to his Grace, he was invested with the ribband and jewel in the same manner as the Earl of Haddington had been, and the like ceremonies having been observed, his Grace withdrew.

The Chapter then proceeded to a third election, and the suffrages having been collected as before and presented to the Sovereign, Her Majesty was pleased to declare that the Right Honourable Fox, Lord Panmure, had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Ancient and Most Noble Order of the Thistle, whereupon his Lordship was introduced and knighted, and the oath having been administered to his Lordship, he was invested with the ribband and jewel in the same manner, and the like ceremonies having been observed, his Lordship withdrew.

The Chapter being ended the Knights Brethren were, by command of Her Majesty, again called over by the Secretary, and with the Officers of the Order, retired from the presence of the Sovereign, with the usual reverences.

Foreign-Office, October 31, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. Henry Ernest Blanchard as Consul at Port Louis, Mauritius, for His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of the French.

The Queen has also been pleased to approve of Mr. C. W. Denison as Consul at Demerara, for the United States of America.

St. James's-Palace, October 22, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased, on the nomination of the Right Honourable Lord Foley, to appoint George Watkin Rice, Esquire, late Captain 23rd Royal Welsh Fusiliers, one of Her Majesty's Honourable Corps of Gentlemen-at-Arms, vice Rice.

(Copy.)

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(Translation.)

IN the middle of the next year the tuns of the Old Weser Channel, which are more clearly specified under IV., will be taken up. On the other hand, the buoys to be laid down in the New Weser Channel, for the purpose of facilitating the entrance into the mouth, will be stationed as follows :—

I. Instead of the four red and two white buoy tuns at present lying in the New Channel, towards the middle of the year 1854 six red and five white tuns are to be stationed. The red tuns situated on entering, on the starboard side, will retain the buoy form as hitherto; whereas the white tuns situated on the larboard side will have the form of the usual Weser tuns.

a. The first red tun of the New Weser mouth will then lie in the same direction as the present black key tun, from Wangeroog, but nearer the island, in nine fathoms water, and be distinguished by a golden key.

b. The second red tun, marked A, will bear S.W. by W. $\frac{3}{8}$ W. of the Wangeroog Town, and bear a golden pear as mark of distinction.

c. The third red tun, marked B, will bear W.S.W. $\frac{3}{8}$ W. of the Wangeroog Town, and bear a round basket as mark of distinction.

- d.* The fourth red tun, marked C, comes in the place of the present red tun, No. 1, but will be distinguishable by a golden cross, instead of the present round basket.
- e* The fifth and sixth red tuns, marked severally D and E, will be stationed where the present red tuns, marked severally No. II. and No. III., lie, and be likewise distinguishable by a round basket.

II. The number of the white tuns will be then increased by three additional ones, two of which will be stationed seawards of the present tun, No. 0, and the other above the present tun, No. 1.

- a.* The first white tun, marked No. 1, will be stationed on the extreme point of the "Red Sand," in seven fathoms water, and bear S.W. by W. of the Wangeroog Town.
- b.* The second white tun, marked No. 2, will bear W.S.W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W. of the Wangeroog Town.
- c.* The third and fourth white tuns, marked severally No. 3 and No. 4, will be stationed in the place of the tuns, No 0 and No. 1, at present lying on the Middle Plate, but in a different form, and, besides this, the tun No. 3 will be distinguishable by a wing.
- d.* The fifth white tun, marked No. 5, will be stationed near the Mellum Plate, and bear E. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. of the sixth red tun, E.

III. As soon as the New Channel, or Fairway, is provided with buoys and beacons as above specified, the station of the light-ship, No. 1, will be removed higher up, and in such a manner that from the first white outward-lying tun a direct passage may be steered up to it in a S.E. course. The present black G, or eighth tun, will then likewise be removed higher up.

IV. The consequence of this alteration in the several positions of the buoys and beacons, the four black tuns, at present lying in the old Weser Channel, namely key A. B. and C., and also the two white tuns, No. I. and No. II, will be taken up at the above-mentioned time, but the other tuns lying below the light ship No. 1, will remain in their present position till further notice.

When the alterations above specified are finally effected, further particulars will be made known to Mariners, but even at the present date, the Chamber of Commerce considers it its duty to direct the attention of those concerned to the proposed alteration.

Treaty of Friendship, Commerce, and Navigation, between Her Majesty and the Republic of Paraguay.

Signed at Assumption, March 4, 1853.

[*Ratifications exchanged at London, November
2, 1853.*]

In the Name of the Most Holy Trinity.

HER Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and his Excellency the President of the Republic of Paraguay, being desirous of maintaining and improving the relations of good understanding which at present subsist between them, and of promoting commercial intercourse between the dominions of Her Britannic Majesty and the territories of the Republic, have resolved for that purpose to conclude a Treaty of Friendship, Commerce, and Navigation, and have named as their Plenipotentiaries, that is to say:

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Sir Charles Hotham, Knight Commander of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, a Captain in Her Majesty's Navy, and one of her Aides-de-Camp, accredited on a Special Mission to the Republic of Paraguay;

And his Excellency the President of the Republic of Paraguay, the Paraguayan Citizen Francisco Solano Lopez, Brigadier-General-in-Chief of the National Army;

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles:

ARTICLE I.

There shall be perfect peace and sincere friendship between Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the Government of the Republic of Paraguay, and between the subjects and citizens of both States, without exception of persons or of places. The High Contracting Parties shall use their best endeavours that this friendship and good understanding may be constantly and perpetually maintained.

ARTICLE II.

The Republic of Paraguay, in the exercise of the sovereign right which pertains to her, concedes to the merchant flag of the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty the free navigation of the River Paraguay as far as Assumption, the capital of the Republic, and of the right side of the Paraná from where it belongs to her as far as the city of Encarnacion. They shall be at liberty, with their ships and cargoes, freely and securely to come to and to leave all the places and ports which are already mentioned; to remain and reside in any part of the said territories; hire houses and warehouses; and trade in all kinds of produce, manufactures, and merchandize of lawful commerce, subject to the usages and established customs of the country. They may discharge the whole or part of their cargoes at the ports of Pilar, and where commerce with other nations may be permitted, or proceed with the whole or part of the cargo to the port of Assumption, according as the captain, owner, or other duly authorized person shall deem expedient.

In the same manner shall be treated and considered such Paraguayan citizens as should arrive at the ports of Great Britain with cargoes in Paraguayan or British vessels.

ARTICLE III.

The two High Contracting Parties hereby agree that any favour, privilege, or immunity whatever, in matters of commerce or navigation, which either Contracting Party has actually granted, or may hereafter grant, to the subjects or citizens of any other State, shall extend, in identity of cases and circumstances, to the subjects or citizens of the other Contracting Party, gratuitously, if the concession in favour of that other State shall have been gratuitous, or in return for an equivalent compensation, if the concession shall have been conditional.

ARTICLE IV.

No other or higher duties shall be imposed on the importation or exportation of any article of the growth, produce, or manufacture of the two Contracting States, than are or shall be payable on the like article being the growth, produce, or manufacture of any other foreign country. No prohibition shall be imposed upon the importation or exportation of any article of the growth, produce, or manufacture of the territories of either of the two Contracting Parties into the territories of the other, which shall not equally extend to the importation or exportation of similar articles to the territories of any other nation.

ARTICLE V.

No other or higher duties or charges on account of tonnage, light or harbour dues, pilotage, salvage in case of damage or shipwreck, or any other local charges, shall be imposed in any of the ports of the Republic of Paraguay on British vessels, than those payable in the same ports by Paraguayan vessels; nor in the ports of Her Britannic Majesty's dominions on Paraguayan vessels, than shall be payable in the same ports by British vessels.

ARTICLE VI.

The same duties shall be paid upon the importation and exportation of any article which is or may be legally importable or exportable into the dominions of Her Britannic Majesty, and into those of Paraguay, whether such importation or exportation be made in British or Paraguayan vessels.

ARTICLE VII.

All vessels which, according to the laws of Great Britain, are to be deemed British vessels, and all vessels which, according to the laws of Paraguay, are to be deemed Paraguayan vessels, shall, for the purposes of this Treaty, be deemed British vessels and Paraguayan vessels respectively.

ARTICLE VIII.

British subjects shall pay in the Republic of Paraguay the same import and export duties which are established, or may hereafter be established, for Paraguayan citizens. In the same manner, the latter shall pay in the dominions of Her Britannic Majesty the duties which are established, or may hereafter be established, for British subjects.

ARTICLE IX.

All merchants, commanders of ships, and others, the subjects or citizens of each country respectively, shall have full liberty, in all the territories of the other, to manage their own affairs themselves, or to commit them to the management of whomsoever they please, as agent, broker, factor, or interpreter; and they shall not be obliged to employ any other persons than those employed by natives, nor to pay to such persons as they shall think fit to employ, any higher salary or remuneration than such as is paid, in like cases, by natives.

The subjects of Her Britannic Majesty in Paraguay, and the citizens of Paraguay in the dominions of Her Britannic Majesty, shall enjoy the same full liberty which is now, or may hereafter, be enjoyed by natives of each country respectively, to buy from and sell to whom they like, all articles of lawful commerce, and to fix the prices thereof as they shall see good, without being affected by any monopoly, contract, or exclusive privilege of sale or purchase; subject, however, to the general ordinary contributions or imposts established by law.

The subjects and citizens of either of the Contracting Parties, in the territories of the other, shall enjoy full and perfect protection for their persons and property, and shall have free and open access to the courts of justice for the prosecution and defence of their just rights. They shall enjoy in this respect the same rights and privileges as native subjects or citizens ; and they shall be at liberty to employ in all causes, the advocates, attorneys, or agents of whatever description, whom they may think proper.

ARTICLE X.

In whatever relates to the police of the ports, the lading and unlading of ships, the warehousing and safety of merchandize, goods, and effects, the succession to personal estates by will or otherwise, and the disposal of personal property of every sort and denomination by sale, donation, exchange, or testament, or in any other manner whatsoever, as also with regard to the administration of justice, the subjects and citizens of each Contracting Party shall enjoy, in the dominions or territories of the other, the same privileges, liberties, and rights, as native subjects or citizens ; and shall not be charged, in any of these respects, with any other or higher imposts or duties than those which are or may be paid by native subjects or citizens ; subject always to the local laws and regulations of such dominions or territories.

In the event of any subject or citizen of either of the two Contracting Parties dying without will or testament, in the dominions or territories of the other Contracting Party, the Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul of the nation to which the deceased may belong, or in his absence the representative of such Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul, shall, so far as the laws of each country will permit, take charge of the property which the deceased may have left, for the benefit of his lawful heirs and creditors, until an executor or administrator be named by the said Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul, or his representative.

ARTICLE XI.

The subjects of Her Britannic Majesty residing in the Republic of Paraguay, and the citizens of the Republic of Paraguay residing in the dominions of Her Britannic Majesty, shall be exempted from all compulsory military service whatsoever, whether by sea or land, and from all forced loans or military exactions or requisitions; and they shall not be compelled to pay any charges, requisitions, or taxes, other or higher than those that are or may be paid by native subjects or citizens.

ARTICLE XII.

It shall be free for each of the two Contracting Parties to appoint Consuls for the protection of trade, to reside in the dominions and territories of the other Party; but before any Consul shall act as such, he shall, in the usual form, be approved and admitted by the Government to which he is sent; and either of the Contracting Parties may except from the residence of Consuls, such particular places as either of them may judge fit to be excepted.

The Diplomatic Agents and Consuls of Her Britannic Majesty in the Republic of Paraguay, shall enjoy whatever privileges, exemptions, and immunities, are or may be there granted to the Diplomatic Agents and Consuls of any other nation whatever ; and, in like manner, the Diplomatic Agents and Consuls of the Republic of Paraguay in the dominions of Her Britannic Majesty, shall enjoy whatever privileges, exemptions, and immunities, are or may be there granted to agents of any other nation whatever.

ARTICLE XIII.

For the better security of commerce between the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty and the citizens of the Republic of Paraguay, it is agreed that if, at any time, any interruption of friendly intercourse, or any rupture should unfortunately take place between the two Contracting Parties, the subjects or citizens of either of the said Contracting Parties who may be established in the dominions or territories of the other, in the exercise of any trade or special employment, shall have the privilege of remaining and continuing such trade or employment therein, without any manner of interruption, in full enjoyment of their liberty and property, as long as they behave peaceably and commit no offence against the laws ; and their goods and effects, of whatever description they may be, whether in their own custody or entrusted to individuals or to the State, shall not be liable to seizure or sequestration, or to any other charges or demands than those which may be made upon the like effects or property belonging to native subjects or citizens. If, however, they prefer to leave the country, they shall be allowed the time they may require to liquidate their accounts and dispose of their property, and a safe-conduct shall be given them to embark at the ports which they shall themselves select. Consequently, in the case referred to of a rupture, the public funds of the Contracting States shall never be confiscated, sequestered, or detained.

ARTICLE XIV.

The subjects or citizens of either of the two Contracting Parties, residing in the dominions or territories of the other, shall enjoy in regard to their houses, persons, and properties, the protection of the Government in as full and ample a manner as native subjects or citizens.

In like manner the subjects or citizens of each Contracting Party shall enjoy, in the dominions or territories of the other, full liberty of conscience, and shall not be molested on account of their religious belief; and such of those subjects or citizens as may die in the territories of the other Party, shall be buried in the public cemeteries, or in places appointed for the purpose, with suitable decorum and respect.

The subjects of Her Britannic Majesty residing within the territories of the Republic of Paraguay, shall be at liberty to exercise in private and in their own dwellings, or within the dwellings or offices of Her Britannic Majesty's Consuls or Vice-Consuls, their religious rites, services, and worship, and to assemble therein for that purpose without hindrance or molestation.

ARTICLE XV.

The Government of the Republic of Paraguay, as a consequence of the national law for the freedom of the offspring of slaves, binds itself to prohibit, in the most efficacious manner, all the inhabitants of the Republic from trading in African negroes, in accordance with the philanthropic policy of Her Majesty the Queen of England, for the abolition of the above-mentioned traffic.

ARTICLE XVI.

The present Treaty shall be in force during six years, counted from the day of the exchange of the ratifications ; and if, a year before the expiration of that term, neither the one nor the other Contracting Party should announce, by an official declaration, its intention to put an end to the effect of the said Treaty, it shall continue for a year longer ; so that in this case it shall cease to be binding at the expiration of seven years, counted from the above-mentioned day of the exchange of the ratifications.

The Paraguayan Government shall be at liberty to address to Her Britannic Majesty, or to Her Representative in the Republic, the official declaration agreed upon in this Article.

ARTICLE XVII.

The present Treaty shall be ratified by Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in eight months from its date, and in ten days by his Excellency the President of the Republic of Paraguay ; and the ratifications shall be exchanged at London or Monte Video, within the term of ten months from the same date, or sooner if possible.

In witness whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seals of their arms.

Done at Assumption, the capital of the Republic of Paraguay, on the fourth day of March, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

*Board of Trade Whitehall,
Marine Department, November 2, 1853.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received from Her Majesty's Consul at Rotterdam copy of a Notice, issued by the Minister of the Netherland Marine Department (a translation of which is subjoined), relative to Buoys that have now been placed at the entrance of the Friesland Middelgat.

By order,
James Booth.

(Copy.)

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

THE Minister of Marine hereby informs such as are interested thereby, as a continuation of the notice of the 18th of August last, that the Friesland Middelgat is now indicated by an ordinary red buoy, as outer buoy, besides three black and three white buoys; and that the afore-mentioned red buoy is placed in 10 ells depth, bearing:

The south-east beacon of Schiermonnikoog, S.E.

The large lighthouse on the Englishman's Bank, S.; the steeple of Peesens being between the two lighthouses on the Englishman's Bank, a handspike's length to the east of the large lighthouse.

The 1st white buoy is placed in 44 palms depth, bearing:

The aforesaid beacon at Schiermonnikoog, S.E.

The aforesaid large lighthouse, S. $\frac{1}{2}$ W.

The 2nd white buoy lies in 39 palms depth, bearing:

The aforesaid beacon, S.E.

The aforesaid large lighthouse, S. $\frac{3}{4}$ W.

The 3rd white buoy is placed in 70 palms depth, bearing:

The aforesaid beacon, S.E. $\frac{1}{2}$ S.

The aforesaid lighthouse, S.S.W.

The 1st black buoy is placed in 55 palms depth, bearing:

The aforesaid beacon, S.E.

The aforesaid lighthouse, S $\frac{1}{4}$ W.

The 2nd black buoy is placed in 55 palms depth, bearing:

The aforesaid beacon, S.E.

The aforesaid lighthouse, S.W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W.

The 3rd black buoy is placed at the steep side in 130 palms depth, bearing:

The aforesaid beacon, S.E.

The aforesaid lighthouse, S.S.W.

The course in the middle of the channel, from the red buoy to the 2nd white buoy, is S.E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E.

From the 2nd white buoy to the 3rd white buoy, E.S.E.

From the 3rd white buoy to the striped buoy, S. by E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E.

The latter striped buoy (half red and half white) lies in the place of the 4th black buoy, at the junction of the Middelgat and North East Friesland Seagat. The courses to be observed from this buoy further inland remain the same as heretofore.

In the Middelgat the water is the shallowest near to the 2nd white buoy.

It must be borne in mind that in this entrance from sea the flood tide sets in from the south coast, and the ebb tide on the opposite side.

The bearings are taken by unadjusted compass, and the depths at ordinary low water.

The Hague, the 10th October, 1853.

The Minister aforementioned, (Signed) T. ENSLIE.

In pursuance of the directions of an Act, passed in the twenty-fourth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to repeal so much of two Acts made in the tenth and fifteenth years of the reign of His present Majesty as authorizes the Speaker of the House of Commons to issue his warrant to the Clerk of the Crown for making out writs for the election of Members to serve in Parliament, in the manner therein mentioned, and for substituting other provisions for the like purposes:"

I do hereby give notice, that it hath been certified to me in writing, under the hands of two Members serving in this present Parliament, that George Guy Greville, commonly called Lord Brooke, late a Member serving in this present Parliament for the southern division of the county of Warwick, is become a Peer of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and to whom a writ of summons hath been issued, under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom, to summons him to Parliament; and that I shall issue my warrant to the Clerk of the Crown to make out a new writ for the electing of a Member to serve in this present Parliament for the said county, in the room of the said Lord Brooke, now a Peer of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and to whom a writ of summons hath been issued as aforesaid, at the end of fourteen days after the insertion of this notice in the London Gazette.

FROM THE LONDON GAZETTE of NOVEMBER 8, 1853.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 24th day of October, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament, holden in the fifteenth and sixteenth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled, "An Act to enable Her Majesty to "abolish, otherwise than by treaty, on condition "of reciprocity, differential duties on foreign "ships," it is provided that where it shall appear to Her Majesty, that by the law or regulations of any Foreign Power, the trade and shipping of Great Britain in the ports of such Foreign Power have been placed upon the same footing as the trade and shipping of such Foreign Power, either absolutely or on condition of equal or like benefits being conceded to the vessels of such Foreign Power in the ports of Her Majesty, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by Order to be by Her made, with the advice of Her Privy Council, and to be published in the London Gazette, to order and declare that the trade and shipping of such Foreign Power shall have the benefit of the provisions of the said Act.

And whereas it appears to Her Majesty, that by the laws of Brazil, the trade and shipping of Great Britain, in the ports of Brazil, have been placed on the same footing as the trade and shipping of Brazil.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the power vested in Her by the said recited Act, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order and declare, and it is hereby ordered and declared, that from and after the publication hereof in the London Gazette, the trade and shipping of Brazil shall have the benefit of the provisions of the said recited Act.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

C. C. Greville.

At the Court at Windsor, the 24th day of October, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the third year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act for the further continuing, altering, and amending several Acts for the better regulation of lastage and ballastage in the River Thames, and for enabling the Corporation of the Trinity House, Deptford Strond, to reduce, alter, modify, relinquish, or abolish dues payable to the said Corporation, and for other purposes connected therewith," it was enacted that certain rates and prices should be paid by the owners, masters, or agents of vessels passing and repassing in the River of Thames, for ballast supplied to them by the Corporation of the Trinity House;

And whereas the said Trinity House have, under the said recited Act, been in the habit of supplying ballast in the manner, and on the terms therein provided ; but have not been in the habit of placing the same on board vessels, or of unloading the same therefrom ;

And whereas by the Merchant Shipping Law Amendment Act, 1853, it is provided that, if in addition to the duties hitherto performed in consideration of the said ballastage rates received under the said recited Act, the Trinity House, at the request or with the consent of the owners or masters of, or agents for, any ships, undertake to place ballast on board thereof, or to unload ballast therefrom, they shall be entitled to charge for such additional duties such reasonable additional charge per ton for ballast so placed on board, or unladen, as Her Majesty, by Order in Council, may from time to time approve ;

And whereas the Elder Brethren of the Trinity House have submitted the following scale of rates, as rates which may properly be established and paid to the said Trinity House by the owners or masters of, or agents for, any ships who may be desirous that the Trinity House should undertake to place ballast on board, or unload it from such ships, in addition to the rates already payable for placing the ballast alongside the same, viz.:

For vessels having ports, 4d. (four pence) for every ton of ballast placed on board or unladen ;

For vessels not having ports, 6½d. (sixpence and one half-penny) for every ton of ballast placed on board or unladen ;

And whereas such scale of rates appears to be proper and reasonable :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the power vested in Her by the said recited Act, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to approve, and doth hereby approve of the said scale of rates so submitted as aforesaid.

C. C. Greville.

At the Court at Windsor, the 24th day of October, 1853,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve and ratify the schemes duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For substituting a money payment to the dean of the cathedral church of Chichester, for the property belonging to him as such dean.

For authorising the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the prebend of Ipthorne, in the cathedral church of Chichester.

For authorising the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the prebend of Riccall, in the cathedral church of Saint Peter, at York.

For authorising the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the dean and chapter of the cathedral church of Chester.

For authorising the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the chancellorship of the cathedral church of Saint Asaph, and the prebend of Llanufydd, in the said cathedral church thereunto annexed.

Foreign-Office, November 5, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. John Higgins as Consul at Cork, and of Mr. John C. O'Neill as Consul at Belfast, for the United States of America.

The Queen has also been pleased to approve of Mr. Edward Wallerstein as Consul-General in Great Britain for the Republic of San Salvador.

Foreign-Office, November 8, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. William Leslie Thomson as Vice-Consul at Aberdeen, for His Royal Highness the Grand Duke of Mecklenburgh-Schwerin.

Whitehall, November 8, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to present the Reverend John Maclellan to the church at Tomintoul, in the parish of Kirkmichael, in the presbytery of Abernethy, and shire of Banff.

The Prince of Wales's Council-Chamber, Somerset-House, November 4, 1853.

The names of those who have been this day nominated by the Council of His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales to serve the office of Sheriff of the county of Cornwall:

John Tremayne, of Heligan, Esq.

Francis Howell, of Ethy, Esq.

Sir William Berkeley Call, of Whiteford, Bart.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
November 8, 1853.*

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Lisbon, reporting that the Board of Health of that city had declared Liverpool to be an infected Port from the fifth of October.

Also a Despatch from Stockholm, stating that the Swedish Board of Commerce had declared the Port of Leith infected with Cholera, and all vessels coming from thence subject to quarantine.

By order,

James Booth.

Whitehall, November 5, 1853.

The Queen, taking into her royal consideration, that on the nineteenth day of July last it was resolved by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, that George Drummond Duc de Melfort and Comte de Lussan, in France, was entitled to the dignities of Earl of Perth and Earl of Melfort, and that according to the ordinary rules of Honour, Lucy-Clementina, wife of Henry-Francis Davis, of Hereford-street, Park-lane, in the county of Middlesex, Esquire, the only sister of the said George, now Earl of Perth and Earl of Melfort, cannot hold and enjoy that title, place, and precedence, which would have been due to her had her late father, Leon-Maurice Drummond, survived his elder brother, Charles-Edward Drummond, Duc de Melfort, and been restored in blood, by virtue of an Act passed in the last session of Parliament, whereby the said George, Duc de Melfort and Comte de Lussan, and the heirs male for the time being of James, first Earl of Perth, were relieved from the effect of a certain attainder theretofore existing, and whereby the descendants of the body of John, Earl of Melford, were amply and honourably restored, in blood, and relieved from the effect of a decreet of forfeiture pronounced against John, Earl of Melfort, in the year 1695, and been capable of receiving the grace of the Crown and thereby enabled to have succeeded to the said dignities of Earl of Perth and

Earl of Melfort, Her Majesty hath been graciously pleased to ordain and declare that the said Lucy-Clementina Davis, the sister of the said George, now Earl of Perth and Earl of Melfort, shall henceforth have, hold, and enjoy the same title, place, and precedence which she would have had and enjoyed in case her said late father had survived his said elder brother, Charles-Edward Drummond, Duc de Melfort, and had received the grace of the Crown and been declared entitled to the dignities of Earl of Perth and Earl of Melfort.

And Her Majesty hath been further pleased to command that the said royal order and declaration be registered in Her College of Arms.

Commission signed by the Queen.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," power is given to the Commissioners of

Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage, or inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such warrant, and from time to time, by warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof; and from time to time, by warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by another Act, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office:" And whereas by certain Warrants respectively, under the hands of two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and dated respectively the 19th day of December, 1850, the 2nd day of June, 1851, the 11th day of August, 1851, the 30th day of January, 1852, the 6th day of February, 1852, the 24th day of April, 1852, the 6th day of May, 1852, the 18th day of January, 1853, the 24th day of January, 1853, the 9th day of March, 1853, the 12th day of July, 1853, and the 25th day of July, 1853, printed books, printed magazines, printed reviews, and printed pamphlets, are authorized to be transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and the Colonies therein respectively mentioned at reduced rates of postage; and it is directed by the said Warrants respectively, that as to any such packet which should be posted in the United Kingdom, the postage thereof should in every case be pre-paid at the time of the same being posted, not in money, but by being duly stamped with the proper British postage-stamp or stamps affixed thereto, on the outside of every such packet; and it is further directed by the said Warrants respectively, that every such packet should be sent without a cover, or in a cover or envelope open at the ends or sides, and should contain printed matter only, with the binding thereof, and that there should be no writing or marks upon the cover or envelope thereof, or upon or within any part of the contents thereof, other than the name and address of the person to whom the packet should be sent; and it is further directed by the said Warrants respectively, that if (amongst other things) any packet sent, or tendered or delivered in order to be sent by the post, under the provisions thereof, should have any writing or marks upon the same, or upon the cover or envelope thereof, except the name and address of the person to whom it was forwarded, or if the postage of any such packet posted in the United Kingdom should not be duly and properly pre-paid by British stamps when posted, the same should and might be detained and opened at any place in the United Kingdom, and, at the option of the Postmaster-General, should be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, or be given up to the person to whom it should be addressed, or forwarded to the place of its destination; and any such packet on being so returned, given up, or forwarded, should be chargeable with the like amount of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter: And whereas it is expedient to alter the said regulation and prohibition, so far as respects the packets next hereinafter mentioned :

1. Now we, the undersigned, being two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said before-mentioned Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, by this warrant, under our hands, order and direct that any packet sent by the post under the said recited warrants, or any of them, from any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty, which shall keep a postage account with the General Post-office in London, may, in addition to the name and address of the person to whom the same shall be sent, have printed or written thereon, or upon the cover or envelope thereof, the words "On Her Majesty's Service," and also the name of the department or public office from which the same shall be forwarded, together with the name of any public officer, employed in or belonging to any such department or office who may be authorised to affix his name to letters and packets sent by the post, as a certificate that they are on the public service, notwithstanding the prohibition in the said several Warrants respectively in that behalf contained.

2. And we further order and direct that it shall not be necessary for the postage of any such packet, sent, or tendered, or delivered, in order to be sent, by the post, from any such department or office as hereinbefore mentioned, to be pre-paid by British stamps when posted; but every such packet shall be forwarded post-paid, and the postage thereof shall be charged in the postage account between the General Post-office and the department or office from which the packet shall be sent.

3. And we further order and direct that if any such packet, sent, or tendered, or delivered in order to be sent, by the post, from any such department or office as hereinbefore mentioned, shall have any writing or marks upon the same, or upon the cover or envelope thereof, except the name and address of the person to whom it is forwarded, and the words "On Her Majesty's Service," and the name of the department or public office from which the same shall be forwarded, with the name of any public officer, employed in or belonging to any such department or office, who may be authorised to affix his name to letters and packets sent by the post, as a certificate that they are on the public service, the same shall and may be detained and opened at any place in the United Kingdom, and, at the option of the Postmaster General, shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, or be given up to the person to whom it shall be addressed, or forwarded to the place of its destination; and any such last-mentioned packet, on being so returned, given up, or forwarded, shall be chargeable with the like amount of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter.

And whereas by the said Warrants, dated the 6th day of February, 1852, the 6th day of May, 1852, the 24th day of January, 1853, and the 9th day of March, 1853, it was declared that the term "by the post," used therein, should include the conveyance from and to the United Kingdom, to and from Ceylon, the Mauritius, the East Indies, and New South Wales, through Egypt, so long as no transit rate of postage were payable thereon.

4. Now we further direct that the term "by the post," used in the said last-mentioned Warrants respectively, shall no longer include the conveyance through Egypt; and that no packets transmitted by the post from the United Kingdom to Ceylon, the Mauritius, the East Indies, or New South Wales, under such respective Warrants, shall be sent through Egypt ; and that any packets transmitted by the post from Ceylon, the Mauritius, the East Indies, or New South Wales to the United Kingdom under the said respective Warrants, viâ Egypt, shall be charged and chargeable with the full letter rates of postage.

5. And we further direct, that in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law, on printed newspapers, printed prices current, printed commercial lists and courses of exchange (British, Colonial, or Foreign), transmitted by the post between France and the East Indies, or China, or Australia, without passing through the United Kingdom, the same shall be chargeable with a British rate of one halfpenny each, provided the sea conveyance be by packet-boat and they be forwarded in conformity with all the conditions, regulations, and restrictions in the said Act, passed in the 4th year of the reign of Her present Majesty contained, in respect of printed newspapers sent by the post ; and if not so forwarded, we direct that the same shall be charged with the full letter rates of postage.

And whereas, by a Warrant under the hands of two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, dated the 10th day of June, 1853, it was directed, amongst other things, that the rate of postage chargeable under the regulations of such Warrant on any publication posted within the United Kingdom should be pre-paid on the same being posted, not in money, but by a postage stamp affixed outside the publication, or the band or cover thereof.

6. Now we do further direct, that the rate of postage chargeable under the regulations of the said last-mentioned Warrant, on any publication sent by the post of any post town in the United Kingdom, addressed to a person within the limits of the same post town, may, at the option of the sender, be pre-paid, on the same being posted, by a postage stamp affixed outside the publication, or the band or cover thereof; or if such publication be posted at the Chief Office in London, before 5 p.m. in the day, addressed to any person within the limits of the free delivery of that office, the postage thereof may, at the option of the sender, be pre-paid, on the same being posted, either in money or by a postage stamp affixed as aforesaid; and if the postage of any such respective publication as hereinbefore in this clause mentioned be not so pre-paid as aforesaid, the same shall be charged to the person to whom the publication shall be addressed, and that the rate of postage chargeable under the regulations of the said last-mentioned Warrant on any publication posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to a foreign country, or to any of Her Majesty's colonies, shall be pre-paid on the same being posted, either in money or by a postage stamp affixed outside the publication, or the band or cover thereof.

7. And we further order and direct, that if the postage chargeable under the regulations of the said recited Warrant of the tenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, on any publication posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to a foreign country, or to any of Her Majesty's Colonies, which by virtue of this Warrant is required to be pre-paid, on the same being posted, either in money or by a postage stamp affixed outside the publication, or the band or cover thereof, shall not be so pre-paid, on the same being posted, every such last-mentioned publication or packet shall be detained and sent to the Dead Letter Office, to be treated in the same manner as if it were a newspaper sent to that office for a similar cause.

8. And we further order and direct, that in case any publication shall be sent by the post under the said recited Warrant of the tenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, from one town or place to another town or place within the United Kingdom, or by the post of any post town in the United Kingdom, addressed to a person within the limits of the same post-town, in a band or cover open at the sides or ends, with any word or communication printed on such band or cover, or any writing or marks upon it, except the name and address of the person to whom sent, and the printed name and address of the newsvender who shall send it, every such publication or packet (in lieu of any postage to which the same would be liable under the said last-mentioned Warrant) shall be charged and chargeable with the like rate of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter.

9. And we further direct, that this Warrant, so far as respects any packets which shall be transmitted by the post from Ceylon, the Mauritius, the East Indies, and New South Wales, to the United Kingdom, under the said respective Warrants of the sixth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two, the sixth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two, the twenty-fourth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and the ninth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, shall come into operation on the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, and that in all other respects this Warrant shall come into operation on the day of the date hereof.

10. And we further order and direct, that the term "East Indies," used in the fourth and ninth clauses of this Warrant, shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as the same is declared to have in the said recited Warrant of the twenty-fourth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three; and that the term "East Indies," used in the fifth clause of this Warrant, and the several other terms and expressions used in this Warrant, shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

11. Provided lastly, and we do hereby declare and direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any two of them, by Warrant under their hands, at any time hereafter, to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby fixed or altered, or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and from time to time to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

LAW,

27th May, 1853.

GRANTING freedom to certain ports and territories in the Province of Chocó, and establishing Custom-Houses.

The Senate and Chamber of Representatives of New Granada in Session

DECREE:

ART. I. The following ports and territories of the Province of Chocó shall be free for all nations in the world, from the 1st of January, 1854, for 20 years.

1. The ports of the Atlantic, and the territory watered by the River Atrato, from its mouth to its confluence with the River Guito, comprehended between the western chain of the Andes and that branch of it towards the eastward, which separates said Province from that of Antiochia.

2. The ports of the Pacific, and the territory watered by the River San Juan, from its embouchure as far as the city of Novita, contained between the above-mentioned chain of the Andes and that branch of it which separates it towards the southward from the Province of Buonaventura.

ART. II. Consequently no Custom-houses can be established in said ports and territories within the time specified, nor can any duties be levied, save those of toll passage and excise corresponding to the municipal revenues, and in conformity with existing laws.

ART. III. In order to recover the duties on importation of foreign merchandize which may be introduced for the consumption of the interior of the rest of the province, and other provinces of the Republic there shall be established two Custom-houses, one in the city of Quibdo, and the other in the city of Novita, with the following officers, and their yearly salaries.

[Here follows an enumeration of the different officers and their respective salaries.]

ART. IV. The Exccutive Power is authorized, when it deems it indispensable for weighty motives of public convenience, to assign other ports for Custom-houses than those expressed in this law, in which case the maritime ports expressed in Article I. and the territory comprised between the coasts and the spot on which such Custom-houses shall be fixed, alone can enjoy freedom.

(Translation.)

NOTICE TO SEA CAPTAINS.

THE Ministry of Marine has ordered a buoy to be placed at the extreme point of the covered part of the Reef of Friedericksort, from which the old buoy will stand west $\frac{1}{4}$ north, and the beacon on the ramparts west-north-west.

The new buoy consists of an iron rod fixed in the ground, at the upper end of which, in the day-time, are fixed three balls, painted red and white, forming an even sided triangle, the two lower balls being in a horizontal line.

As a beacon, in the night-time, a lantern will, in the course of next month, be hung from the rod, at a height of 16 feet from the water, which will be lighted at the same time as the beacon on the ramparts, namely, from half an hour after sunset until sunrise.

Should storms, or drift ice, or other impediments, render it impossible to hang out the lantern on the rod, a reserve lantern will in that case be hung on a pole in the immediate neighbourhood of the beacon, and a little above it.

Further details will be given with regard to the lighting of this beacon.

LIGHTS AND BEACONS.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Baleines New Lights (île de Ré) ; Portrieux Beacon (Côtes-du-Nord), and Provisional Beacons on the Cherbourg Breakwater (Manche), English Channel.

BALEINES LIGHTS.

Mariners are informed that the flashing light, eclipsed every succeeding $\frac{3}{4}$ of a minute, at present established on the "Pointe des Baleines" (île de Ré), $46^{\circ} 14' 41''$ north latitude, and $3^{\circ} 53' 57''$ west longitude (Paris), will be replaced, on the 15th of January next, by two new lights, one erected on the île de Ré, a short distance to the east of the existing light,—the other in the sea, on the shoal named "Le Haut-Banc du Nord," about $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles (French) to the north-west of the former light.

The character and positions of the new lights are as follows :—

"BALEINES" LIGHTS.

Flashing light, eclipsed every half minute [\odot 1.], on the Pointe des Baleines (île de Ré).

Lat. $46^{\circ} 14' 41''$ N.—Long. $3^{\circ} 53' 55''$ W. (Paris.)

Elevation, 50 metres.—Range, 22 miles (French).

In ordinary weather the light will appear totally eclipsed only at a distance of 10 miles (French).

LIGHT ON THE "HAUT-BANC DU NORD."

Fixed Light [\odot 3.].

On the shoal called the "Haut-Banc du Nord," at the distance of about $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles (French) to the N.W. of the "Baleines" Light.

Lat. $46^{\circ} 15' 51''$ N.—Long. $3^{\circ} 55' 29''$ W.
(Paris.)

Elevation, 22 metres.—Range, 15 miles
(French).

Mariners should bear in mind that the dangers on the Pointe des Baleines extend to a distance of more than a mile (French) all round this latter light.

"PORTRIEUX" BEACON.

(Côtes-du-Nord.)—Fixed Red Light.

Since the 24th of June last, a small beacon, consisting of a fixed red light, has been exhibited from the Jetty of Portrieux, at a distance of about 15 metres from the extreme point.

Lat. $48^{\circ} 38' 50''$ N. — Long. $5^{\circ} 9' 40''$ W.
(Paris).

Elevation, 9 metres. — Range, 3 miles
(French).

PROVISIONAL BEACONS ON THE CHERBOURG
BREAKWATER (MANCHE), ENGLISH CHANNEL.

Since the 12th of October, a provisional beacon, consisting of a fixed red light, has been lighted on the west point of the Cherbourg Breakwater.

Lat. $49^{\circ} 40' 29''$ N. — Long. $3^{\circ} 59' 10''$ W.
(Paris).

Elevation, 12 metres. — Range, 3 miles
(French).

A beacon, also provisional, of the same order as the preceding, but consisting of a fixed green light, erected on the east point of the said breakwater, will probably be lighted during the month of December next.

Its range will be somewhat inferior to that of the beacon on the west point.

Board of Trade, Whitehall,

Marine Department, November, 24, 1853.

By order,

James Booth.

(Translation.)

The Royal Board of Maritime Affairs makes known to mariners, that the Notice issued on the 4th March, concerning a change to take place in the manner of lighting the "Storjungfruns" lighthouse (viz., that from a closed coal-fire beacon, it should be made into a lantern of the 3rd class), has been carried into effect during the past summer, so that the new method of lighting might commence on the evening of the 28th of last month, and continue to be lighted during the same period as the other lighthouses of this kingdom. The lighthouse is built of granite, and "lime dashed," so as to appear white to a height of $46\frac{1}{4}$ feet, where the balcony begins; and thereupon is erected a breast wall of fireproof tiles, which supports the lantern in which the lighting apparatus is fixed, and which gives, while burning, a stationary strong light at the height of 57 feet above the ground, which is 31 feet high, consequently the flame is 88 feet above the level of the sea, and lights the horizon from about N.W. to W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W. N.E., and S. to S.W. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. by the compass. The light should be visible from the deck of a vessel, in tolerably clear weather, at a distance of $3\frac{1}{2}$ Swedish miles (sea), or 14 English minutes. The lighthouse is situate in latitude N. $61^{\circ} 9' 56''$, and in longitude $17^{\circ} 20' 15''$ E. from Greenwich.

1853.

As it now appears that the rebuilding of the lighthouse at Holmögadds, which was announced at the same time, cannot be ready during the present year, the announcements formerly made for its being provisionally lighted shall continue in force till next year.

CHARITY COMMISSION. November, 1853.

WITH the view of insuring the regular keeping and delivery of the accounts of charities according to the provisions of "The Charitable Trusts Act, 1853," the Charity Commissioners for England and Wales request the particular attention of all trustees, and other persons acting in the administration of charities, to the following section of the Act:—

16 and 17 Vic., c. 137.

SEC. 61. "The trustees or persons acting in the administration of every charity shall in books to be kept by them for that purpose, regularly enter or cause to be entered full and true accounts of all money received and paid respectively on account of such charity,

"And on or before the twenty-fifth day of March in every year, or on or before such other day as shall or may be fixed and appointed for that purpose by the said Board, shall cause a statement in writing to be made of the income and revenues, whether actually paid or then due, and the actual receipts and expenditure of such charity for the year ending on the thirty-first day of December then next preceding, or on some other convenient day to be fixed and appointed for that purpose by the said Board, and also a balance-sheet containing a clear statement of the balance of such account, which statement and balance-sheet respectively shall be certified under the hand of some one or more of such trustees or persons (and audited by the auditor of such charity, if any there be),

“ And as to every charity whose gross annual income for the time being shall not exceed thirty pounds, every such statement and balance-sheet respectively, or a duplicate or true copy thereof respectively, shall be delivered or sent by such trustees or persons free of charge to the Clerk of the County Court, or some one of the County Courts (if more than one) to whose jurisdiction such charity may be subject under this Act (in case such charity be subject to the jurisdiction of any County Court under this Act), or if such charity be not subject to the jurisdiction of any County Court, then to the Clerk of the County Court for the district or any one of the districts (if more than one) wherein or nearest adjoining whereto, such charity is established, or the property thereof (in whole or in part) is situate or administered and distributed,

“ And as to every charity whose gross annual income for the time being shall exceed thirty pounds, every such statement and balance-sheet, or a duplicate or true copy thereof respectively (unless the said Board shall otherwise direct), shall be delivered or sent free of charge to the Clerk of the Peace for the county or the division of the county, or some one of the counties or divisions of counties (if more than one) in which the charity is established, or the property thereof is wholly or partially situated or administered and distributed,

“ And every such statement and balance-sheet, or a duplicate or true copy thereof respectively, shall be kept and registered without fee or reward by the Registrar of County Court Judgments, or the Clerk of such County Court, and the Clerk of the Peace of such county, or division respectively, and shall be open to the inspection of all persons, at all seasonable hours, on payment of the sum of one shilling to the registrar or clerk for every such inspection ; and any person may require and have a copy of any such statement and balance-sheet, or of any part thereof, paying therefor to such registrar or clerk, after the rate of twopence for every seventy-two words or figures,

“ And a duplicate or copy of every such statement and balance-sheet to be made according to the foregoing provision, so certified and audited as aforesaid, shall be delivered or transmitted through the Post, or otherwise, free of charge, by such trustees or other persons, to the said Board, on or before the said twenty-fifth day of March in every year, or such other day as may be fixed and appointed by the said Board as aforesaid,

“ And the said Board may from time to time by any order direct that the statement and balance-sheet, or a duplicate or true copy thereof respectively, of the accounts of any charity whose gross annual income exceeds thirty pounds shall be delivered, or sent to the Clerk of the County Court in the same manner, as if the income of such charity did not exceed thirty pounds,

“ And the said Board may make and give such further and other orders and directions in relation to the delivery and publication of such accounts, and the form thereof, as they may think fit, which directions and orders shall be obligatory on and obeyed by all such trustees and persons as aforesaid.”

FROM THE LONDON GAZETTE of NOVEMBER 29, 1853.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 25th day of November 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Exeellent Majesty in Council.

IT is this day ordered by Her Majesty in Council that the Parliament, which stands prorogued to Tuesday the twenty-ninth day of November instant, be further prorogued to Tuesday the third day of January next.

At the Court at Windsor, the 25th day of November, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Exeellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament, held in the ninth and tenth years of the reign of Her Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more easy recovery of small debts and demands in England," it is, among other things, enacted, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order that the said Act be put in force in such county or counties as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, should seem fit, and to divide the whole or part of any such county (including all counties of cities and counties of towns, cities, boroughs, towns, ports, and places, liberties and franchises therein contained or thereunto adjoining) into districts ; and to order that the County Court should be holden for the recovery of debts and demands, under the said Act, in each of such districts ; and, from time to time, to alter such districts as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, should seem fit ; and, from time to time, with the advice aforesaid, to declare by what name, and in what towns and places, the County Court should be holden in each district :

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by an Order in Council, of the ninth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, to order that the said Act be put in force in the counties and places therein specified, and the same was put in force accordingly:

And whereas it hath been represented, that it would be to the advantage of the public, if certain alterations were made in some of the districts of the Courts, as specified or set forth in the aforesaid Order:

Her Majesty, having taken the premises into consideration, is thereupon pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that, from and after the thirty-first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four,—

The parish of Stoke Newington, now in the district of the Shoreditch County Court of Middlesex, shall be in the district of the County Court of Middlesex, holden at Edmonton :

So much of the district of the County Court of Surrey, holden at Reigate as lies within a line drawn from the point where the railway commonly called “ The South-Eastern Railway ” crosses the new turnpike-road from Godstone to

East Grinstead ; thence in a southerly direction along the middle of such road to a lane known as Byes or Hook Stile-lane ; thence along the middle of such lane, past the church of the parish of Horne, to a road leading from New Chapel to Smallfield ; thence in a westerly direction along the middle of such road to a road leading from Copthorne to Outwood ; thence in a northerly direction along the middle of such road to a road or lane known as Harrison's Road ; thence in a westerly direction along the middle of such road to the point where such road crosses the boundary of the parish of Nutfield ; thence in a north-westerly direction along the southern boundary of the parish of Nutfield to the boundary of the parish of Horley ; thence along the eastern boundary of the parish of Horley to the southern boundary of the county of Surrey ; thence in an easterly direction along the southern boundary of the said county to the eastern boundary of the parish of Tandridge ; thence in a northerly direction along the eastern boundary of the parish of Tandridge to the southern boundary of the parish of Crowhurst ; thence in an easterly direction along the southern boundary of the parish of Crowhurst to its eastern boundary ; thence in a northerly direction along such eastern boundary to the South Eastern Railway ; and thence in a westerly direction along the southern side of such railway to where the said railway crosses the new turnpike-road from Godstone to East Grinstead at the point first described, shall be in the district of the County Court of Sussex, holden at East Grinstead:

The parish of Crawley, now in the district of the County Court of Sussex, holden at East Grinstead, shall be in the district of the County Court of Sussex, holden at Horsham:

The parishes of Billingshurst and Rudgwick, now in the district of the County Court of Sussex, holden at Petworth, shall be in the district of the County Court of Sussex, holden at Horsham:

So much of the parish of Wolstanton, now in the district of the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Hanley, as lies west of the main line of the North Staffordshire Railway, shall be in the district of the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Newcastle-under-Lyme.

C. C. Greville.

At the Court at Windsor, the 25th day of November, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that all the provisions of the "Common Law Procedure Act, 1852," and the rules made and to be made in pursuance thereof, shall apply to the—Court of Record of the borough of Northampton,

Also to the two Courts of Record of the borough of Colchester, called the Law Hundred Court and the Foreign Court.

At the Court at Windsor, the 25th day of November, 1853,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order, with reference to the representations made by one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, under the provisions of an Act of Parliament passed in the 15th and 16th years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to amend the laws concerning the burial of the dead in the metropolis," that burials be discontinued as follows in the undermentioned

At the Court at Windsor, the 25th day of
November 1853,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the report of the General Board of Health, dated the 1st day of November, 1853 (as set forth in this Gazette), and to order that the Public Health Act, 1848, and every part thereof, except the section numbered 50 in the copies printed by Her Majesty's printers, shall be applied to and be in force within the entire boundaries of the township of Hexham, in the county of Northumberland; that the same shall form a district for the purposes of the Public Health Act; and that a Local Board of Health shall be elected therein, in conformity to the instructions and regulations contained in the said report.

Foreign Office, November 28, 1853.

It is hereby notified that the Earl of Clarendon, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received from Monsieur Charles Baudin, First Secretary to the French Embassy (in the absence of the Ambassador), a note, dated the 23rd inst., stating that the Minister of Marine has announced to the Minister for Foreign Affairs that, in conformity with the orders of His Imperial Majesty, Captain Baudin, the Commander-in-Chief of the French naval forces on the west coast of Africa, has declared that part of the coast which extends from the left bank of the Grand Lahou to the right bank of the river Assinée to be in a state of blockade ; that the force at the disposal of Captain Baudin will render this blockade effective, and that it was to be carried into execution from the 26th of September last.

Downing-Street, November 26, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint William Lonsdale, Esq., to be Colonial Treasurer for the Colony of Victoria.

Her Majesty has also been pleased to appoint Edward Stephens, Esq., to be a Member of the Legislative Council of the Colony of South Australia.

Whitehall, November 26, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to direct letters patent to be passed under the Great Seal for appointing Henry Cadogan Rothery, Esq., M.A., Registrar of the High Court of Admiralty of England, to be Registrar of Her Majesty in Ecclesiastical and Maritime Causes, in the room of Henry Birchfield Swabey, Esq., resigned.

Whitehall, November 28, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint David Mure, Esquire, Advocate, to be Sheriff of the Shire or Sherifffdom of Perth, in the room of James Craufurd, Esquire, Her Majesty's Solicitor-General for Scotland.

Whitehall, November 29, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint the Right Hon. Sir John Romilly, Knt., Master of the Rolls of Her Majesty's High Court of Chancery; the Right Hon. Sir John Jervis, Knt., Chief Justice of Her Majesty's Court of Common Pleas; the Right Hon. Sir Edward Ryan, Knt.; Charles Hay Cameron, Esquire; John McPherson McLeod, Esquire; John Abraham Francis Hawkins, Esquire; Thomas Flower Ellis, Esquire; and Robert Lowe, Esquire; to be Her Majesty's Commissioners in England to examine and consider the reform of the Judicial Establishments, Judicial Procedure, and Laws of India.

Board of Trade, Whitehall,

Marine Department, November 28, 1853.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a note from the Netherland Minister at this Court, enclosing a copy of a Notice issued by the Netherland Government, a translation of which is subjoined, relative to an alteration in the light displayed at Kijkduin.

By order,

James Booth.

(Translation.)

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

THE Minister of Marine hereby informs persons interested that the Catadioptric Light of the first class, applied to the Light House at Kijkduin, was first lighted on the evening of the 25th of September last.

This improved stationary light is situated in $52^{\circ} 57' 4''$ north latitude, and $4^{\circ} 43' 30''$ longitude east of Greenwich. It is raised full 49 ells (about 161 feet) above ordinary high water, and illumines an arc of 270 degrees of the horizon, namely, from the south 30° west, by west, north and east, to east 30° south.

From experiments made at the height of the deck of a pilot cutter, the eye being 3 ells (9 feet 10 inches) above water, it was ascertained that the light of Kijkduin, bearing N.E. $\frac{1}{2}$ N., and, at the same time, the Egmond coast lights bearing south, in the depth of $8\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms water, is lost sight of or sinks, this being a distance of $4\frac{1}{2}$ German sea miles (about 21 English miles).

From further experiments on board the pilot cutter at a height of 15 ells (49 feet $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches) from the water, in the rigging, the Kijkduin light bearing N.E. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. with the Egmond coast lights in sight from the deck, S.E. by E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E., in the depth of $8\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms, the former light was lost sight of, or sunk.

Therefore the Kijkduin light was visible at the said height in the rigging at a distance of 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ German sea miles (about $23\frac{1}{3}$ to $25\frac{2}{3}$ English miles) According to the state of the atmosphere it will be visible at a greater or less distance.

Two or three days later, upon a favourable occasion for observation, the experiments were continued in the same pilot cutter off the island of Texel.

With the eye 3 ells (9 feet 10 inches) above water, the Kijkduin light bearing S. $\frac{3}{4}$ W. was lost sight of, whilst the Vlieland light, at E. $\frac{1}{2}$ S., was quite visible, which cross bearing indicates a distance of full 4 German sea miles ($18\frac{2}{3}$ English miles) from the Kijkduin light. Then keeping E. S.E. by the coast, the latter light, with the eye 15 ells (49 feet $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches) above water, was seen over the sand downs of the Island of Texel, in the direction S. by W., when it disappeared behind the sand downs of the island, with the lead at the depth of 13 fathoms water, at a short distance from the Eijerland flats.

The Kijkduin light, therefore, in its improved state has become, even upon ordinary occasions, for observation, very serviceable for the approaching of the Texel channels, and it appears from all the experiments herein mentioned that it retains a very clear light until it sinks altogether, and that it likewise makes its appearance above the horizon bright.

The ell measure herein mentioned is the Netherland ell (or French metre—39.37 inches English) and the bearings of the compass are uncorrected, the deviation being calculated at $21^{\circ} 51'$ north-west.

The Hague, 27th October, 1853.

By order,

James Booth.

NOTIFICATION FOR MARINERS.

THE lightships in the channels of Drogden and Læssøe are ordered to remain at their respective stations as long as the ice will permit them to do so.

The lightships at Anholts and on the Kobber-shoal (Kobber-grund) will, however, be removed at the usual time on the 21st of December.

As to the time when the lightship on the Læssøe Trindelen shall leave its station a further notification will be made.

Mariners are hereby further reminded that when a white flag with a blue horizontal stripe is hoisted at the lighthouse in the Scaw, there is ice in the Cattegat, and the lightship in the channel of Læssøe has been consequently removed.

For the better safety and further information of ships entering the Cattegat it has been arranged that another such a flag will be hoisted at the lighthouse on the Island of Haustholm as soon as it is known there that there is ice in the Cattegat.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of DECEMBER 6, 1853.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 25th day of November, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament, held in the ninth and tenth years of the reign of Her Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more easy recovery of small debts and demands in England," it is among other things enacted, that it should be lawful for Her Majesty, with the advice of Her Privy Council to order that the said Act be put in force in such county or counties as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, from time to time, should seem fit, and to divide the whole or part of any such county (including all counties of cities and counties of towns, cities, boroughs, towns, ports, and places, liberties and franchises therein contained or thereunto adjoining), into districts, and to order that the County Court should be holden for the recovery of debts and demands under the said

Act, in each of such districts, and from time to time to alter such districts as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, should seem fit, and to order, from time to time, that the number of districts, in and for which the Court should be holden, should be increased until the whole of such county should be within the provisions of the said Act, and, with the advice aforesaid, to alter the place of holding of any such Court, or to order that the holding of any such Court should be discontinued, or to consolidate any two or more of such districts, and, from time to time, with the advice aforesaid, to declare by what name and in what towns and places the County Court should be holden in each district :

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by an Order in Council, of the ninth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, to order that the said Act should be put in force in the counties and places therein specified, among which counties the county of Stafford was included, and the town of Hanley was named as a place for holding one of the Courts of the said county of Stafford for the district in that behalf particularly mentioned in the said Order :

And whereas by certain other Acts made and passed in the thirteenth, in the fourteenth, and in the sixteenth years of the reign of Her Majesty, the provisions of the said recited Act have been amended and extended :

And whereas it hath been represented that it would be of advantage to the public that a County Court should be holden at Stoke-upon-Trent, in the county of Stafford, for the parishes and places thereunto adjacent, and which parishes and adjoining places are, by virtue of the said Order, now within the district of the County Court holden at the town of Hanley :

Her Majesty having taken the premises into consideration, is thereupon pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council to order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the thirty-first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four—

The parish of Trentham, the townships of Longton, Lane End, Fenton Culvert otherwise Great Fenton, Fenton Vivian otherwise Little Fenton, Penkhull, and Boothen, and such part of the township of Shelton as comprises any part of the glebe lands now belonging to the Rector of Stoke-upon-Trent, or any lands which, on the twentieth day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and twenty-five, were parcel of the glebe lands of the Rector of Stoke-upon-Trent aforesaid, and which parish, townships, and glebe lands are now in the district of the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Hanley, shall cease to be within the district of the said Court, holden at Hanley, and shall form the district of a County Court to be holden at Stoke-upon-Trent; and a County Court for the purposes of the above-mentioned Acts shall accordingly, from and after such day, be held at Stoke-upon-Trent aforesaid, by the name of the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Stoke-upon-Trent, for the parish of Trentham, the townships of Longton, Lane End, Fenton Culvert otherwise Great Fenton, Fenton Vivian otherwise Little Fenton, Penkhull, and Boothen, and for such part of the township of Shelton as comprises any part of the glebe lands now belonging to the Rector of Stoke-upon-Trent, or any lands which, on the twentieth day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and twenty-five, were parcel of the glebe lands of the Rector of Stoke-upon-Trent aforesaid.

C. C. Greville.

The Queen has been pleased to direct letters patent to be passed under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, granting the office or place of Lieutenant-Governor of Her Majesty's Hospital, at Greenwich, unto Rear-Admiral Sir William Edward Parry, Knt.

Downing-Street, December 6, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint Captain Sir Charles Hotham, R.N., K.C.B., to be Lieutenant-Governor of the colony of Victoria.

Her Majesty has also been pleased to re-constitute the Bishopric of Cape Town, and to direct that the same shall comprise the western districts of the colony of the Cape of Good Hope, consisting of the divisions of the Cape, Stellenbosch, Caledon, Swellendam, George, Beaufort, the Paarl, Worcester, Malmesbury, and Clanwilliam, and all portions of the colony of the Cape, not comprised in these divisions lying south of the Orange, and west of the Ongars Rivers, and also the island of St. Helena, and be called, "The bishoprick of Cape Town;" and Her Majesty has appointed the Right Reverend Father in God, Doctor Robert Gray, to be bishop of the said see of Cape Town; and to be Metropolitan Bishop in the said colony of the Cape of Good Hope and its dependencies, and in the island of St. Helena; and Her Majesty has further appointed that the Bishops of Graham's Town and of Natal shall be suffragan bishops to the said Bishop of Cape Town.

Her Majesty has further been pleased to appoint the Right Reverend the Bishop of Sierra Leone to be a Member of the Council of that colony.

Whitehall, December 7, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to grant the place of one of the Lords of Session in Scotland to Hercules James Robertson, Esq., Advocate.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
December 7, 1853.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul-General at Venice, reporting that the free importation of wheat, maize, and oats into the Lombardo-Venetian territories has been prolonged from the 31st instant to the end of March, 1854.

By order,
James Booth.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
December 8, 1853.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Declaration issued by the Russian authorities at Bucharest, from Her Majesty's Consul-General at that place, respecting the navigation of the Danube by vessels of neutral powers, a translation of which is hereto subjoined :

By order,
James Booth.

(Translation.)

DECLARATION.

IN virtue of the orders of His Majesty, the Emperor, the Commander-in-Chief of the Imperial troops appoints the ports of Braïla and Galatz for the commerce of neutral powers, both as regards exportation and importation. The vessels of such Powers coming from the Black Sea can return freely into that sea after having received their cargoes in the ports above mentioned, on condition always that they abstain, before entering the Black Sea, from touching at any port of the Danube. Consequently these vessels before quitting the ports of Braïla and Galatz must present their documents to the Russian Consular Agents, who will furnish them, gratis, with a certificate showing the destination of the ship, and bearing the formal declaration, that if before entering the sea they should disembark corn or provisions upon any point of the right bank of the Danube they will by this contravention incur sequestration. Neutral vessels which wish to ascend the Danube, in order to proceed at once into the Austrian States, and which carry down cargoes destined either for Braïla or Galatz, or for exportation by the Black Sea, will be liable to the same formality of a Russian certificate indicating their destination and prohibiting them, under pain of sequestration, from entering into any traffic on the right bank of the Danube.

Neutral Vessels wishing to descend the Danube will not meet with any hindrance, provided that on their passage by Orsova they furnish themselves at the Russian Consulate with a certificate stating that they belong bonâ fide to a neutral power, and that their cargo is not destined for one of the Turkish ports of the Danube.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by Warrant under their hands to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage, or inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant; and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof.

And whereas in consequence of a communication opened with the post-office of the Netherlands, it is considered expedient to alter the rates of postage payable on letters and newspapers conveyed between the United Kingdom and the Netherlands.

Now we, the undersigned, being two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do, in exercise of the power or authority in us for such purpose vested, in and by the said recited Act, and of all other powers and authorities enabling us in this behalf, direct that on every letter, not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted in or addressed to any part of the Netherlands, and transmitted between any part of the United Kingdom and any place in the Netherlands, and on every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted between any foreign country through the Netherlands and any place in the United Kingdom (the said respective letters being conveyed between the United Kingdom and the Netherlands, viâ Belgium, direct by packet-boat, or between the United Kingdom and the Netherlands, direct by private ship), there shall be charged and paid, in lieu of any rates heretofore chargeable on such letters, a rate of British postage of four pence.

And we direct that, on every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted in or addressed to any part of the Netherlands, transmitted by the post, between the Netherlands and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country, through the United Kingdom, and on every letter, not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted between any foreign country through the Netherlands and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom (the said respective letters being conveyed between the United Kingdom and the Netherlands, viâ Belgium, direct by packet-boat, or between the United Kingdom and the Netherlands, direct by private ship), there shall be charged and taken, in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable, by law, on such letters, an uniform rate of British postage of four pence for the conveyance of every such letter between the Netherlands or Belgium and any part of the United Kingdom, and also such a further or additional rate of British postage for the conveyance of every such respective letter between the port in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same and the colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, as shall from time to time be chargeable and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and transmitted direct between such port and such colony or foreign country.

And we further direct, that on every letter transmitted as is mentioned in this Warrant, exceeding half an ounce in weight, there shall be charged and paid progressive and additional rates of British postage, according to the scale of weight and number of rates following; that is to say:

On every such letter, exceeding half an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, two rates of postage.

On every such letter, exceeding one ounce, and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four rates of postage.

On every such letter, exceeding two ounces, and not exceeding three ounces in weight, six rates of postage.

And on every such letter, exceeding three ounces, and not exceeding four ounces in weight, eight rates of postage.

And for every ounce in weight, above the weight of four ounces, there shall be charged and taken two additional rates of postage, and every fraction of an ounce, above the weight of four ounces, shall be charged as one additional ounce.

And we further direct, that such printed newspapers as are hereinafter mentioned may be sent by the post, according to the regulations and rates hereinafter set forth; that is to say:

British newspapers sent from the United Kingdom to the Netherlands, viâ Belgium, or to foreign countries, through the Netherlands, viâ Belgium, one penny each.

Newspapers published in the Netherlands, and sent from thence, viâ Belgium, to the United Kingdom, or to Her Majesty's colonies, or foreign countries, through the United Kingdom, and foreign newspapers, sent from foreign countries through the Netherlands, viâ Belgium, to the United Kingdom, or to Her Majesty's colonies or foreign countries, through the United Kingdom (in addition to any foreign postage to which the same may be liable) one penny each.

Foreign newspapers sent between foreign countries and the Netherlands, viâ Belgium, through the United Kingdom (in addition to any foreign postage to which the same may be liable), one penny each.

Colonial newspapers sent from the British colonies to the United Kingdom, through the Netherlands, viâ Belgium, or from the British colonies, through the United Kingdom, to the Netherlands, or foreign countries, through the Netherlands, viâ Belgium (in addition to any foreign postage to which the same may be liable), one penny each.

And we further direct, that every printed supplement or additional sheet to any such newspaper shall, for the purpose of charging the postage under this Warrant, be deemed a distinct newspaper, unless sent in the same cover, or together with the newspaper to which it is a supplement or addition.

And we further direct, that all such printed newspapers as are hereinbefore mentioned shall, in order to be entitled to pass at the reduced rates aforesaid, be forwarded between the United Kingdom and the Netherlands, viâ Belgium, direct by packet-boat ; and, if not so forwarded, they shall be charged with the same rates of postage as if this Warrant had not been signed.

And we further direct, that all such printed newspapers as aforesaid shall be forwarded without covers, or in covers open at the sides, and there shall be no word or communication printed on the paper after its publication, or upon the cover thereof, nor any writing or marks upon it, or upon the cover of it, except the name and address of the person to whom sent, nor shall any paper or thing be enclosed in or with the same ; and if any such newspaper shall not be posted and forwarded in conformity with this regulation, the same shall respectively be liable to the like rates of postage as would have been chargeable on such newspapers if the same had been letters.

And we further direct, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to extend to any letters or newspapers passing by the post between the United Kingdom and the Netherlands, viâ France, which are to be charged with the same rates of postage as if this Warrant had not been signed.

And we further direct, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act, or by any other Acts of Parliament relating to the Post-office, or by any Treasury Warrant issued under any of such Acts ; and that all such exemptions and privileges shall remain in full force.

And we further direct, that the several terms and expressions used in this warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning, in all respects, as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

And we further direct, that this Warrant shall come into operation on the 15th day of December, 1853.

Provided, lastly, and we hereby declare and direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for the time being, of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any two of them, by Warrant under their hands, at any time hereafter to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby altered or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and from time to time to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

Whitehall, Treasury Chambers, the ninth day of December, 1853.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of DECEMBER 16, 1853.

Convention between Her Majesty and the Free Hanseatic City of Hamburgh, for the establishment of International Copyright, signed in the English and German Languages, at Hamburgh, August 16, 1853.

[Ratifications exchanged at Hamburgh, November 15, 1853.]

HER Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, on the one part, and the Senate of the Free Hanseatic

City of Hamburg, on the other part, being equally desirous of extending in each State the enjoyment of copyright to works of literature and of the fine arts which may be first published in the other ; and Her Britannic Majesty having consented to extend to books, prints, and musical works published in Hamburg, that reduction of the duties now levied thereon on importation into the United Kingdom, which she is by law empowered to grant, under certain circumstances, in favour of such works published in foreign countries ; Her Britannic Majesty and the Free Hanseatic Republic of Hamburg have deemed it expedient to conclude a special Convention for that purpose, and have therefore named as their Plenipotentiaries, that is to say :—

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, George Lloyd Hodges, Esquire, Companion of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, &c., &c., Chargé d’Affaires to the said Free Hanseatic City ;

And the Senate of the Free Hanseatic City of Hamburg, John Martin Lappenberg, Doctor of Laws, Archivist, and Secretary, &c., &c. ;

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles :

ARTICLE I.

The authors of works of literature or of art, to whom the laws of either of the two States do now or may hereafter give the right of property or copyright, shall be entitled to exercise that right in the territories of the other of such States for the same term, and to the same extent, as the authors of works of the same nature, if published in such other State, would therein be entitled to exercise such right ; so that the republication or piracy in either State of any work of literature or of art published in the other, shall be dealt with in the same manner as the republication or piracy of a work of the same nature first published in such other State, and so that such authors in the one State shall have the same remedies before the courts of justice in the other State, and shall enjoy in that other State the same protection against piracy and unauthorized republication as the law now does or may hereafter grant to authors in that State.

The terms “ works of literature or of art ” employed at the beginning of this Article, shall be understood to comprise publications of books, of dramatic works, of musical compositions, of drawing, of painting, of sculpture, of engraving, of lithography, and of any other works whatsoever of literature and of the fine arts.

The lawful representatives or assigns of authors, translators, composers, painters, sculptors, or engravers, shall, in all respects, enjoy the same rights which by the present Convention are granted to the authors, translators, composers, painters, sculptors, or engravers themselves.

ARTICLE II.

The protection granted to original works is extended to translations ; it being however clearly understood, that the intention of the present Article is simply to protect a translator in respect of his own translation ; and that it is not intended to confer upon the first translator of any work the exclusive right of translating that work, except in the case and to the extent provided for in the following Article.

ARTICLE III.

The author of any work published in either of the two States, who may choose to reserve the right of translating it, shall, until the expiration of five years from the date of the first publication of the translation thereof authorized by him, be, in the following cases, entitled to protection from the publication in the other State of any translation of such work not so authorized by him.

§ 1. If the original work shall have been registered and deposited in the one State within three months after its first publication in the other.

§ 2. If the author has notified on the title-page of his work his intention to reserve the right of translating it.

§ 3. Provided always, that at least a part of the authorized translation shall have appeared within a year after the registration and deposit of the original, and that the whole shall have been published within three years after the date of such deposit.

§ 4. And provided that the publication of the translation shall take place within one of the two States, and that it shall be registered and deposited according to the provisions of Article VII.

With regard to works which are published in parts, it will be sufficient if the declaration of the author that he reserves the right of translation, shall appear in the first part. But with reference to the period of five years limited by this Article for the exercise of the exclusive right of translation, each part shall be treated as a separate work, and each part shall be registered and deposited in the one State within three months after its first publication in the other.

ARTICLE IV.

The stipulations of the preceding Article shall also be applicable to the representation of dramatic works, and to the performance of musical compositions, in so far as the laws of each of the two States are or shall be applicable in this respect to dramatic and musical works first publicly represented or performed therein.

In order, however, to entitle the author to legal protection in regard to the translation of a dramatic work, such translation must appear within three months after the registration and deposit of the original.

It is understood that the protection stipulated by the present Article is not intended to prohibit fair imitations, or adaptations of dramatic works to the stage of England and Hamburgh respectively, but is only meant to prevent piratical translations.

The question whether a work is an imitation or a piracy, shall in all cases be decided by the courts of justice of the respective States, according to the laws in force in each.

ARTICLE V.

The importation into, and the sale in either of the two States of piratical copies of works, which are protected from piracy under Articles I, II, and III of the present Convention, are prohibited, whether such piratical copies originate in the country where the work was published, or in any other country.

ARTICLE VI.

In the event of an infraction of the provisions of the foregoing Articles, the pirated works or articles shall be seized and destroyed; and the persons who may have committed such infraction shall be liable in each State to the penalties and actions which are or may be prescribed by the laws of that State for such offences, committed in respect of a work or production of home origin.

ARTICLE VII.

Neither authors, nor translators, nor their lawful representatives or assigns, shall be entitled in either State to the protection stipulated by the preceding Articles, nor shall copyright be claimable in either State, unless the work shall have been registered in the manner following, that is to say:—

1. If the work be one that has first appeared in Hamburgh, it must be registered at the Hall of the Company of Stationers in London :

2. If the work be one that has first appeared in the dominions of Her Britannic Majesty, it must be registered in the catalogue kept for that purpose at the Office of the Public Library at Hamburgh.

No person shall be entitled to such protection as aforesaid, unless he shall have duly complied with the laws and regulations of the respective States in regard to the work in respect of which such protection may be claimed. With regard to books, maps, and prints, and also with regard to dramatic works and musical compositions, unless such dramatic works and musical compositions shall be in manuscript only, no person shall be entitled to such protection, unless he shall have delivered gratuitously, at one or other of the places mentioned above, as the case may be, one copy of the best edition, or in the best state, in order to its being deposited at the place appointed for that purpose in each of the two States, that is to say, in Great Britain at the British Museum at London ; and in Hamburgh at the Public Library of that city.

In every case the formality of deposit and registration must be fulfilled within three months after the first publication of the work in the other State. With regard to works published in parts, the period of three months shall not begin to run until the date of the publication of the last part, unless the author shall have notified his intention to reserve the right of translating it, as provided in Article III, in which case each part shall be treated as a separate work.

A certified copy of the entry in the Registrar Book of the Company of Stationers in London shall confer, within the British dominions, the exclusive right of republication, until a better right shall have been established by any other party before a court of justice.

The certificate given under the laws of Hamburgh, proving the registration of any work in that State, shall be valid for the same purpose throughout the territory of Hamburgh.

A certificate or certified copy of the registration of any work so registered in either State, shall, if required, be delivered at the time of registration, and such certificate shall state the exact date at which the registration was made.

The charge for the registration of a single work under the stipulations of this Article, shall not exceed one shilling in England, nor twelve shillings currency in Hamburgh ; and the further charge for a certificate of such registration shall not exceed the sum of five shillings in England, nor four marks currency in Hamburgh.

ARTICLE VIII.

With regard to any article other than books, prints, maps, and musical publications, in respect to which protection may be claimable under Article I of the present Convention, it is agreed that any other mode of registration than that prescribed in the preceding Article, which is or may be applicable by law in one of the two States to any work or article first published in such State, for the purpose of affording protection to copyright in such work or article, shall be extended on equal terms to any similar work or article first published in the other State.

ARTICLE IX.

During the continuance of this Convention, the duties now payable upon the lawful importation into the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland of books, prints, drawings, or musical works, published throughout the Republic of Hamburg, shall be reduced to and fixed at the rates hereinafter specified, that is to say :

1. Duties on books and musical works, viz. :

a. Works originally produced in the United Kingdom, and republished in Hamburg, the cwt.	2	10	0
b. Works not originally produced in the United Kingdom, the cwt.	0	15	0

2. Prints or drawings :

a. Coloured or plain, single, each	0	0	0 $\frac{1}{2}$
b. Bound or sewed, the dozen	0	0	1 $\frac{1}{2}$

It is agreed that the rates of duty above specified shall not be raised during the continuance of the present Convention, and that if hereafter, during the continuance of this Convention, any reduction of those rates should be made in favour of books, prints, drawings, or musical works published in any other country, such reduction shall be at the same time extended to similar articles published in Hamburgh.

It is moreover understood that all works published in Hamburgh, of which any part may have been originally produced in the United Kingdom, shall be considered as works originally produced in the United Kingdom and republished in Hamburgh, and as such shall be subject to the duty of fifty shillings per cwt., although the same may contain also original matter not produced in the United Kingdom, unless such original matter shall be at least equal in bulk to the part of the work originally produced in the United Kingdom, in which case the work shall be subject only to the duty of fifteen shillings per cwt.

It is further agreed that during the continuance of this Convention, the rate of duties now payable on the importation into the territories of Hamburgh of books, prints, drawings, and musical works published throughout the dominions of Her Britannic Majesty, shall not be raised, and shall not exceed the rates of duty which are or may be levied on the importation into the United Kingdom of similar works published in the territory of Hamburgh.

ARTICLE X.

It is agreed that all books, prints, and drawings, published within the dominions of any other State that has concluded or concludes, or has acceded or accedes to, a copyright Convention with Great Britain, and which may be legally imported into the United Kingdom, shall, if exported from Hamburgh, be considered, for the purposes of this Convention, to have been exported from the country of their publication.

ARTICLE XI.

It is further agreed, that stamps shall be provided at Hamburgh according to a pattern to be made known to the Custom-house officers of the United Kingdom, and that such stamps shall be affixed to all books intended for exportation to the United Kingdom, unless they be already provided with the stamps of the States mentioned in the foregoing Article X.

ARTICLE XII.

In order to facilitate the execution of the present Convention, the two High Contracting Parties engage to communicate to each other the laws and regulations which may hereafter be established in their respective territories, with respect to copyright in works or productions protected by the stipulations of the present Convention.

ARTICLE XIII.

The stipulations of the present Convention shall in no way affect the right which each of the two High Contracting Parties expressly reserves to itself, of controlling or of prohibiting, by measures of legislation or of internal police, the sale, circulation, representation, or exhibition of any work or production, in regard to which either State may deem it expedient to exercise that right.

ARTICLE XIV.

Nothing in this Convention shall be construed to affect the right of either of the two High Contracting Parties to prohibit the importation into its own dominions of such books as, by its internal law, or under engagements with other States, are or may be declared to be piracies or infringements of copyright.

ARTICLE XV.

The present Convention shall come into operation as soon as possible after the exchange of the ratifications. Due notice shall be given beforehand in each State, by the Government of that State, of the day which may be fixed upon for its coming into operation, and the stipulations of the Convention shall apply only to works or articles published after that day.

The Convention shall continue in force for ten years from the day on which it may come into operation: and if neither party shall, twelve months before the expiration of the said period of ten years, give notice of its intention to terminate its operation, the Convention shall continue in force for a year longer, and so on from year to year, until the expiration of a year's notice from either party for its termination.

The High Contracting Parties, however, reserve to themselves the power of making, by common consent, in this Convention any modifications which may not be inconsistent with its spirit and principles, and which experience of its working may show to be desirable.

ARTICLE XVI.

The present Convention shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Hamburgh, as soon as may be within three months from the date of the signature.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto their respective seals.

Done at Hamburgh, the sixteenth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

(L.S.) J. M. LAPPENBERG, Dr.

At the Court at Windsor, the 25th day of November, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS a Treaty has been concluded between Her Majesty and the Senate of the Free Hanseatic City of Hamburgh, whereby due protection has been secured by the said Senate, within the State of Hamburgh, for the benefit of authors of books, prints, dramatic pieces, musical compositions, drawings, paintings, articles of sculpture, engravings, lithographs, and any other works of art in which the laws of Great Britain and of Hamburgh do now, or may hereafter, give their respective subjects the right of property or copyright, and for the benefit of the lawful representatives or assigns of such authors, with regard to any such works first published within the dominions of Her Majesty :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of Her Privy Council, and by virtue of the authority committed to her by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the seventh and eighth years of her reign, intituled, "An Act to amend the law relating to international copyright," doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the sixteenth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, the authors, inventors, designers, engravers, and makers of any of the following works ; that is to say : books, prints, articles of sculpture, dramatic works, musical compositions, and any other works of art in which the laws of Great Britain give to British subjects the privilege of copyright, and the executors, administrators, and assigns of such authors, inventors, designers, engravers, and makers respectively, shall, as respects works first published within the State of Hamburgh after the said sixteenth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, have the privilege of copyright therein for a period equal to the term of copyright which authors, inventors, designers, engravers, and makers of the like works, respectively, first published in the United Kingdom, are by law entitled to; provided such books, dramatic pieces, musical compositions, prints, articles of sculpture, or other works of art, shall have been registered, and copies thereof shall have been delivered, according to the requirements of the said recited Act, within three months after the first publication thereof in any part of the State of Hamburgh; or, if such work be published in parts, then within three months after the publication of the last part thereof.

And it is hereby further ordered, that the authors of dramatic pieces and musical compositions, which shall, after the said sixteenth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, be first publicly represented or performed within the State of Hamburgh, or their assigns, shall have the sole liberty of representing or performing in any part of the British dominion such dramatic pieces or musical compositions, during a period equal to the period during which authors of dramatic pieces and musical compositions, first publicly represented or performed in the United Kingdom, are entitled by law to the sole liberty of representing or performing the same; provided such dramatic pieces or musical compositions have been registered, and copies thereof have been delivered according to the requirements of the said recited Act, within three months after the time of their being first represented or performed in any part of the State of Hamburgh.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

C. C. Greville.

At the Court at Windsor, the 25th day of November, 1853,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the ninth and tenth years of the reign of Her Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend an Act of the "seventh and eighth years of Her present Majesty, for reducing, under certain circumstances, "the duties payable upon books and engravings," it is enacted that whenever Her Majesty has, by virtue of any authority vested in Her for that purpose, declared that the authors, inventors, designers, engravers, or makers of any books, prints, or other works of art, first published in any foreign country or countries, shall have the privilege of copyright therein, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, if she think fit, from time to time, by any Order in Council, to declare that, from and after a day to be named in such Order in lieu of the customs from time to time payable on the importation into the United Kingdom of books, prints, and drawings, there shall be payable only such duties of Customs as are set forth in the said Act :

And whereas Her Majesty hath this day, by virtue of the authority vested in Her for that purpose, declared that the authors, inventors, designers, engravers and makers of books, prints, and certain other works of art, first published within the State of Hamburgh, shall have the privilege of copyright therein :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of Her Privy Council, and in virtue of the authority committed to Her by the said recited Act, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the sixteenth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-threc, in lieu of the duties of Customs now payable upon books, prints, and drawings, published at any place within the State of Hamburgh, and imported from thence into the United Kingdom, there shall be payable only the duties of Customs following ; that is to say :

Works originally produced in the United Kingdom, and re-published within the State of Hamburgh, the cwt.	2 10 0
---	--------

Works not originally produced in the United Kingdom, the cwt.	0 15 0
--	--------

Prints or drawings, coloured or plain :

Single, each	0 0 0 $\frac{1}{2}$
------------------------	---------------------

Bound or sewed, the dozen	0 0 1 $\frac{1}{2}$
-------------------------------------	---------------------

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

C. C. Greville.

In pursuance of the directions of an Act, passed in the twenty-fourth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled
 “ An Act to repeal so much of two Acts made “ in the tenth and fifteenth years of the reign of “ His present Majesty as authorizes the Speaker “ of the House of Commons to issue his warrant

“to the Clerk of the Crown for making out writs
 “for the election of Members to serve in Par“liament, in the manner therein mentioned, and “for substituting other provisions for the like “purposes :”

I do hereby give notice, that it hath been certified to me in writing, under the hands of two Members serving in this present Parliament, that the Honourable Henry Charles Fitzroy Somerset, commonly called the Marquis of Worcester, late a Member serving in this present Parliament for the eastern division of the county of Gloucester, is become a Peer of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and to whom a writ of summons hath been issued, under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom, to summon him to Parliament; and that I shall issue my warrant to the Clerk of the Crown to make out a new writ for the electing of a Member to serve in this present Parliament for the said county, in the room of the said Henry Charles Fitzroy Somerset, commonly called the Marquis of Worcester, now a Peer of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and to whom a writ of summons hath been issued as aforesaid, at the end of fourteen days after the insertion of this notice in the London Gazette.

Given under my hand the 15th day of December, 1853.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a French Imperial Decree, dated the 14th instant (a translation of which is hereunto subjoined), by which Chinese Crape Shawls, of Foreign Manufacture, imported into France for the purpose of being embroidered, and subsequently re-exported, are, under certain conditions, to be temporarily admitted into France free of duty.

(Translation.)

PLAIN China crape shawls (Unis) of foreign origin, intended to be embroidered in France, may be temporarily admitted, free of duty, on condition of being re-exported within six months, under the bonds and formalities prescribed by the 5th Art. of the Law of 5th July, 1836, and upon the particular conditions hereinafter indicated.

2. The shawls shall be declared to the Customs, under legal penalty, by number, dimensions, and net weight. Every declaration shall comprehend the number of shawls which it is intended to include in each transaction.

3. The Customs will place on each shawl a flying seal in wax, the expenses of which shall be reimbursed by those interested at the rate of 10 centimes per seal.

4. Chinese crapes, admitted temporarily by virtue of the present Decree, can only be imported at the ports of Marseilles, Bordeaux, Nantes, Havre, Rouen, and Dunkirk, and by the Custom-houses of Lille, Forbach, Strasbourg, Saint Louis, and Pont-de-Beauvoisin. They can also be withdrawn from the entrepôts of Paris and Lyons, where they may have arrived by way of transit. The re-exportation must take place through the same ports and Custom-houses.

5. Every substitution, deficiency, or subtraction, proved by the Customs authorities, will involve the application of the penalties and interdictions prescribed by Article 5 of the Law of 5 July, 1836.

(Translation.)

THE Supreme Board of Health, in their ordinary sitting of the 29th of November last, have resolved,

That henceforth vessels coming from the city of Dundee should be subjected to a quarantine of ten days for passengers and goods, if no sickness has broken out during the voyage, the quarantine and purification of the goods to take place in a lazzarette of the first class, and should be refused pratique if any sickness has broken out during the voyage; the quarantine of ten days for passengers alone, with the purification of their effects on board the vessel, for ships coming from the other ports of the United Kingdom of Great Britain remaining in force as before.

The Supreme Board of Health, in their ordinary sitting of the 2nd instant, have resolved, 1st. That henceforward vessels coming from France, from Algeria, as well as from Corsica and other French islands, shall be subjected to a quarantine of ten days for the passengers alone, their effects being aired on board the vessel, and any letters which the said vessels may carry shall be fumigated.

2nd. That passengers who arrive by land, as well as by sea, from places where no sickness prevails, but who originally proceeded from France, should prove that they have been 10 days in a place where the public health is good.

3rd. That all vessels coming from French ports, carrying susceptible goods, must bring a certificate from the Royal Consul, testifying that the said goods do not come from Paris ; in default of which, they are to be subjected to the same process of purification required for goods coming from infected places.

4th. That orders should be sent through the regular channels to all the diplomatic and consular agents in the Italian States, not to sign passports or to deliver new ones to those persons who come from France, unless they have remained ten days in a place where the public health is good.

A PROCLAMATION.

VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS Our Parliament stands prorogued to Tuesday the third day of January next, We, with the advice of Our Privy Council, do hereby publish and declare, that the said Parliament shall be further prorogued, on the said third day of January next, to Tuesday the thirty-first day of January next; and We have given order to Our Chancellor of that part of Our United Kingdom called Great Britain, to prepare a Commission for proroguing the same accordingly: and We do hereby further, with the advice aforesaid, declare Our Royal Will and Pleasure, that the said Parliament shall, on the said Tuesday the thirty-first day of January next, assemble and be holden for the dispatch of divers urgent and important affairs: and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, and the Commissioners for Shires and Burghs of the House of Commons, are hereby required and commanded to give their attendance accordingly, at Westminster, on the said Tuesday the thirty-first day of January next.

Given at Our Court, at Windsor, this twenty-ninth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and in the seventeenth year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.

· By the QUEEN,

A PROCLAMATION.

VICTORIA R.

WHEREAS by Our Order in Council of this day's date, We were graciously pleased to annul, from and after the thirty-first day of March next, Our Royal Proclamation of the thirtieth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine, regulating, according to the scheme set forth therein or recognized thereby, the distribution of the net proceeds of prizes captured from the enemy, of captures and seizures under the several Acts of Parliament passed, relating to the revenues of Customs, and to trade and navigation, for the abolition of the slave trade, for the capture and destruction of pirates and piratical vessels, and of the rewards conferred for the same ; as also of the awards for all salvage granted to the crews of Our ships and vessels of war, when not otherwise specially apportioned by the terms of the respective awards and allowances ; and in consequence of several new ratings and denominations and certain alterations having been introduced and made in Our royal naval service since the date of Our said former Proclamation, and for other causes, it is expedient that provision should be made for the future distribution of such net proceeds and salvage not otherwise specially apportioned, and all other monies whatsoever granted to be shared among the officers and crews of Our ships and vessels in the manner of prize money.

We do, therefore, now make known to all Our loving subjects, and to all others whom it may concern, by this Our Proclamation, by and with the advice and consent of Our Privy Council, that Our royal will and pleasure is, and We do hereby direct that the distribution of all such net proceeds of prizes, rewards, allowances, salvage awards, and of all bounties and grants whatsoever distributable to Our royal navy in the manner of prize money shall be made as follows ; viz :—

That the flag officer or officers shall have one-twentieth part of the whole net proceeds arising from prizes captured from the enemy, and from all other captures and seizures, &c., as aforesaid, made by any of the ships or vessels under his or their command, and of the rewards conferred for the same, according to the following conditions and modifications, save and except as hereinafter provided and directed ; that is to say :

When there is but one flag officer he shall have the entire one twentieth part, when two flag officers shall be sharing together, the chief shall have two thirds, and the other flag officer shall have the remaining one third of the one twentieth part; and when there shall be more than two flag officers, the chief shall have one half of the said one twentieth part, and the remaining half shall be equally divided among the junior flag officers. Commodores of the first class and captains of the fleet to share as flag officers. Provided always, that no flag officer, unless actually on board any of Our ships or vessels of war, and at the actual taking, sinking, burning, or otherwise destroying any ship or ships of war, privateer or privateers, belonging to the enemy, shall share in the distribution of any head money or bounty money granted as reward for the taking, sinking, burning, or otherwise destroying any such ship or vessel of the enemy.

That no flag officer, unless actually present at the capture or destruction of any pirates or piratical ship, vessel, or boat, shall share in any distribution of the proceeds or bounty in respect of such pirates, or of the crews of such piratical ship, vessel, or boat.

That no flag officer shall share in any remuneration or reward conferred or awarded to the crew of any of Our ships or vessels as salvage, unless he shall have been actually on board the ship or vessel to which the award shall be made, or have personally aided and assisted in the transaction at the time the service was rendered.

That no flag officer commanding in any port in the United Kingdom shall share in the proceeds of any prize captured from the enemy, or in other captures, seizures, rewards, or any distributive proceeds, as aforesaid, made by any ships or vessels which shall sail from or leave such port by order of the Lord High Admiral or of Our Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral.

That when ships or vessels under the command of several flag officers belonging to separate stations shall be joint captors, &c., each flag officer shall receive a proportion of the one-twentieth part, according to the number of officers and men present under the command of each such flag officer; and when ships or vessels under orders from the Lord High Admiral, or from Our Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral, are joint captors, &c., with other ships or vessels under a flag or flags, the like regulation as to the apportionment of the flag share to the flag officer or officers is to be observed.

And with reference to these regulations it is to be noted that a captain, commander, or other commanding officer of a ship or vessel shall be deemed to be under the command of a flag when he shall actually have received some order from, or be acting in the execution of some order issued by a flag officer, whether he be or be not within the limits of the station of such flag officer; and in the event of his being directed to join a flag officer on any station, he shall be deemed to be under the command of such flag officer from the time when he arrives within the limits of the station, which circumstance is always to be carefully noted in the Log Book, and it shall be considered that he continues under the flag officer of such station until he shall have received some order directly from, or be acting in the execution of some order issued by, some other flag officer duly authorized, or by the Lord High Admiral, or Our Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral.

And We hereby direct, that the captain, commander, lieutenant commanding, master commanding, or any other officer duly commanding any ship, sloop, or vessel of war, singly making a capture or seizure, or otherwise entitled to the distributive benefit arising from any proceeds, reward, grant, bounty, salvage, or other award, as aforesaid, that is to say, the officer actually in command at the time, shall have one-eighth of the remainder, or, if there is no flag, one-eighth of the entire net proceeds, except that if the single capturing ship be a rated ship, having a commander under the captain, the commander shall take a portion of the one-eighth part as if he were commander of a sloop according to the proportion hereinafter set forth; and if more than one commanding officer of the same rank of command shall be entitled to share as joint captors, &c., the one-eighth shall be equally divided between them; but when captains, commanders, lieutenants commanding, and masters commanding, respectively, Our ships and vessels of war, and commanders under captains, in rated ships shall share together, in whatever variety of combination, the one eighth shall be so divided into parts for a graduated apportionment, as to provide for each captain receiving six parts; each commander of a sloop, or commander under the captain, in a rated ship, three parts; and each lieutenant commanding, or master commanding, or other officer actually commanding a small vessel of war, two parts; which We hereby direct shall be the proportion in which they shall respectively share; commodores of the second class, and field officers of marines, or of land forces serving as marines, doing duty as field officers, above the rank of major, to share as captains, and field officers of marines, or of land forces serving as marines, and doing duty in the rank of major, to share as commanders of sloops.

And We further direct that after provision shall thus have been made for the flag share (if any), and for the portion of the commanding officer or officers, and others as above specified, the remainder of the net proceeds shall be distributed in ten classes, so that each officer, man, and boy, composing the rest of the complements of Our ships, sloops, and vessels of war, and actually on board at the time of any such capture, seizure, &c., as aforesaid, and every person present and assisting, shall receive shares, or a share, according to his class as set forth in the following scale :

First Class.—Master of the fleet, inspector of steam machinery afloat, when embarked with a fleet, medical inspector or deputy medical inspector, when embarked with a fleet :—Forty-five shares each.

Second Class.—Senior lieutenant of a rated ship, not bearing a commander under the captain, secretary to the admiral of the fleet, or admiral commanding in chief :—Thirty-five shares each.

Third Class.—Sea lieutenant, master, captain of marines, of marine artillery, or of land forces doing duty as marines, whether having higher brevet rank or not, secretary to an admiral, or to a commodore of the first class, not commanding in chief, chief engineer :—Twenty-eight shares each.

Fifth Class.—Midshipman, master's assistant, pilot, clerk (not passed), master at arms, chief gunner's mate, chief boatswain's mate, chief carpenter's mate, chief captain of the forecastle, admiral's coxswain, chief quarter-master, seamen's schoolmaster, ship's steward, ship's cook :—Ten shares each.

Sixth Class.—Naval cadet, clerk's assistant, captain's coxswain, ship's corporal, quarter-master, gunner's mate, boatswain's mate, carpenter's mate, captain of forecastle, captain of the afterguard, captain of the hold, captain of the main top, captain of the fore top, coxswain of the launch, sailmaker, ropemaker, caulker, leading stoker, blacksmith, serjeant of marines, of marine artillery, or of land forces doing duty as marines :—Nine shares each.

Seventh Class.—Captain of the mast, captain of the mizen top, yeoman of the signals, coxswain of the barge, coxswain of the pinnace, coxswain of the cutter, second captain of the forecastle, second captain of the main top, second captain of the fore top, second captain of the afterguard, sailmaker's mate, caulker's mate, musician, cooper, armourer, corporal of marines or of land forces doing duty as marines, bombardier of marine artillery, head krooman :—Six shares each.

Eighth Class.—Leading seaman, shipwright, second captain of the hold, able seaman, carpenter's crew, sailmaker's crew, cooper's crew, armourer's crew, yeoman of store rooms, steward's assistant, ordinary seaman, blacksmith's mate, private and fifer of marines, or of land forces doing duty as marines, gunner of marine artillery, painter, stoker, coal trimmer, second head krooman, sick berth attendant, bandsman, tailor, butcher :—Three shares each.

Ninth Class.—Cook's mate, ship's steward's boy, admiral's domestic, superintendent's domestic, admiral's steward and cook, captain's steward and cook, ward room and gun room steward and cook, subordinate officer's steward and cook, commander's servant, secretary's servant, second class ordinary seaman, assistant stoker, barber, boy of the first class, first and second class krooman, supernumeraries, except as hereinafter provided; persons borne merely as passengers and not declining to render assistance on any occasion of capture, seizure, &c. :—Two shares each.

Tenth Class.—Boy below the first class, one share.

All supernumeraries holding ranks in the service above the ranks or ratings specified in the fifth class of this Our Proclamation, who have been ordered to do duty in any of Our ships and vessels by the Lord High Admiral, by Our Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral, by the senior officer of the fleet or squadron, or, if none senior, then by the captain or commanding officer of the capturing ship or vessel, if not by special authority employed in higher capacities, shall share according to the ranks which they respectively hold in the service, but, in all cases, to qualify them for so sharing and not merely as supernumeraries in the ninth class, due notation of their being thus respectively ordered to do duty must have been made on the muster books.

And with respect to supernumeraries of ratings in the service below the denominations of those specified in the fourth class of this Our Proclamation, and who at full victuals are engaged in the ordinary duties of the ship, it is Our will and pleasure that they shall always share according to the ratings which they bear in the service.

And, in order that Our royal intentions herein may be duly carried into effect, We further direct that when any capture or seizure is made, or service performed for which a distributable grant or reward is to be, or is expected to be, conferred or awarded to any of Our ships or vessels of war, the captain or commanding officer shall transmit, or cause to be transmitted, as soon as may be, to the Secretary of the Admiralty, a true and perfect list of all the officers, seamen, marines, soldiers, and others who were actually on board on the occasion, accompanied by a separate list containing the names of those belonging to the crew who were absent on duty or otherwise at the time, specifying the cause of such absence; each list to contain the quality of the service of each person, together with the respective descriptions of the men taken from the description book of the ship or vessel, and their several ratings, to be subscribed by the captain or commanding officer, and three or more of the chief officers on board.

And when the list of those actually on board, and the separate list of persons absent, though belonging to the ship or vessel, shall have been verified on examination with the muster books, &c., lodged as official records, the Accountant General of Our Navy shall, upon request, grant to the agent or agents nominated or appointed by the captors or seizors, &c., a certificate that such lists are correct, or have been corrected, as occasion may require, in order that distribution of the respective prize or other proceeds payable as prize money may be duly made.

And in the event of difficulty arising with respect to any of the regulations hereby ordered, or if any case should occur not herein provided for, or not sufficiently provided for, We are pleased hereby to authorise the Lord High Admiral, or Our Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral for the time being, to issue such directions thereupon as may appear just and expedient, which directions shall have the same force and effect as if specially provided for in this Our Royal Proclamation, provided always, that the distribution hereinbefore ordered, shall take effect only with respect to the proceeds of captures, seizures, and services, as aforesaid, which shall be made and performed on and after the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, and that the proceeds arising from all captures, seizures, and services, as aforesaid, made or performed prior to that date, shall be distributed in accordance with any Proclamation or Proclamations now in force, or, in force at the time of such captures, seizures, or services respectively, and applicable thereto, which We are pleased hereby to direct accordingly.

Given at Our Court at Windsor, this twentieth day of December, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and in the seventeenth year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.

At the Court at Windsor, the 29th day of December, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the seventh year of the reign of His late Majesty, King William the Fourth, intituled " An Act for rendering more easy the taking the Poll at County Elections," it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, from time to time, on petition from the justices of any county, riding, parts, or division in England or Wales, in quarter sessions assembled, representing that the number of polling places for such county, riding, parts, or division, is insufficient, and praying, that the place or places mentioned in the said petition may be a polling place or polling places for the county, riding, parts, or division, of the county within which such place or places is or are situate, to declare that any place or places mentioned in the said petition shall be a polling place or polling places for that county, riding, parts, or division, and that the justices of the peace for such county, riding, parts, or division, in quarter sessions or some special sessions assembled, as mentioned in the Act passed in the third year of the reign of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to settle and determine the divisions of countics, and the limits of cities and boroughs, in England and Wales, in so far as respects the election of members to serve in Parliament," shall, conformably to the said last mentioned Act, divide such county, riding, parts, or division into convenient polling districts, and assign one of such districts to each polling place.

"And whereas the justices of the peace for the county of Southampton, assembled in general quarter sessions on the seventeenth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, have presented a petition to Her Majesty in Council, representing that the number of polling places for the Isle of Wight, in the said county, is insufficient, and praying that the town of Yarmouth may be a polling place for the said Isle of Wight, within which Island such town is situate.

"Now, therefore, Her Majesty having taken the said petition into consideration is pleased by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to declare, order, and direct, and it is hereby declared, ordered, and directed, that the town of Yarmouth, shall be a polling place for the Isle of Wight, and that the justices of the peace for the county of Southampton, in quarter sessions or some special sessions assembled, shall, conformably to the said last mentioned Act, divide the said Isle of Wight, into convenient polling districts, and assign one of such districts to each polling place.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Windsor, the 29th day of December, 1853.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the seventh year of the reign of His late Majesty, King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act for rendering more easy the taking the poll at county elections," it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, from time to time, on petition from the justices of any county, riding, parts, or division, in England or Wales, in quarter sessions assembled, representing that the number of polling places for such county, riding, parts, or division, is insufficient, and praying that the place or places mentioned in the said petition may be a polling place or polling places for the county, riding, parts, or division, of the county within which such place or places is or are situate, to declare that any place or places mentioned in the said petition shall be a polling place or polling places for that county, riding, parts, or division; and that the justices of the peace for such county, riding, parts, or division, in quarter sessions or some special sessions assembled, as mentioned in the Act, passed in the third year of the reign of His said late Majesty, intituled “An Act to settle “and determine the divisions of counties and the “limits of cities and boroughs in England and “Wales, in so far as respects the election of “Members to serve in Parliament,” shall, conformably to the said last-mentioned Act, divide such county, riding, parts, or division into convenient polling districts, and assign one of such districts to each polling place :

“And whereas the justices of the peace for the county of Kent, assembled at the general quarter sessions of the peace holden at Maidstone, in and for the western division of the said county, on the eighteenth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, have presented a petition to Her Majesty in Council, representing that the number of polling places for the said western division is insufficient, and praying that the towns of Lewisham, Dartford, and West Malling may be polling places for the western division of the county of Kent, within which division such towns are situate :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, having taken the said petition into consideration, is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to declare, order, and direct, and it is hereby declared, ordered, and directed, that the towns of Lewisham, Dartford, and West Malling, shall be polling places for the western division of the county of Kent, and that the justices of the peace for the said county, in quarter sessions, or some special sessions assembled, shall, conformably to the said last-mentioned Act, divide the said western division into convenient polling districts, and assign one of such districts to each polling place.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Windsor, the 29th day of December, 1853.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the report of the General Board of Health, dated the 21st day of November, 1853 (as set forth in this Gazette), and to order and direct that the Public Health Act, 1848, and every part thereof, except the section numbered 50 in the copies of that Act printed by Her Majesty's printers, should be applied to and be put in force within and throughout the borough of Bridgnorth, in the county of Salop, and the entire boundaries thereof; that the area, places, and parts of places contained therein shall be and constitute a district for the purposes of the Public Health Act; and that the mayor, aldermen, and burgesses of the borough of Bridgnorth, shall be by the Council of the said borough within and for the district so constituted the Local Board of Health.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was also pleased to approve the report of the General Board of Health, dated the 24th day November, 1853 (as set forth in this Gazette), and to order and direct that the Public Health Act, 1848, and every part thereof, except the section numbered 50 in the copies printed by Her Majesty's printers, shall be applied to and be in force within the township of Newton, commonly called Newton Heath, in the parish of Manchester, in the county palatine of Lancaster, and the entire boundaries thereof; and that the area, places, and parts of places contained therein shall constitute a district for the purposes of the said Act; and that a Local Board of Health should be elected therein, in conformity to the instructions and regulations contained in the said report.

Foreign-Office, December 28, 1853.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. Noble Towner, as Consul at Barbadoes for the United States of America.

The Queen has also been pleased to approve of Mr. Sichel (senior), as Vice-Consul at Manchester for His Majesty the Emperor of Austria.

The Queen has also been pleased to approve of Mr. George Wortmann as Consul at Gibraltar for His Royal Highness the Grand Duke of Oldenburgh.
